The Boston Journal, which has made a careful canvass of the situation in Maine, says: "It is not a boast but a candid opinion expressed by the leading Republicans in Maine that the Republican majority will reach 10,000. This opinion is based upon reliable reports, which are daily more encouraging."

A correspondent writing to the Louisville, (Ky.) Courier-Journal (Dem.) from Tennessee gives a mournful picture of Democratic dissensions there. He thinks that the "Low Tax" (republican) Democrats intend to make trouble as they are doing in Virginia, and that "unless the Democratic State Convention puts in the field a competent man for Governor upon a clean and clear platform meaning something there are hundreds of good Democrats in Tennessee who will vote for the Republican candidate, and thousands who will not vote at all for Governor."

REPRESENTATIVE WILLIAM A. SPRINGER, (Dem.) of Illinois, has been called to account by his constituents for his recent speech in Indiana, in which he vowed for Mr. Garfield's honesty and declared that the charges against him are untrue. The Chicago Times says: "Unless he retracts his declarations the chances are that he will be severely disciplined. To begin with, he will be dropped by the Democracy of his district, and his voice will, after the 4th of March next, be heard in Congress no more. Nor is that all. It may become necessary in order to carry out the Southern programme to have a trustworthy man at the head of the Elections Committee next winter."

According to official returns, the stock of all descriptions of foreign iron and of foreign steel rails in bonded warehouses at New York, June 30, 1880, was as follows:

	Gross Value.	Net Value.
Pig iron	79,245	$1,500,000
Iron rods	1,270	25,214
Iron bars	1,270	25,214
Iron plates	1,270	25,214
Iron sheets	1,270	25,214
Iron pipes	1,270	25,214
Iron castings	1,270	25,214
Iron forgings	1,270	25,214
Iron rivets	1,270	25,214
Iron nails	1,270	25,214
Iron wire	1,270	25,214
Iron bolts	1,270	25,214
Iron washers	1,270	25,214
Iron flanges	1,270	25,214
Iron elbows	1,270	25,214
Iron tees	1,270	25,214
Iron valves	1,270	25,214
Iron fittings	1,270	25,214
Iron machinery	1,270	25,214
Iron tools	1,270	25,214
Iron hardware	1,270	25,214
Iron sundries	1,270	25,214
Total	81,515	$1,575,428

This valuation represents merely foreign coin stock, without freight or duty. Allowing an average of ten dollars per ton to cover duty and incidental expenses, the amount of money locked up in foreign iron in bonded warehouses looks up $7,943,240. As to what amounts are in free stores upon which duty has been paid (owing to scarcity of room in bonded warehouses), no reliable data can be given; but, according to the views of responsible parties in the trade, it is not probable that those holdings exceed $3,500,000 in valuation, including duty, cost of handling, etc. The average cost per ton of pig iron in bond on the 30th of June is a shade over $20, exclusive of duty. At the present highest average market value of the various descriptions of pig, there is an apparent loss of $4 per ton at least, representing about $238,000, as the minimum depreciation on the total of what remained over in bonded warehouses at the close of last month. On scrap iron and old rail, the loss, reckoned in a similar manner, allowing but $5 per ton margin of difference between present market valuation and original cost, foot up $127,500. The loss on new iron rail is about $14,700, and on steel rails about $53,000. On these four articles alone about one million dollars, allowing that all could be sold at highest prices now quoted.

Terrible Accident.

CAMDEN, July 26, 1880.

A terrible accident occurred here last night. A young man named Newt Garner came to Camden yesterday and proceeded to get very drunk, and when No. 10 arrived here he got on. Between here and Loudonville he got very noisy and the conductor put him off the train. About 12 o'clock, two hours after, a freight train, No. 33, ran over him. Drs. B. G. and Geo. Schuler amputated his leg. He is a son of Dr. Garner, of Jacksonville. They brought him from Loudonville to Camden, and he is now at the Woodburn House. He is constantly swearing, and is about 18 years old.

KEYSER.

Republican Enthusiasm in Mineral County—The Flick Amendment on the Stump.

KEYSER, W. VA., July 24.

The Garfield and Arthur ratification meeting here to-night was a grand success. People had come in from a considerable distance in the county to attend, and the Court House was filled with an earnest enthusiastic crowd. The meeting was presided over by Hon. J. T. Hoke, who in a few words introduced the speaker, Hon. W. H. H. Flick, of Martinsburg.

Mr. Flick was not in good voice, as he was suffering from a severe attack of hay fever. He spoke for about an hour and a half, however, and remarked after the meeting that the enthusiasm of his audience had about cured him. He said he had a right to speak here, as he had been raised in the adjoining Township to Garfield in Ohio, and had gone to school to him when a boy. He briefly sketched Garfield's career in the army and in Congress. Every mention of Garfield's name called forth round after round of genuine, hearty, ringing cheers, and at times it was hard to tell which was doing most of the speaking—Flick or the crowd. The speaker gave all honor to Hancock as a military commander, but denied that he possessed any of the qualities that make the statesman.

Before closing, the speaker referred to the approaching campaign in West Virginia. He showed the disastrous effects of Democratic rule in the State, and asked why it was that Pennsylvania on one side of us, and Ohio on the other, were fifty years ahead of West Virginia. The names of the Republican candidates, especially Sturge, were received with applause that fairly shook the building.

After the speaking, names were taken for a Garfield and Arthur club, and about 100 enrolled. The organization of the club was deferred until a subsequent meeting.

