WILEY HAS DOWNED MANLY GOOD MEN

Threw Champion of England in Hard Match.

WINS BY AGGRESSIVENESS

Has Beaten Heavier Opponents by Rapid Work—Grant Particularly Anxious to Win.

Joe Grant is the favorite in the speculation on his wrestling bout tomorrow evening at the Washington Light Infantry Armory with Max Wiley.

Wiley is credited with a two-hour draw with Grant in Baltimore, but since that indecisive match Grant has taken on more weight than his coming opponent, and he has also learned more about the game. For that reason his prospects are bright, but if he does throw the Rochester boy he will be able to do it only after a struggle worth seeing. Wiley has a reputation as a rough wrestler and keeps his man on the go all the time, which is a style highly popular with Washington audiences.

Splendid Record.

The Rochester boy has a splendid record, and up in New York State they are willing to back him against any man of his weight in the world. He beat Joe Ackton, the middleweight champion of England, in a bout that attracted wide attention, and threw Johnny Huzup, of Buffalo, and George Kennedy, of Montreal. All of these matches were important, and all were fiercely contested, Wiley winning by his aggressive and hurry-up style.

Ed Atherton, one of the claimants for the light heavyweight championship, failed to throw Wiley in an hour, and the same reward met the efforts of Clarence Bouldin, the Cuban Wonder, who has appeared in Washington and left the impression of being one of the best wrestlers who ever visited this city.

Threw Mackey.

One victim of Wiley's prowess was Rob Roy Mackey, the welterweight of Washington, who claims the welterweight championship of the South. He also beat Max Luttrell, and has the credit of a three-hour draw with the redoubtable Harvey Parker, who has been downing the best of them for so long that he is thinking of retiring.

Grant said this morning that he was confident of throwing Wiley, and that he was particularly anxious to do so. He is tired of handicap matches, and is anxious to show his friends that he can throw, as well as resist being thrown.

Numerous applications for appearance in the preliminaries have been received from the lighter wrestlers of the city, but Manager Turner will not sort them out and pair off the boys until this afternoon, when he will have a talk with several of the most promising and popular. The drop of young wrestlers is growing, and some of them show earmarks of having championship possibilities when they grow older.

CHEVY CHASE HOUNDS' SCHEDULE ARRANGED

Bi-Weekly Meeting Will Be Held During Present Month, Saturday, From Plyer's Postoffice.

An attractive monthly schedule has been arranged for January by Clarence Moore, master of the Chevy Chase hounds.

Bi-weekly meetings will be held and the starting point each time will be different.

The first chase was held yesterday afternoon at 2:30 from the Kennels and the next one will be on Saturday, at Plyer's Postoffice. A crowd of 100 will leave the Chevy Chase Club promptly at 2:30, which will give them time to arrive at the postoffice at 3:20, the hour set for the start.

The January schedule follows:

4th, The Kennels.
15th, Plyer's Postoffice.
11th, Bethesda.
14th, Kensington.
18th, Chevy Chase Circle.
21st, Ray Farm gate.
23rd, West Chevy Chase.
25th, Woodside.

INDOOR WORK FOR HARVARD ATHLETES

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 5.—Harvard track athletes began work yesterday afternoon in the Hemenway gymnasium.

The appointment of W. F. Garcelon, a graduate of the Harvard law school, and former hurdler, as head coach of the track team this season, marks a new departure in Harvard track athletics. Hitherto the bulk of the coaching had been done by Trainer John Graham and the captain.

Garcelon made his reputation last spring when he took Graham's place at the time the latter was temporarily absent because of illness.

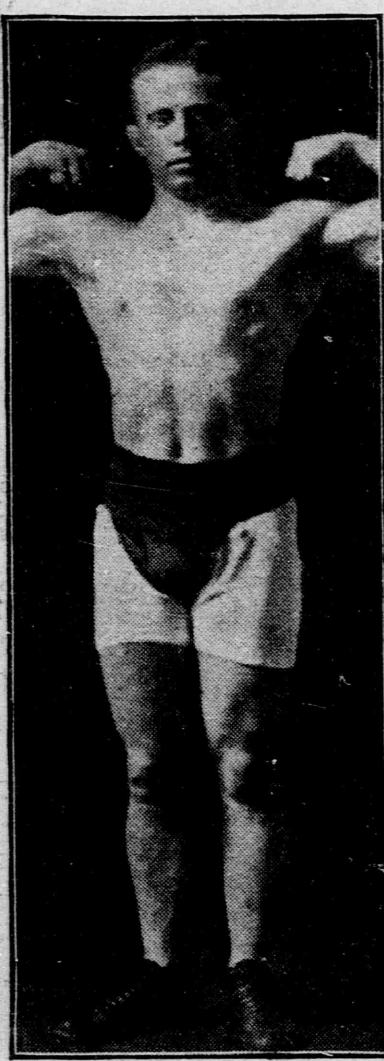

Capt. "Bill" Schick will have charge of the sprinters. Tommy Burke of the quarter-milers, W. Colwell of the distance men, and Bob Kernan, the football player, of the high jumpers. No one as yet has been selected to coach the weight throwers.

