KANSAS GREETING CHEERS BULL MOOSE

His Topeka Speech In Answer To Wilson's "Misstatement" Pleases Crowd.

By THEODORE TILLER.
EMPORIA, Kan., Sept. 22.—On the broad verandas and lawns surrounding the home of William Allen White, one of the original Bull Moose supporters, and now Progressive national committee man from Kansas, Colonel Roosevelt rested today. There were no cheering crowds to disturb the colonel's reflection; no Indians and cowboys clamored for a rear platform speech; the beribboned politicians and local reception committees were out of the picture. The colonel has as an audience only "Bill" White and a phonograph. The Progressive headquarters in New York sent White word the other day that a man with a black box and a flock of records would meet the colonel on the outskirts of Emporia.

Speaks in Phonograph.
When the man came, the Progressive headquarters suggested, would Mr. White please let him in. They wanted the colonel to talk into a little cone-like affair, so the Rooseveltian voice may be heard all over the land in this stirring campaign.

In other words, the colonel can't go everywhere, and the Progressive campaign committee is determined that his voice shall.
Mr. Roosevelt, therefore, was drafted today and directed to deliver a speech or so, in order that they may be properly canned for the benefit of the voters of the present day and posterity.

The colonel acquiesced, although he says that thinking of talking at a household object instead of to an assembly of Bull Mooses "and little Bull Mooses" is a new experience. Probably the colonel wasn't at his best today, but then the phonograph cannot vote.
Colonel Roosevelt arose at 8 o'clock, ate breakfast in his private car, and then stepped into a waiting automobile, in which sat that sandy-haired Kansas Progressive, William Allen White. The chief Bull Moose just browsed around on the white lawn until church time, when he went to the Dutch Reformed church. A curious, but respectable, gathering nodded and lifted hats as the colonel proceeded through the streets and ascended the church steps.

Later the colonel was whisked around on the white lawn until church time, when he went to the Dutch Reformed church. A curious, but respectable, gathering nodded and lifted hats as the colonel proceeded through the streets and ascended the church steps.
The colonel returned to his car and began dictating his correspondence.

Elated Over Enthusiasm.
Although the colonel visited no polls and saw no political visitors today he is naturally elated over his Kansas reception. The mass meeting at Topeka last evening was an inspiring affair, and the local newspapers describe it as "the greatest occasion since the Sunflower State seems 'Roosevelt crazy'."

Real Day of Rest.
Emporia is noted as the home of William Allen White and Walt Mason, and will be noted as the town in which Colonel Roosevelt and his party spent a day of rest.

The day of rest of Kansas is being today with the echoes of Colonel Roosevelt's speech at Topeka last night. Wednesday Wilson's "doctrine" was the colonel's theme, and with more fervor than he has displayed in any speech (Continued on Page Sixteen.)

FOUR ARE DEAD AFTER CRASH ON RAILS IN OHIO

Excursion Train Instantly
Kills Men Aboard
Hand Car.

FIFTH OF PARTY CANNOT SURVIVE

All Bodies of Joy Riding Victims
Are Terribly
Mangled.

TOLEDO, Ohio, Sept. 22.—Four persons were instantly killed, and a fifth is dying in the Emergency Hospital here as a result of the hand-car, on which they were returning to Mansfield, being struck by an excursion train about 8 o'clock today.

Six were in the party and they had taken one of the handcars in the camp five miles north of Mansfield to come to the city for a joy-ride. They remained in several of the resorts of the northern section of the city all night and started back on the return trip about 6 o'clock.

They had reached the city limits of Tiffin when an excursion train crashed into the handcar with such force that the bodies were jammed under the engine and stopped the cars.
All the bodies were terribly mutilated. The victim in the hospital cannot survive.

DANCING IN SCHOOL FAVORED BY POLICE

Head of Pittsburgh Force Thinks It Would Make For Better Order.
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 22.—Thomas A. McQuaid, superintendent of police, is in favor of dancing in the public schools and would have it taught the pupils as part of the regular course.

THREATEN TO CLOSE HOTEL BARS IN HUB

Union Workers Discuss General Strike, With "No-License Gradusade" as Weapon.

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 22.—A general strike of hotel help in Boston is being discussed today at a meeting of the executive committee of Local No. 6, of the International Hotel Workers' Union. The opinion prevails that it would be unfair to call a general strike until every hotel, cafe and restaurant has a chance to accept or reject the demands of their employees. It is unlikely that drastic action will be taken for a few days.