The meeting was the largest and most enthusiastic ever held in Keyser, and was a complete surprise to our Democratic friends, who are still trying to find out where all the Republicans came from. Their meetings have been so exceedingly flat and tame that this outpouring of Republicans doubled them up like an attack of cramp. The few who were present looked as though they would "never smile again." The Republicans throughout the county are organizing with the intention of winning, and this auspicious opening has given them fresh courage. Mineral will give a good account of herself this fall.

Republican Rally at Sherrard.

SHERRARD, July 26.

Pursuant to announcement a large number of the Republicans of Union district met at Sherrard on Saturday evening, July 24. The meeting was called to order by S. A. Baird, and Mr. Nicholas Dowler made chairman. Wakeman W. Morgan was chosen Secretary. Our prosecuting attorney, Mr. Hooten, was called on and responded in an interesting speech on the political issues of the day. Mr. Newt, Criswell, of Moundsville, then delivered a short and pointed address. Then followed calls for Kemple. In less than a wink Jake was on the platform going for the democratization of Maryland and Louisiana without gloves.

Dr. Davis, of Moundsville, independent Democrat, aspirant for the Legislature, delivered a few remarks at the close of the meeting. The Sherrard band was present and enlivened the occasion with some good music. The hour growing late the meeting adjourned to meet on next Saturday evening, at Sherrard, to organize a Garfield and Arthur club. At the close these rousing cheers were given for Garfield and Arthur, our standard bearers. We heard several say they never saw the Republicans turn out so well. They seem to be cemented tighter together than ever. S. A. B.

PENNSYLVANIA RETURNS FROM A FEW STATES.

PENNsylvania is the only State in which the returns are yet sufficiently full to give a complete statement of its population by counties. Estimates, based in most cases on returns from more than half the State by population have been made in some of the States, and while comparative little reliance can be placed upon them they are interesting as affording the first data for a general estimate of the population of the country, both city and rural. The States included in the following list are all commonwealths whose growth from 1870 to 1880 is likely to be above rather than below the average:

State	1880	1870
California	800,000	500,000
Illinois	1,500,000	1,000,000
Michigan	1,200,000	800,000
Minnesota	1,200,000	800,000
Missouri	1,200,000	800,000
Nebraska	1,200,000	800,000
North Dakota	1,200,000	800,000
South Dakota	1,200,000	800,000
Wisconsin	1,200,000	800,000
Total	13,121,120	10,483,480
Increase	2,637,640

These States in 1870 included over one-fourth of the population, 27 per cent, if we combine the same population now the population of the country would reach 48,000,000, but as it is already known that several others will show little or no increase, and these are the States whose growth is large, the increase for the country will probably fall short of the point indicated by these estimates.

SUCCESSFUL INSTRUCTION IN HOUSE-KEEPING.

—Emily Huntington, a philanthropist with New York's Five Points mission, had a happy inspiration four years since, showing how ragged and ignorant young girls might be taught house-keeping. It began in a scheme to teach them plain sewing in the Wilson industrial school. Here they were given one good meal every day, and this involved so much work that Miss Huntington tried to muster in some of the older girls as temporary kitchen help. To her dismay they were found so lamentably ignorant and clumsy that they couldn't wash a dish or peel a potato. This suggested to her the organization of a large kitchen in house work, but then the puzzle arose how to set them all at work at once so they could be taught in classes. This was solved by providing the girls with toy utensils and drilling them in the manual of their use. The wages in the class; but the project has been so successful that the kitchen-garden association, organized only eight months ago, has spread to all the poor districts of the city, and has now under its supervision 14 classes numbering more than 800 little girls.

BIRTHDAY OF THE INQUISITION.

—On July 1st a small number of Spanish zealots celebrated with considerable solemnity the four hundredth anniversary of the establishment of the Inquisition. On that day in 1480, adopted a proposition, submitted to it by Cardinal Pedro Gonzalez de Mendoza with the approbation of King Ferdinand and Isabella the Catholic, to constitute a tribunal of faith which should be empowered to punish heretics, and passed a law to that effect by a majority of their numbers. The majority for the law appointed two Chief Inquisitors, who were, however, superseded shortly afterward. Thomas de Torquemada, who was nominated Grand Inquisitor in their stead, is said to have burned eight thousand and eight hundred heretics in different parts of Spain. His successors did their best to emulate his fervent activity, the gross result of their endeavors being that, down to the year 1808, when the office was finally abolished in the Iberian Peninsula, thirty-one thousand nine hundred and twelve men and women had been burnt alive by the officers of the Spanish Inquisition. —New York Tribune.

NEWS AND GOSSIP.

The season in California thus far has been very favorable to the grape crop.

A STATISTICAL BARBER in Philadelphia says that the longest eared men want their hair cut the shortest.

NEXT to himself, David Davis admits that Hancock brings more weight to the Democratic ticket than any other man who could have been nominated.

A YOUNG lady, on being asked where her native place was, replied, "I have none; I am the daughter of a Methodist minister."

REVENUE from one-half of Illinois is to be an increase of about 600,000 in the population of the State since 1870, making the population 3,100,000 now against 2,539,891 then.

A WISCONSIN doctor says that twelve mosquitoes, if left undisturbed, will kill a man by the thousandth part of a pound measure, and per pound for wrought iron in bolts and plates, the spikes must be subtracted in the price bid for lumber. Please and specifications at this office. The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.
