

Poetic Necessity.

FOR THE ADVERTISER.

"Her's was a life pure and serene,
Mild as the summer's breeze,
Pleasant as the air of evening
That floats among the trees."

With prospects bright, on future life,
She held a vigorous claim,
When, "in the twinkling of an eye,"
The great destroyer came.

Her hours of racking pain, tho' few,
With fortitude she bore,
Then closed her eyes, and bade adieu,
To pains she'll feel no more.

Tho' worms destroy her mould'ring flesh,
Beneath the silent sod,
Her happy soul, divinely fresh,
Will soar away to God.

"Peaceful be her silent slumber,
Laid in the grave so low;
On earth no more she'll join our number,
No more our song will know."

'Twas her eternal gain to leave us,
The loss we deeply feel;
But O! 'tis God that doth bereave us,
He'll all our sorrows heal.

"Yet once again, we hope to meet her,
When from this life we've fled,
There in Heaven, with joy we'll greet her,
Where ne'er a tear is shed."

"Still green be the turf above thee,
Friend of my better days;
Here none knew thee, but to love thee,
None nam'd thee, but to praise."

"Tears did fall, when thou wert dying,
From eyes unused to weep;
And long alas where thou art lying,
Will tears the cold turf steep."

"While memory bids us for thee weep,
Nor words, nor thoughts are free;
That grief alas is fixed too deep,
That mourns for one like thee." Q.

THE NECESSITY OF RELIGION:

By Madame Sirey.

TRANSLATED FROM THE FRENCH,
By the Editor.

The order which rules the Universe, is a grand model, given by the Deity to feeble mortals. The most perfect and the most religious man, is he who knows best how to govern his passions—to regulate those of others—to accommodate his necessities to his resources—to place his happiness in that of his dependents and friends—and to contribute, by the particular order which he establishes in his own family, to the general felicity.

Religion is a treaty of universal alliance—the bond of love which unites man to his God, the husband to the wife, the son to the father, and all men to each other.

Religion embellishes life, and takes the sting from death. The religious soul mounts, with confidence, to the divine source, whence flow all the pure pleasures of this world. It dares to believe, that the God who, by his love, has made Virtue the most sublime thing upon earth, will also bestow upon it a heavenly recompense.

Religion is the guarantee of all the virtues. It effaces sins by repentance, and places hope by the side of misfortune. The feeble man becomes strong in resting upon his God. The man of genius is amazed by its power, when he seeks an immortal glory, and not those possessions, the perishable honors of this world.

Religious sentiments render a woman as beautiful as good. It seems that the Creator looks with complaisance upon the young mother, who prays with earnestness for her son, and upon the youthful bride, who prays with fervor for her well-beloved.

Honor and happiness to the woman, who loves, believes, and hopes!

THE LEAF.—A POEM.

By A. V. Arnault.

Poor, withered leaf, dissevered from thy stem, whither art thou going? I know not. The storm has stricken the oak which was my only support. Zephyr, with her inconstant breath, or the north wind, has this day borne me from the forest to the plain, from the mountain to the valley. I go where the wind bears me; without complaint or without alarm. I go where all things are going—where the rose-leaf is going, and the leaf of the laurel.

What is that which is perfect with a head, and perfect without a head; perfect with a tail, and perfect without a tail; perfect with a head and tail, and perfect without a head or tail?
Answer.—A wig.

Miscellaneous.

