"How Come?" Said the Judge

JACK DEMPSEY MUST HAVE SYSTEM PROTECTING JAW IF HE WOULD WIN

By FRANK G. MENKE.

TOLEDO, Ohio, June 10.—The Jack Dempsey rooters may never get a chance to exercise their vocal chords on the Fourth of July if the Utah slugger does not present some adequate defense for the rim of his jaw.

Dempsey's present style of battling knows no guard for either the upper or lower part of his head. And the deadliest punch that Jess Willard carries in his immense arms is an upper cut. It is the one blow that man-mountain can deliver with all the crushing force of his super-body behind it.

A right-hand uppercut used during his early days won many battles for Willard. The half-circle sweep that traveled from his knee to the head of his opponent never failed to drop the target that it hit. It was that same uppercut that broke the neck of "Bull" Young in Fisco a few years ago—and Young died within five minutes after Willard hit him.

Ever since that time Willard never has attempted frequent use of the most powerful blow that he knows, perhaps because he feared the consequences if it landed. But if Dempsey corners him—forces Willard to use his every ring trick to save himself from deethronement, it is a certainty that Willard will use that uppercut and chance the snapping of Dempsey's spinal column.

It's Rather Disheartening. Through the last few days of training Dempsey, perhaps cognizant of the menace of that uppercut without defense, has been attempting to perfect some covering for it. But up to the present time the result has been inconsequential—a fact rather disheartening to those who are yearning for a Dempsey victory over the mighty champion.

Dempsey right now is in the most superb fighting condition he has ever known. With muscles perfectly toned, skin tanned almost to black, and by outdoor life, with wind in excellent condition, Dempsey is fit to battle a hundred rounds if condition alone is necessary to carry on.

Dempsey moves with the speed of a panther. Those whose memories sweep back along the trail of years to the time of Paddy Ryan say that Jim Corbett alone was faster than the mauler from the golden West. Compared with Willard, the youngster is like a ten-second performer in a race with a hobbled truckman.

His Punching Hard. And Dempsey is punching with such startling accuracy and dynamic power that he is having trouble in keeping a staff of sparring partners. Although he has offered $200 a week to sparrers, whose usual pay is only $75, he cannot get any white man to linger long. A dozen or so have essayed the task—including Jack Ross, heavyweight champion of Canada—and all of them either have to quit "cold" or been knocked "cold" in a round or two.

Dempsey's program for today perhaps will not include any "rough stuff." It's all because the "Jamaica Kid," one of Jack's dusky "punching bags," swept the heel of his glove against the Dempsey optic in a rally Monday afternoon. The result was a "flash" over Dempsey's right eye that may take a week or so to heal—if unpunished in the interim.

"But it's just as well, perhaps," considers Jimmy DeForrest, his trainer. "Jack's condition is so fine right now that he was in danger of over-training. A few days' let-up in boxing will do him good rather than harm."

Tad Is In Toledo For Coming Contest

Tad, the famous sport cartoonist and writer of The Washington Times, arrives in Toledo today where he will remain until after the world's heavyweight championship on July 4. He will size up Jess Willard and Jack Dempsey and tell exactly how they shape up for their big battle. His drawings, made on the spot, will show how the men train, how they look, and illustrate other incidents of interest to all interested in boxing.

CLEVELAND COMES FOR FOUR BATTLES

The Indians are here, being due to open a four-game series with the Griffins today at Georgia avenue. They arrived full of pep, too, thinking the Potomac clan one of the softest in the league for their style of playing. The Indians depend on speed and good hurling to land their victories and they have been steadily piling up victories ever since the season got under way. They believe they'll catch the fast-moving White Sox before returning home.

However, if past history counts for anything, the Indians may come a cropper while here. The Griffins have been known to rise in their wrath and shatter the Indians, even when the latter were racing away to a pennant. They did just this little thing a couple of seasons back. They are ready to repeat the dose.

Monday's rest may help the Griffins. Mian is taking great chances of serious injury in getting back into uniform so soon after his surgical operation and additional rest cannot but do him a world of good.

LEONARD IS KIND. MONTREAL, June 10.—Lightweight Champion Benny Leonard has another scalp dangling from his belt today. His latest victim is Charlie Pitts, to whom Leonard was very kind in permitting him to stay the full ten rounds here last night.

CHARLES HOFFNER LEADING BIG FIELD AT BRAE BURN

WEST NEWTON, Mass., June 10.—Charles Hoffner, twenty-two-year-old professional of the Philmont Country Club, Huntington Valley, Philadelphia, leading a field of 132 of the country's best golfers with a score of 72, the second 18 of 72 holes of medal play for the United States open golf championship were contested on the links of the Brae Burn Country Club today.

Hoffner was closely followed by Louis Heller, Brae Burn, and George L. Bowden, Commonwealth Country Club, with 73 each.

The entire field played today, and the same pairings as yesterday prevailed. The sixty-four players with the best totals for the thirty-six holes of yesterday and today will fight it out for the title tomorrow.

Following a night of rain, the day broke fair and cold.

DROPS PADDY DRISCOLL. CHICAGO, June 10.—Paddy Driscoll, Northwestern's great football player, who starred with the Great Lakes eleven last fall, has been dropped by the Los Angeles club of the Pacific Coast League, and is playing with the Gunthers, a strong semi-pro team here. Driscoll is the property of the Cubs.

