Thursday Morning, September 15.

CENTRAL ORIO MAIL. In consequence of a bridge being down at the month of Wheeling creek on the other side of the river, the mail for the Central Ohio road is not sent down to Bellaire in the morning as heretofore, but is made up and sent down in the evening. The mishap will be remedied in a few days.

GEN. SHERIDAN reports a brilliant little victory by a portion of his command, in this morning's despatches. All such clever incidents go to increase the buoyancy of the country and prepare us all the more confidently for Grant or Sherman's next big achievement.

THE dying spasm of the Fremont movement is noted in this morning's dispatches The redoubtable Cluseret, who once honored West Virginia with his military presence, has quarrelled with John C. and claims to have been duped by him. The New Nation newspaper is the bone between them. It is hardly worth a struggle. Ere many weeks it will go down without so much as a bubble to indicate the place of its engulfment.

THE Union majority in Maine is the largest ever obtained in that State, at a gubernatorial election. It is estimated at 25,000. Every Congressional district bas been largely carried, giving us a gain of one member in the next House.

Se we go. Vermont first, Maine next, and Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, and other states will soon follow in the same direction. The Chicago party, platform and nominee are pretty well out of the canvass before it has cleverly begun.

COUNTY CONVENTION.

We hope the Union men of the county are alive to the importance of immediate action in regard to the County Convention, which meets at the Court House on next Saturday. That Convention will nominate candidates for State Senate, Legislature and other county offices, it is therefore important that every township should be represented. It is only about five weeks to the day of election, which gives but little time for organization. Let us prepare at once for the struggle both State and National. Never was it more important that the Union men of the country should present an unbroken front to the common enemy. The City townships have already called meetings to select delegates. We presume the country districts have done so, let them act at once.

A New York exchange states that for the months of July and August the exports from New York have exceeded the imports some twenty-six millions of dollars, in comparison with the amount sent abroad during the same time last year. The same condition of things is remarked at other ports. These exportations are, in a considerable degree, composed of foreign goods, which are sent back because the demand for them, at the high prices which have been maintained in sympathy with dation, is looked upon as ominous. the increase in the value of gold, are beginning to tell upon consumption. Econ- Mr. Pendleton. It is said that he, too, is omy is becoming the order of the day, and threatening to bolt the nomination in fact, every succeeding hour increases its necessity. We have been hitherto running riot ing a letter plumply indorsing the platform in extravagance, and have encouraged only acceptable exposition of the principles foreign operators to send us their most and policy of the Democratic party. costly and most useless goods. By doing so we have increased prices upon ourselves, until, upon the most ordinary commodities, we have niled up values to fearful rates. Diminished consumption must follow, and although the heartless gamblers in gold may occasionally put up the price of that commodity for a few days, the result must be, upon the average, a gradual and steady decline. Let it come-the sooner the

WHILE the Richmond papers are pretending that there is an ample supply of more than double the amount of the sum food for the Southern armies, a meeting was held at Sumter, South Carolina, on the 23d ult., at which a military officer hausted, imperrilled, ready to sue for a from Lee's army stated that the army must humiliating peece, and to consent to the be supplied with corn from South Carolins, a committee of forty-two was appointed to raise supplies, and the following resolution was adopted:

That we have heard with the deepest interest and anxiety the appeal of the Secretary of War, Quartermaster General and corn in the Army of Virginia-a want which must be supplied by South Carolina alone, the other States of the Confederacy all having been drained of supplies.

The Vote of the Soldiers.

From the Burlington [Vt.] Free Press, Sept. 7. Nearly one hundred soldiers, probably, voted in Burlington yesterday, and it is safe to say that nine tenths of them voted the Union ticket. They did so, too, with a perfect understanding of what they were about, and an appreciation of the which it was cheering to see. With very few exceptions, appeals to the Democrats among them to stand by their old party, and not to go back on "Little Mac," had no more effect on them than the wind .-As one of them, wounded in one of the recent battles, came limping up the steps of the Town Hall, a Democratic ticket vender thrust the Copperhead State ticket into his hand. He took the vote, looked at it very deliberately, and then, with a dry emphasis which added greatly to the effect of his words, said, "What a — fool I should Ka be, go down and fight rebels for three years Me with my musket, and then come here to Ha stab myself in the back with a piece of Pro paper like that! No!"—throwing the vote of for Redfield & Co. from him, and drawing Ob his forefinger across his throat, with a slow, resolute action-"I'd cut my throat Je before I'd vote that ticket."

