SPEAKER REED is well called. He can speak if anybody can.

No Mills bill will pass the new House. This is one safe prophecy.

Wool wants a chance in the Fifty-first Congress. Wool is entitled to what he asks.

DEAR GOVERNOR WILSON.—If "two" is twelve, wouldn't "two" be twenty? Please answer by return mail.

NEW YORK DEMOCRATS have just had a chance to send Mr. Cleveland to Congress, and they did not send him. They preferred an ice man. Mr. Cleveland is a nice man, too.

Trusty sentinels who have been sitting on the President's message to keep it warm, will feel intensely relieved after high noon to-day. They must have made a supreme effort.

THE new Speaker is a Protectionist all the way through, up and down and any other way you take him. Free Trade left the Speaker's chair with Mr. Carlisle. The Register ought to know this.

THE wild and woolly West wanted the Speaker to be a man who had been in the East. East whipped them all with one big man. There is life in the old East yet.

THIS awful secret is out. The Chinese of this country have organized a "Kwan Kwan" or "Shan Hong" society. Everybody knows that this means a Chinese-American Laundry Trust. Its objects may be supposed to be to keep up prices and take all the business off.

AS a cigarette-smoking people we are advancing with rapid strides. Our consumption of the weed in this most perilous form was 300 millions more last year than in the previous year. Still we smoke. Laws against selling cigarettes amount to nothing so long as the demand continues.

MISS DREXEL, who recently entered the order of Sisters of Mercy, has decided to build a convent near Philadelphia in which young women of her own social grade shall be prepared for missionary work among Indians and negroes. She could not devote her money to better uses than to try to lift up these two races.

TO-DAY the President's message is to go to Congress and to-morrow the country will read so much of it as it finds time to read. One of these days will arise a President with a really great head who will want the people to read all he writes, and he will bill it down all the way through. Of course that President will be a journalist acquainted with the blue pencil.

WE send a committee to Charleston to ask the Governor to incorporate in his bill legislation for the Wheeling (Gas Works). He has said he will not do it because he will include in the bill no local legislation. He is unquestionably right, although his stand inconveniences Wheeling. Better let a committee go and see how things keep streets clean by machinery. There might be some other way to that.

IN England there is discontent among wage-earners of all classes. Those who are organized are making their complaints heard. If this were in the United States it would be attributed to the sore pressure of Protection. No Free Trader attributes it to Free Trade. The Colonists would have no trouble at all to connect it with the protective policy of the United States, Canada and the rest of the world.

Stanley the Victor.

Somehow we don't hear so much as formerly about Stanley making a big pile of money out of his adventures. The brilliancy of his achievement and his contributions to science have closed the mouths of the shrewd fellows who were starting mud at him.

A foreign correspondent says that Stanley's conquest of British opinion is at last complete. The Garrison has been in no haste to come to terms, but if we may believe what he says, the surrender is absolute and unconditional. It should make every man proud to live in an age that has produced a Stanley.

The Mountain State Going Ahead.

West Virginia newspapers published in counties heretofore thought to be as remote from the busy world as the heart of the Dark Continent, modestly tell of the great development going on in West Virginia.

Land for which three years ago there was no market at all, is now selling at 50 per cent and 100 per cent over the market price of a year ago, and it has only begun to rise. There is more lumbering and more coal mining in West Virginia in one month than there used to be in a whole year.

West Virginia is coming out of the woods, and capital has heard of it.

Now for the Penalty.

The proprietors of the Minneapolis Tribune building knew that they were maintaining a death trap. They had been warned that it was unsafe and that the means of escape were woefully inadequate.

They knew that a stairway winding around an elevator shaft would be a fatal decision in case of fire. They knew that one fire escape in a remote part of the building would afford little chance of escape to the persons employed there.

the cost that held them back. If they were made to pay freely for every life sacrificed in that fire, and sent to the penitentiary for the rest of their lives, a general overhauling of man-traps throughout the country. There are arguments to reach all sorts of men.

It Makes the Free Traders Happy.

Until this year coal dues were levied at the port of London. Free Traders declared this to be a tax on the poor, and so it seemed to be, for it was a tax on home industry. The dues were removed, and at once they went into the pockets of the coal dealers. The poor Briton pays more for his coal in London as he paid before.

Two millions of dollars in revenue have been lost, and the poor man of London must help to make it up. The coal men can well afford their share, for they have pocketed all the benefits of the repeal. The Free Traders are happy, or as happy as Free Traders can be, for their theory never works out in practice, that is not their fault.

Stop the Thieving.

The new Congress will have no more important duty than to adopt measures to put an end to the undervaluation of imports. This can be done if Congress and the Executive go about it intelligently and earnestly.

