POCAHONTAS COUNTY-WHAT THE WAR HAS DONE .- During the discussion yesterday in the Senate, upon the bill to remove the seat of justice of Pocahontas county, the Senator from Pocahontas, Mr. Young, said that Huntersville, the present county seat, which is only three miles from the old State line, was situated in a wilderness. There were only five or six houses in the place, and not another habitation for miles in any direction. He said the place was as desolate as Babylon. .The last time he was there the only living animal he saw was a half starved cat. Runtersville, he said, was always a drunken, dirty town, the rallying bole of treason, and in the country around it there was nothing but huckelbery bushes and pitch pine woods, ground that would not fetch buckwheat, barren wastes and precipices inhabited by panthers. The Union soldiers burned part of the town containing rebel stores in 1861, and the rebels afterwards burned the Court House. The wealthy men of Pocahontas have generally cast their fortunes with the rebellion. They have sowed the wind and will reap the whirlwind. Many other counties or the border of this State are in a similar condition to that described by the Sen-

BOT A JOKE WHICH HAD A SERIOUS TER MINATION .- Some silly young men think it "A capital joke" to publish the marriage of two parties who, perhaps, have no idea of uniting their future lives, who, if they have do not desire the fact proclaimed to the world. We have been deceived into the publication of such notices. Often it is "done for fun," sometimes maliciously .-Every newspaper is liable to be imposed upon in this way, in spite of all protection. It is well for those who are thus disposed to perpetuate a senseless joke to know that the newspapers and the public have some protection in the law. A few days since a fraudulent marriage notice was sent to the Boston Journal and the Taunton Gazette. The matter was placed in the bands of Deputy Sheriff Thayer, of Taunton, for investigation, who traced the fraud to Samuel W. Day, of Mansfield. Day was arraigned before the Police Court in Taunton on Saturday, and plead guilty to the charge .-The case was continued for two weeks, at the request of the defendant, for sentence. This case should be a warning to others Emporium for Artists' Materials. who are tempted by exuberant silliness to violate the law, as well as the personal rights of others.

CONFIRMED .- By a letter from an officer of the 15th W. Va. regiment, at Cabell Court House, to a member of the UNSURPASSED BY ANY GALLERY IN THE WORLD. House of Delegates here, under date of he 19th inst., the capture of the notorious rebel, Colonel J. M. Furguson and about twenty of his men, is fully confirmed. It was achieved by Colonel Gallup, on the 15th inst., surrounding and surprising the rebel camp, situated between the head waters of Laurel and Lick Creek, in Wayne county, about 18 miles from the Court House. There were about 50 men in the camp. Captain Pinckard, Lieut. Griswold, of the 13th W. Va., regiment, Sergeant SMUT MACHINE. McCormick, of the 9th W. Va. regiment, and a Federal sold er, a prisoner, were unfortunately killed by the fire of Colonel Gallup's men. The rebels left five of their number dead in the camp. Pinckard and Griswold were taken with Gen. Scammon. They were excellent officers, and their unfortunate death will be deeply regretted by their companions in arms and by their relatives and friends.

Sr. Jones, N. B., Feb. 24.—The police magistrate delivered judgment to day in the Chesapeake case, ordering the prison-ers to be committed to jail for surrender to the U.S. authorities. He said this capture was the work of cowards and villains. The only authority given for the seizure is that Lords that Minister Adams thought it pru-dent to withhold Secretary Seward's of-er to give commissions to others.