Mexico.—The present condition of Mexico brings forcibly to recollection the Latin proverb, "Quem Deus vult perdere, prius dementat." (Whom God intends to destroy, he first deprives of reason.) Never has a nation, since the memorable fall of Jerusalem, displayed such obvious marks of insanity—an insanity that is madly driving them to their fearful doom, provoked by centuries of vice and moral turpitude. The state of things in the interior fully confirms the verities—civil dissensions and intestine commotions prevail extensively. The population, divided by contending factions; and while a foreign invader is thundering at the gates of her great maritime city, and demolishing her fortresses, Mexico is torn and shaken to the centre by the quarrels of her own citizens. Who, instead of combining to repel one common foe, are arranged in hostility against each other, under the antagonistic banners of Federation and Centralism. Under such auspices, what other destiny can await this kingdom, divided against itself, but disaster and subversion. The events of the last twenty years have demonstrated the utter unworthiness and incapacity of that people for self-government, and subjugation to some enlightened civilized government, viz. Texas or France, seems to present the only present, the only practicable means of regeneration. That the planting of French institutions on the Mexican soil, would tend greatly to ameliorate the condition of the natives, no unprejudiced observer can doubt, and the benevolence of Providence would shine conspicuously in compelling the introduction of civilization among an ignorant, benighted race, by the instrumentality of one of the most chivalrous and polished nations of Europe.—N. O. Bulletin.

The following toast was given by the President of the Philadelphia Typographical Society, at their annual meeting: THE EVILS OF RUM.—It gets into our HEAD—throws us off our FEET—puts us out of REGISTER and SORTS—batters our FORMS—makes us see s on a cloudy night, causes us to make a long use of our s, and knock down the STANDING MATTER of others, brings us to s points with our best friends, reduces us to the condition of FLOOR s, gets us into the WRONG BOX, brings us before the BAR, and permanently puts a PERIOD to our existence.

A PROFITABLE BUSINESS.—We understand that an individual of this town says he has made fifteen hundred dollars by attending to his own business, and five hundred more by letting other people's alone. This surely is a good business, and pays well, and at present is not overdone.—Watchtower.

A large six feet yahoo, who had his legs run at least nine inches too far through his breeches with a loaf of gingerbread under his arm, and as much in his fist, one of which he had just drawn from between his teeth, leaving his mouth filled, was met by a gentleman in Natchez in the middle of the street, of whom he inquired in a whining tone, "Have you seen any thing of daddy?" "No!" replied the gentleman. "Well, damnation seize daddy, I told him he'd lose me," said our hero, crying, as he proceeded, half bent, sticking the gingerbread in his countenance at an alarming rate.—Western Paper.

A few days since, a little ragged urchin had been sent by a mechanic to collect a small bill which had just become due. He began in the usual way, by becoming more and more importunate; at length the gentleman's patience being exhausted, he said to him, "you needn't dun me so sharply, I'm not going to run away at present." "I don't suppose you are," said the lad, scratching his head, "but my master is, and he wants the money."

PROPOSALS FOR PUBLISHING A

Temperance Journal.

IN COLUMBIA, S. C.

THE State Temperance Society of South Carolina, at the late Anniversary Meeting, in Columbia, resolved to establish a practical, a Weekly Newspaper, devoted to the cause of Temperance. The Executive Committee, whose duty it is to carry this resolution into effect, beg leave to address the several Societies and individuals, in the States engaged in this good cause, upon this interesting subject. The increasing prevalence and ruinous effects of the use of intoxicating liquors, call loudly for some decisive measures to reach public attention to this direful evil, and unite the councils and efforts of the benevolent and patriotic, in arresting its progress. A means seem most wisely adapted to accomplish their purpose, than such a dissemination of facts and statements upon the subject, as would be effected by such a publication. The authors experience and investigation, of the friends of Temperance in the Northern States have accumulated a mass of knowledge and arguments in this cause. But these valuable materials are excluded from our commonwealth, by their being mingled with speculations hostile to our domestic institutions. The only way, therefore, in which the interesting details and powerful reasonings, contained in the Temperance publications of the north, can be given to the public here, is through the columns of the proposed paper. It is thus manifest that the best interests of our State, and the progress of the Temperance Reformation, so vitally important to public safety and happiness, will be most effectually promoted by a general circulation of the Temperance Advocate. The following plan will regulate the publication. It will contain—

I. Original communications and domestic intelligence relative to the general subject of Temperance.
II. Copious extracts from Books, Pamphlets and Newspapers, published in other States to promote the Temperance cause.
III. A weekly summary of general and domestic news, prices current, &c.
As the friends of Temperance, the expected patrons of this Paper, belong to different political parties, and religious denominations, all discussions of a controversial or sectarian character, both as to politics and religion, will be scrupulously excluded.
The general design of the publication is to furnish every family in the State, desirous of obtaining it, with full information and authentic documents as to the direful evils of Intemperance, and the necessity of Reformation.
As the commencement of a Publication can only be warranted by a large subscription, a strong appeal is made to the officers of Temperance Societies, and the friends of the cause to whom this Prospectus is sent, to obtain as many subscribers as possible.