COLUMBIA STAGES GOLF TOURNAMENT

Columbia Golf and Country Club will stage the annual Middle Atlantic golf championship tournament on the dates of June 26, 27 and 28. The affair will be the first title tournament in this section since this country entered into war.

The tournament was awarded Columbia earlier in the year but was postponed on account of several changes in the course. Unusual interest is being shown in the tournament. It is expected that a banner entry list will be found when the tourney starts.

The return of golf to a pre-war basis has shown that the popular pastime has gained favor by leaps and bounds. From present indications all of the local clubs will send heavy entry lists.

GRAND CENTRAL TO ROLL RECREATION STAR BUNCH

A home-and-home bowling match between the Grand Central and Recreation begins tomorrow night at the Grand Central alleys, finishing Thursday night at Recreation. Both teams are entered in the big tournament to be rolled in New York, leaving June 27, and this match will settle a lot of argument as to their relative chances in the big town.

Grand Central's team consists of G. Wolstenholme, H. Burtner, J. Welsh, Logan, and Capt. John L. Vaeth. Recreation's team consists of H. Armiger, Ferguson, A. Goddard, "Pop" Halsey, and Capt. R. Pratt.

CORINTHIANS IN LINE

The Corinthians are in line for baseball games. Harry Seyfarth, 1215 Eighth street northwest, is manager, and wants to hear from teams averaging eighteen years of age.

WANTS BALL GAMES.

War Risk Insurance, Leonard Nelson, manager, wants games with strong teams here. Nelson can be reached at Main 6680, Branch 452.

DOYLE MAY STAGE ANOTHER TOURNEY

Amateur baseball teams may be invited to play in another championship series at the end of the summer such as was staged here last season, according to Robert Doyle. At the end of last summer's sandlot baseball campaign, Doyle got eleven teams in line, staged a successful baseball series and gave the fans some bangup baseball for two weeks.

Naval Operations emerged a winner in the final tilt which was staged at Union League Park. Doyle is thinking of getting the teams lined up again this year.

There seems to be an impression among amateur teams here that the old District Amateur Association is a thing of the past. Several attempts have been made to hold meetings. Little interest has been shown in the old organization.

Bob Doyle says he will start things going toward the end of the summer, open up the lists for teams which desire to get in a series for the amateur baseball championship of the District.

This idea found favor last summer and is expected to prove a success again. There are at least fifteen teams which are expected to be invited in the proposed series, according to Doyle.

"I believe the idea that was started last summer of holding a post-season series is a good one," says Doyle. "We have something to start on and I am sure that at least fifteen teams will enter the series when the time comes."

"Right now there are any number of first class teams playing summer baseball in the various leagues. It is too early to decide just what is wanted but from conversations I have had with players and managers the proposition seems to suit," says Doyle.

HERE'S ONE CHANCE.

Here's a chance for Washington baseball teams to see how good they are. Henry Hopkins, 110 East Pratt street, Baltimore, Md., who represents the Champions, wants a game with teams here.

WHERE'LL REST BEFORE BIG CLASH

TOLEDO, Ohio, June 10.—Toledo hotels are prepared to accommodate approximately 8,000 persons, in addition to their regular patrons, for the week of the fight. This is the statement made by Lawrence R. Allen, secretary of the Hotel Managers' Association of this city.

Fourteen hostels are making special preparations. All possible space will be utilized and prices regulated according to the number of persons in a room. There will be a general advance in rates, but not to an exorbitant figure, hotel men say.

Regular patrons will be permitted to keep their rooms at the usual rates. The Secor will be able to handle 1,000 persons in addition to regular transient. The Waldorf can accommodate 1,000 and the Boddy House 500. These hotels are practically sold out now, and the Jefferson, with room for 500, and the Navarre, with 450, are flooded with applications.

Other hotels having available rooms are: St. Clair, Tavern, Madison, Eastwood, Park, Cordova, Perkins and Meyerhoff. A brisk demand on all available space in rooming houses and even in the far-out residence sections, is expected.

K. OF C. TO DECIDE BOXING TOURNEY

The Knights of Columbus Committee on War Activities will decide the boxing championship of soldiers, sailors and marines stationed in and near Washington. Announcement has been made of a boxing tournament to be held here, which is open to all service men in the service.

Charles F. O'Connell, general secretary of the K. of C. here, with the aid of Secretary "Rube" Kelly, are conducting the tournament which is expected to attract 200 or more boxing men in the service.

The Knights of Columbus building at Walter Reed Hospital, has been selected as the site for the preliminary bouts on June 23 and the semi-finals on June 27. Saturday, July 5, at American League baseball park, the finals will be held and the public has been extended an invitation. The tournament will have five classes, 125, 135, 145, 160 pounds and unlimited. There will be no entry fee. No admission will be charged to the bouts.

Gold watches and gold medals will be given winners in the finals on July 5.

Entry blanks can be obtained from any Knights of Columbus building in any camp in or near Washington or at the K. of C. building, 606 E. street northwest, or Seventh and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Blanks must be in the hands of Secretary Kelly, at Walter Reed Hospital, Knights of Columbus Building, by Friday, June 20.

Representatives from Camp Meade, Md.; Camp Humphreys, Va.; Fort Myer, Va.; Washington Barracks, Marine Barracks, Navy Yard, Seaman's Gunner's class, Rolling Aviation Field, St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Naval Hospital, East Potomac Park Barracks and several other military and naval posts will take part in the tournament. Lieut. Fred Thomas, officially known as Freddie Welsh, will referee the bouts.
