WIPING OUT LEPROSY

Intensive Medical Campaign Making
Good Headway in Philippines.

More than 3,000 lepers out of the 5,000 in the colony on Cullion Island are now receiving treatment, 3,000 of this number taking the ethyl-ester treatment, and about 300 the Mercado treatment, according to Professor Shirley E. Roberts, vice president of the Philippine Anti-Leprosy society, who has just returned to Manila from Cullion, where he spent a month working among the patients.

According to Professor Roberts the treatment has been extended until all but approximately 1,000 lepers in the colony are being cured for medicinal aid. About 700 of these are beyond medicinal aid, and some 200 live at a distance from the main colony, making treatment impracticable.

"This is a record that I think no other country can equal," said Professor Roberts. "When Governor General Wood became chief executive of the Philippines seven months ago only 300 lepers were receiving treatment. The new Cullion is a place transformed; a new spirit is abroad among the personnel and patients. In time we may eliminate leprosy from the Philippines altogether. This will be added if sufferers learn to present themselves to the authorities in the incipient stage. While I was in Cullion 58 lepers were brought there from the island of Cebu, and of these at least 40 had been afflicted for several years and had been in hiding during the entire time. Such practices will have no excuse now that Cullion is receiving the attention necessary to make it not only tolerable to the patients, but a refuge and asylum for them."

WORLD TRADE BY BARTERING

Argentina and Germany Set Example in Recent Negotiations.

The barter of Argentine cattle and meat for German goods is the basis of an ad-referendum contract recently signed in Berlin between Senator Bartolome Danieri, special Argentine commissioner to central Europe, acting on behalf of the Argentine government, and the Sauerman Joint Stock company in Kuleback, representing a German syndicate.

The essential points of the arrangement are that the Argentine government supply the syndicate with 50,000 head of cattle and 60,000 tons of beef meat per annum. The arrangement is to hold good for two years and to be extended for a like period unless denounced three months before the expiration of the first two years.

The purchasing syndicate will not pay for the cattle and meat in cash, but in merchandise which the Argentine government would select and acquire. The value of the consignments would be mutually agreed upon on a gold "peso" basis.

RULING WILL BE ENFORCED

Sale of Liquor on American
Ships Will Cease at Once

U. S. SHIPPING WILL SUFFER

Chairman Lasker Admits Ruling Gives Blow To United States Merchant Marine—Appeal To Court Next.

Washington.—All vessels, American and foreign owned, are prohibited from having liquor on board in American territorial waters under an interpretation of the prohibition amendment and the enforcement act handed down by the Department of Justice.

Moreover, the transportation or sale of intoxicants on American craft, wherever operated, was held to be inhibited.

American territorial waters were construed to include those not only within the three-mile limit of continental United States, but also those within the same limit of the Philippines, the Hawaiian Islands, Porto Rico, the Virgin Islands and Alaska. The law would not apply in the Panama Canal Zone, as that zone is specifically exempted by the statute itself.

So far as American ships are concerned, the sale or transportation of liquor will cease at once, or as soon as those vessels reach their home ports. In the case of foreign ships the decision will become operative as soon as the necessary regulations can be prepared and promulgated by the Treasury Department.

Court action looking to a final determination of the application of American dry laws to foreign ships entering American ports was foreseen by both Attorney General Daugherty and Chairman Lasker of the Shipping Board. Mr. Daugherty said he already had been advised that a case was about to be filed which would bring the issue to the Supreme Court.

Chairman Lasker was of the opinion that the first move of foreign lines would be to seek an injunction restraining the government from enforcing the law. He said it was reasonable to suppose that the courts would grant such an injunction with a result that foreign ships would continue to arrive with liquor on board until there was a final decision by the highest court. The Attorney General said his department would co-operate in every effort to expedite a ruling by the Supreme Court.

Publication of the opinion of the Department of Justice followed a White House conference to which President Harding summoned Mr. Daugherty, Secretaries Hughes and Mellon and Chairman Lasker. Various phases of the situation were discussed, including the possible results of enforcement upon the international relations of the United States.

High Administration officials explained that there was no course for the Executive branch of the Government except to enforce the law as interpreted by the legal department. The interpretation was based upon recent decisions of the Supreme Court in a case involving the authority of the United States to interfere with the transfer of liquor cargo from one foreign ship to another in an American port.

In a divided opinion the court confirmed the authority of prohibition agents to prevent such a transfer and, in the view of the Attorney General, went so far as to hold that the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead act repealed a prior existing treaty with Great Britain.

Chairman Lasker predicted that enforcement of the law would operate to an immediate disadvantage of the American merchant marine and would make more necessary enactment of the ship subsidy bill, if the American flag was to stay on the high seas.

