THE HEALTHY TONE OF BUSINESS

Changes in the Money Market-Gos sip Concerning the Forthcoming Monetary Conference--Exports and Imports.

Special Correspondence of the Intelligence.

New York, Oct. 29.—In Wall street, the tone of business is healthy, but lacks any special element of speculation. Many factors in the condition of business at large are favorable to a higher range of prices, which had been very generally expected to appear at this stage of the season; but counter factors have appeared which are holding speculative tendencies in check for the time being. There is, however, a very healthy demand for railroad mortgages and prime dividend paying shares, and that fact encourages the "bull" owners of stocks to stick to their holdings.

The hardening tendency of the money markets here said in Europe naturally

The hardening tendency of the money markets, here and in Europe, naturally holds speculative transactions in check, the more so as the drift has run farther than has been generally expected. We have been assured by Chicago banking authorities that that money centre has so far gained control of interior finances that the great grain states would no longer be dependant on New York funds for moving the crops. Some prelonger be dependant on New York funds for moving the crops. Some people have believed this boast, and are consequently taken by surprise at the present condition of our banks; but the fact has been that, since the end of July, the surplus reserves of the clearing house banks have fallen from twenty-four millions to zero, and that twenty millions of money has been sent ty millions of money has been sent from New York to the interior. This is a change so sweeping and so mex-pected that it necessarily becomes a serious element in Wall street operations, as its effects are apparent in arringency and unusually high rates for loans and discounts.

A similar change has appeared in the

A similar change has appeared in the European money markets. Not only has the Bank of England advanced its rate of discount from 2 to 3 per cent, but the London open market has since that change shown a still hardening tendency in the rate of money. At the other foreign centres, a like tendency is apparent. The notable, not to say ominous, feature at all points is the disposition of the great banks to keep their gold and get more. This inclination may be attributed in part to the continuous purchases of Austro-Hungary, and to the hearding of the Russian government for some inscrutable purpose; but it is no doubt also stimulated by the position of the sliver question, which is brought into unusul prominence by the forthcoming moneition, which is brought into unusal prominence by the forthcoming monetary conference at Brusels. The very fact of the authorative discussion of the question is calculated to create sensitiveness, if not a certain degree of precaution. Financiers have to provide against the worst possible contingencies in any given situation, and European bankers are asking, "What if the conference fails and all hope of restoring silver has to be abandoned?" As such a result would involve a still further serious degradation of silver, the possibility of its causing a rush among the great banks for gold, in order to put themselves more firmly on the single standard basis, is too obvious to be sately disregarded. Besides this, it is not improbable that some of the nations may deem it to their advantage to go into the conference backed by the prestige of being holders of ample stories of cold. In high the whole situatories tage to go into the conference backed by the prestige of being holders of ample stocks of gold. In brief, the whole situation arising out of the fall in silver is one calculated to bring about a precautionary noarding of gold; and so long as such a policy is in force it must tend to disturb foreign exchanges everywhere and to derange the regular course of the world's money markets. To us this is a matter of special importance; not only because our large gold stock is the most accessible source of supply to foreign hoarders, but also because our foreign trade is now taking a course that suggests some probability because our foreign trade is now taking a course that suggests some probability of a more or less important adverse international balance. Contrary to what has been expected as the result of the new tariff, our exports are declining while our imports are increasing. For the month of September, our imports were $11,500,000 above those of last year; and for the three months July, August and September the increase was $27,200,000; while the exports for September the increase was $27,200,000; wh August and September the increase was $27,200,000; while the exports for Sep-

August and September the increase was $27,200,000; while the exports for September show a decrease of $20,000,000. Thus the September movement is $31,500,000 less favorable to us than was that of a year ago. The only feature of relici against this adverse tendency is the fact that speculation seems to be reviving in London and that some liberal amounts of securities are being sent from here to that market. It is also in our havor that foreign bankers at this centre appear to have liberal balances for use on time loans.

But while the foregoing factors demand attention and are discouraging to large operations at the moment, yet it is to be remembered that we are now in a stage of the year when the pressure on the money market is usually at its maximum. The western demand for currency may be expected to decline from this time forward, and in another month we shall probably see the reserves steadily increasing.

While, in view of the factors above relerred to, it may be necessary to slacken pace somewhat for a time in stock operations, yet the concral situation is a strong one. The business of the country at large is sound and active and the nation is probably accumulating solid wealth faster than ever before; the largeness of our current imports even is evidence of that. The bank clearings show the increasing activity of business; the crops are turning out considerably better than has been estimated and the furners are making money and paying off their debts. The gross earnings of the rail-roads show steady increases of earnings and the grain roads are blocked with freight beyond the capacity of thoir cars, while the net earnings exhibit a gratifying increase over those of last year; and the quantity of grain coming to seaboard far exceeds all precedent, which is evidence of extraordinary interior stocks of produce. All these are circumstances bearing favorably upon the value of railroad investments, and are preparing the way for a higher range of values when the prevent special conditions affecting the money are preparing the way for a higher range of values when the present special conditions affecting the money market have disappeared.

The following extracts from the "New York Bank Note List and Counterfelt Detector" of October 2, 1852, show the condition of the money affoat in the western part of Virginia, now West Virginia, at that time. It will be observed that the genuine money of near-ly all banks was subject to a discount, iy all banks was subject to a discount, and in many cases worthless, and that there were many counterfeits on every bank of any standing.

