

FATALLY HURT BEING THROWN FROM TROLLEY

Unidentified Man Taken to Emergency Hospital in a Dying Condition.

Thrown from the platform of a Capital Traction car, as it rounded the curve at Washington circle shortly after 7 o'clock last night, an unidentified white man is lying in the Emergency Hospital. The man was standing on the rear platform of the car with a small dog tucked under his arm. As the car swung around the curve he was hurled from the platform, striking the back of his head on the pavement.

Dr. Dallas R. Sutton, of the Emergency Hospital staff, was on the car, and went to the injured man's aid. Finding that he was unconscious and suffering from a fracture at the base of the skull, he had the ambulance summoned, and the injured man was hurried to the hospital.

He is about forty years old, and was probably employed as a mechanic or laborer. Nothing that would give the slightest clue to his identity was found in his pockets, and there were no marks on his clothing.

The dog was not injured, and disappeared immediately after the accident.

GILMANS CLEARED OF MURDER CHARGE

Grand Jury Ignores Bill for Death of Dona
Gilman.

DAYTON, Ohio, March 2.—The grand jury that reported today failed to return indictments against the members of the Gilman family, who were arrested and bound over to the jury for the murder of pretty Dona Gilman, who was killed last November.

The relatives accused were Mrs. Sarah Gilman, the mother; Collins, a brother, and Fayne, sister of the dead girl. "Baby Dave" Curtis, a half-wit, who confessed to the crime, was also ignored by the jury. The body decided there was not sufficient evidence to warrant an indictment. The charge against the Gilmans was made by a private detective.

NEW GUATEMALAN MINISTER THINKS THAT ARBITRATION WILL END NICARAGUAN WAR

DR. LUIS TOLEDO-HERRARTE,
Guatemalan Minister, Just Arrived, Familiar With United States, Educated in Paris, Experienced Diplomat.

His Government, However, Will Not Try to Force Peace, But United States and Mexico
May Arrange Settlement.

Pacific and not armed intervention, is favored by the government of Guatemala in the Central American war, according to Dr. Luis Toledo-Herrarte, the new minister from that country who has just arrived at his post of duty here. Guatemala is anxious to take every step possible, jointly with the United States, Mexico, Salvador, and Costa Rica, to bring about a re-establishment of peace between Honduras and Nicaragua, but she feels it is scarcely within her province to attempt to force a cessation of hostilities, according to Minister Toledo-Herrarte. Costa Rica is understood by his government to have the same view, and Salvador is believed to be more apt to enter into it against Nicaragua than to assist in bringing about peace.

Dr. Toledo-Herrarte arrived in the city late Friday night from New York, accompanied by Dr. Ramon Bengoechea, secretary of legation, who has been charged d'affaires in New York since the death of Minister Munoz in this city last fall. They called at the State Department yesterday, where Dr. Bengoechea presented the new minister to Secretary Root. Dr. Bengoechea, who is consul general for Guatemala in New York, returned last night to his home in that city, but he will return early this week to accompany the minister to the White House for his presentation to the President and he will remain here for some time, familiarizing the minister with the duties of his office and with affairs in Washington.

The minister declined to enter into a discussion of the probable outcome of the war, except that he believed the belligerents would soon be prevailed upon to arbitrate their differences. The United States, he said, has a strong influence for peace over all Central America, and it was difficult for him to understand how the two countries had so persistently held out against all the friendly efforts of the United States, Mexico, and the three neutral Central American republics. The names of Roosevelt and Diaz stand for much in his country, he says, as well as throughout the entire isthmian Latin-America.

Minister Toledo-Herrarte does not expect to take the initiative in any peace movement, but he will stand ready to endorse any proposal on this line made by either the United States or Mexico. Although the capture of El Corpus by Nicaraguan troops was undoubtedly an important victory, showing the enemy had entered its forces well into Honduras, the minister does not foresee that this necessarily means victory in the end, if Salvador actually joins forces with Honduras. This step is generally anticipated.