With Schick and Louis Grik in the 100 and 200-yard events and E. J. Davis in the quarter-mile, the Crimson's sprinters will be well taken care of, but in no other event, excepting the shot-put and two-mile, has Harvard a record holder. In the shot-put F. H. Schoen-fuss and in the two-mile A. King, judged by their last year's form, should be point winners.

Capt. Dan Hurley, of the football eleven, has announced that he is going out for the track team this spring. If he gets up the speed that he showed while circling opposing ends during the football season, he will prove an important acquisition to Schick's band.

Karl Brill, the husky left tackle, who made a record as a hammer-thrower at Exeter, will also be among the candidates.

PITTSBURGH PHIL IN AN ASHVILLE SANITARIUM

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Jan. 5.—George Smith ("Pittsburgh Phil") is a patient at the Winphar Sanatorium for tuberculosis. Mr. Smith came to Asheville some time ago. He seems to be steadily growing worse, and his condition is serious. He had not been in good health for seasons past, and hoped that the climate in this section would bring about some good.

He has lost weight rapidly in recent days, but is hopeful that there will be a change for the better in the near future.

Mr. Smith, though not actively engaged in turf betting any more, still follows the work of the horse, over the land, and is still a marvelous guesser of form, and it is said can call the turn on many of the contests though far away from the scenes.

NOW WEST POINT WANTS JUDITSU

Cadets Charge Favoritism Toward Annapolis.

FEAR FOR FOOTBALL HONORS

War School Much Dissatisfied Because Middies Will Be Trained by Prof. Yamashita.

West Point cadets are stirred up over the success of their rivals, the Annapolis middies, in securing a flu-jitsu instructor at the Naval Academy.

A number of cadets were in Washington during the holidays when the negotiations were conducted which resulted in Prof. Yamashita, promising president of the National Guard basketball players, Captain Edwards has done more than any other person to promote sport in the military companies in this city, and has always had its interest at heart. He was especially active in promoting basketball, and has brought it to a high state of development.

Should Have Had a Show.

"Why didn't we get a show in the transaction?" asked some of the cadets. "West Point has just as good a right to get the best kind of physical instruction as Annapolis, and we see no reason why such unusual efforts should have been made to engage Prof. Yamashita at the Academy, unless it was that they were more favored than we were."

Since then these cadets have returned to school and reports have reached here that there is much dissatisfaction among the student body over the alleged favoritism shown by the Administration toward the sailor boys rather than toward the land fighters.

Fear for Football.

The particular cause of grievance is the fact that the West Point boys believe the middies' football chances may be greatly improved when they are coached in the art of the flu-jitsu. It is feared that the Japanese wrestling game will teach the sailors new tricks which will make it much harder for West Point to whip them.

DOWN THE ALLEYS.

Who will be the two men in the Down and Out?

Interior has only an eleven-point lead in the Departmental League.

The Treasury-War game has been postponed until a later date.

The scores in the District League were rather poor for such a high-class organization. McLennan's 175 was high score for the evening, while the best team score was 762, made by the Florists in the final game.

The bowling in the Departmental League was good. Only one of the six team scores fell below 900. In the first game Brown made 210, which was the best individual tally, but the general average of all the men was so good that the team scores were high.

The Fisher quint took three straight from the Lawyers in the Real Estate League. After the first set the work was good. Smith twice and Packard was the only 200 men.

The promoters of the coming trip of the Washington teams to Milwaukee to participate in the American bowling congress, have received considerable encouragement in the way of financial support, but more subscriptions must be forthcoming before the teams will be able to send in their entries. There are several parties in view who are expected to contribute liberally, and within a short time the management of the trip hopes to have enough funds on hand to take final action in regard to the national Capital's representation at Milwaukee.

Beckstein's bowling was the feature of the series in the Railway League. He made 200, 160, and 215, which was the best of any of the men in this league.

Watt was the high man in the Plate Printers' League with 211.

