

Even Beginners Can Now Be Sure of Making Perfect Jams, Jellies and Preserves

Now that women know how to be sure of certain results this is going to be a great season for home preserving.

This new method for making preserving syrup is the answer to every housewife's doubts about getting perfect results in putting up fruit at home.

The practical preserving syrup is made by using $\frac{1}{2}$ Karo (Red Label) with $\frac{1}{2}$ sugar.

This method does away with all preserving difficulties, which are mainly due to using sugar alone.

The use of Karo ensures firm jelly that always "jells"; rich preserves with heavy syrup; and "fruity" jams.

You can be sure, too, that when you turn your jelly or jam out, you will find it firm and mellow, never tough, or "capped."

Karo is a fine, clear syrup with a natural affinity for the fruit juices. It blends the sugar with the fruit and brings out the full fruity flavor.

For Cooking, Baking and Candy Making Karo (Red Label) is used in millions of homes. In all cooking and baking recipes use Karo instead of sugar. It is sweet, of delicate flavor, and brings out the natural flavor of the food.

HAPPENINGS IN SOCIETY

Two Luncheons at White House—Military Attache Weds—Diplomatic Changes—Hartley-Baxter Wedding

THE PRESIDENT AND MRS. WILSON occupied their box at the White House last night. They were accompanied by John Randolph Bolling and Admiral Cary T. Grayson. Yesterday the President entertained at luncheon the members of the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate, after a long morning's conference on the peace treaty. Mrs. Wilson, in the meantime, had her guests at luncheon in the private dining room of the President's Secretary, Joseph Tumulty, and Raymond T. Baker, Director of the Mint.

In the afternoon the President and Mrs. Wilson played a round of golf at one of the country clubs.

The Chilean Ambassador and Senora de Mathieu, who have been spending the summer at Magnolia, Mass., and are headed toward Washington, by way of Philadelphia, are expected to reach the embassy today.

Hurban-Boor Wedding
The first wedding among the diplomatic representatives of the new nations to be celebrated in Washington was the marriage of Col. Vladimir Hurban, military attache of the Polish legation and Miss Olga Boor, daughter of Mrs. Bozema Boor, which took place at noon today at the home of the bride, 3504 Jennifer street, Chevy Chase. The ceremony was performed according to the ritual of the Lutheran Church by the Rev. L. Novomesky, of Newark, N. J., an old friend of the bride's family, before an altar arranged in the drawing room, with banked palms and gladioli.

The bride wore a graceful gown of white georgette and princess lace, and the veil which her mother had worn at her marriage, held by a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried white roses. She was given away by her eldest brother, Ladislav, and had as her attendants her two sisters, Vera, in blue georgette, carrying white roses, and Ella in pink georgette, carrying pink roses—and her two young brothers, Ivan and Vladimir.

Major Paul Rhedon, of New York, was Colonel Hurban's best man, and Albert Mamatey, president of the Czechoslovak League, came from New York to attend the ceremony, the only others being present being members of the family and legation staff, and one or two very close friends. Immediately after the ceremony a breakfast was served to the entire party, and very soon thereafter Col. and Mrs. Hurban started for a honeymoon to be spent at Moss Lake in the Adirondacks. They will return to Washington about October 1, and take an apartment for the winter.

Hartley-Baxter Wedding.
The marriage of Miss Mary Lyons Hartley, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Edwin Bradfield Hartley, to Major Clarence Pennell Baxter, medical corps, U. S. A., took place today at noon at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. Robert Streeter Porter, 2331 Florida avenue. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Fremont N. Hinkle, assistant rector of St. Margaret's in the presence of only a small company of relatives and intimate friends, in the bay window of the Porter residence, which was banked with palms and Egyptian lotus. The bride wore a lovely gown of white lace, with a white lace hat and carried white roses and orchids. She had for her sole attendant Miss Betty Matteson, who wore a dainty gown of peach colored organza, with a leghorn picture hat, and a bouquet of opheelia roses and larkspur. Major Baxter's brother, Harry Baxter, served him as best man, and his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Baxter, came from Boston and augmented the small company of relatives and close friends attending the ceremony.

Major and Mrs. Baxter are starting at once for Porto Rico where Major Baxter has been ordered for duty.

One of the most interesting events at any of the resorts this summer was the dance given by Clarence Mackay at his Southampton villa, for his daughter, Miss Katherine Mackay. Mr. Mackay announced that this was by no means to be regarded as a debut, but was simply a dance for some of his daughter's young friends, to which their parents also were invited.

The dance was preceded by numerous very smart dinners and drew its guests not only from Southampton, but from other Long Island summer resorts, and from the smart colonies of Massachusetts and from Newport and Narragansett Pier. Among the Washington folk who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Henry May and Miss Isabelle May, Mrs. W. A. Grinnell, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Burrall Hopkins, Mrs. Robert McCormick, Col. and Mrs. Robert M. Thompson, and Mr. and Mrs. Fairfax Landstreet.

Military and civic honors were paid yesterday in New York to Gonzalo de Quesada, first Cuban minister to the United States, who died in Germany, where he was his country's diplomatic representative during the war. As he funeral cortege reached Ninety-sixth street the United States cruiser Columbia, anchored in the river, fired a salute. In the procession were Gen. Thomas H. Barry, Admiral Charles D. Sigbee, who commanded the Maine in Havana harbor when she was blown up; Dr. Luis Baralt, Cuban minister to Peru; Dr. M. Brul, secretary to the Cuban legation at Washington; C. de Quesada, nephew of the deceased and vice consul of the Cuban government in Washington; Victor Barranco, special representative of President Menocal of Cuba.