CONDITIONS.

The South Carolina Temperance Advocate will be published weekly, at Columbia, on a super-royal sheet equal in contents to the Columbia Telescope. The price to subscribers will be two Dollars and Fifty Cents per annum, if paid in advance, or Three Dollars, at the close of the year.
In order to fill the subscription without delay, it is respectfully recommended to Temperance Societies to subscribe for a number of copies for gratuitous distribution.
The Executive Committee earnestly request every Gentleman, to whom this Circular is addressed, to act as agent for obtaining subscriptions, and to transmit the list of subscribers obtained to the Hon. John Bryce, Intendant of Columbia, previously to the first day of March ensuing.

The Road to Wealth, INSURED FOR FIFTY CENTS.

Just commenced, a new and valuable Monthly Publication, adapted to the purposes of every Farmer, and designed to propagate all Useful and Practical Information concerning the Silk Growing in the United States, entitled

THE AMERICAN SILK GROWER, AND FARMER'S MANUAL.

HE first number of this highly important and valuable Work, is now ready for delivery to subscribers. We beg leave respectfully to call the attention of our citizens to the prize worthy objects of this new, and for the promotion of which, it has been put in operation.
There has not probably heretofore been a time when the attention of the people of this country was so much engaged on the subject of the Silk Culture as at present; not a time when those who have already embarked in this business felt such entire confidence, not only that abundant profits may be derived from it, but that its ability to produce as good silk as can be produced in any part of the world. It is believed that all that is now wanting to fully establish this great interest in this country, with all its advantages, is but the dissemination of plain practical information concerning it, and to convince our citizens of what we know to be true, viz. that there is no more difficulty about raising a crop of silk, than there is in producing a crop of grain. The capital thus bestowed yields a far greater return than can be obtained from any other branch of husbandry. The Editors have long been engaged in the silk culture, and intend hereafter to give it their entire attention. They have made extensive arrangements for feeding the silk-worm, and cultivating that invaluable species of mulberry, the Morus Mutilandus. And from their long experience in the occupation and extensive correspondence with silk growers, they believe they may say without ostentation, that they shall be able to make THE AMERICAN SILK GROWER useful and entertaining, and to communicate through its pages in oration as valuable respecting every branch of the silk business, as can be elsewhere obtained in the United States. A portion of the work will be devoted to noting the modern improvements of Agriculture, and such matters as are generally useful to the cultivators of the soil.
The Proprietors respectfully solicit contributions on Agricultural subjects generally—and also the Silk Growing business in particular. Address the Editors, Ward, Cheney & Brothers, Burlington, New Jersey.
The work will be published monthly—every number comprising twenty-five or large octavo pages, with the addition of a cover for advertisement, &c. and at the end of each volume, a complete table of contents will be furnished to subscribers. Terms one dollar a year, payable in advance, for single subscribers.—Twenty subscriptions will be supplied for a whole year by forwarding a current ten dollar bill, free of postage.
All orders for the work, postage paid, will be promptly attended to, if addressed to the Publisher, C. Alexander, Athenian Buildings, Franklin Place, Philadelphia.
Citizens, Silk Growers, Agriculturalists, and others, who wish to procure this work for the present time, will please forward their names and the amount of subscription immediately.

LIBERAL PREMIUM.

Any agent forwarding 200 subscribers for one year, and a $50 current bank bill, will be entitled to ten thousand silk worm eggs, selected from the most approved varieties—which can be forwarded by mail to any part of the United States at a trifling expense, and which, if properly attended to, according to the instructions which are promulgated in the work, will yield a profit considerably exceeding the amount of the price of subscription for one hundred copies.
Editors of papers who are desirous of encouraging the Growth of Silk in this country, will please copy this advertisement a few times, and we will furnish them with an exchange, and also occasional samples of the Silk, which is manufactured at the Editors' extensive establishment at Burlington, N. J.

