THE PRESENT POLICE SYSTEM.—We have been satisfied for a long time back, that there was something wrong with the police arrangements of this city. We do not believe it to be the fault of the gentleman at the head of the police, but of the system itself, which very meagerly provides for the protection of the persons and property of our citizens. For instance, the system only allows us in this city, claiming a population of twenty-five thousand, the number of six officers, who attend to all the duties, both civil and criminal, and are not unfrequently engaged in prosecuting business relating exclusively to the commonwealth. These men, one for each ward, are engaged during the day with their duties, and at night, being only human, they go to bed like common people, and the citizens are left at the mercy of the hundred or so rowdies, with which it is infected. We have known many rank offences to go unpunished on account of this insufficiency, and it always will be so until the force is increased by the addition of vigilant and efficient men, who will arrest alike the "ragged and ruffled" offenders against the peace and dignity of the town. By a reasonable increase of the force, a night watch might be established and the city rendered comparatively secare. We are not sure that an increase in the force would not be able to pay its own way by the additional fines, costs, and of forth, so that the city would be put to to extra expense by the proposed improvement in the efficiency of the police. But whether this be true or not, is altogether a secondary consideration. The state of things demand a change for the better, and it should be made as speedily as posa quietus upon the hideous noises which drunken rascal appropriates to himself to use. violate law with impunity. We could cite half a dozen cities, within no very extensive area, that have not more than half the plied each, with twice the number of policemen. We hope the new Council will look to this matter, and if the proposition

It has been going on long time. We see parties coming up and emerging again breathless, at the corer of the street. It's a continual Hallow Eve night over the way. Loud voices and rude bangings frequently interrupt the quiet monotony of the printers' work FAMILY SEWING MACHINES, and stop the weary clicking of the types, coused from his lethargy, and goes out with his ignis fatuus in his nose, to see if they have left any whisky after the skirmish. It's all fun for us, as we view he scenes along the streaks of light from our windows, but it is death on our neighrs. "There is something rotten in this State of Denmark."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20. House .- Mr. Adrain, caused to be read a paragraph from the N. Y. Tribune, in which it was said that Messrs. Horace F. Clark, Riggs, Adrain, Briggs and Davis, of Ind., were elected with the aid of Repub-lican votes with the understanding that they would assist the Republicans in the organization of the House. Mr. Adrain would not engage in a personal controversy with an editor. He had great respect for Mr. Greeley and considered that he had been misinformed by some evil disposed party. There was not a partical of truth in the Tribune's statements. He had made no such pledge, and was under no such obligations as were implied in that statement, but, nevertheless he could imagine a contingency when the interests of the country and his own sense of duty might com-

Before the result was announced, there was a change in the current of feeling.

John Cochrane rose to give his reasons why he could not vote for Smith. Several gentleman endeavored to deprive him of the floor, by raising points of order on him. In conclusion, Mr. Cochrane changed his vote to Millson. He could vote none but a Democrat. Other explanations were made by Democrats for a change of their votes for Smith.

Mr. McClernand said as it was now in the power of the Democratic party proper, to elect Smith, he changed his vote for him, and expressed the hope that the Democrats of the Northwest would give him their support.

Mr. Bocock made a short speech. He was always willing to unite on a sound man and he voted for Smith. Other Democratic changes were made to Smith, accompanied by occasional remarks, some saying that they desired to give peace to the country and strike a blow at the free-pressible Conflict, preferring a National Whig to a sectional Republican.

Mr. Morris, of Illinios said if his vote would elect Smith, he would not give it. Other exchamations were favorable to changing for Smith. Intense interest was expressed throughout the proceedings.

Messrs. English and Niblack voted for Smith, as the contest was narrowed down between a Republican and an American. Mr. Morris, of III., wanted Mr. Smith to say for himself, whiether he repudiated the doctrines of the Know Nothings? Several Democrats stated that they had heard this fact from his own lips. Mr. Burnett thought that they ought to let patriotism be above party at this crisis. Mr. Morris wanted Mr. Smith to answer the question. Mr. Clemens and others objected to Mr. Smith responding. Mr. Smith wanted a man to go into the member of a Know Nothing lodge, but that he was an Old Line Whig, and a representative of national principles. Applause followed. The interest increased as the House neared an election.

Mr. Barr changed his vote to Mr. Smith;

SOMETHING NEW .- U.T. BABBITS BEST MEDICINAL SALERATUS

Is manufactured from common salt, and is prepared entirely different from other Saleratus. All the deletarious matter extracted in such a manuer as to produce Bread, lifacuit, and all kinds of Cakes, without containing a particle of Saleratus when the Bread or cake is baked, thereby AND producing wholesome results. Every part AND title of Saleratus is turned to gas and passes through the Bread or dake in the baking consequently nothing remains but common Salt. Water and Flour. You will readily perceive by the taste of this Saleratus that it is entirely different from other Saleratus.
