From the New York Morning News. THE NEW TARIFF PASSED.

With heartfelt joy do we announce that the tariff bill has passed the House of Representatives, in substantially the same shape as reported by General Mc-Kay, the Chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means. To this gentleman are the thanks of the people emphati cally due for his indefatigable exertious in behalf of this great measure of deliverance. At great inconvenience, and with havoc to all miscellany, we publish the bill entire as it passed the House, in this number of the News. It leaves us but little room for comment. We have no doubt but that the bill will pass the Senate, without much amendment. If the greatest impelliment to her increasing commerce and prosperity is removed. We have soon to chronicle the happy tidings. The vote on the passage of the bill was 114 years to 95 naysgiving the triumphant majority of ninetoon. The honor of casting the only Whig vote in favor of the bill belongs Mr. Hilliard, of Alabama. The other 113 votes were all given by Democrats. The only vote from Pennsylvania for the bill was given by Mr. Wilmot, the eloquent and tru'y sound representative from the Bradford District. With this 3. exception, the members from Pennsylvania, who were all present, voted in solid phalanx against the bill.

New York stood by principle. Of her 33 members, (the other seat being left vacant by the death of Mr. Herrick,) sixteen of the democrats voted to pass the bill. Four others, Messrs. Russell, of Warren, Hungerford of Jefferson, Jenkins of Oneida, and Wheaton of Onendaga, with the twelve whig members, voting against the bill. Had the remaining member, Mr. Woodworth of Dutchess, been present and voted with Lis party, a majority of the delegation would have voted for the bill. The judicions observer will not fail to note that Messrs. Miller, Woodruff and Campbell were indifferent to the commercial interests of this city as to vote in the nega-

Besides those from New York and Pennsylvania, the only democrats voting against the bill were the two from New Jersey and one (Mr. Perry) from Maryland. New Jersey is the only state where democratic representatives voted unanimously against the bill.

All the democrats from Ohio voted for the bill, except one, Mr. Cummings who was absent. The tax on tea and coffee was stricken out, and the duties increased on other articles so as to render the bill acceptable to them. They were twelve strong; and if their votes had been cast against the bill, as they would have been if it had not been amended, the majority against it would have been five. We are happy to state that a noble disposition was evinced on all sides, to compromise and conciliate.

There were thirteen absentees; ten democrats, of whom seven, if present, would have certainly voted for the bill, and three whigs, Three of the absenees "have gone to the war." There ethree vacancies in the House; and the Speaker had no vote. If every seat had been filled, and every member had voted, the affirmative vote would have been at least 1 S out of 226 members. But we leave the reader to pursue the analysis at his pleasure, from the following classification of the vote :

Miscellaneous.

A Buffalo Tule .- I had a friend in the Indian country who was a rare narrator, but suspected of embellishment. He never failed in a story. He was a genius. No matter what the incident, he would relate it so as to be intense'y interesting, or irresistibly amusing. He had one buffato tale, tough as any he used to tell with a naivette and earnesiness, that made us forget its improbable features.

'One morning, when I was in the Black-foot country,' he would say, 'I went out accompanied by an old Spanish bunter, (we call the Mexicans all Spaniards, you know.) to get a few buffalo steaks; and seeing an old bull asleep. I took a fancy to have a ride, without saddle or bridle. So I crept up and sprang upon his back.

· The dev—' we would exclaim. · · · · And off he went, full tilt, towards a small but bottom prairie, the Spaniard running after us as fast as he could."

And you on his back ?' we would ask · Yessir-fact-and I kept beating him with my gun stick on the side of the head, until his course became circular, and he make several tours of the little prairie. I could have easily killed him with my knife, but I wanted to show the Spaniard, who had run to the middle of the prairie, some feats of horsemanship, as he kept walking round like the ring-master of a circus. At length we came within two hundred yards of the Spaniard.'

Shall I shoct ?' he bawled out.

No, wait a little,' said I.

In what part?' Behind the foreshoulder! 'Well, said he,' raising his rifle, 'hold up

Reported Murder of Mr. Schoolcraft.—
The N. Y. Commercial Advertiser says, that letters had been received in that city which state that Henry R. Schoolcraft, lately the Indian agent at Sault St. Marie, was murdered at Mackinaw, in the latter part of last week, by a half-breed Indian. The murderer, whose name is Tanner, was at large, but pursued by the entire population, Mr. Schoolcraft, by his deep researches into our aboriginal history, has hrown more light than any other man living out Indian manners and customs. He had just completed and published an able report on the Indian tribes formerly inhabiting the interior of New York, which was his last contribution to that branch of knowledge, the pursuit of which had been the occupation of his life.

Another American Artist .- The Paris correspondent of the Boston Atlas thus describes a Lady artist which has recently appeared as a new star in the horizon of Art. We have here a new candidate for artistic boogr and patronage-Mrs. Kate Word, of Benas, a daughter of the late Gideon Lee, of New York. She has so distinguished herself as an amateur, that dis have persuaded her to enter the and she will andoubtedly meet with successor I have seen several of her miniatules, which are exquisitely worked up-not a partrait in oils of a beautiful tenance, and yet retains the sweet radiance of childhood's innocence, which most painters sink into silliness."

