Protection Comes From Diaz.

The position of the American in Mexico for the past few years has been a peculiar one. He has known that so far as Diaz could protect him and his enterprises, that protection would be given. Position of Americans in Mexico has been peculiar for several years. Those Mexicans who have favored the Diaz administration have wanted foreigners' aid in developing the country, while those opposed to Diaz have become outspoken in their dislike.

One especial cause for opposition to Americans by the anti-Diaz party is admitted to be the latitude given the American press in Mexico, which has been censored less than the native publications.

Americans especially fear the present Madero revolutionary movement on account of the great control the family exercises over northern Mexico, where there are tremendous American interests, greater in proportion than in any other part of the republic.

All three of these names spell anti-Diaz as synonymous with anti-American, the present anxiety of Americans in Mexico is great.

In setting forth the conditions in Mexico today, so far as the American dails administration sit up and the residents are concerned, it must be understood that any anti-American riot is an anti-Diaz demonstration and that the start of the Reyista movement in 1999, for the foreigners learned for the troops in northern Mexico, so that Reyes' civil power as governor was not only opposed to them, but was powerful enough to only opposed to them, but was powerful enough to make President Diaz and his administration sit up and take notice.

In setting forth the conditions in Mexico today, so far as the American residents are concerned, it must be understood that any anti-American riot is an anti-Diaz demonstration and that the same is conversely true.

This is a matter of common knowledge in Mexico from the government officials in the national palace down to the mozo, who for a 6 cents' fee plens the door of the hotel or lodging house if one is out after 12 o'clock at night, and whose amount of food is gauged by the number of people in his house who stay out late.

One taste of the anti-foreign feeling they had had in 1906, when on Independence of September 16, and General Trevino assure them protection, notably in Monterey, capital of Nueva Leon, and the hot bed of revolution was averted by suddenly turning out the lights and whose amount of food is gauged by the number of people in his house who stay out late.

Protection Comes From Diaz.

The Reylsta or anti-Diaz movement at that time was in its infancy. It was something that had hardly been heard.

Reyes Banished By Diaz.

It was then only a matter of a few days when Reyes was summoned to Mexico City, and upon expressing to President Diaz his extreme patriotism and his desire to serve his country, was told that the way for him to serve it was to go to Paris and make a long and comprehensive study of European military tactics.

Monterey, in the midst of the campaign. The Americans began to understand again that a movement was on foot to dethrone their friends—a plot that was of sufficient importance to cause President Diaz to make public recognition of it and act.

He took action in time, and the Americans felt easy again.

owing to the fact that in all the matter owing to the fact that in all the matter that was published about the affair, the Mexican Herald, the leading American paper in Central America, was the first to get the news, and the Mexican papers reprinted it, those favorable to President Diaz doing so without comment, and the Reyista organs with the villification and protect that a Gringo villification and protest that a Gring publication was allowed to mix in the affairs of the country.

See Peril In Madero.

Since then the Americans in Mexic have kept a close eye upon political events, and with a greater uneasiness than they had during the troublous over the country.

They have looked on Madero with more fear than they did Reyes, for not only had they learned more about the real undercurrent of opposition to Diaz, but they recognized the power possessed by the Madero family, and its ability to push its plans with almost unlimited financial means as well as taking advantage of the anti-Diaz sentiment, which after the banishment of Reyes look the form of the "anti re-election movement," which was a formal opposition to the re-election of President Diaz for another term.

It was no surprise to the Americans, especially to those in Northern Mexico, when Madero came forward openly as a candidate for President against Diaz, but it was a surprise when it developed that the wide strength of the Reyes party was with the followers of Madero, for Reyes and the Maderos had never been friends. It developed, however, that the Reyistas were willing to join hands with any party that would live up to the standard "Down with Diaz," and it is pretty well understood in Northern Mexico that this course by his followers was approved by Reyes himself.

Madero Taken Seriously.

Then came the arrest of Madero and is imprisonment in the penitentiary at Monterey, in the midst of the campaign

Troops Rushed to North,

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 20.-While the covernment expresses the utmost condence of the day passing without disorder here, the rapid movement of troops during last night would seem to bear out the rumors of trouble the north. Reports are coming into the Reyes times, they have watched the capital of armed bands gathering, and Madero movement grow and spread all a restless tide which is moving toward the north to the Texas border.

Another indication of the alarm felt by the Diaz administration is seen in the statement that urgent dispatches have been sent Washington, appealing to the United States to halt Madero-before he can leave Texas to cross into Mexico.

Troops Had Narrow Escape. Efforts are being made by Diaz' oficials to minimize the extent of the fighting at Puebla. Nevertheless, it is now certain that the battle was of the most desperate sort, and that only the arrival of re-enforcements saved the government troops from annihilation.

Rangers Chase Madero.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Nov. 20.—Under orders to prevent by any means possible the escape of Madero, leader of the revolutionists' party of Mexico, from Texas across the Mexican border, arm-Texas across the Mexican border, arm-ed rangers are scouring the territory between this place and the Rio Grande. Madero, with three companions, sup-posed to be his brothers, slipped out of the city last night. It is believed they were bound for the river, intending to cross the border and give the signal for the general uprising against the Diaz government today.

RIOTING STOPPED, SAYS DE LA BARRA

Messages received today by Ambassa-lor de la Barra, of Mexico, were to the effect that order had been restored in he State of Puebla, the scene of rioting and wild disorder in the past forty-eight

"There is no general feeling of revolt in Mexico and the government is not in he slightest danger," declared Senor de Troops Storm Town of Santa in Barra, "The outbreaks in the State of Puebla were incited for the most part by students with radical ideas. The great mass of the people stand staunchly by the president."

No word was received today by the State Department from Ambassador Wilson at Mexico City. This fact was looked upon by the officials as an indication that the situation is quiet and that the revolts at Puebla have been put down.