That's the way the soldiers feel.

had a singular article upon negroes. It maintained that the negroes in the rebel capital are living in luxury at the expense of the whites. It said :

"The most luxurious class in this community are the negroes—slave and free.— They feed on the most costly viands, and they dress in the most expensive finery .-The congregation which issues from the African Church, Broad street, late every Sunday afternoon, surpasses any other in the Confederacy—perhaps on the American continent—in the exquisite gloss of its broadcloths and the delicate hue and texture ot its silks. Strangers visiting the city at this time are struck by the leanness of its white men and the sleek fatness of its black men. If we look to the dress and physique, the negroes have become the aristocracy of Richmond, and the whites are degraded to the task of hewing wood and drawing water."

It then declared that the negroes have grown thus rich by systematic plundering of their masters. Not only so, it would appear, if we may believe the Examiner, that the negroes have a wonderful power in influencing the guardians of peace and instice.

"When they have been caught in theft, and arrested in the very act of burglary, they are so well off in the fruits of previous success and immunity that they can silence watchmen, paralyze the course of justice, and, if judgment by some spasmon dic sternness of juries goes against them, even then the most notorious criminals among them can make interest enough to with lawyers and preachers, and the benevolent flock of born-Yankees in our midst whose names are found on every negro petition, to approach with insolent ssurance the executive itself for pardon.'

Somewhat in contrast with this repre sentation is a report in the Richmond Whig of the arrest of 42 negroes, of all ages, from three months to fifty-three years, being present without special permission at a wedding. The Mayor informed them that he should whip every one of them, unless their physical condition was such that they could not 'stand the punishment .-We imagine, therefore, that negroes in other parts of the world will hardly be led by their celestial aspirations to hasten to Richmond, until they hear that the Mayor has left.

But in reading the Examiner's tirade, one is lead to inquire why that Christianizing and civilizing institution of slavery is so failing in the accomplishment of its great work in the rebel capital. One would suppose that there, if anywhere, it would be bearing its divine and blessed fruits in making saints of the fortunate Africans. who are enjoying its sanctifying influences.

The Peace Bolters.

A New York letter in the Philadelphia Inquirer contains the following in reference to the movements of the disaffected Democracy on the position taken by Little Mac in his letter accepting the Chicago nomination:

Yet another Democratic journal has struck the McClellan flag. I refer to the Courrier des Etats Unis, the recognized organ of the French population here. The Courrier is a paper of large influence, and likewise. If however, any have failed to do its disaffection will tell severely against the "Young Napoleon." The list of the seceding journals in this city now stands thus:-1. Daily News.

2. Metropolitan Record. 3. Freeman's Journal.

4. Courrier des Etats Unis. Great anxiety is manifested by the General's friends to know what course the Chicago Times (the most powerful of the Copperhead organ out West) intends to pursue. It is apprehended that it, too, will switch off with the "Peace" Democracy. The publication of McClellan's let-ter of acceptance, in its issue of Friday last, without a solitary word of commen

Meanwhile the two Woods (Ben. and Fernando) are as busy as bees, engineering a public meeting to back up the posi tion assumed by the Daily News, throwing McClellan overboard, and placing in the field some other candidate more congenial to their tastes. So you will see there is music in the air.

Success of the National Lean.

Thirty-one millions were asked fornearly seventy-three millions were offered. What is of still greater importance is the fact that the greater part of the higher bids are from our own people. This ready and immense subscription, these bids for asked for, show that the American people do not distrust their own powers of self defence, do not believe the country exdestruction of the Union, as the McClellan platform asserts.

The owners of these seventy-two milions offered to the government do not despair of the Union; they do not believe Jeff. Davis likely to triumph; they do not think it likely that the American people will approve, at the next election, a policy which looks to the surrender of the Union Major Carrington, the authorized agent of the Government, in relation to the want of candidate of the Chicago Convention, standing upon the Chicago platform could be elected, this would be a pledge of ruin, of almost endless war, of the most expensive and unproductive contest, of delays without end, of timidity in high places. of a hesitation fatal to success, and consequently of a necessity for endless new loans, never ceasing demands for financial help, and continually depreciating national credit. If those who have offered these seventy two millions to the government thought this ruinous Chicago McClellan policy likely to rule the nation for the next four years, they would not have offered their money, they would not have felt or shown the confidence in the success of the war, and in the future of the Union, which

THE Richmond Examiner of the 2d inst., The Manner of Morgan's Death-Who Killed Him-Browniow on His Life and Public Services.'

