COTTON JUMPS TO 17.03 ON U. S. REPORT OF CROP

Advance in New York Market Most Sensational in History.

New York, Oct. 2.—One of the most sensational advances in the history of the cotton market attended the publication of the two government reports here today. Since the beginning of this season there have been many periods of activity and excitement, but none of them have approached today's movement either with reference to the extent of fluctuations or in volume of trading.

The demand was stimulated by the condition figures of 56.3, or the lowest on record, indicating a crop of only 11,637,000 bales. Within a few minutes after these figures were issued January contracts sold at 17.03 or $4.60 a bale above the closing price of last week.

The census report showing 4,062,991 bales ginned prior to September 25, established a new high record, but the trade had been looking for even larger figures.

Big Advance is Scored in New Orleans Market.

New Orleans, Oct. 2.—An advance in cotton of 90 to 92 points, or $4.50 a bale, over Saturday's close, resulted in the early trading on this market today, on an almost insatiable demand stimulated by the bullish showing of the government's last condition figures for the season and ginning returns, which, while the erably under general expectations. Futures made new high levels for the season and all months reached the highest quotations ever recorded in the contract market at this time of year.

There was a rise of 50 points around the opening after the ginning returns of 4,062,991 bales were announced, but the big buying followed the condition figures of 56.3 per cent of the normal, the lowest percentage ever given the crop on September 25. After traders had digested this report and the forecast of a total yield of 11,637,000 bales, the ring was swamped with buying orders and prices shot upward rapidly. At 16.86 for the March option, leading bull interests commenced, taking profits heavily and the advance was checked. The market at noon was 20 points, or $1 a bale, off from the top. Cotton goes to 16.45 on the Local Market.

Not since the Civil War has spot cotton brought as high a price in Atlanta at this season of the year as it brought here Monday. The market closed at 16.45 cents which was an advance of 50 points since the closing of Saturday when the price was 15.95.

The big advance in the Atlanta market was due to the sensational advance in the New York and New Orleans future markets which resulted from the bullish ginner's report and the extreme low crop condition report, both of which were issued Monday morning by the government. The crop condition report of 56.3 was the lowest on record for this time of the year.

BACK FROM THE HOSPITAL.

Three candidates are already in the field for the position, which pays $1,800 a year. The candidates are A. K. BRITISH THINK "MOVIE" SUBMARINE IS GERMAN AND TAKE IT PRISONER

New York, Oct. 2.—A wireless message from H. H. Van Loan, a passenger bound here from Nassau on the steamer Monterey, declares that British warships patrolling in the vicinity of the Bahama Islands have seized a "submarine" owned by a moving picture company while on its way from New York to Miami, Fla., under the belief that it was a German craft. The submarine was off Abaco Island in tow of a yacht when it was captured last Tuesday.

Those in command of the yacht and submarine, the message says, were compelled to return to Nassau, where the British officials took control of the submarine and warned Mr. Van Loan, who was in charge of the expedition, not to move her without permission. The American consul, according to the wireless messages, identified Van Loan and he was permitted to leave on the Monterey, which is due here today. The message states that the American consul is taking the matter up with the state department at Washington to obtain the release of the property submarine.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

The engagement of Miss Alice Jones will be of profound interest to many of our people. Up until two years ago Miss Jones made her home in our city, and has a host of friends who will learn of this happy affair with much interest.

The following is from the Beaufort correspondent to The State of last Sunday:

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Jones of Beaufort, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Gretchen Alice, to Harrison Grey Otis of Frankfort, Mich., but now living in Beaufort, the wedding to be solemnized during the latter part of November."

THE MOVING PICTURES.

The moving pictures under the new management, are improving every week and very excellent pictures are being shown. Last Thursday night an excellent picture was shown and the house should have been crowded. "The Secret of the Submarine" is the present serial picture and Monday night there was not even standing room. The balcony was filled and the boxes also. Good pictures are instructive and pleasant and it is to be hoped that the present management will meet with such patronage that Abbeville can have the very best.

AN OLD SAYIN' OF MOTHER'S.

John D. Wells.
The older that a body gits
The better, seems t' me,
He reckoless the folks an' jokes
An' things that used t' be;
Like other night, whilst settin' there
An' rompin' through the years,
An' driftin' on the backwoods way,
I swan, I heard my mother say:
"Go wash yer neck an' ears!"

It took me back forty years,
An' I's a boy again,
With same dislike fer water that
Was natural to me then;
I seemed t' feel my speerit rise,
An' feel my boyish tears
A-rollin' down in same ol' way,
Like when my mother used t' say:
"Go wash yer neck an' ears!"

Clean neck an' ears, you reckolect,
Was purt' nigh disgrace—
There wa'n't no sense in washin' 'cept
Perhaps a body's face!
We used t' think that mas was made
To add to boyish keers,
An' stand around in bossin' way,
When boys was tireded, an' say:
"Go wash yer neck an' ears!"

An' yit I'll warrant that toight
You'd like t' go to bed
In same ol' room, with locust bloom
A-droppin' overhead
On shingle roof, an' hold yer breath
With all your boyish fears,
An' hear yer mother softly creep
Upstairs an' asky: "Gone to sleep?"
Did y' wash yer neck an' ears?"

MEN LIVE IN THEIR DEEDS.

(By Edward Everett.)
To be cold and breathless, to feel not and speak not—this is not the end of existence to the men who have breathed their spirits into the institutions of their country, who have stamped their characters on the pillars of the age, who have poured their heart's blood into the channels of the public prosperity.

Tell me, ye who tread the sods of yon sacred height, is Warren dead? Can you not still see him—not pale and prostrate, the blood of this gallant heart pouring out of his ghastly wound, but moving resplendent over the field of honor, with the rose of heaven upon his cheek and the fire of liberty in his eye?

Tell me, ye who make your pious pilgrimage to the shades of Vernon, is Washington indeed shut up in that cold and narrow house? That which made these men like these cannot die.

The hand that traced the charter of Independence is, indeed, motionless; the eloquent lips that sustained it are hushed; but the lofty spirits that conceived, resolved and maintained it, and which alone, to such men, make it life to live—these cannot expire.

Rev. R. E. Telford spent Monday and Tuesday in the city with friends. He was on his way to attend Presbytery at Greenville church.

Rev. and Mrs. H. Waddell Pratt have returned to the city after a month spent with relatives in Washington, D. C., and Lexington, Va.
