Mr. Geo. W. Taylor of the "Metropolitan" Store, will go to New York on Monday to lay in his Fall stock. He expects to make his store unusually attractive by new goods and unusually low prices.

The Veterans of 1812--an association formed in Baltimore in '42 with 1,250 members--has at length disbanded; only seven veterans now surviving and only three of these being able to attend the annual meeting.

A horse attached to a buggy and driven by Misses Mary and Annie Cowley, daughters of Mr. Jno. T. Cowley of this town, on Sunday morning took fright and ran. The young ladies were thrown to the ground, but escaped serious injuries. One of them lost the tip of a finger.

Brother Editors of the Shepherdstown Register, what consummate fool is it addressing a communication to you concerning the late Primary Election, and the vote of Middleway in particular, calling himself "Jefferson"?

A great Democratic demonstration at "Island Park" is announced for to-morrow, 12th. Hon. Jno. G. Carlisle, Speaker of the House of Representatives and a number of other distinguished gentlemen are expected to be there. The Cleveland & Hendricks Club of this town have resolved to attend.

We see by the republican papers of Martinsburg that the speech of Hon. E. Willis Wilson was not an agreeable one to them. That being so, we reckon Mr. Wilson may congratulate himself upon having made a hit there. He didn't start out to tickle republican ears with feathers.

A Cleveland & Hendricks Club of 75 members was organized in Middleway on the 1st instant by the election of Dr. G. A. Davis, President, Jno. W. Grantham, Vice President, and James W. League, Secretary. We have no doubt its numbers have been increased largely by this time and good results may be expected in October and November.

On Monday Mrs. N. B. Conklyn--one of our most esteemed patrons--accompanied the money for her subscription to THE FREE PRESS with a magnificent bouquet of Dahlias--exquisite specimens of twenty or more varieties of her own culture. We highly appreciate the gift--especially coming as it does from a lady who thus renews for the fifty-eighth year subscription to the "Old Family Journal."

Mr. James N. Small of Washington City opportunely last week sent us a banner bearing upon its face portraits of Cleveland and Hendricks--good likenesses--a bit of his own handiwork very creditable to him as an artist. Upon it, also, was a spread eagle screaming for Reform in the National administration.

From the Baltimore News:

Kearsley's building on West street, near the corner of West and Main, for many years occupied by the Charlestown Female Seminary, will be used as a school room, and boarders will be received by Mrs. G. at her residence, until the last week in October when, on the completion of the Stephenson Seminary building, Rev. Mr. Campbell will vacate "Mt. Parvo."

About 200 survivors of the 118th Regiment Pennsylvania volunteers, known as the Corn Exchange regiment, and a large number of citizens gathered at Gettysburg on Monday to attend the unveiling of the Corn Exchange monument designed to mark the spot where the above regiment stood on that battle ground 21 years ago. We hope they were frank enough to "acknowledge the corn."

We respectfully announce to our customers and friends, that our stores will be closed on Saturday, September 20th, and Monday, September 23rd, on account of holidays.

S. D. HIRSCHMAN & CO.

BERKELEY COUNTY ITEMS.

From the Martinsburg Statesman:

Mr. Wendol Seibert, a well-known and highly esteemed citizen of this county, died on Tuesday morning after a lingering illness, the effect of paralysis.

Mr. Jacob Kearns, a passenger engineer on the B. & O. R. R., died at his home in Martinsburg on Saturday last, after a very brief illness. He was a member of the American Legion of honor and held a policy for $2,000, which will be promptly paid to his widow and family.

Mr. Thornton Henshaw, while assisting his neighbor, Mr. Falk to control a horse on Monday last, received a very painful injury. The animal suddenly reared, striking Mr. Henshaw in the mouth and knocking out two teeth.

On Tuesday evening Dallas Dustin, a laboring man, while walking on the railroad at Couchman's bridge, about 2 1/2 miles east of this city, in attempting to get out of the way of an East-bound freight, stepped in the way of a train slowly going west, and was knocked down and rolled over a wall, falling about 25 feet on the jagged rocks. He was promptly picked up by the train men and brought here for treatment. He stated that he had been working at Silver Spring, Montgomery county, Md., and was on his way to Wyoto, Cass county, Iowa, where his wife resided. He died about two and a half hours after the injury, from a compound comminuted fracture of the pelvis and other internal injuries.

