HAY, at the present time, is scarce and high in this market. The best quality of timothy is now worth $12 per ton, and very little offering. Nearly all the hay has been consumed, and farmers, until they see what the coming crop is likely to be, are not over-anxious to sell.

THIRK bright, sunny mornings, when the dew glistens on the neatly-trimmed lawn, she daintily steps out of doors, and with the incomparable grace of loveliness glides her dress skirts with one hand, and carefully, slowly walks with gingerly paces, looking intently on the green grass that bends submissive to the touch of her tiny feet, and when she has discovered and gleefully picks the four-leaf clover of her hopes, she flits into the house, leaving on the retina of an unbiased observer a vision of fairy-like beauty that is only dispelled by the knowledge that she, alas! like all the rest, chews gum. Oh! the bewitching of our earthly hopes!

MAYOR SWEENEY requests us to say that the report of the case of Wm. Zink, a young woman in Wednesday's Police Court, and appearing in yesterday evening's Democrat, does him some injustice. Zink was arrested for unlawfully confining the woman, who, in the month of April and May, was charged with the same offense, and after judgment was rendered by the Court, Zink claimed to be married to the woman, and the woman, in view of the man being married to the woman, resented the fine assessed upon the payment of the costs.

TRANSFER OF REAL ESTATE.—The following transfer of real estate was admitted to record in the office of the County Clerk yesterday:

Deed made December 23, 1878, by John S. Cochran, Special Commissioner, to Messrs. Donavan and Ida Donavan, the former one-fourth and the latter three-fourths interest in the south half of lot 9, in Bushfield & McChesney's addition to the city of Wheeling; assignment of deed.

SHAM BATTLE SQUARE.—No courts, with the single exception of the police court, will be in session to-day.

In search of news on the present situation of affairs on the water front, the attention of this city, fell in with a very prominent operative of the South Side mill and pumped them as to their views.

Important opinions were advanced for the reason that matters have not yet assumed a tangible shape. Anybody who would predict, would, they said, be a "little previous," as they were not aware what the tactics of the manufacturers would be.

The news collector visited one mill where the "hardy sons of toil" were stripped to the waist manipulating the molten iron, and looking at their begrimed faces and perspiring bodies the reporter became very much sympathetic. Enterprising and asked to a conference Saturday afternoon.

"Will the millers take any action previous to that conference, anticipating a reduction?" asked the reporter.

"No," they said, "they will meet Friday morning to appoint a committee, and that's all."

"Will there be a strike in case a reduction is asked?" we inquired, thirsting for knowledge.

"Strikes are unhappy affairs," they chorused evasively, "we really don't know how the present situation will end."

Our luckless tooth was put on edge by the answer, and noticing our disapproving sympathizing hand whispered in our ear, "We are anxious against a reduction, you bet your boots."

Our inquisitorial batteries were next brought to bear on a liberal minded miller, whom we found disengaged for a moment.

"What do you make out of the situation?" we asked.

"I can't say positively. We are to meet our employers Saturday afternoon, when the question of a reduction will be discussed, which is a much better way than holding aloof from each other and waging a bitter war of words in the newspapers."

"Will a reduction be asked?"

"It certainly looks like it. The notice says we are dissatisfied with the present prices."

"How is the backbone of the employees against a reduction?"

"Still—still as still—well, you may say the rigidity is very decided."

"Do you think it will be much of a fight?"

"I am of the opinion that it will be long and determined on both sides."

Knowing the decided Republican proclivities of our friend, we left off from talk and sounded him on Wednesday's boom for 1880 at the Clinch.

Did he like the nomination? Well, yes, it suited him first-rate, and drawing on the inspiration of his prophetic soul, he exclaimed, "We are going to carry the State by 30,000 majority."

In spite of the bold and naive manner of his interview, and without the aid of the usual Democratic stimulant to enthusiasm, we gave a hearty endorsement of our friend's predictions and left him to go in and sharpen up on the Burlington Hawkeye man's Congressmen.

Another mill was visited, and the opinion was advanced that a strike would inevitably follow a reduction in wages.

"When will we know that way?"

"Not till after the first of June. We will be governed here by the action of the Pittsburgh operatives."

"How is the rigidity of the lumber venders against the operatives in your mill?"

"Stiff, and unamiable against a reduction in any event."

"Then it will be a long lot for summer?"

"Every indication points that way."

THE DOLLAR CERTIFICATE.—Postmaster Sterling says he expects another batch of $10-refunding certificates to-day or to-morrow, and that they will be the last he will have for sale. He is determined to discourage the sale of these certificates, which he says are for speculative purposes and make making investments. Persons who desire to purchase the certificates in small quantities in sums ranging from $20 to $50 will be given the preference over those who wish to purchase in large quantities. This will be the last chance for investment, and if nothing happens to detain the shipment of the "baby bonds," they will be on sale at the postoffice to-morrow afternoon.

THE ISLAND GROCERY.—The new grocer opened by Mr. Thos. E. Beane at the corner of Penn and Virginia streets, Ira Land, continues to grow in popularity. Mr. Beane sells everything that can be procured on this side of the river, and he delivers goods when desired without extra charge. His stock of groceries is new, fresh, clean and cheap. He keeps barrels, casks, coffee, tea, soap, syrups, etc., all kinds and prices. He also has a large and complete stock of groceries, and canned goods of every variety. Picnic parties and families can be supplied at Beane's store with everything good to eat. Mr. Beane proposes keeping a first-class family grocery, in every sense of the term.

Music and Musical Goods.—The best and cheapest place to buy is at Shell's Music Store, 104 Washington Hall. Musical instruments cheaper than anywhere else.