Diplomatic Career.

Aside from the Central American war Minister Toledo-Herrarte has few important diplomatic matters to engage his attention at the present time. There are no affairs of great importance pending between this country and that. "I expect that my mission here will be

PLAN INSURANCE COMPANY WITH CAPITAL $1,000,000

Washington Bankers and Business Men Interested in Project to Organize Company Under Federal Charter for All Lines of Insurance.

It begins to look as if Washington would have a $1,000,000 life insurance company of its own. For some time plans have been under consideration looking to the formation of a company organized on broad principles, and under a Federal charter, and the success of which has attended the efforts of the projectors would seem to assure the ultimate success of such a corporation.

The idea has been to form a company with a capital of $1,000,000, or if half that amount was considered sufficient, then to have a paid in surplus of an equal amount, placing the par value at $50 per share, and a surplus of $50 per share, giving a full million dollars of actual working capital.

The branches covered would be life, accident, and indemnity insurance, and the headquarters would be in this city, with branches in all the larger cities. As the charter would be procured from the United States Government and place the corporation under Government control and examination, it is believed this feature would highly commend itself to all those interested in insurance.

Already it is said about a half million dollars has been subscribed, and names of leading bankers, merchants, and capitalists are given as actively interested in the enterprise. The project, which is the idea of one of the most capable men in the insurance line in the city, who has for some years been the active representative of one of the big New York companies here, is being worked out quietly before being presented for public acceptance.

Two or more meetings have been held by those actively engaged in the enterprise at which the details have been carefully gone over, and it is more than probable that some public announcement will be made this week giving particulars as to the aims and prospects of the new organization. From the fact that fire insurance companies with small capital have been so generally successful here, it is thought a company with a capital of $1,000,000, under Federal control, writing life insurance, would find a rich field.

most peaceful and pleasant," said he yesterday. "I know Washington to be a delightful city, although I have never been here before. I have been in this country several times, though, passing through New York."

The minister is one of the more prominent young diplomats in his country, this being his first mission as an envoy and minister plenipotentiary. He has been in the diplomatic service in Panama previous to the establishment of the canal zone there, was secretary to the centenary conference in Madrid and has been stationed at other posts in Europe. He was secretary of legation for a year or more at Brazil, and was secretary of the Guatemalan delegation to the Pan-American conference there last summer. He left there last autumn for Guatemala City on a special mission for the foreign office, and only recently was promoted as minister to Washington.

Educated in Paris.

Dr. Toledo-Herrarte is a physician and surgeon, having practiced his profession in Guatemala before entering the diplomatic service. For a medical career, he was educated in Paris. A few years ago he passed through the United States on a tour through Canada to Europe, and last summer he went by way of Mexico, St. Louis, and New York to Rio, for the conference. He returned from Brazil to Lisbon, and from England to New York.

The minister is accompanied to Washington by Senora Toledo-Herrarte and their little son, and for the present they will make their home at the Arlington. Senora Toledo-Herrarte has been ill with a severe cold since arriving here, the rigorous weather of this country having proved a shock to her, after leaving her tropics.

"I never experienced such a sudden change of climate in my life," said the minister. "It was quite warm when we left Guatemala—very much like May here. I should say. I went into a snowstorm in Mexico, and in Mexico City there was considerable snow—a most unusual thing for that country. It became quite cold there and the people suffered greatly from it. It kept growing colder the farther we went, and the extremely cold weather in St. Charles the first of the week was very trying."

SULLY NO BETTER; CHANCE FOR LIFE

NEW YORK, March 2.—While the condition of Daniel Sully, the former "King of Cotton," is critical today, it is said at his home in the Wyoming apartments that there still is a bare chance for his recovery.

Mr. Sully, who is ill of pneumonia, passed the crisis yesterday. About midnight he began sinking and it was believed that the end had come. He rallied, however, and during the day seemed to have gained strength.

Mr. Sully's physicians were at his bedside all through the night. Oxygen was administered to him constantly during the morning hours.
