

Daylight Bill for Mass.
 BOSTON, March 22.—The house of representatives today passed the senate bill providing for daylight saving from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in September, or two months less than was afforded last summer. The bill now goes to Governor Cox.

The Tonic To Take In The Spring

Many so-called tonics are merely stimulants. They fail to reach or remedy the real cause which makes you run down or out of sorts. The safe tonic is a food medicine and the greatest body builder is Father John's Medicine, whose pure food elements are easily taken up by a weakened and run down system. This old prescription contains the greatest of food medicines which doctors have prescribed for years for their patients. It is guaranteed free from drugs, alcohol or any other kind of stimulants. It builds up the body, enriches the blood. It is a builder and not a bracer.

SHOWS APRIL 8 AID VAUDEVILLE FOLKS

Receipts at Keith's on That Day Will Go to Insurance Fund.

Washington theatergoers are promised a real treat at Keith's Theater on April 8, which is the date set for the annual national testimonial of the National Vaudeville Artists' entertainment in this city.

An elaborate entertainment of fun, melody, foolery, and other elements will be offered as a special inducement to the people of Washington to turn out in large numbers and give the National Vaudeville Artists a bumper sum as the quota from this city. Vaudeville theaters all over the country will turn over to the organization the entire receipts of the matinee performance on that day.

The wonderful improvement in the quality of amusement offered in vaudeville is said to be due, to a large extent to the efforts of this organization. In previous years variety was considered a sort of a lark to be indulged in by a star when no other form of engagement was offered, and then only under cover of semi-secrecy. Today vaudeville is the acknowledged amusement of every class, nationality and creed, and its entertainers are of the best that the stage has to offer.

This great change for the better has been brought about through the influence that the National Vaudeville Artists have exerted themselves in eliminating the discord between the actor and the people associated with him in a business way. In recognition of the important part that the organization has played in the elevation of the vaudeville business, the vaudeville managers have set aside one day each year when the proceeds from the matinee performance will be turned over to the artists.

The proceeds will go toward establishing and maintaining a permanent insurance fund for each member of the organization. This testimonial is not in any sense an appeal for charity, as patrons of the performance are assured full value for the money spent in admission to the entertainment.

Killed in Legal Duel.

Two Remarkable Hearts

New Orleans Man Lives Twenty-six Hours With Organ Exposed.

NEW-ORLEANS, March 22.—Physicians at a local hospital decided to furnish a complete record for the medical journals of the case of Ben Joelzel, fifty, who died Saturday after living twenty-six hours with his heart exposed to the eyes of his hospital surgeons.

While working in a local coffee grinding plant Friday, Joelzel's left sleeve was caught in a machine. His arm was mangled and a piece of flesh the size of his head was torn from the breast, leaving his heart exposed, the ribs directly over that organ also being torn away.

The fact that the injured man lived twenty-six hours after the accident is said by physicians observing the case to be one of the most remarkable ever recorded.

GENEVA, March 22.—A case of a man's heart ceasing to beat for fourteen hours and then restoring work is reported from Bern, where a pastor of that city, the Rev. Baudenbacher, after being officially declared dead, suddenly awoke.

The Rev. Baudenbacher, fifty years old, suffering from heart trouble of long standing, fell senseless Friday. His physician issued a death certificate, arrangements were made for the funeral and Saturday's newspapers published eulogies of him. The pastor awoke after fourteen hours, surprised to find his bedroom filled with flowers, wreaths and disconsolate relations and friends. He said weakly, "My call has not yet come." The funeral has been postponed indefinitely, as the doctor said Mr. Baudenbacher may live many years.

FISKE'S ATTACK ON DANIELS STIRS NAVY

War Secretary "Unworthy" of Trust and a "Falsifier," Says Retired Admiral.

High naval circles were buzzing with excitement today over the language used by Rear Admiral Bradley Fiske, retired, in expressing his opinion of the manner in which Joseph Daniels conducted the Navy during the war. Admiral Fiske expressed himself with unprecedented force in writing an introduction to Lieut. Tracy Barrett Kittredge's "Naval Lessons of the Great War," which has been privately distributed to heads of departments.

Admiral Fiske bluntly calls the former Secretary of the Navy "unworthy" and flatly charges him with falsifying. The book is dedicated to Admiral William S. Sims, and is generally looked upon in naval circles as Sims' explanation of his long and bitter controversy with Daniels.

