

WOMEN FLOCK TO POLLS TO VOTE FOR FAVORITE SERVANT

Many Votes Are Filed During Past Twenty-four Hours in Domestic Service Contest.

TIMES PRIZE IS SOUGHT

Women are flocking to the polls today in Washington, and their election promises to be a close one.

They broke all records in casting their ballots within the past twenty-four hours for the domestics of longest service in the District.

An even sixty names were filed with Mrs. J. Edson Briggs today as candidates for the prizes which The Times and others are giving in the competition of the District of Columbia Federation of Women's Clubs.

May Give Prize for Letter.

Some of the letters containing the entries are so interesting that the club women may yet be moved to give a prize to the most interesting letter writer as well as to the domestic of longest service.

Mrs. William E. Shannon, writing to Mrs. Briggs of four of her domestics, said:

"It is my great pleasure to enter the following four co-workers in my household, who have been for many years a part of my home life."

After naming the domestics and their terms of service, Mrs. Shannon continues:

"We consider ourselves not only once blessed, but four times blessed, in having these four faithful souls co-operating with us in our daily work. We look upon them as members of the family, and they receive the same consideration as members of the family. The length of their service shows this is appreciated."

Many other letters hint at the same reason for length of service.

Refuse Higher Wages.

"I treat them like members of the family and they will stay," is a phrase repeated in one form or another in the letters. Many of the writers state that domestics have refused offers of higher wages rather than serve employers who might be less considerate.

Mrs. Henry Polkholder entered her domestic in the contest. "Our faithful friend devoted servant."

Some of the writers tell of the loyalty of domestics in times of illness and death. Others tell how they have been entrusted with money, and how they have guarded property, especially jewelry, and never a loss was reported.

Spurns Higher Offers.

Mrs. John W. Daniel wrote that her employe had spurned offers of higher wages, and that "we hope to keep her until death do us part."

A letter signed "R. M. White" states: "My mother, Mrs. J. H. Macias, asks me to write of the domestic who has lived with my mother continuously for fifty-two years and never a slave. During that interval she has served as playmate to her children, house girl, lady's maid, cook and now housekeeper, and she is an intelligent colored woman, speaking and writing English and Spanish fluently."

Another unusual tribute is paid in a letter signed Cordelia Jackson, which states:

"I am very proud of the fact that my father practiced law before the Washington bar for forty years, but equally proud of the fact that Anna Hawkins Chase was a faithful laundress and valued friend in our household during that entire time. She still lives in Georgetown, and has the admiration of our leading citizens. Honestly, is the cardinal virtue of her family."

TAMMANY DEAD, SAYS NEW YORK WORLD

Declares Organization Is a Shell And Living Corpse.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Tammany is dead again, according to the New York World, which today says:

"Tammany is dead. That is the true significance of the election returns from New York city."

"It is hardly worth while to charge the Fourteenth street organization with treachery toward the Democratic national ticket, or the Democratic Senatorial ticket. Whether there was treachery or not on the part of Tammany leaders, their disloyalty could have had no important bearing on the result."

"New York is done with Tammany. Voters will not follow it. Mr. Murphy's organization tried to maintain a semblance of life and to go through some of the motions of vitality, but it is a living corpse."

DRYS MAY DEMAND RECOUNT OF VOTES

Will Meet to Consider Action on Prince George's County.

HYATTSVILLE, Md., Nov. 8.—Frank M. Stephens, secretary of the Citizens' Temperance Union of Prince George's county, stated last night there would be a session of the executive committee of the association at its offices in the Southern building Saturday to decide whether a recount of the votes on prohibition would be asked.

Dr. Clarence J. Owens, director of the Southern Commercial Congress and president of the temperance association, in an interview stated: "The fight has not been lost; it has just begun. Many irregularities have been reported in several districts, and these will be contested, with a demand for a recount, which will, in all probability throw the issue to the dry forces. Should this fall, then the fight will be carried to the general assembly."

Some Scoundrel Placed Croton Oil in Punch

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 8.—The Junior Hop Club, New Albany, Ind., has voted to award a reward of $100 for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who drugged punch served at the club's dance at Glenwood Park, causing acute suffering for a dozen or more young men and women.

The physicians believe that croton oil was the drug that some miscreant swallowed in unusually large quantities.

It is certain that the symptoms of the sufferers indicated the use of a powerful irritant, not necessarily fatal, unless swallowed in unusually large quantities.

WILSON AND AIDE N. Y. PAPERS DIVIDE STILL OPTIMISTIC ON CONGRESS TOTAL

Feel Democrats May Be Able to Nose Out Victory—President Arises Early.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Nov. 9.—When President Wilson arose about 7 o'clock this morning he found the same doubt hanging over the election results that existed when he retired last night.

It still looks like a horse race in the minds of Administration officials. The President and Secretary Tumulty, however, feel that the Democrats have the rail and may be able to nose out a victory.

