HEADQUARTERS MILITARY COMMANDER, Wheeling, May 12, 1863.

General Order, No. 53.

GENERAL ORDER No. 2, issued on the 4th inst. closing bar-order and restricting travel on the streets of the city after 10 o'clock P. M. is hereby revoked. By order, J. H. DARR, Major 1st Va. Cav.

my13 Military Commander and Prov. Mar.

ELECTION TICKETS.

We are prepared to fill all orders for tickets for the coming election. The price on the best writing paper, will be for the single thousand, $4; for a greater number at $3 per thousand. Where they are to be sent by mail, money should be sent to pay postage at rate of one cent per ounce.

The money must accompany the order.

How Major Darr's Female Prisoners

were disposed of.—As is well known, the Provost Marshal within the past few months has received quite a number of female prisoners from different parts of the State, with the history of most of whom our readers have been made acquainted through these columns. Within the past two or three days most of the girls have been disposed of. Mary Jane Green, of Braxton, charged with destroying the Government telegraph, Miss Jennie DeHart, charged with being a spy, and Miss Margaret Murphy were sent beyond the Federal lines. Mary Summers, Elizabeth Hays, Marian McKenzie and Mary Jane Prater, all of whom were arrested in the uniform of soldiers, supposed to be common prostitutes, were taken into Pennsylvania, out of the reach of the camps and there dropped down to take care of themselves.

In addition to this, Major Darr still holds the two Miss Copeland's, daughters of Col. Copeland, who resides near Clarksburg. They are charged with carrying letters to the rebel army, and appear to be well educated and intelligent young ladies.

Ellen Conner and Harriet Stewart are also held in custody as spies. They were arrested a day or two since in Harrison county, as spies. Miss Conner states that she is no spy, and that at the time of her arrest she was hunting her lover, a member of the 6th Virginia Infantry, who had seduced and abandoned her.

Miss Stewart claims that she is a cousin to Miss Conner, and went with her in search of the lover aforesaid, for the purpose of keeping her company.

AN IMPORTANT ARREST.—Meyer Wienberg, salesman for Hartman & Straus, clothiers on Water street, was arrested on Tuesday by a squad of soldiers, under the following circumstances: Of late several deserters have been arrested in and about Baltimore city with clothing upon their persons bearing the Wheeling mark. A day or two ago a detective officer in the employ of the Government came out from Baltimore for the purpose of detecting the parties who sold the clothing, and to accomplish this object soldiers were sent to the various clothing stores with instructions to represent themselves as deserters in search of citizen's clothing. Wienberg is one of those who took the bait. He sold the soldier all the clothing he wanted and being at once informed upon was arrested as aforesaid. He was held to bail by Commissioner Forbes in the sum of $1,000.

The detective alluded to sent a couple of soldiers into the clothing house of Sonneborn, corner of Main and Union streets. The soldiers told Sonneborn that it was their intention to desert and they wanted clothing. They were at once taken into a back room, Sonneborn informing them that they need have no fears of him as he had rendered such assistance to deserters before. As the soldiers were about putting on the clothing which they had purchased the proprietor, who was yesterday taken before Commissioner Forbes and held to bail in the sum of $1,500.

Other clothing establishments were tried but refused to bite.

THE WEATHER AND THE CROPS.—The late rains have seriously interfered with the farmers in getting in their spring crops. The earth was so completely saturated that plowing was impossible. On the very high grounds where the soil is a light loam, the farmers have been able to plant their corn, but in the lower lands no plowing has been done for the past two weeks. Generally speaking, the wheat looks well and promises an abundant harvest, except in the more depressed land, where it is almost entirely drowned out. Should the weather continue wet for a week longer, the farmers will be obliged to cross out their land, plant the corn and plow out the middle lands afterward.—Such a season has not been known in the country for years, and it has been specially beneficial to grass, of which there will be an abundant crop. There is now every indication of an abundance of fruit. The trees were kept back by the late cold weather, and the blossoms now show promise of a large crop.

The fine warm weather which we have had for a few days has been very favorable, but yesterday there were indications of more rain.

HORSE THIEVES CAPTURED.

