MAGAZINE AGENT WAIVES HEARING

Rockville Families Say He Stole Jewelry From Homes in Their Absence.

ROCKVILLE, Md., Feb. 12.-Edward Whitley, alias H. Harris, who was arrested in Washington Tuesday to answer charges of the larceny of several watches and rings, a revolver, brooch, and other articles from the omes of P. Hicks Hay and Mrs. S. E. Kelley near Colesville, waived a preliminary examination before Juda: Arthur Mace, in the police court yesterday, and in default of bail in the to await the action of the grand jury, which meets here next month. Whitley, who gave his age as nineteen, and Wyoming, Pa., as his place of residence, spent several days in the Colesville neighborhood seliciting subscriptions to a magazine. It is said be obtained many subscriptons by representing that he was having a hard struggle carning a living. It is charged that he took advantage of the absence from home of the members of the Ray and Kelley familles and gained en-trance to the houses and appropriated the valuables.

Mr. Ray, while in Washington yesterday, happened to notice the young man on the street. He trailed him to a pawn shop and notified an officer, who placed him under arrest. Later in the day he was turned over to sheriff Howard, of this county, who brought him to Reckyille brought him to Rockville.