At 10 o'clock President Wilson called the executive office for a complete summary of the situation at that hour.

Secretary Tumulty told him, according to figures at hand, it appeared the President had 260 electoral votes, including New Hampshire.

The President asked that information be secured as to what, if any, effect there would be on the New Hampshire and Minnesota returns as the result of the militia vote on the border. He was particularly anxious to hear also from California and New Mexico. He had been informed earlier, however, by phone from Western headquarters that California was safe.

The President continued to reserve judgment on the result in spite of the enthusiastic optimism of others of his official family here.

Secretary Tumulty reiterated his assertion: "It is close, but all right."

The answer is they are looking for definite returns here today, and these are coming in exasperating slowness. It is possible the President may not yet know the result when he boards the Mayflower tonight to go to Williamsburg, Mass., for the christening of his granddaughter tomorrow.

This is "moving up" at Shadow Lawn and Asbury Park. Owing to the uncertain result of the election and need for keeping all clerks busy at the executive offices, it will be almost impossible for these offices to be entirely cleared out and moved back to Washington before the end of the week.

Both Shadow Lawn and the executive offices, however, will be practically deserted by tomorrow night, and "White House vacation" will be at an end.

Moonshiner Arrested Leading a Prayer Meeting

NASHVILLE, Nov. 8.—Government agents reached Nashville lately with Agent Haddock, an aged and respected citizen of Linden, Tenn., whom they claim as "the king of the Tennessee wildcaters," or moonshiners.

Haddock was arrested, the officers said, as he finished leading a prayer in the Linden church, of which he is a pillar.

For forty-two years, according to the government's agents, he has been one of the most respected members of the community. And for forty years, they charge, he has been at the head of one of the biggest moonshine distilleries in the moonshine belt.

DEMOCRATS CLAIM CONTROL IN HOUSE; G. O. P. STANDS PAT

Slow Returns Make Situation Uncertain, But Republicans Are Still Hopeful.

SENATE RESULTS ARE FINAL

Democratic officials of the House who have been checking up on the Congressional returns predicted this afternoon the House would remain Democratic by a narrow margin.

Slow returns and conflict of returns from a number of close districts, however, make the situation uncertain, and Chairman Woods, of the Republican Congressional committee, has by no means given up hope the Republicans will gain control of the lower branch of Congress.

The Senate is definitely Democratic, and the only question is the size of the Democratic majority.

Democratic Wins.

Late advices from New Mexico indicate that A. A. Jones, Democrat, former Assistant Secretary of the Interior, has won out over Frank A. Hubbell, the Republican candidate.

If this proves true on final returns, the Senate will stand 64 to 42.

The Republicans have gained one in Maine, one in New York, one in New Jersey, one in Maryland, two in Indiana, and one in West Virginia, and have lost one in Delaware, one in Rhode Island, one in Wyoming, one in Utah, and perhaps one in New Mexico. This would be a net Democratic loss of two.

The House situation has been obscured by the fact that in many States the Congressional ticket was counted after the Presidential and State tickets. This has delayed receipt of definite returns from close States.

Chairman Woods, of the Republican committee, was at his desk going over telegrams today telling him of results in different States, but he said his advice would be by no means complete.

Late Compilation.

A late compilation gives the Republicans 30 seats and the Democrats 26, with four scattered, and twenty-five districts yet to be heard from.

The Republicans lost several Ohio districts, and this has handicapped them. Scattering losses here and there have also been reported. Representative Bennett was defeated in New York.

Among the defeated Democrats are Buchanan, Tavenner, and Stone, of Illinois; Cullip, Cline, and Gray, of Indiana; Konop, Burke, and Kelly, in Wisconsin; Kordian and Driscoll, in New York; and probably Fenn, and Casey, of Pennsylvania. Bailey, of Pennsylvania, is also said to be beaten. Roberts, of Massachusetts, is one of the Republicans who will be defeated.

Bought Set of Burglar's Tools at Auction Sale

WOOSTER, Ohio, Nov. 9.—A big chest was bought for 30 cents by Edward Betton, a farmer, living a few miles north, at an auction here of unclaimed express packages.

When he reached home he found the box contained a set of burglar tools and a lot of loot. Now he is afraid he may get into trouble.

He just happened to pass by the sale and raised a 25-cent bid on the chest because he thought it was worth 30 cents even if it were empty. Among the articles were a dozen automobile caps, two new suits of clothes, and a bill, wrapped in an old sock. The burglar tools were wrapped so they would not jingle.

Sent Gems to Laundry; They're Still "In Wash"

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Nov. 8.—Mrs. William Davis, of 38 Sandusky avenue, has found a preparedness precaution against burglars unprofitable.

Mrs. Davis had a half-carat diamond ring and a pair of earrings, each set with diamonds weighing five-eighths carat. In a pillow slip the other night, the pillows went to the laundry and the clothes to a laundry the next morning. The jewelry has not been recovered.

