WHEELING, FEBRUARY 8, 1896. REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE.

The West Virginia Republican State Committee will meet at Parkersburg, February 14, at 7 o'clock p. m.

The McDowell County Lynching. The McDowell Recorder, published at Welch, near which occurred the recent lynching, complains that reports of the affair were grossly exaggerated.

Somebody, probably, will be found to take the Democratic nomination for the presidency, but everybody must see that there is nothing in the nature of a rush for it.

The Wheeling Boy's Church in New York. The Denver News in discussing the "new church" that attracted "Pagan Bob's" attention and admiration out at Kalamazoo, Mich., because it had no creed except good work, calls his attention to a well known church in New York, which, without reference to its creed, is pre-eminently a church of good works.

This is what happened to Jones for wounding two men, one of them slightly, in his promiscuous pistol-practice on a railroad train.

Lynching is a horrible thing to think of, but when some vile creature makes it his business to endanger the lives of many in order to satisfy some selfish whim, the law should take immediate action.

All good citizens will agree that the law should take immediate action. Is the law lame in McDowell county? We are not willing to believe that public sentiment is so strong on the side of desperate characters that the ministers of the law are afraid to do their duty.

So far as we know McDowell county there is no reason to think that the man Jones would not have been punished for his offense if he had been left in the hands of the law.

Meanwhile it is rather dangerous to appeal to Judge Lynch. Sometimes he makes mistakes. It has just been discovered that he made one in Tennessee ten years ago, when he put to death an innocent man, Judge Lynch's judgments are always bad, for they set up the rule of the mob in place of the orderly procedure of the law which society has ordained for its government.

The Intelligencer hopes that Judge Lynch may hold court no more in West Virginia, which is not an unorganized frontier community made up of desperadoes whom the law is powerless to tame.

Europe should take the hint and stop making faces at our financial matters. This country has resources that leap to the front when its patriotism is appealed to.

What West Virginia Did. To West Virginia is due the credit of knocking in the head the bond syndicate scheme and opening the new loan to general subscriptions.

The resolution was so well received by Congress and the people that it compelled the administration to change front, drop the syndicate and let the whole country come in for a fair chance at the good thing.

The triumph of the broader policy lies not only in the fact that it gains for the treasury about $7,000,000 on this one loan, nor because it fixes a policy that must be pursued in respect to subsequent loans. It is worth most because it saves the country from the scandal of more syndicate deals and shows that the government of the United States is solid in the confidence of its own people. It is no small honor for a state so small in population as West Virginia is to accomplish all this by furnishing capable leadership on an important question at the decisive moment. It is a triumph which brings further to the front a state which is moving ahead and taking rank among the progressive commonwealths.

The loan was more popular than the administration which offered it and the party that made it necessary.

Good Roads in the Interior. A change is at hand in the matter of better roads in the interior of West Virginia and elsewhere. There is a practical way for the farmers to get their stuff to market expeditiously and cheaply as compared with the present method of hauling a few bushels of product through mud into which the wheel sinks half way to the hub.

It is the inauguration of a system of steel roads. By this is meant a road upon which steel rails are used, not for the use of cars, but of wagons, carriages and other vehicles drawn by horses. The claim is that such rails will make driving easier, that the roads will wear longer, and that on such a track a horse can pull twenty times as much as upon a dirt road, and five times as much as on a macadam bed, and, it is said, will last about the same length of time, requiring less attention and fewer repairs, if properly maintained.

Somebody, probably, will be found to take the Democratic nomination for the presidency, but everybody must see that there is nothing in the nature of a rush for it.

INTENSE SUFFERING From Dyspepsia and Stomach Trouble.

Instantly Relieved and Permanently Cured by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets—A New Discovery, But Not a Patent Medicine.

Dr. Redwell relates an interesting account of what he considers a remarkable cure of acute stomach trouble and chronic dyspepsia by the use of the new discovery, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

He says: The patient was a man who had suffered to my knowledge for years with dyspepsia. Everything he ate seemed to sour and create acids and gases in the stomach; he had pains like rheumatism in the back, shoulder blades and limbs, fullness and loss of flesh; the heart became affected, causing palpitation and sleeplessness at night.

I gave him powerful nerve tonics and blood remedies, but to no purpose. As an experiment I finally bought a fifty-cent package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at a drug store and gave them to him. Almost immediate relief was given and after he had used four boxes he was to all appearances fully cured.

Without any question they are the safest, most effective cure for indigestion, biliousness, constipation and all derangements of the stomach however slight or severe.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are made by the Stuart Co., of Marshall, Mich., and sold by druggists everywhere at fifty cents per package.

Found Not Guilty. PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 7.—The jury in the sensational case of Major W. C. Moreland, ex-City Attorney and his assistant, W. H. House, who were charged with illegally appropriating the interest on city funds received from certain banks, this afternoon returned a verdict of "not guilty," but the defendants to pay the costs. Indictments for embezzling are still against the defendants.

Foolish Report Denied. CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 7.—The special of the Times-Star from Frankfurt, says: Governor Bruders' denials to-day the reports published in morning papers about him having contemplated or taken steps to call out the state militia to suppress the threatened disturbance in the legislature growing out of a contest for the election of a United States senator.

I Wonder Why. Boston Post. I wonder why hearts change so carelessly, Forgetful of the fires they have set Aglow in other hearts, Fruitful of the trembling lips once wet With dew of kisses.

I wonder why it comes—forgetfulness— To steal away the loyalty and truth That once were gloried in, Leaving, alone, a formless shadow—ruth For those forgotten.

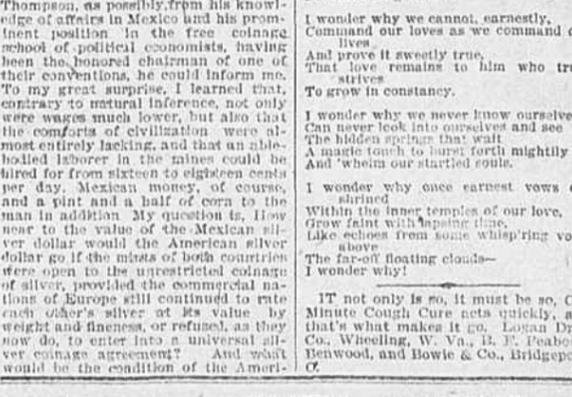

I wonder why we cannot, earnestly, Command our loves as we command our lives, And prove it sweetly true, That love remains to him who truly strives To grow in constancy.

I wonder why we never know ourselves, Can never look into ourselves and see The hidden springs that wait, A magic touch, to burst forth mightily And whelm our startled souls.

I wonder why once earnest vows en- dured, Within the inner temples of our love, Grow faint with passing time, Like echoes from some whispering voice The far-off floating clouds— I wonder why!