HARDING FOR BRANCH BANKS.

President Says Nationals Must Be Kept In Business.

Washington. — President Harding cordially indorses the policy of Comptroller of the Currency Cissinger with respect to the establishment of branch offices by national banks. It was officially stated at the White House.

The Administration feels, it was said, that unless Congress enacts legislation governing the question the Federal Government should never consent to a policy that would put the national banks out of business. National banks, it was contended, should be permitted to maintain branches wherever branches of State banks are allowed.

SAKE HITS SAWDUST TRAIL.

Richmond, Va. — While Cyclone Mack, evangelist, was preaching in the big tent in South Richmond Saturday night the services were interrupted by the discovery of a snake "hitting the sawdust trail." The serpent, which proved to be a large moccasin, was killed by Policeman J. T. Sacre. It was winding its way toward the stand occupied by the evangelist when Cyclone Mack spied it. Several women came near fainting.

STATE CAPITAL

Burke Appointed Counsel.

Annapolis.—

Governor Ritchie announced the appointment of N. Charles Burke, of Baltimore county, former Chief Judge of the Third Judicial Circuit, to be general counsel to the Public Service Commission. Mr. Burke will fill out the term of William Cabell Bruce, who resigned to enter the Democratic primaries for the nomination for the United States Senate. The appointment was made on the nomination of the Commission, as is required by law. The salary is $4,500 a year.

The appointee is one of the best-known lawyers in Maryland owing to his long service on the bench of the Court of Appeals. Prior to his election to the bench Mr. Burke was State's Attorney for Baltimore county. While serving his second term on the bench—in 1920—Judge Burke resigned to become executor of the will of Mrs. Catherine C. Lanahan, and also trustee of the estate, which is a large one.

Last year Judge Burke was chairman of the State Reorganization Committee and it is said to have been due largely to his influence that the committee abandoned the more expensive Griffenhagen plan of reorganization at first suggested, and drafted a plan that could be gotten through the Legislature without difficulty.

Recently the Judge served as chairman of the House of Correction Investigating Committee, which body has just submitted a report suggesting important reforms in the management of that institution.

Judge Burke resides at Towson and has a law office in the Calvert Building. He will have the appointment of an assistant, who will serve as People's Counsel in the presentation of cases before the Public Service Commission.

State Issues To Go On Ballot.

Philip B. Perlman, Secretary of State, will mail to the boards of Supervisors of Elections throughout the State certifications of the five referenda to be placed on the ballots at the election, November 7. These are:

To lengthen the term of office and increase the salary of the State Comptroller.

Two amendments to the State Constitution providing for increased representation for Baltimore city in the Legislature.

Providing for fewer elections.

Permitting women to hold any public office.

In addition to these, Mr. Perlman will certify to the Supervisors of Elections in Anne Arundel county three referenda on local laws which have been asked by petition under the Referendum amendment to the Constitution. To the officials of Dorchester he will certify one such amendment.

The $15,000,000 school loan for Baltimore city, the one-house City Council proposition and the proposed bond issues for a number of counties are not required to be certified by the Secretary of State.

To Discuss Assessments.

Supervisors of tax assessments for the five Southern Maryland counties will confer Monday with members of the State Tax Commission in the commission's office. Progress of assessment work in these counties will be discussed.

The assessment has been under way several months and is said to be well advanced. Assessments for Baltimore county have been completed. They are said to make a substantial increase in the taxable basis. Figures will not be available until the tabulation is completed.

Tests For State-Use Posts.

Announcement of the October schedule of examinations, chiefly for positions in new State activities authorized by the last Legislature, was made by the State Employment Commission.

October 18 there will be tests for printing-shop superintendent, press foreman and composing-room foreman at the Penitentiary. These men will be employed in the State-use printing plant. The first position pays $3,000. The others pay $2,400.

The following tests will be given October 28: Superintendent automobile tag shop (Penitentiary), $2,500; foreman, automobile tag shop (Penitentiary), $2,000; shoe shop foreman (Penitentiary), $2,000; industrial inspector, $1,200 to $1,500; food and drug inspector, $1,380; drug inspector, $1,440; guard, $1,380 to $1,500.

Bandit Trials Reduce Requests For Paroles.

Paroles have lost favor with prisoners at the Penitentiary and House of Correction it was indicated at the session of the Advisory Board of Parole. All applications of long-term men scheduled for consideration were held back at the request of prisoners and attorneys officials said.

Applicants it was said, decided that in the midst of bandit trials discretion is the better part of a longing for liberty. Some of those who asked that to action be taken on applications previously made were sentenced for robbery and similar offenses.