The eight-man tournament scores were:

| | | | | |
|---------|-----|-----|-----|-----|
| Hardie | 213 | 183 | 217 | 613 |
| Baum | 167 | 162 | 209 | 538 |

| Ryerson | 161 | 188 | 187 | 536 |

Hardie, Baum, Ludwig, and Hudson are the four men who will roll off this evening.

PENNSYLVANIA LOSES SPRINTER CARTMELL

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 5.—N. J. Cartmell, the promising sprinter of the Pennsylvania track team, will not represent the Red and Blue this season on the track.

Cartmell, who is a sophomore in the mechanical engineering department of the University of Pennsylvania, has been in the classroom more than the allotted time last spring, and was debarred from the examination by the faculty, and was thus conditioned in regard to his year he is repeating his work, and under the rules of the university, must complete his full year before he will be allowed to represent the university in athletics. Cartmell has been endeavoring to catch up in his work, but yesterday Dr. Howard Kennedy Hill, chairman of the track committee, gave out the news that the university track committee had decided that Cartmell would not be eligible until the spring of 1936 for track work.

With Cartmell out of it about the last hope of Pennsylvania winning the Intercollegiate championship next spring disappears. With all the track and field material in the university available, the Quaker students had hoped to win from Yale. Cartmell, who finished such a close second in the 100 and 200 yards dashes last year, was looked upon to win both of these events this year. Hammett, second in the broad jump, and Greene, the football player, were counted on to win this event, but Hammett has quit the university to go into business and Greene will not be eligible for the Intercollegiate, having participated in an open meet during the summer of 1934. The only hope left for the dual and relay races, however.

CORNELL CRICKET COACH

ITHACA, N. Y., Jan. 5.—John Pacey, professional coach of the Franklin Cricket Club, Philadelphia, has been engaged as coach for the Cornell Cricket Club.

He will assume his duties in Ithaca next week. Cornell will give more attention to cricket this year than before. Winter practice will be held in the gymnasium until conditions are suitable for outdoor work. A schedule of eight games has been arranged for the spring.

Will Military Athletes Accept A. A. U. Ruling

Captain Edwards Considering Plan to Have Basketball Men Registered in National Body—Situation Complicated.

Capt. C. E. Edwards, of the National Guard, has written to James E. Sullivan, secretary of the Amateur Athletic Union, asking him about the status of the National Guard basketball players. Captain Edwards has done more than any other person to promote sport in the military companies in this city, and has always had its interest at heart. He was especially active in promoting basketball, and has brought it to a high state of development.

Applies to A. A. U.

He is now anxious to straighten out the relations between the National Guard and the A. A. U., and something definite will be known in a few days. The practical disregard of the great governing body of amateur athletics by many in this city, to which the Times has called attention, has affected the militia athletes, and if the rules were strictly applied and past offenses taken into consideration, it is probable that a large number of them would be ineligible to compete in any outside meets.

The A. A. U. has in the past five or six years taken a determined stand on the subject of basketball, and has insisted that all amateur teams and players be registered with the national body. There have been revolts, and several associations have cut loose to do as they please, but the result has been disastrous. The players, as a rule, are athletes in other ways than in basketball, and when they have found that they were barred from participating in field and track meets, swimming competitions, and other events, they have resented the action and their ways and applied for reinstatement.

Are Not Registered.

Captain Edwards cheerfully admits that his basketball men, with few exceptions, are not registered in the A. A. U. This defect in their amateur standing applies to men on practically every team in the Basketball League in the National Guard. Such a state of affairs is bound to produce trouble sooner or later, not only for the men who have neglected to send their names to the A. A. U., but to other teams, for registered men which play in a non-registered team is subject to suspension, as if it itself had offended. The National Guard teams play in Washington, Baltimore, Cumberland, and other cities, and the result of this lack of registration is that they leave a trail of injuries to the status of their competitors wherever they go.

Another disastrous effect will be on the men who want to take part in the Georgetown and High School meets in Washington and the big meets that are held in Baltimore every winter. Men deliberately playing on unregistered teams and against unregistered teams can hardly hope to have their entries accepted by the secretaries of the various meets, for to knowingly accept such entries would render all connected with the meet liable to suspension.

Makes Proposition.

The proposition of Captain Edwards is to have the A. A. U. assume jurisdiction over the National Guard Athletic Association, but allow the directors of the association to determine who shall and who shall not play on the teams. It is doubtful if such an arrangement could be made unless the directors would agree to limit the membership of the teams to pure amateurs. Other matters determining a man's right to play, such as the length of time he has been in the company, transgression of military rules, etc., could easily be left to the control of the military officials.