In the Knoxville Whig of the 7th, Brownlow gives the following sketch of the "life" and public services" of John Morgan: John Morgan is no more! And when he died a THIEF and COWARD expired ! He was killed in Mrs. Williams' back yard, or cabbage patch, skulking from dauger. He was shot through the heart by Andrew Morgan leaves a large amount of gold and greenbacks, cotton and real estate, the proceeds of his thieving exploits, resulting from untold murders and robberies, through a space of three years. Who his legal beir is will be difficult to settle. His first wife was the sister of Col. Bruce of Kentucky. She died in Lexington from the neglect and bad treatment of her debased, gambling and thieving husband .-His second wife was the negro wench he had with him during his residence in this city She is in Kentucky. His third wife is the daughter of Chas. Ready of Murfreesboro', and she is at Abingdon in Virginia. Our and she is at Abingdon in Virginia. Our SANFORD WILL APPEAR own opinion is, that the negro wench has the oldest claim upon his estate, but we leave this grave question of law to be settled in the Confederate Courts, or by special act of their Congress.

Gen. Gillam is in our town, and brought with him eighty-six of Morgan's men, on Monday evening, who we saw turned over to the jail we were once an inmate of.— Some of them were barefooted, and bareheaded and bare-backed. All looked dirty and mean, as though they were fit subjects to be commanded by a common horse thief Capt. Withers, of Covington, A. A. G. Capt. Clay, of Legington, son of Thos. H Clay, and three others of Morgan's staff are among the prisoners. Young Clay is pretending to be sick, so as to cheat our authorities in the paroling of him to the privilege of the town.

We are informed that the members of Morgan's staff were captured in a "potnto than heretofore. The Company comprises bole," in a back yard in Greenville—a sort of place where potatoes and cabbage have been buried. Gallant knights, these.

What Our Armies have Accomplished.

The labors of our armies in the field, and the glorious results of our efforts to crush the rebellion during the last three years, are vividly set forth in the following: which we take from the N. Y. Times. That paper makes a survey of the general situation, and speaking of the actual condition, as developed by the survey, it says :

There is no higher duty than for patriotic men to fortify themselves and others by the consideration of all the elements of one and confidence which a retrospect of past progress and a survey of the present situation inspire. Such a survey justifies the conclusion that the end of war—the Hotels and Music Stores at 50 CENTS EACH. crushing of the armed forces of the rebelion-is not only not far off, but that it is near at hand.

It will show the outlines of a war continental inits proportions, waged on a theatre equal to the size of all Europe.

It will show armies the greatest the world ever saw, raised and sustained by the spontaneous patriotism of a free people; It will show how, by the progress of our arms, the srena of the rebellion has, step by step, been shorn of three-fourths of its proportions.

It will show the insurgent territory cut off from communication with the outside world by a blockade which dwarfs any on record, and at the same time the most perfeet of any on record.

It will show how every stronghold on the coast has either been captured, or is now closely invested.

It will show the interior of this territory cut up by our great lines of contest, bisected internally and longitudinally, and the dominion of the Confederacy left a kingdom of shreds and patches.

It will show a succession of battles of colossal magnitude, in three-fourths of which the Union arms bave triumphed, and all of which, whether victories or reverses, have redounded to the advance of the great

It will show the manhood of a populaion defending free institutions, vindicaing itself against years of gibes and insoence born of the plantation.

It shows the fighting population of the insurgent states reduced by battle, by disease, and by capture, from three-fourths of a million to between a hundred and a hundred and fifty thousand men. It will show this force-the forlorn hope of the rebellion—separated by an interval of a thousand miles, divided into two armies, the one of which driven from Chattanooga to give up that point, the material capital of the Confederacy, while the other is shut upin Richmond, the political cap ital of the Confederacy.

It will show that the adminisation of both these armies is a mathematical certainty, if we put forth the strength of our command.

It will reveal, finally, as the result of all this, the radiant figure of Peace hovering not afar off, and plainly visible through the cloud of war that still overspreads the land.

More About the Defeat of John Morgan,

NASHVILLE, Sept. 9. The following additional dispatch relative to the defeat of Morgan has been received by Gov. Johnson:

To Gov. Johnson: Bull's GAP, Sept. 6. All Morgan's papers fell into my hands and show his forces to have exceeded 1,880. His dead exceed 75. His command fled in great confusion after his death.