ALL RIDE HORSEBACK AT COWBOY WEDDING

Bride, Groom, Flower Girls, Minister, and Guests Mounted and Garbed in Western Style.
MONTROSE, Col., Sept. 22.—Probably the most unique wedding that has ever taken place on the Western slope occurred here at a picnic, and was that of Virgil Osborn and Suste Pool.

The bride and groom were married on horseback by a minister who was also mounted. Their two flower girls rode ponies, and were escorted by fifty cowboys and cowgirls dressed in the regalia of the Western (Cont.)

FOREMOST MEN OF SCIENTIFIC WORLD ARRIVE

Distinguished Hosts Reaching City for Hygiene Congress.

PRESIDENT COMES TO GREET BODY

Many Important Papers Are On the Program During Week.

Distinguished scientists arrived in Washington today by the trainload to attend the fifteenth International Congress on Hygiene and Demography, which begins tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at Memorial Continental Hall. Delegates of thirty-three nations will then be welcomed to the National Capitol by President Taft, who is making a special trip from Beverly for the purpose.

Corridors of the leading hotels of the city are now filled with men from many lands, who have come from east and west for this gathering. Not since the International Red Cross conference has Washington seen so many different nationalities assembled as are here now, and in total numbers the assembly of this week is much larger than the Red Cross meeting. Number 3,000.
Delegates alone to the hygiene congress number 3,000, and there are many others whom the congress has drawn here, besides the wives and daughters of numerous delegates.

The congress is of interest to men of the most varied occupations, including those business men who enlightened self-interest makes active in humanitarian matters.
For instance, the Association of Life Insurance Presidents is sending here from New York tomorrow morning its health committee and its general counsel. Officials of the twenty-three great life insurance companies say that they will closely watch proceedings here and subsequently help to put into practical effect in this country the more important reforms suggested.

Dr. Taft Will Greet Them.
Thirty-three men, heads of delegations, will be seated on the platform in the general assembly room of the U. S. A. R. Hall when President Taft is introduced tomorrow morning. Besides these, some of the American citizens and officials who have worked arduously for months arranging for the congress will have seats in the place of honor, and the State Department, under the auspices of which the congress is held, will be represented by the First Assistant Secretary, Huntington Wilson.

Garden Party at White House.
The delegates will then return to their hotels for luncheon and to dress for the garden party and reception at the White House, which begins at 3 o'clock. At 8 in the evening there will be another plenary session, with an address by a famous Englishman, Sir Thomas Oliver, of Newcastle, who will talk on "Dust and Fumes from Industrial Life."
Two other plenary sessions will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. Tuesday evening Dr. Jacques Rivillon, chief of the bureau of municipal statistics of Paris, and inventor of the most widely used statistical system known as "human biometrics," will speak upon the theme, "Mortality and the Causes of Death Through Occupations." Wednesday evening the plenary session will be addressed by Dr. Zahn, a Bavarian official.
Many Interesting Papers.
The above talks are the ones which figure most prominently in the program, but there will be hundreds of other addresses this week worthy of note. In the nine sections and subsections there will be scores of papers read during the week.
The list of the nine sections of division 1 of the congress, that of hygiene, gives some idea of the extensive scope of this assembly. The sections are: Hygiene, microbiology and parasitology; dietetic hygiene and hygienic physiology; hygiene of infancy and childhood and school hygiene; subsection of mental hygiene; hygiene of occupations; control of infectious diseases; State and municipal hygiene; subsection of sex hygiene; hygiene of traffic and transportation; military, naval, and tropical (colonial) hygiene.

BABY'S WOUNDS TO BE EVIDENCE AGAINST PARENT

Cut Lips and Tongue Charged to Mother's Alleged Cruelty.

NEIGHBORS READY TO GIVE TESTIMONY

Woman Wanted to Rid Herself of Family, They Declare She Told Them.

Her baby lips and tongue badly cut from violent contact with the spring bar of an iron crib, little Madeline Page, a nine-month-old baby, will be mute witness against her mother in Police Court tomorrow morning.
The mother, Mrs. Fidelia Page, is to be arraigned charged with assault, the complaint against her alleging she threw against the crib and otherwise assaulted her own child.

Neighbors of Mrs. Page, and persons living in the rooming house at 902 Twelfth street northwest, with baby Madeline, will bear witness against her.
Neighbors To Testify.
They have told the police they will testify that Mrs. Page has been a neglectful and inhuman mother, and among other things placed a tub of water beside the child's crib, saying she hoped that the babe would roll off the bed into the water and be drowned apparently by accident.