$30 Reward.

STOLEN, on the 11th inst. from the residence of the subscriber, on the Martintown Road, twelve miles above Hamburg, a Bay Horse, about fifteen and a half hands high, nine or ten years old, with some white hairs on one eye, and some few saddle marks—sway backed a little, round body and well made—in good order when taken away, worth $125. The horse I believe was stolen by a man, whose name is Richard Ford, who was committed to Edgefield Jail, on the 26th inst. for theft, and says he resides in Lincoln Co. Ga. He is a man of bad character, and is supposed to have traded said horse not far off, or set him away perhaps by some of his associates in Georgia. It is believed he has comrades in South Carolina, Georgia and Alabama, and that he has paid the penalty of the law at the whipping post, as his back has been well lashed and the scars have not changed their color yet. The Jailor examined him and found such to be the case. The said Ford has recently been trading in horses and mules in this District, and no doubt all were stolen property. It is probable that he and his company carry on the business on a large scale, as he is thought to be a noted villain.
The above reward will be given for the delivery of the horse to me, or for proof to convict the thief trading him.

PROCLAMATION.

State of South Carolina.
By His Excellency PATRICK NOBLE, Esq. Governor and Commander-in-Chief, in and over the State of South Carolina.
WHEREAS, in pursuance of an Act of the Legislature of this State, the votes for members of the twenty-sixth Congress have been counted in the presence of the Governor, by Commissioners appointed for that purpose, and it appears that Wm. Thompson, Jr. has been duly elected for the Congressional District composed of Pendleton and Greenville; FRANCIS W. PICKENS for the District composed of Abbeville and Edgefield; JOHN K. GRIFFIN, for the District composed of Laurens, Newberry, and Fairfield; FRANKLIN H. ELMORE, for the District composed of Richland, Orangeburg, Barnwell, and Lexington; JAMES ROGERS, for the District composed of Spartanburg, Union, York, and Chester; JOHN CAMPBELL, for the District composed of Georgetown, Marion, Horry, Darlington, and Marlborough; JOHN P. RITCHIE, for the District composed of Kershaw, Sumter, Lancaster, and Chesterfield; ROBERT BARNWELL REHR, for the District composed of Beaufort and Colleton; and ISAAC E. HOLMES, for the District of Charleston.

Now, therefore, I do issue this Proclamation, notifying and declaring, according to the provisions of the said Act, that WADSWORTH J. F. H. ELMORE, JAMES ROGERS, F. W. PICKENS, JOHN K. GRIFFIN, JOHN CAMPBELL, R. B. REHR, JOHN P. RICHARDSON, and I. E. HOLMES, have a majority of votes in their respective Congressional Election Districts, and are duly elected Representatives in the Congress of the United States, from this State.
Given under my hand, and the seal of the State, at Columbia, the 15th day of December, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and thirty eight, and in the sixty-third year of the Independence of the United States of America.
PATRICK NOBLE, Governor.

PUNCTUALITY Is the life of Business.

THE subscribers are determined to sell their goods on the most reasonable terms at which they can be afforded. In order that they may be enabled to do so, on the usual terms of credit, they deem it their duty to notify their customers, that they will expect prompt payment.
All accounts are considered due on the first day of January of each year, except by special agreement; at which time they will require the same to be closed; if not, they will charge interest after that time.
And all accounts due on the first day of January of each year, and not closed within three months after that time, they will consider themselves at liberty to put them into the hands of an officer for collection.
In every well conducted business there should be some principles and rules by which it is governed; and by adopting the above rules we shall be enabled to do justice to ourselves and to all concerned. And what will be better, we shall be enabled to sell our goods to our customers on a credit at cash prices.
We return our sincere thanks to our friends for their liberal patronage, and will try to serve them, so as to meet a continuance of the same.