A few days ago, a lot of Jenkins' guerrillas, among whom were Henry and William Bryan and John Taft, concluded to try their hands in the stealing line, on the north side of the Ohio, in the neighborhood of Swan creek, seventeen miles below Gallipolis. Anything lying around loose, as saddles, bridles, &c., were unceremoniously gobbled up. A party of eleven Union citizens started in pursuit next day and overtook the thieves within a circuit of about six miles.

The three above named were captured with most of the stolen plunder, and lodged in the Gallipolis jail, where they are now enjoying the bitter fruits of their conduct. It is to be hoped they will be tried under civil law and set to work in the Ohio Penitentiary for the good of the State. They were all armed with breech loading carbines and revolvers, and admit being engaged in the fight at Point Pleasant. They say their loss in killed and wounded did not exceed twenty.

The captors of these thieves deserve great credit for the prompt measures adopted to stop their career. The only mistake made was in capturing them at all. Such fellows should have been suffered "to sleep" until the day of judgement.

THE RIVER.—There were between eight and nine feet water in the channel of the Ohio yesterday. The Sir William Wallace passed down yesterday for Cincinnati. The St. Patrick also left for that point. The Charley Potwin was lying at the landing with a barge in tow.

An unknown man, while laboring, it is supposed, in a fit of insanity, deliberately jumped from the steamer White Rose, which was lying at the Pittsburgh wharf, into the river on Tuesday, and was immediately drowned. He was unknown to any one on the boat, and no positive reason can be assigned for the rash act. The deceased is supposed to have been about 30 or 35 years of age. After jumping into the river he made no effort whatever to save himself.

If we may judge from appearances, the White Rose has some pretty rough service while attached to the Mississippi. Both of her smoke stacks have been partially knocked down, and one of the upper guards is entirely torn off from stem to stern. It will take from ten days to two weeks to place her in repair.

STRAILING GOVERNMENT STORES.—During the excitement, growing out of the recent rebel raid, a train of cars, containing Government commissary stores, was switched off at Glover's Gap, on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, and while lying at that point, was robbed of about $800 worth of provisions. Thos. Judge, James Lynch and Mrs. John Marken, all of whom reside in the vicinity of the Gap, were arrested upon the charge of having committed the theft, and were brought to this city.—They had a hearing yesterday, before Ald. Duly, and were committed to jail for trial.

WHEREABOUTS OF THE REBEL RAIDERS.—From the best information we can gain, the rebel raiders, perhaps a thousand or two strong, are still hanging about Gilmer, Wirt and adjoining counties, plundering a little and moving out of the country what they have already stolen. They appear to be doing pretty much as they please and nobody seems to know anything as to their future designs.

ALLEGED BRIDGE BURNERS.—John Black and several other citizens of Marion county, are now in custody of the Provost Marshal charged with participating in the late bridge burning on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. They will be turned over to the civil authorities for trial. Black was formerly proprietor of the Union House, in this city.

We call attention to the advertisement of cavalry horses wanted by Capt. Newport, A. Q. M.

ATTENTION is directed to the general order of Maj. General Schenck, published this morning.

The Nomination of J. S. Morris.

Editors Intelligencer:

I see in your issue of this morning a card setting forth that J. S. Morris, of Marion, was nominated at the late Parkersburg Convention, or rather chosen by the delegation from Marion, as one of the delegates from our Senatorial District. I will here take the occasion to say that Mr. Morris did not get the nomination according to the rule that should govern the action of a Convention, and if he got the nomination, as stated in your paper of this morning, he got it by log-rolling and not by a test vote. We balloted various times on the bank between Wheeling and Parkersburg, making a vote every time between Morris and A. F. Ritchie, each delegate being unyielding in regard to the man of his choice. It has come to me that on the day the Convention adjourned that I authorized certain parties to cast my vote, I being too unwell to attend the sitting of the Convention all of the time on Thursday. Some, I learn, say it was cowardice of me; that in a few days I have no knowledge of authorizing any member of that Convention to cast my vote for one candidate or the other, and in justice to the people of Marion, Marshall and Wetzel counties, I just say that Joseph S. Morris was not nominated by that Convention, at least by the delegates from Marion, it being a vote between him and A. F. Ritchie, he did get the nomination.