Maybe! Maybe!

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—A few political maxims that may have gone by the board in the recent election:

As Maine goes so goes the nation—Maine went for Hughes. New York State controls the National Elections—New York went for Hughes.

Wall Street always can discount the results—Wall Street which was betting 10 to 7 on Hughes last week, is betting 2 to 1 on Wilson on the curb today.

PICKPOCKETS TAKE $70 AND ONE WATCH

Crowd on Second Night Gives Police Little Trouble and No Fighting Is Seen.

Pickpockets got $70 and a gold watch in the election crowds on Pennsylvania avenue last night.

John E. Harrison, of 109 Royal street, Alexandria, Va., told the police his gold watch disappeared from his pocket near Eleventh street and the Avenue.

E. M. Hook, of 2402 Wisconsin avenue northwest, reported a wallet containing $70 was taken from his hip pocket while watching one of the bulletin boards on the Avenue.

Had Same Force on Duty.

Although the crowd last night did not reach the record-breaking size that it did on Tuesday night, Major Pullman had practically the same number of police on duty in the downtown section, and another orderly night was passed.

Despite the throngs in the business section during the past two nights, there has not been a single person seriously injured by traffic. This record is believed due to the police order barring all vehicles from Pennsylvania avenue while the returns are coming in.

No Fighting Is Seen.

Police of the First precinct say they have had practically no trouble this election from the pugilistic politicians, who usually want to beat everybody in the crowd who fails to agree with them.

Convinced that his order clearing Pennsylvania avenue of all vehicles between Tenth and Fourteenth streets has prevented many accidents, Major Pullman probably will continue the order in effect tonight, should the election remain in doubt that long and the crowds again flock to the newspaper bulletin boards.

ANACOSTIA.

The Public Improvement Association of Congress Heights will meet Monday night in Loeffler's Hotel in Nichols avenue. The Anacostia association will meet Wednesday night in the office of the George S. King Company, in Nichols avenue.

The luncheon held in old Masonic Temple by the Ladies Guild of Emmanuel Church was brought to a close yesterday.

Work on the Anderson Tire Rubber Factory plant at the foot of Thirteenth street is progressing rapidly, and it is expected that within a few days the entire machinery at this plant will be in operation. This company will manufacture a tire which can be used without inner tube.

Tonight in the assembly hall of the parochial school of St. Teresa's Church, the Ladies' Altar Society of the church will give a masquerade dance, to raise funds to reduce the school debt.

A special meeting of the vestry of Emmanuel Church was held last night in the parish hall, when plans were formulated for the Thanksgiving and homecoming celebration to be held the first week in December.

DR. COUSINS QUILTS ASSWIMMING COACH BRUNNER IS PICKED

Believed That Expert and Amateur Instructor Will Be Appointed to Fill Vacancy.

TO COMBINE POSITIONS

The resignation of Dr. Sidney Cousins, director of the municipal swimming pools, was given to the Commissioners today, to take effect November 15.

It is believed the resignation will be accepted and that Frederick J. Brunner, widely known as an expert swimmer and amateur coach, will be appointed to fill the vacancy.

The municipal swimming pools are under the playground department of the District, but during the past have been under a management separate from the management of the pools on the various playgrounds. It is reported that, following the resignation of Dr. Cousins and the appointment of Mr. Brunner, all the swimming pools of the District will be placed under one head under the direction of the playground department.

Teaches at Central High.

Mr. Brunner was recently appointed instructor in swimming at the new Central High School.

"There will be no radical changes in the conduct of the bathing beach," said Mr. Brunner today, "if I am appointed. My idea is to teach swimming and have every one who can swim learn to swim and everyone who can swim I want to see made a good swimmer."

The appointment of Mr. Brunner will assure to Washington the latest means of instruction in aquatic sports. It is in a large part due to his efforts that the Washington Swimming Club has been able to carry off all honors in local competitions during the past two years. As coach of that organization, Mr. Brunner has formed a girls' section and taught hundreds of young women to swim. He also has organized a "polar bear" club, whose members swim every day during the winter.

Instructor at Other Schools.

In addition to his work with the Washington Swimming Club, Mr. Brunner has been instructor of swimming at several schools for girls, at the District Industrial Home School, and at the George Washington University.

He has been especially fortunate in teaching young people. He says that the proper age for beginners is eight months. His own daughters, aged four and six, have been doing exhibition life-saving, and are expert swimmers.

During the past summer Mr. Brunner has been especially detailed by the Police Department to give instruction in life-saving to both civilians and officers. He also organized many aquatic meets.

LADIES! SECRET TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Bring Back its Color and Lustre with Grandma's Sage Tea Recipe.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients, costing about 60 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wetly's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wetly's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

Wetly's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—ADV.
