REAL DOGGY SET IS DISTINCTIVE

Some Observations on Patrons of the Show.

BULLDOGS INTERESTING

All Varieties of Them Attracted Much Attention—Great Danes Make Friends.

By THOMAS S. RICE.

The dogs do bark, but it is doubtful if any beggars have come to town as a result of the opening of the Washington Dog Show yesterday in the Washington Light Infantry Armory, under the auspices of the District of Columbia Kennel Club.

Certainly there were no beggars in evidence at the show last night or this afternoon. Everybody and dog there appeared prosperous and happy, and it was quite a comfort to see them.

While the dogs held the center of the stage, the people were fully as interesting. The very best of our doggy set was there, profoundly discussing the points of animals, which appeared to the uninitiated to have no particular points at all. Technical language of the kennel and stud book was so plentiful that those who have never owned show canines were as much at sea as if they had been listening to a Zulu address.

The Doggy Young Man.

There is a distinct type of the doggy young man, and he is somewhat suggestive of the French bulldog and Boston terrier. The real article is not large, has strong legs, a deep chest, a compactly built head, in which the nose is not prominent, a strong mouth and a closely-cropped, bristling, aggressive-looking mustache. He has a quick, forceful way of moving, suggestive of a great reserve energy and determination of purpose. He is much given to golf caps and broad-brimmed hats. The type differs from the automobile show young man as much as the coach dog differs from the Boston bull terrier.

The display of Great Danes is one of the most attractive in the show, and the big fellows were never lacking visitors. They are a dignified, cheerful sort of an animal, perfectly willing to make friends. If you were one of those beings whom animals instinctively like, and were to forget yourself for a moment near the Great Dane benches, you were likely to be brought to your senses by having a long, moist tongue wipe the back of your ear.

Great Danes to Toys.

Washington ranks high in Great Dane circles, and it was not surprising when Mrs. Simon Wolf's Keleph took first in the winners, open and limit classes, and R. E. L. Nicholson had a winner in the novice class.

From the Great Danes to the toy dogs of one sort and another is a far cry, and whether you like the jump or not is a matter of taste. To some persons the toy dogs, with their impudent smirking and wheezing, are too suggestive of a child that refuses to keep its nose clean, despite the fact these miniature pups were constantly surrounded by adoring women and received as much primping as a French actress.

Are Not Fierce.

Bulldogs always touch a tender spot in the lover of dogs, whether a fancier or not, and the famous prize winners in that division attracted a disproportionate amount of attention. Their ingrown faces and forced display of teeth are suggestive of a fierceness which they do not possess, as they are inclined to be amiable in a heavy, soggy English way, and only need a little encouragement to become pals with any stranger who is inclined to tell them "right people." The bull terriers were as much sought after as the prize winners, and the fact that they are fighters, and are highly prized pets, probably caused them to be taken to the hearts of more ordinary visitors than the true bulls, which are of little practical value.

Washington being a city of ardent sportsmen, it was only natural that the classes for hunting dogs should be well filled, and the crowd around them less real dogs but thoroughly appreciative. There were any number of terriers, and perhaps they are all right in their way, but they are too suggestive in appearance of the cur who will run wild in this section and suck eggs and kill sheep.

Will Wager $1,000 Fight Doesn't Go Six Rounds, $1,000 to $3,000 That Dane Goes Out.

NEW YORK, March 1.—"It's about time to get a bet or two down on the battle," said Terry McGovern's manager today, and I am ready to start the ball going.

"I will wager $1,000 that the fight doesn't go six rounds, and I also stand ready to put up $1,000 against $3,000 that Terry knocks the Dane out," said McGovern's manager today.

Battling Nelson has selected Rosendale Inn, at Easton, Pa., as the place where he will prepare for Terry. He arrived there yesterday. Nelson had not been there long before he got down to work. His interview training will be of the vigorous sort from now on.

MACKEY PREDICTS
FALL OF MONDAY

Says He'll Throw Brooklyn Wrestler Tomorrow.

ANOTHER GRANT APPEARS

Jim, Brother of Joe, Scheduled to Meet Bobbie Baker in Preliminary.

Ross and Beckett.

Rob Roy Mackey, the "Man of Many Words," unburdened himself of a few more syllables this morning to say that he was confident that when he met Young Monday tomorrow night at Concordia Hall he not only would not be thrown by Monday twice in an hour, but would turn the tables and throw the Brooklynite.