If the customs revenues were farmed out to private persons there would be a speedy end of undervaluations. Surely the Government is as intelligent and as competent to care for its interests.

The constant loss on imports is a standing scandal. To endure it indefinitely is to the dishonest men in the business that the country is indifferent whether they pay or do not pay.

Of course they will not pay unless they are forced to pay, and to leave the matter in this shape is to permit reprobate importers to reap the acts of Congress.

EDUCATIONAL STATISTICS.

In the Eleventh Census—An Announcement from the Superintendent.

The following has been received at this office:

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, CENSUS OFFICE, WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 1, 1889.

Sir:—This office desires to secure the best results possible regarding the schools of this country with a few salient figures.

James H. Hodge, A. M., of Rockford, Ill., a gentleman of long experience in educational work and in public affairs, has been appointed a special agent for the collection of statistics of education for the United States.

Public schools are so related to systems of public record that their statistics are obtainable through established methods.

Incorporated private schools have a place in public records.

Parochial schools generally render stated reports to some controlling body.

Unincorporated private schools form a considerable element of useful and hitherto unmeasured. It is desirable to gather reports of the number of teachers and pupils in such schools, without troubling them for the financial statements. Other educational statistics must be reached by different methods, in which every one interested may render some aid.

My list of private schools, no matter how brief, or names of single schools, no matter how humble, open in any part of the present school year, with the address of the principal, teacher of each, will be of assistance to this office.

Very respectfully,
ROBERT P. FORTER,
Superintendent of Census.

An Advertising Swindle.

A number of Hagerstown business men have been cleverly duped by two sharpers who registered at the Hotel Hamilton ten days ago under the names of P. D. Mahoney and J. A. Whitman. Their game was that of inserting business cards at $5 each in what was represented to be the time-table of the Shenandoah Valley Railroad. Having secured the amount of $100 the sharpers printed a circular and reported that the circular thousand of the "folders" had been printed and were ready for distribution. They informed the advertisers they could have as many as they wished for their own use, and then blandly presented their bills, which were paid, and on Wednesday evening they jumped the town. They were apprehended at Cumberland and were returned to Hagerstown, where they were put in jail to await trial.

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 10, 1887.

Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co.—Gentlemen:—I have been in the general practice of medicine for more than 40 years, and would say that in all my practice and experience have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and would say in connection that I have yet to find a case of catarrh that it would not cure, if they would take it according to directions. Yours Truly,

THROUGH THE STATE.

Items and Events of Interest Gleaned from Exchanges.

A new fire department has been organized in Shepherdstown.

The Gratton Eagle-Sentinel has issued a historical edition which is a great credit to the publishers of the paper and to the State.

Rowleyburg now has a new lumber mill. It is located below the town on the right bank of the river, and will be a huge affair when completed. It is built and operated by Pittsburgh capital. The mill is on the line of the projected railroad.

The following strange proposition is made by a correspondent of the Potomac Virginian: "The best thing West Virginia can do is to stop the free schools for two years and apply the money to the roads and bridges, so that all may be benefited thereby."

While returning from a hunting expedition near Elkton, Isaac Kyle accidentally shot and killed John Louk, a companion hunter. They were getting over a style, and the jar brought down the hammer of Kyle's gun, which was cocked. The charge went into Louk's back.

Ex-Senator Camden proposes to supplement the magnificent work he has done for the advancement of Parkersburg by an addition to the beauty and comfort of that prosperous city. He has signified his intention of erecting a handsome public fountain, as a gift to the city.

The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad has such a continuous rush of freight trains that it is never known before. The yards at Keyser and at Gratton and Baltimore are said to be filled with loaded cars that are waiting to be unloaded. The companies, though the shops are turning out new ones every day.

The large frame dwelling house of Mr. John C. Burdett, at Second Creek, just across the county line in Greenbrier county, caught fire from a defective chimney due and was totally destroyed. Mr. Burdett also lost the greater part of his furniture, and $75 in money which he had laid aside with which to pay his taxes. His total loss is estimated at about $2,000.

In repairing an old house near Newport, Ohio, the workman found a small box which had been hidden in the top of an old clothes press or closet. Upon opening the box they discovered a small bag containing some hundred and fifty dollars in old gold coin. The coin had apparently lain undisturbed for years. Mr. Davis, who made the find, turned the money over to Mrs. McKay the owner of the house, who made him a present of a twenty-dollar gold piece. The house had formerly been the residence of a family who committed suicide by hanging several years ago, and afterwards of his wife, who left the property to Mrs. McKay.

Kingston Notes.

In the cars, sometimes a roaring buzzing sound are caused by catarrh, that exceedingly disagreeable and very common disease. Loss of smell or hearing also result from catarrh. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, is a peculiarly successful remedy for this disease, which it cures by purifying the blood.
