Services to Be Held Every Night Except Monday After January 28.

Workmen today completed the construction of the tabernacle near Sixteenth and V streets northwest in which Gypsy Smith, jr., will conduct evangelistic services beginning January 28 and ending February 28.

As soon as the carpenters finished their task a large force of other work- President of Corporation Tells men began installing 3,000 seats to accomodate the crowds expected at the revival services.

The tabernacle is a rude wooden structure, 160 feet long and 100 feet wide. It is equipped with a high platform from which the evangelist will Back of the platform are six the chorus which will assist the re vivalist.

Lighting Facilities.

The big, barn-like building has also been equipped with lighting facilities, The Rev. Great Good Expected.

It is believed by the ministers in charge of the evangelistic campaign that Gypsy Smith, jr., will accomplish great good in Washington. He is known to possess all the eloquence and persuasive powers of his famous parent, Gypsy Smith, sr., and considerable of the fire and rip-roaring ability of Billy Sunday.

· Persons who have seen both the father and son in action declare the latter "can teach his dady something about his own business."

Gypsy Smith is thirty-three years old, and is said to be the youngest evangelist who ever accomplished as much as he has in his chosen field.

In Demand at Colleges.

He has been especially successful among young men, particularly college men, and is always in demand at institutions of learning.

At present he is conducting a re vival at the Penn State College, in Pennsylvania. His appearance here will not be entirely new to people in and around Washington, as he has been heard in revivals at Alexandria, Rockville, Warrenton, and Leesburg.

The real name of Gypsy Smith, jr.

is Albany Rodney Smith. He is a son of a real gypsy, and the godson-of the Duke of Albany, after whom he Remarkable Conversion.

The conversion of Gypsy Smith, jr., is said to have been even more remarkable than that of his father, he having embraced Christianity less than ten years ago.

The elder Gypsy Smith, who is now working among the soldiers in the trenches in the western theater of the European war, was born a gypsy. There was considerable inharmony. profanity, and fighting among the men and women in the tribe to which officiate. Mrs. Johnson died at the he belonged, and scenes of bloodshed home of her daughter, Mrs. Louisa and cruelty were frequent. Smith was a temperamental youth, and was disgusted with the violent scenes.

One day, while the tribe was camped just outside of London, he sneaked away from camp, and went to an evangelist's meeting in the world's largest city.

Made Deep Impression.

The words of the Gospel made a deep impression upon him, and he remained after the crowd left to speak with the evangelist. More than usual Albert Shapiro. Converted By Father.

About nine years ago, however, one of his father's sermons set him to thinking, with the result that he became converted. Immediately there after, he entered a seminary and stud ied for four years for the ministry. Shortly after he was ordained, he entered the evangelistic field.

Admirers of Gypsy Smith, jr., while not detracting any from his father's wonderful powers, insist that the son is equally as forceful and effective
