TUESDAY, JULY 2, 1878.

Municipal Short-Comings. The City Fathers, or a portion of them at least, are working up a reputation that bids fair to become rather odorous in the law that is extremely culpable; a disregard for the plainest principles of political economy, or any other kind of onomy, that is refreshing, simply because of its exceptional character in the is one thing in the laws of this State more explicit than another it is the statutory provision regulating the appropriations of money by the city of Wheeling. It specifically requires that the municipal line of 1848 Creek deal of rain this book.] adget shall be made up in the month of May or June; that'is to say, the amount of available funds that may be placed at the command of the four leading committees having been ascer-tained, the sum so ascertained shall by ordinance be appropriated to the work of said Committees, in such amounts as the Council may determine. We say that the law is specific as to the time when and the manner in which this distribution shall be made, and yet by the action of the Second Branch in refusing to assemble last Friday evening the appropriations have been suffered to go by default. In other words, the Council has committed a flagrant violation of the law. What its effect from a legal stand-point will be only the future can determine. If a proper case should arise it is more than likely that the Council will have cause to regret its culpable neglect of an imperative duty. It is questionable at least whether their appropriations in the future will be of legal effect of the Council. At the meeting of Tuesday, June 25th, the opinion of the City Solicitor was given in writing that the Council must confine its appropriations to its known available funds, and that it was powerless to borrow money without the consent of the people, expressed according to law.

unless made under the four-fifths clause of the enactment, which will be exceedingly troublesome in its operation. The responsibility for this clear violation of law lies at the door of the Second Branch

It therefore became necessary for the Finance Committee to review its action based upon the proposal to borrow forty thousand dollars and to frame the ordinance in accordance with the actual condition of the treasury. With the knowledge that a very limited sum of money would be applicable to the necessities of the four leading committees the Second Branch proceeded to the consideration of the report of the Committee on Streets Alleys and Grades, the most extravagant in its recommendations that has been presented to Council for a long time.

Because the First Branch after the proper notification, without waiting the action of the Second Branch on said report, adjourned to meet on Friday night, the President of the latter dsimissed it without a notification to meet on the night fixed by the First Branch.

We are reliably informed that the President of the First Branch, and Mayor pro tem, directly forbade the Sergeant to notify the members of his branch to assemble on Friday night, but afterwards, when the importance of the matter was semble on Friday night, but afterwards, when the importance of the matter was pressed upon his mind, did give his consent that the members of the distinguished body over which he presides might be called together or notified at least to met on Friday evening. A few of the members obeyed the summons and the President was not one of those who came early. There was a failure to get a quorum and a consequent failure to act upon the ordinance in a legal manner.

The First Branch succeeded in getting a quorum and recowed the amended report of the Committee on Finance. The committee found a little less than twenty-six thousand dollars available for the use of the four leading committees, and recommended the division of the amount as follows: Water Works, $10,000; Lights, $2,000; Fire Department, $4,000; and Streets, Alleys and Grades, $10,000. The First Branch adopted the recommendation of the committee and proceeded to amend the ordinance as passed by the Second Branch, by the intertion of the above sums. The action of the First Branch adopted the recommendation of the committee and proceeded to amend the ordinance as passed by the Second Branch do so. It has passed the metes and bounds of the law and the Branch in fault will have to bear the responsibility of this palpable violation of the statute.

There are many loalers about town who could get employment now in the harvest fields if they would work—but they won't.

The stockholders of the Washington County Agricultural Society met in the Town Hall on Sautrday last. They had rather a stormy sessiom. The managers were fically authorized to lease the grounds to any person or company; for the purpose of holding fairs.

Fitty head of fat hogs belonging to G. W. Chaney, came in on the Hempfield this morning for Pittsburgh. This shows the value of railroads, for if there was no transportation fat hogs could not go to market when the thermometer stands at 89° in the shade. The W. & W. also brought in two car loads belonging to Messrs. Cross and Gordon, near Waynesburg.

The sham battle business which threatened a few weeks ago to become a troublesome epidemio, it appears, does not spread. The Waynesburg fightists now give notice that they will substitute a hore race on the Fourth of July, and the Barnsville warriors have not been able to enlist enough interest in theirs, to oexpensive for the men and the times.

July 2, 1848. There is some enjoy ment after all in hard labor. When you return home to your cottage of a Saturday night to sit down and think that to-morrow is free to all it's a happy thought, and it was a happy circumstance that created Sunday, whether human or divine. How much better it is for all to conduct themselves morally on Sunday than to do as some do. In my observations on this subject I have noticed that when you see a man stoop to all manner of Sabbath-breaking you see a man of little thought. You see poor men labor all week and on Sunday you may find them in some ale shop, or Gahing or hunting, or in some fight about something that is of no use to them or any one else. MARK TWAIN ON PROFANITY.

In a note to the publishers of his justly celebrated derap Book, the famous humorist observes that he invented and patented it, "not to make money out of it, but to economize the profanity of his country." "For," he continues, "you know when the average man waints to find his scrap book he can't find his paste—then he swears; or if he finds it, it is oried so hard that it is only fit to eat—then he awears; in least the near then he swears; or if he finds it, it is oried so hard that it is only fit to eat—then he swears; in he nest year he cannot read his scrap. The result is barrels and barrels of profanity." There is another circumstance in life under which the average man is liable to indulge in unlimited profanity. It is when the "family physician" sends him a bill of one or two hundred dollars for treating his wife, while that lady's face has become paler than ever, through the mercilear persecutions of causatics and mechanical contrivances. If he does not impulsively send the whole medical profession on a subterrance medical profession on a subterrance medical profession on a subterrance in the case of diseases is not only barbarous but productive of almost irreparable harm. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as a uterine toole and restorative, has won unqualified praiss from thousands of grateful women. MARK TWAIN ON PROFAMITY.