GOVERNOR M'KINLEY ON WILD-CAT MONEY. "There is one thing which this country cannot afford to trifle with, and that is its money—its measure of value—the money which passes among its people in return for their labor and the products of their toil or of their land. There is no contrivance which is so successful in cheating labor and robbing the poor people of the country as an unstable, worthless and easily counterfeited currency. With our present paper money the citizen or the business man does not have to carry with him a bank note detector; he does not need to concern himself lest the bank shall fail; if the note is genuine, it is good, and always good, for its face value. The money of this country should be as national as its flag, as sacred as the naits money-its measure of value-the tional as its flag, as sacred as the na-tional honor, and as sound as the gov-ornment itself."

It should be remembered that Will-inm E. Wilson, West Virginia's most distinguished Democratic leader, is ad-vocating the state bank platform of the Democratic party in his speeches this vear.

An Interesting Table.

The following interesting table showing the plurallies in New York since 1884 has probably escaped notice. The figures afford pleasant study, as it will be observed President Harrison had a larger plurality above Harlem river than any Democrat had below in those years:

In the matter of curatives what you want is something that will do its work while you continue to do yours—a remedy that will give you no inconvenience nor interfere with your busiremedy that will give you in historic venience nor interfere with your business. Such a remedy is Allcock's Porous Plasters. These plasters are not an experiment; they have been in use for over thirty years, and their value has been attested by the highest medical authorities, as well as by testimonials from those who have used them. They require no change of diet and are not affected by wet or cold. Their action does not interfere with labor or business; you can toil and yet be cured while hard at work. They are so pure that the youngest, the oldest, the most delicate person of either sex can use them with great benefit.

Beware of initations, and do not be deceived by misrepresentations. Ask for Allcock's, and let no solicitation or explanation induce you to accept a

A Cholora Scare

A reported outbreak of cholers at Helmetta, N. J., created much excite-ment in that vicinity. Investigation showed that the disease was not cholera, showed that the disease was not cholera, but a vielent dysentery, which is almost as severe and dangerous as cholera. Mr. Walter Willard, a prominent merchant of Jamesburg, two miles from Helmetta, says: "Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy has given great satisfaction in the most severe cases of dysentery. A Mistake Which Gives a Democratic Advantage in Cabell County.

Special Dispatch to the Intellig Huntington, W. Va., Oct. 30 .- An error has been discovered in the ballots as printed for the coming election. The People's party ticket fails to locate its candidates as prescribed by law. This will seriously affect the Republican strength if not remedied, as there is a fusion between the two parties on the county ticket.

An effort is being made to have the error corrected, but the election board are moving very slowly and seem reluctant to give up the Democratic advantant to give up the Democratic advantage. tage this technicality might afford.

Latolorance in Greenbrier County.

Intelerance in Greenbrier County.

To the Editor of the Intelligence.

Sin: Upon the 17th of October I made a Republican speech at the Dug Hill school house in Greenbrier county, and after the meeting one Henry Gilmer, Sam C. Gilmer, Jim Dotson and one of Henry Gilmer's henchmen by the name of Workman, attacked me on account of me being a Republican and advocating pure and unadultered Republicanism from the stump. Mr. Henry Gilmer, the Democratic candidate for prosecuting attorney, said that I offered one Hugh Ballard $10 to vote the Republican ticket. I said to Henry Gilmer that he or any man, that said so was a liar, and all three Gilmer brothers and Dotson and henchman Workman made at me with revolvers threatening to shoot. Greenbrier county is certainly an intelligent county and has ening to shoot. Greenbrier county is certainly an intelligent county, and has several able Democrats who would make excellent officers for the various offices to be filled. John A. Preston. who has been prosecuting attorney of Greenbrier county for some eighteen or twenty years, would not be guilty of being the leader of a Democratic mob of Greenbrier county ought to rebuke the gentleman at the polls and elect a man who is a gentleman and a Chris-tian, and not place such a man in power as Gilmer.

Yours truly, J. J. McLaughlin. Hinton, W. Va., Oct. 27.

Doddridge Republicaus,

CENTRAL, W. VA., Oct. 30 .- The Re publicans of the Doddridge county had a rousing meeting yesterday at the court house. It was an ovation long to be remembered. The Hon, John A. Hutchinson handled the tariff and wildcat money system in an excellent manner, money system in an excellent manner, showing up the fallacies of that system. He tore the force bill to shreds. Mr. Hooten showed the beauties of the McKinley bill. He showed plainly that all American goods had declined in prices since the adoption of the McKinley bill. The McKinley bill don't need any arguments, it is now doing its own work.

Col. Lamb's Good Meetings.

BLUEFIELD, W. VA., Oct. 29 .- Colonel Lamb returned from the coal region tonight. He has spoken at Goodwill, Mayberry, Roanoke and Vivian since leaving Bramwell, having enthusiastic meetings everywhere. He spoke with District Attorney Sturgiss at Roanoke, Friday night, and had a discussion with Mr. Henrietz at Vivian, which devel-oped the fact that the crowd was over-whelmingly Republican. Col. Lamb eays Bluestone and Elkhorn are full of Republicans, and West Virginia is safe for Harrison.
