THE DEMOCRATIC TARIFF BILL

Will Injure American Industries—What an Ad Valorem System Will Do. New York, May 19.—The American Economist will publish to-morrow saveral columns of letters from well known manufacturers and workingmen in reply to its inquiries regarding the effect the proposed Democratic tariff bill will have on American industries. Among them are the following: "Foolish to think that the country can be ben-efited."

AMSTERDAM, N. Y., April 15, 1893. The present prosperity of the country is phenomenal, and why? Simply by the wise and beneficent effect of the The present prosperity of the country is phenomenal, and why? Simply by the wise and beneficent effect of the Republican tariff policy. Any measure that in any way disturbs or does away with it will in that ration injure us all. Our competitors across the water are anxiously awaiting the breaking down of the barriers of protection on this side that they may have this market, and it is just such measures as this the Tariff Reform Club seeks to put in place of that which we now have. Can any one be so blind and so foolish as to wish or make the attempt with the slightest idea that the country would be benefited thereby? What would its effect be upon our industry? Why, we can see but one effect, and that would be to seriously cripple our industry, even if it did not ruin it. It would compel our manufacturers to reduce wages to the level of the other side, which would have the same effect on them as our protective tariff now has, with the difference to us—i. e., the purchasing power of our people would be curtailled to the extent of the cut in wages, and even though they might purchase a little cheaper, yet not nearly as much as the cut in wages would be. Consequently, this curtailment in the purchasing power of our people would react to that extent first upon the manufacturers, which would have a tendency to cause them to give less employment, even at the reduced wages. This is the country, above all others, for the people as a whole; and anything that tends to degrade the common people should not be encouraged. Put the Chinese wall around us, if you choose to call the tariff law such. Keep up the purchasing power of our people; for if we do so now, the time will come when ours will dominate all other nations. This is the best market of any country in the world, and foreign countries recognize this fact and are anxious to have it; but let us have it for the people here. So says, Yours truly, L. L. Dean & Co.

LEAD, COAL, WOOL. SANTA FE, N. M., April 14, 1893.

The malcontents who have prepared the new bill for the destruction of American industry are evidently dissatisfied with their own work. Not daring to reduce duties any lower than they have done, they have adopted the vicious ad valorem system, to enable their foreign friends (by the exercise of perjury and subornation of perjury in making bills of lading) to pay what duties seems best to them. Our leading interests in New Mexico are lead ores, coal and wool, which are placed on the free list. Lead ores are mined just across the frontier in Mexico at about thirty cents per day. Our miners receive $3.00 to $3.50, or about as much for one day as the Mexican Peons receive for ten. Australian coal is now landed at San Francisco cheaper than our miners can produce it at living wages, and our wool growers are barely enabled to keep their heads above the water by the present duties. Let this new bill become a law and general ruin and beggary will be the result. It is estimated that the revenue produced by this bill will fall far short of our requirements, but Mr. Shearman's plan of interest bearing bonds, Stevenson's scheme for resurrecting the income tax, or Mills' idea of restoring the sugar duty, would probably supply the deficiency. Of course, Shearman's plan would increase the public debt and the others would add to our private burdens, but as the object of the bill is to destroy our prosperity anyway, it may as well come in one form as another. The emigration problem, which has caused so much discussion of late, will find an easy solution when the new measure becomes a law, as it will spiply intending emigrants, with emoloyment at home instead of coming here to find it. True, this will throw many of our even people out of work, but the the new bill for the destruction of American industry are evidently disment at home instead of coming here to find it. True, this will throw many of our own people out of work, but the people said by their votes that they wanted just such a change as this, and it is to be hoped that they will enjoy it when it comes.

MONTREAL, May 19 .- The following details have reached here of the story of cannibalism already reported:

Last fall the members of an Indian tribe called the Nasconopis started out fribe caned the Ausconopis stated out for their winter hunt around the river St. Marguerite, below Quebec. Among the party was a man named Jacks, and his daughter, aged 18. The hunt proved a failure, the party hastoned to return as quickly as possible, and after enduring hardships and starvation its member faulty scaled a vaint in the will bors finally reached a point in the wil-derness some sixty miles distant from their homes. Weak and famished, without a morsel to eat, they were in a desperate condi-tion. The father of the girl resolved to sacrifice her to preserve his own life, and one morning when his companions and one morning when his companions were nearly frozen with the cold he killed the daughter and appeased his hunger. Horror-stricken his companions fled, refusing to take the miserable man with them, and at last accounts he had not yet made his appearance in the settlements, and the probability is that if he has survived he is keeping away on account of his crime.

The others finally succeeded in getting back to their homes more dead than alive, and later the terrible story was reinted to the Rev. Mr. Maltais, curate of St. Esienne DeSaguenay, who at once notified Coroner Fafford, of Pointe DesMonts, with a view to an investigation,

"OLD HUICH" RETURNS.

The Queer Old Wheat Speculator Turns Up Again at Chicago-He Don't Like New York.

Chicago, May 19.-After an absence of nearly two years "Old Hutch" walked into the Grand Pacific this morning as unconcernedly as if he had just crossed over from the board building. The famous ex-speculator looked younger and stronger than two years ago. He was in high spirits and when asked if intended going into the wheat pit again he replied in a humorous way: "I don't owe anybody a cent and I've got fifteen cents left to get a glass of whisky so what's the use of bothering," and then as he settled down in a hotel chair he remarked: "I'm glad to be back in Chicago again for its the city of my adoption. New York is a pretty good sort of a place in a metropolitan way but I don't like it. Down there they want to find out if you have a dollar and then try and get it away from you." famous ex-speculator looked younger of Further Damage. Spokane, Wash., May 19.—The rivers throughout northern Idaho and the western part of this state have reached the highest point known to the oldest residents, and the damage already done will amount to many hundred thousands of dollars. Several of the largest sands of dollars. Several of the largest railway brigges on the Union Pacific, Northern Pacific and Great Northern have been washed out. Many of the fluest farms in the section are flooded, and crops are entirely destroyed. Many families are camping on the hills, having lost nearly everything. Great fears are entertained for the safety of the mills and houses along the banks of the river in this city, for it the water continues to rise for the next three days as it has for the three past several million dollars' worth of property will be destroyed.

Chicago, May 19.—Epstean's dime museum on Randolph street was badly damaged by a fire which broke out shortly after midnight. The loss to the building and contents is about $40,000.

The reactions resulting from realizations, or from bear raids, were less pronounced than of into, and seemed to stimulate purchases by these who have recently espoused the bull side. The engagement of $2.00,000 gold for shipment by to-morrow's stemiors had little or no effect, money on call being extremely easy and funds on time being offered more freely than of late. The fact that the advices from London were of a more reasuring character, and that there were no new davelopments of an uninvorsalle character on this side, tended to stimulate buying for both long and short accounts. The success of the northern refunding scheme also tended to encourage the sentiment in favor of higher prices. The commission houses had more orders than for some time, and the bears covered freely.
