Mexico Demanding Americans' Funds

VERA CRUZ, Nov. 22.—The government is now under the necessity of resorting to extraordinary measures to obtain enough funds to meet its obligations. The federal government at Monterrey, Saltillo, and other large cities have been levying forced contributions on the wealthy classes during the past week, some of them Americans. The Guggenheim Smelting concern has had to pay $25,000, but the Pierce oil agency flatly refused a demand for $15,000.

More Troops to Go To Mexican Border

Confirmation of the report that authorities at Washington had asked Rear Admiral Fletcher how many men will be required to take Vera Cruz could not be gained at the State Department today. Knowledge of any such a request was denied by the Navy Department.

Gen. Aguilar in Full Control of Tuxpam

VERA CRUZ, Nov. 22.—Reports from the Tuxpam district indicate that Gen. Candide Aguilar is in complete possession of the oil fields including the pipelines leading from the great Petrovero well, belonging to Lord Cowdry, to the coast. General Aguilar, while assuring the American consuls that he will give every protection to the property of Lord Cowdry, refuses to allow any oil to be supplied to the tanks from which the railroads derive their supply, which accounts for the present shortage of fuel oil at Mexico City.

Merchant Sent To Observation Hospital

Daniel Mehring, a merchant of southwest Washington, was removed to Washington Asylum Hospital this morning for observation. He had been wandering about the Union Station since midnight. Mehring's wife and family live at Sixth and I streets southwest.

CITY'S FINANCIAL FLURRY ENDED

Capital Satisfied the Munsey Trust Company Can Handle Whole Situation.

which we were entitled under the law, but paid off every savings account for which demand was made. Furthermore, in accordance with banking custom, we could have closed our doors at 12 o'clock, it being Saturday, but instead, the banks were kept open throughout the afternoon and at the branch banks we did not close until after 9 o'clock at night."

Mr. Lambert's View. Wilton J. Lambert, general counsel for the Munsey Trust Company, by whom the legal details connected with the deal were prepared, made this official statement:

"From a maze of legal problems to an interview is a long step. However, it was a dramatic piece of work. The run on the United States Trust Company had been on all day. No relief was in sight. Without it the bank could not go on. The situation was tense in the extreme. Rumors were on every breath. Disaster hung heavy over the city."

"The collapse of the United States Trust Company would undermine confidence. This was especially true in view of the vast list of depositors in the United States Trust Company—5,000 of them, one out of six of the entire population of the city. Once broken loose and surging against the town in injured protest, something would have to give way. What?"

"At 5 o'clock at night Mr. Frank Munsey arrived from New York. On his way from the station he saw several long lines of pathetic-looking depositors waiting anxiously and with pained faces at branches of the United States Trust Company hoping to get out their money—their little savings."

"Something must be done," Mr. Munsey said quietly, but with significant meaning, and something was done. "The business of this great bank, with its deposits of over $6,000,000 and with its 55,000 depositors, was taken over with a little fuss and anxiety as would characterize an ordinary transaction of a few hundred dollars, and yet this deal involved the guarantee of all these depositors, a guarantee that pledged both the Munsey Trust Company and Mr. Munsey's personal fortune."

"This is just an incident. At noon the following day the storm clouds had passed over, and the calm of financial serenity pervaded the city."

There is something after all, as Mr. Morgan said, in personal integrity, personal responsibility.

Day Is Marked By Traffic

Capt. W. A. Nicklins, U. S. A., of the Portland apartment, collided with a White Cross milk wagon at Sixteenth and P streets northwest today while driving his automobile down Sixteenth street. The milk wagon, driven by C. J. Bryne, was slightly damaged.

Edward A. Zimmerman, of 3528 U street northwest, was arrested by the police of the Third precinct for fast driving across intersecting streets in Seventeenth street.

Mrs. F. I. Dietz, 718 North Carolina avenue southeast, collided at Fourteenth street and New York avenue this afternoon with car No. 822 of the Washington Electric and Railway Company. She was not hurt. The machine was slightly damaged.

His Memory. "Do you see those fans? Don't you remember we got them as souvenirs at Chaville—Chaville, where we acted like two little doves and had luncheon at the inn?"

"You deceive yourself, Hector, I was never at Chaville."

"Ah, yes! I recall now that I was with my dear friend Albert at the time." —Le Rire.

TOBACCO HABIT A very interesting book has been published on tobacco habit—how to conquer it quickly and easily. It tells the dangers of excessive smoking, chewing, snuff using, etc., and explains how nervousness, irritability, sleeplessness, weak eyes, stomach troubles, and numerous other disorders may be eliminated through stopping self-poisoning by tobacco. The man who has written this book wants to genuinely help all who have become addicted to tobacco habit, and says there's no need to suffer that awful craving or restlessness which comes when one tries to quit voluntarily. This is no mind-cure or temperance sermon tract, but plain common sense, clearly set forth. The author will send it free, postpaid, in plain wrapper. Write, giving name and full address—a postcard will do. Address: Edward J. Woods, 234 Sixth Ave., 7522, New York City. Keep this advertisement; it is likely to prove the best news you ever read in this journal.—Advt.