Mackey must weigh under 145 pounds, while Monday must get under 155 to have the foreign money, and in consideration of his extra weight Monday agreed to throw Mackey twice in an hour. There is not much doubt that Mackey is not quite as scientific a wrestler as Mackey, and while eight become pals with any stranger who is inclined to tell them "right people." The bull terriers were as much sought after as the prize winners, and the fact that they are fighters, and are highly prized pets, probably caused them to be taken to the hearts of more ordinary visitors than the true bulls, which are of little practical value.

Personal Comment on Men and Things in the Field of Sports

BOXING.

At the Central A. C. in New York last night Howard Smith had the best of a three-round go with Bert Keyes, of Philadelphia. Keyes had the punch, but Howard was there with the cleverness, and he never gave his man a bit of rest from bell to bell.

Larry Temple and Samuel Langford are to clash for fifteen rounds at catch weights tonight before the Lincoln Athletic Club at Chelsea, Mass.

Tommy Pendergras, Saginaw featherweight, and Tommy Mowatt have been matched for five rounds at catch weights on March 21 at Grand Rapids.

Fred Linders, the San Francisco lightweight, will meet Clarence Mitchell, the Omaha lightweight, for fifteen rounds at catch weights tomorrow night at Hot Springs.

Billy Edwards, of Philadelphia, knocked out Eddie Larkin, of Wilmington, in the fifth round before the Wilmington, Del., A. C. last night.

BASEBALL.

While in Cincinnati last week President Ben Johnson, of the American Baseball League and member of the national baseball commission, declared that the league would not permit managers to be brought before the national baseball commission for the practice of "covering up" players by means of fake purchases from minor league teams. The American Association and Eastern League are the principal second parties to the offense. It is said.

Napoleon Lajole says the Baltimore team of Hanlon's day, when McGraw, Kelley, Jennings, Keeler, and Reitz were at their best, was the fastest team he ever played against. National League rooters think McGraw's champion New York Giants could trim the old Orioles crowd, says the New York Tribune.

Veteran ball fans swear by the old champion Detroit sluggers, Brouters, Richardson, Rowe, Dunlap, White, Thompson, Charlie Bennett, and Ned Hanlon played with this bunch. Comiskey's Browns, Buck Ewing's champion New Yorks, Fritzy Tobeau's Cleveland Spiders, and Fred Clark's Pittsburghs and Jimmy Collins' Boston Americans are also referred to by baseball fans as the greatest teams ever organized, and how about Frank Selee's teams in the minors? There was nothing afoot about them.

AUTOMOBILING.

W. J. Morgan, of Florida East Coast A. A. is authority for the statement that a suitable road for automobiles, which will be fairly good, will be available all the way from Jacksonville to Miami, the length of the east coast, nearly 400 miles, inside of two years.

It is advisable to run off a couple of gallons from the carburetor end of the gasoline pipe about once a fortnight; this way any water that may have gathered. The gasoline in the carburetor should also be allowed to run off. The carburetor should be taken down and thoroughly cleaned out about every three months; it must be kept clean and free from water or grit.

JAKE STAHL LIKES
TIGERS AND BLUES

Thinks Detroit and Cleveland Will Surprise.

ATHLETICS ARE WEAKER

Waddell Too Uncertain to Rely Upon, and Lave Cross Will Be Missed.

CHICAGO, Ill., March 1.—Manager Jake Stahl, of the Washington baseball team, predicts that the Cleveland and Detroit teams will be huge surprises in the American League pennant race the coming season, and picks one of them to carry the banner.

At the same time the leader of the Nationals declares that neither Philadelphia nor Chicago, which finished one, two, last year, will be as strong a contender as a year ago, and those two were passed up in a talk of championship possibilities by the Washington chief.

Cleveland and Detroit look the strongest to me now," said Stahl in figuring out the chances of the American League teams.

Strong in every department, except perhaps, a little weakness behind the bat on the Detroit team; their players are young and full of vim, and I don't see how any other club can be "doped" out a yip stronger.

Athletics Weak.

"Philadelphia does not look nearly as good to me as it did last year, when it won the pennant. Waddell, although falling down at the end of the year, was one of the main factors in putting the team in front, and he is an uncertain quantity the coming season.

"Lave Cross, who has signed with the Washingtons, will be missed and mourned by the Athletics, as his timely hits were a mighty factor in winning games for the champions.

Boston has too many old-timers on its team. They can't get into condition."

"Griffith may feel them all with his New York team. If there is any serious upset in my 'dope,' I rather believe Griffith's Highlanders will be the ones to provide the sensation.

"How about the Washingtons?"