There has been some talk of the National Guard teams being organized as independent units. If it cannot get its own terms with the A. A. U., such a move would work great harm and would lead to the disqualification of a number of crack athletes, including some of the high school boys. As an outland organization only for the purpose of insuring amateur sport there seems to be no good reason why the National Guard should not lend it support.

The Harvard-University of New York gymnasium meet which was scheduled for New York on January 20, has been canceled, as the Crimson faculty would not allow the Harvard athletes to leave Cambridge because of the mid-year examinations.

Phil Kearney, one of the best skaters in the New York Athletic Club, is making an effort to get a mile and half race with Morris Wood, the national amateur champion.

The Pennsylvania crew candidates will be called this afternoon to begin indoor work. Of the varsity eight and four which finished third in their respective races on the Hudson last June, ex-Captain Lane is the only one missing, and the Quakers feel that they have a bright outlook on the water for the coming season.

The four high men in the down and out bowling tournament will meet this evening at the Palace Alleys.

On Tuesday evening at St. Louis, Buddy Ryan and Honey Melody will go fifteen rounds at 142 pounds.

Reports from the West state that James D. Lightbody, the crack middle-distance runner, has passed all his examinations at the University of Chicago and will compete for the Maroon at the coming Western field and track meet.

Charles H. Ebbetts, the Brooklyn magistrate, will probably be New York's candidate for the presidency at the coming meeting of the American Bowling Congress at Milwaukee.

The Acme bowling team of the District League is making arrangements for a

CENTURIES OLD

The disease which has brought more suffering, degradation and disgrace upon the human race is the same to-day that it was centuries ago. It is called Contagious Blood Poison, "The Bad Disease," and is given other names, but among all nations is regarded as the blackest and vilest of all human diseases. It goes from bad to worse; the little sores that first appear are soon followed by others; the glands of the groins swell and inflame, a red eruption breaks out on the body, the mouth and throat become ulcerated, the hair and eye-brows drop out, and ugly yellow blotches make their appearance, and if the disease is not checked at this stage, every bone, muscle, tissue and nerve in the body becomes infected with the poison, and from the roots of the hair to the soles of the feet there is not a sound spot anywhere.

To cure this awful contagion the blood must first be purified, and nothing will do this so quickly and surely as S. S. S., which has been known for years as the only antidote for the poisonous virus of Contagious Blood Poison. Mercury and Potash may check it for a time, but it comes back in a still more aggravated form. S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable, and $1.00 is offered for proof that it contains a mineral ingredient.

WESTERN TURF MEN UNABLE TO AGREE

Declare That Matter Will Not Be Dropped.

IGNORED BY JOCKEY CLUB

Meeting to Be Held in Near Future for Formation of New Circuit of Tracks.

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—No guns were leveled at the Western Jockey Club by the disgruntled track owners or "insiders" yesterday, and matters stood about the same last night as on Tuesday.

Ed Corrigan, Humphrey Devereaux, Rome Respass, and Matt Winn, whose demands were ignored by the stewards of the Western Jockey Club, held several consultations at the Auditorium Annex and concluded to feel their way before coming to any definite conclusion as to what they would do regarding the forming of a new turf organization and a new racing circuit.

Louisville's Representative.

Winn, who represented the new Louisville Jockey Club at the recent Western Jockey Club's meeting, advised Corrigan to weigh the situation carefully, as he (Corrigan) had more at stake than all the other owners combined, but that his organization would undoubtedly cast its lot with the "Master of Hawthorne." Speaking of the manner in which the Louisville Club had been treated, Winn said:

"We have been in the racing business thirty-two years, and always have conducted clean meetings. That in itself should give us a standing second to no track in the country. We did not, understand, make a play for better dates on that account, but we have been pushed back so far that if we did not fight for our rights this year we do not know what they would do with us next year. The extra five days the stewards assigned us were open, and I, on behalf of my association, accepted them. Reports to the contrary notwithstanding."

Advised to Cut Loose.

The track owners received encouraging telegrams and letters from all over the country, the majority advising them to cut loose from the Western Jockey Club and form a new organization and racing circuit. The report from St. Louis that Judge Walter B. Douglas, in the circuit court, has set aside the sale of the Union Jockey Club to Jordan W. Lambert on the ground that Lambert's understanding of the terms of the sale was not the same as that of the other bidders, was pleasing news to the "insiders," but the question of whether they would make any attempt to bring Captain Carmody, the moving spirit of that course, into their fold, is a matter for the future.

Devereaux, Respass, and Winn left for their homes last night, but Corrigan will remain here perhaps for several days. No arrangements for the next meeting were announced, as it will take some time to feel the pulse of directors of the various clubs that intend to secede from the Western J