From the Martinsburg Independent:

Mr. W. R. Porterfield, near Falling Waters, missed thirty-one sheep from his field on Thursday morning of last week. They were found in Maryland in possession of a man named Potts, who stated he had purchased them from two colored men. The thieves have not yet been caught.

The widow of Mr. Frank T. Small, recently killed by a railroad accident near Carlisle, Pa., has received from the lodge of Royal Arcanum, of this place, the sum of $3,000. It was paid in less than twenty days from the day of his death. The widow and orphans thus receive timely and material aid. Truly, such organizations are beneficial. Counting the $2,000 which will be paid the widow of Jacob Kearns, deceased, the three lodges of Knights of Honor, Legion of Honor and Royal Arcanum, of this town, will have received and paid out in this way $20,000 in four years.

The millinery store of Mrs. Jennie B. Grove, near the Market house, was partially destroyed by fire on last Monday night. It was caused by the explosion of a lamp.

Mr. William Leigh, son of Major Wm. Leigh and nephew of the editor of the Statesman, earned and received a gold medal--the highest reward at the exhibition of the renowned Academy of Fine Arts, Munich, on 20th ult.

A horse belonging to Mr. J. F. Reed having accidentally got into the field of Mr. Geo. S. Roush, wherein were his cattle, was attacked by the bull and killed. It is a severe loss to Mr. Reed, as he used the horse in the carting business for a living.

Clarke County Clippings.

From the Clarke Courier:

D. McGuire Joliffe, of Millwood, in performing upon the trapeze, fell and broke his leg badly.

A lot of hogs that cost in the neighborhood of $2500 were shipped from the Berryville depot last week by Mr. Baldwin.

Col. Chas. T. O'Ferrall, the democratic candidate for Congress, will address the people of this county on the 1st of October, on which day the fall term of the circuit court will begin.

Geo. H. Burwell's barn, 105x55 feet, and capable of stalling 72 head of cattle and 16 horses, was destroyed by fire last week. It contained at the time 120 tons of hay and 1000 bushels of wheat, belonging to Thos. M. Nelson, all of which were consumed. There was some insurance, but not enough to cover the losses by $3,000. The origin of the fire is supposed to have been a pipe.

Mr. C. C. McIntire, formerly editor of the Leesburg Washingtonian, died early in July, in Savannah, Ga., in the 83d year of his age. After he disposed of that paper he commenced farming in this county, where he remained until the close of the war, and then moved to Georgia. He represented Loudoun county in the Legislature many years ago.

Mr. C. R. Hardesty received from Chicago last week five carloads of cattle. Some of them weighed 1000 lbs. and were bought to feed. Perhaps the largest barn in the State of Virginia is that of Mr. Hardesty's, in this county, covering 6820 square feet of ground--the dimensions being 110x62 feet. The stables run lengthwise through the barn, and one of them has 72 stalls for feeding cattle, and the other is used for horses and cattle. Water is carried to every stall by means of iron pipes, and there are hydrants in each feed room to supply water for mixing feed. Above the basement are two large mows, 25 feet deep, granaries for 2000 bushels of wheat, and three barn floors.

Our platform: Low tariff on all goods used by the people; as low prices surely increase trade and result in the greatest good to both buyer and seller.

WM. KAHN & CO.

Hat Emporium, Sadler Building.

From the Shepherdstown Register:

An Alderly bird belonging to Mr. Samuel W. Strider jumped from a fence into a field of Mr. Adam Colbert, in this county, a short time since and viciously attacked a valuable horse belonging to Mr. Colbert, killing it almost instantly.

A very serious accident occurred at Flanagan's limestone quarry, below Shepherdstown, on Thursday morning of last week. Messrs. John J. Flanagan and Albert Grim were in a blacksmith shop completing a piece of work. There was also a keg and a half of blasting powder in the shop, and a spark flying into it caused it to explode with serious results to both men.