"Well, of course, I don't want to claim any championships just now, but I expect a lot of teams will know there is a team in Washington before the season is over. We are much stronger than a year ago, and with a good string of pitchers we ought to go some. A place in the first four is not too much to hope for."

Stahl considers Pittsburgh the best team in the National League, after McGraw's champions.

CATARRH

FIRST A COLD THEN CATARRH

A cold in the head is a common ailment, but it rarely ever stops there. It often grows stubborn and protracted, the mucous membranes, or inner lining of the body, become inflamed and secrete a filthy, unhealthy matter which is absorbed by the blood and soon produces that disgusting disease, Catarrh. Then follow the unpleasant symptoms of "hawking and spitting," ringing noises in the ears, headache, poor appetite, mucus dropping back into the throat, and a feeling of general debility. Every day the blood becomes more heavily loaded with these poisonous secretions, and if the trouble is allowed to run on, the lungs become diseased from the constant passage of poisoned blood through them, and then Catarrh terminates in the most dreaded and fatal of all diseases, Consumption. The only way to get rid of Catarrh permanently is to cleanse the blood, and S. S. S. is the ideal remedy for this purpose. It soon clears the system of all impurities, purges the blood of all Catarrhal matter and poisons, and effectually checks the progress of this dangerous and far-reaching disease. S. S. S. keeps the blood in perfect order so that Catarrh cannot remain; and as this pure, healthy blood goes to every nook and corner of the body, the entire system is strengthened and invigorated, and the symptoms all pass away. Book with information about Catarrh and medical advice free.

ASCOT STEWARDS
BUSY WITH CASE

Hear Charges Against Superintendent Brooks.

THINK HE'LL BE EXONERATED

But Action Against His Accusers Is Problematical—The Hugenot Doping Comes Next.

LOS ANGELES, March 1.—The board of directors of the Ascot Racing Association met at their rooms at the track yesterday to investigate into the charges brought by J. J. McCafferty, H. McCafferty, and C. T. Boots against Manager J. W. Brooks.

The session was star chamber and but little was accomplished. All directors save one were present.

From what transpired at the meeting, it appears that Starter Holtman was first to testify. Nothing was gleaned from him, as he said what little differences existed between him and Brooks had been amicably settled some time ago, and that he had nothing further to say.

Fast Track Stipulated.

Garnett Ferguson said that one of the stipulations he had with Brooks in regard to condition of track for three-cornered race in which he had Bearcatcher entered, was that it should be fast, that it would suit his horse nicely, and that he would just as soon run over an asphalt pavement. To substantiate this it is said that a telegram was introduced from the Western Union, which was sent to Brooks from Ferguson before the race, insisting that the track be fast. W. T. Anderson was questioned as an expert in regard to the track condition, and a number of affidavits were introduced by J. J. McCafferty.

J. A. Wernberg, an attorney of Brooklyn, is here in the interests of McCafferty. He was very busy getting evidence to substantiate McCafferty's charge.

Consensus of opinion of horsemen is that Brooks will be exonerated, but it is problematical what decision will be handed down against his accusers.

The Hugenot Doping.

The J. J. McCafferty-The Hugenot doping case will be acted upon as soon as the Brooks affair has been settled. The Hugenot started in his new ownership yesterday, and was under kept punishment at the final quarter, finishing fourth, and the general opinion is that he ran a poor race.

It was rumored that J. A. Wernberg will try every means possible to have McCafferty exonerated, but as the three veterinarians here are the most competent in Los Angeles and are positive in their statements, it would appear that he has a difficult task before him. Indications point that all cases will be passed upon in the next twenty-four hours.

DRANK CARBOLIC ACID
TWICE BY MISTAKE

PHILADELPHIA, March 1.—Charles W. Scott, of East Camden, N. J., while shaving, mistaking a bottle which contained carbolic acid for one which he thought contained a tonic, drank some of the poison before he discovered his mistake.

Drugging his razor, he ran to a closet and seized what looked to him like a whisky bottle and from this he took a long draught. He was horrified to find that this too contained carbolic acid.

He then cried for help, and a physician was called, who did what he could for the man, but it is feared that the victim will not recover.

ANOTHER LONG BRANCH
HOTEL CHANGES HANDS

NEW YORK, March 1.—Another hotel on the ocean front in Long Branch, N. J., the Howland, has been sold. The purchaser is the West End Association, which recently bought the West End Hotel and is tearing it down.

For thirty years the Howland Hotel was owned by the R. J. Dobbins estate. The house and a ten-acre tract changed hands for $200,000. The general manager, who was in charge of the hotel, will be used next summer, after which it will be torn down. It was originally the Sairs House, and was erected in 1811.