"This book," wrote Admiral Fiske, "shows that the principal naval lesson of the war is the menace to the national honor and safety that was involved in committing the management of the navy to unworthy hands."

The Secretary of the Navy should be a man of the highest order of ability, knowledge and foresight. This book shows that Secretary Daniels was so far below the standard that the Navy might have been caught wholly unprepared when we entered the war, and would have been ineffective during the war if certain Navy officers had not sacrificed or

Here's the Way to Spell Prince George's County

HYATTSVILLE, Md., March 22.—Peace once more reigns over Prince George's county.

Controversy over the correct spelling of the name of the county has been definitely settled. Without bloodshed.

The final word was spoken by Daniel B. Lloyd, of Glendale; Marlon Duckett, of Bladensburg; and C. C. McGruder, jr., of Glendale, all prominent citizens, who, after extensive delving among dusty records, arose and proclaimed in chorus, "Spell it 'apostrophe-s'." Their opinion is based on the action of the legislature which met in Annapolis in 1695 and passed an act which defines the boundaries of the county and states that it "shall be denominated and known by the name of Prince George's county."

endangered their positions by putting through important measures without his knowledge.

"The Secretary of the Navy should be a man of the highest character. This book shows that Secretary Daniels, both in writing over his official signature and in oral official testimony before Congressional committees, made many statements about important naval matters, with his cognizance, that were absolutely false."

SOCIETY MAN SLAIN BY AVENGER'S ERROR

Brothers of Wronged Girl Took Graves for Another and Fired in Dark.

BUFFALO, March 22.—Luther P. Graves, society man and Yale graduate, was shot to death Thursday night by two men bent on avenging a wrong done their sister.

This is the latest statement of the police in charge of the investigation into young Graves' murder, and has substantiation in the voluntary statement of Alexander Meyer, a friend of Graves and the son of a former postmaster.

The police also are aware of the names of the brothers and "the woman in the case," while a city-wide search is going on under personal direction of the Chief of Police for the men and the woman.

According to the story told by Meyer this afternoon, he kept his automobile in a garage just three doors from where Graves' car was kept. It was his custom to use a nearby driveway getting from the garage to his home in North street, just nine doors from the Graves home.

Evidently the avengers, standing in the shadows along the drive which Graves used, waited for Meyer, who is about the same size and build of the murdered man, and who is, incidentally, a friend of Graves. Graves appeared, the pistols of the brothers cracked, two bullets struck Graves, he fell and the men who shot him fled.

The men who held the pistols some weeks ago listened to a confession of their younger sister that had to do with Meyer, he says. He is a man of considerable prominence and has moved in the best society. The brothers succeeded in getting in touch with him, but he refused to see the sister again.

The brothers declared they would kill him unless he took steps to right the wrong. Meyer didn't take them seriously. Finally another talk was had with the young man and the brothers are said to have set a time limit on their demands. This time limit expired Wednesday evening, the night before Graves was shot.

CITY CLUB WANTS U. S. TO PAY FAIR WATER RATE

Immediate enactment of legislation to require the District and Federal governments to pay a fair charge for water they now receive free, will be urged by the Public Utilities Group of the City Club at a meeting at 8 o'clock tonight at the clubhouse. Francis R. Weller, chairman of the group, who has made a special study of the situation, will report on progress so far made. Equitable adjustment of street car fares, fair rates of return to public utilities, and allied questions will be discussed.

The Four Sexes
 By Serafino Fazzini
 Why is that boy timid—that girl independent? Why do we have "bachelor girls" and boys taunted with "being girls"? Some boys play with dolls; some girls play soldier; some men design clothes; some women go to Congress. Boys to be real boys must be born in even order—feminine girls in odd numbers declares this Italian scientist! Have we then four sexes?

The Golden Witch of Hollister

By John Fleming Wilson
 "TLL tame the witch," growled Hawes, but, under Peggie's hand, a huge cloud of smoke boiled up and enveloped them. Do we have magic in the twentieth century? For six years a girl on a desert island has been shipping gold from the South Seas. Yet experts, combing the island, have never come on a grain of precious metal. Where does it come from? How is it made? Can Peggie Fosdick still guard her magic secret of Hollister Island?