Mrs. Page is being held by the police at the House of Detention, charged with assault, but Captain Hollinberger, of the First police precinct, considers her alleged offense sufficiently grave to demand a real estate bond for her release from custody. Such bond has not been furnished. Real estate bond is demanded in assault cases only in rare instances.
The specific complaint against Mrs. Page is one of assaulting the youngest baby, Madeline.

Denies Any Wrongdoing.
In the meantime, Mrs. Page, confined in the House of Detention, has her babies with her, and is giving them every care and attention. She has shown no aversion to them. She takes her arrest quietly, and declares that she has done no wrong.
About six months ago, shortly after the birth of baby Madeline, Mrs. Page entered suit against her husband in the District court for a separation, according to the statement today of Mrs. Herbert Barringer, one of the principal witnesses in the case.
Mrs. Page told me this and much more about her case, said Mrs. Barringer, proprietor of the rooming house at 902 Twelfth street northwest, where the Pages occupied two basement rooms. "At one time, after I had repeatedly remonstrated with her about her treatment of the babies," said Mrs. Barringer, "she said that she would be glad to be rid of them."

Lost Separation Suit.
According to Mrs. Barringer's story, Mrs. Page asked custody of the children and $10 a month alimony in her suit. The suit was denied by the courts, and the judge advised Mrs. Page to live with her husband. Mrs. Barringer declares that Mrs. Page has frequently told her that there was another man in the case a first love, and that as the courts would give her no relief she would be glad to be rid of the family that stood in the way.

FIVE IN MOTOR CAR
ROB JEWELRY STORE
Women Wait While Men Gag
Proprietor, Blow Safe, and Escape With $5,800.
NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—A robbery which resembled the famous Jacob hold-up occurred early this morning, when three men and two women in a touring car got away with $500 cash and $5,800 in gems from the jewelry store of G. Reichman, 111 Second avenue.
While the women waited with the machine, the men entered the store, jugged the proprietor, who slept in the rear, gagged him, and went to the safe, which they blew open.
The theft was discovered by a Mrs. Tobias, who, seeing the store opened about 8 o'clock, went in to make a purchase.
The door of the big safe was ajar, and the gems were standing empty on counters.

GEN. T. J. SHANNON, OF PENSION OFFICE, DIES AT HIS HOME

Was Past National Commander of Union Veterans' Legion.

Gen. Thomas J. Shannon, past national commander of the Union Veterans' Legion, organizer of Encampment 111 of the Legion and principal examiner in the United States pension office, died last night at 11:30 o'clock at his residence, 219 Fifth street southeast.
Funeral services will be held from his residence Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by the Rev. A. H. Thompson, pastor of Waucho Chapel Methodist Episcopal Church. At the burial in Rock Creek Cemetery two special services will be held, one by Encampment 111, Union Veterans' Legion, and the other by Washington Central Lodge, No. 14, F. A. A. M., of which general Shannon was a charter member.

General Shannon was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., August 15, 1846. At the opening of the civil war he enlisted in Company C, Fourth United States Infantry, and served until July 26, 1864, when he was honorably discharged. He was a member of the U. S. A. R.

MOURNED AS DEAD;
VETERAN APPEARS
Is Represented on Soldiers and Sailors' Monument, But Attends Friend's Funeral.
PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 22.—John H. Road, of Cambridge, Mass., a civil war veteran, who was believed to have been killed in battle, and who is represented on the soldiers and sailors monument here, astonished many of his old comrades by appearing at the funeral of Patrick Egan, former chief of police of Providence.

Egan saved Road's life by propping him up against a tree on a battlefield after he had been left for dead.
ROAD, Mass., Sept. 22.—Mrs. John Egan, who served twenty-three years in the Indiana woman's prison for the murder of her husband, and who was paroled six years ago, has been vindicated by the death-bed confession of Henry Epps, a brother, who died a few weeks ago.
Egan, before dying, said he poisoned his brother.

GIRL CONFESSES TO PUTTING POISON IN RELATIVES' COFFEE

Says Man Who Wanted Her to Go to New York Suggested Crime.

LOWELL, Mass., Sept. 22.—Gladys Newell, a girl of sixteen years, charged with an attempt to murder Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Jordan, the uncle and aunt with whom she lived, confessed today she put "Rough on Rats" in their coffee because "they were her enemies, and would not let her go to her old home in New York."

Although badly frightened the girl is still unrepentant. In her confession she said:
"I decided last Monday that I would kill my uncle and aunt. I wanted to kill them because my aunt had been very cross to me.

Accuses New York Man.
"A man in northern New York named Bartlett wrote to me and told me how I could kill my uncle and aunt with poison so I could come to New York."
The police are trying to locate this man to ascertain his motive, the girl refusing to give his address.

Confesses Her Guilt.
Superintendent of Police Welch questioned the girl, who at first denied any knowledge of the crime, but, after being arrested and confronted with positive proof of her guilt, broke down and confessed.
It is claimed that the girl's desire to return to New York is the result of alluring stories told to her by men who were trying to get her to go back.

FINED FOR SPEEDING, BUT GETS REVENGE

Takes Police Chief Outside City Limits and Runs Seventy

ATTLEBORO, Mass., Sept. 22.—William M. Wood, Jr., son of the president of the American Woolen mills, took a novel revenge on Chief Wilbur, of the Attleboro police, for arresting him for speeding.

Woman Is Vindicated
By Deathbed Confession
HUNTINGTON, Ind., Sept. 22.—Mrs. John Epps, who served twenty-three years in the Indiana woman's prison for the murder of her husband, and who was paroled six years ago, has been vindicated by the death-bed confession of Henry Epps, a brother, who died a few weeks ago.

HAVRE DE GRACE "BOOKIES" WILL BE ARRESTED

Harford County Sheriff
Says He Will Take Racing Officials, Too.

WILL PUSH CASES TO FULL LEGAL LIMIT

Track People, Defiant, Decline
Monday's Program Will Be Run Off.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 22.—Conferences were held today by State officials involved in the move to close up the race track at Havre de Grace, following which it was announced positively that some, if not all, of the bookmakers at the track tomorrow afternoon will be arrested. Furthermore, it was announced that under the law the officials of the track can also be arrested and that it is probable one or more will be taken into custody in case there is any betting at the track.

State's Attorney Stiffle, of Harford county, the man who is made directly responsible by Governor Goldsborough for the conditions at Havre de Grace, declared positively today that arrests will be made tomorrow afternoon and that he will prosecute the cases to the limit. Attorney General Edgar Allan Poe, under whose opinion showing violation of the law the governor is acting, will give him every assistance.
Officials Defiant.

Stephenson A. Williams, counsel for the racetrack association, declared that the track would be opened tomorrow unless a court order prevented. He held that the meet was being conducted legally and that the commissioners were empowered to issue licenses and make other regulations for race meets.
"We could hardly be expected to hold a meeting on Sunday," said Thomas C. Hopkins, one of the directors of the racing association, and Frederick Von Kamp, another director, who said that the directors had conferred with one another regarding the decision of the governor to have the track closed.
"Things are moving along nicely," he continued, "and we are not in the least disturbed by what has happened. Besides, the people of Havre de Grace are making plenty of money, and they are not such a bad lot of people, either."

Try to Legalize Commission.
Evidently fearing the position of Mr. Poe was well taken, and in an eleventh-hour attempt to legalize the commission, four of the Harford county racing commissioners—M. H. Fahey, L. J. Williams, Dr. T. L. Tubbs, and J. A. Shriver—appeared before Court Clerk Robinson at Belair to take the oath. Later in the evening Commissioner James T. Jones also appeared before Justice Anderson. He refused to qualify them, and they went before Magistrate George W. Richardson, who administered the oath.
By the opinion given by Mr. Poe, the future of Pimlico is placed in Governor Goldsborough's hands, it is said. The three racing commissioners of Baltimore county—Edmond C. Stewart, Spalding Lewis Jenkins, and Frederick Von Kamp—did not qualify. This renders their appointment by the legislature void if Mr. Poe's contentions are upheld.

FIND BOY'S SKELETON WITH HOLE IN SKULL

Body Buried Two Years and Medical Examination Says Lad
Was Evidently Murdered.

NORTH PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 22.—The skeleton of a twelve-year-old boy was found by laborers grading the River Grammar school grounds here. It was about a foot below the surface and apparently had been buried about a year. Medical Examiner George F. Allerton today announced that the skull had a deep hole in it, probably caused by a blow, and that the boy evidently had been murdered.
An investigation was begun.

ATTEMPTS SUICIDE WITH JURY OUT

Man Charged With Murder Takes Ground Glass and Sulphur.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 22.—Frank Ronolo, who is charged with murdering Joseph Wilson, near Huntington, Pa., attempted to commit suicide in his cell early today by taking a mixture of ground glass and sulphur.
His trial closed yesterday with the jury still out and while awaiting the verdict he attempted his life. His condition is critical.