Important Movements among the Jews. -A great meeting of the Jews, from all parts of Europe, has recently been held in Frankfort, in which they voted that there s nothing obligatory in the use of the Hebrew in their worship, and accordingly that it was best to retain it only in part as a badge of their nationality and a band of union. Also on full discussion, that the Messiah is already come, the present toleration and comfort which they now enjoy being what is meant by the promissed Messiah. Aiso, that there is nothing to forbid their freely blending with the nations among whom they reside.

An Anti-Slaver, Lecturer, named Dawhile lecturing in Shanesville, Tuscarawas county, Ohio, by David M. Mains. The latter was drauk and had been put out of the meeting; he returned in a short time, with a brickbat in his hand, and threw it with such violence against the head of Officer, that his skull was completely shattered. Officer survived but a short time.

FROM THE ARMY.

Editorial Correspondence of the N. Orleans

Picaynne, MATAMORAS, June 28, 1846.

The steamboat Neva, the same we met while on the way from Reynosa to this place, was to have started last evening on another trip up; with a detachment of the 7th U.S. Infantry; but a couple of engineers having pronounced her boilers defective and unsafe, she has been laid up for the present. The soldiers were ordered up to reinforce the command of Col. Wilson at Reynosa, previous to a move upon Camargo. The weather has been so bad, and the roads are in such a horrible coudition, that the infantry will hardly be able to march for a week or so.

Matamoras is certainly going ahead. 1 see that the Washington Ball-room is to be opened this evening for the first time under that title, with a grand Mexican fandango-admittance 50 cents. And then gambling rooms are opened in every street, bar rooms at every turn, and eating rooms stare the hungry in the face on all sides. An inundation has been poured in upon Matamoras that she will not get rid of Gen. Taylor is now worse cramped and hampered for want of transportation than ever, and the Quarter Master General's Department "catches it" on all sides aud from all quarters. There are volunteers and regulars enough to march at any time, and to any point-there are more volunteers already here than are wanted, idle and uneasy at the inactivity—yet the com-mander general cannot move for want of transports. . With six small steamers, at the present stage of water, healthy and commanding points could easily be reached on the Rio Grande; but they are not here and the arms of one of the largest armies ever brought into the field by the U. States, are tied for want of proper management at home. There is something As you are at present in circumstances, wrong, too, still in the post office depart. that as she leaked badly, the captain was ton, 185, and Mobile, 150 tons.

I have not a line of news to commanicate-we are all in the dark and in mud, Capt. McCullogh is still here, although a part of the company remains at Reynosa. The boat will be a total loss; the cargo he will probably move up his entire command as soon as the weather will permit. MATTMORAS, Mexico, June 30.

General Taylor's camp on this side the Rio Grande is yet above water in spots, although the chances of being driven or drowned out still look about even. I sat yield assent to them...; ... upon the banks of the river this morning with my feet paddling in the water; so from the Red. River counties of Texas, you may learn how near we are to an inandation. I wish that some of those members of Congress, who are pleased to deignate the officers of our army as "epauletted loafers," and "wasp-waisted vampires hanging about high places," could get a glimpse of them now—in fact, could share their privations and discomforts with them, they would forever after hold their tongue. The poor devils—although they laugh at and make light of the annoyances which beset them-appear in plight most pitiful, many of them really not having had a dry rug to their backs or a dry blanket to sleep on for near a fortnight. "Hanging about high places!" Why, they have been wading about low places, halfway up to their knees in mud and water-Gen. remain there till the return of Gov. Hen-Taylor and Col. Twigs among the restand nothing but an absolute fear of being drowned out has driven any from their position. The two regiments of Louisiana volunteers-Marks' and Walton's-on the opposite bank of the river, occupy higher ground; yet they are bad enough off in all conscience. All are still enjoying a better degree of health than one could suppose they would, but I am fearful, if they remain here too long, that some epidemic may make its appearance among

Volunteers are still arriving by regiments, and still Gen. Taylor is without transportation or any means of moving them. Where are the steamors ordered to be purchased long since for the use of the army? Here is a stage of water high enough to reach Reynosa and Carmargo with ease and safety, yet there is not a safe conveyance even across the river. I can self, but appointed other persons for that not conceive a situation more trying to the duty, and would return to Point Isabel in tionee and more martifying to the feel. a few days. ings of the commander in chief than the one he is now placed in. With men enough to march to any quarter he has not he means to move them an inch. From the interior the news is various and contradictory. It is said that a portion of the Mexican infantry has left Lenares for some point near Tampico, and very likely such is the case. For some time the inhabitants of Matamoras believed that the troops would return and retake the place-could not for one moment suppose that the Americans would be allowed of the Army monthly statements as to their at Monterey is know to be small. What a rare chance does this place now ion of the kind, although I do not know gambling rooms, bar rooms, restaurats, c., are picking up all the surplus change. I saw a small troupe of Mexican tumblers or circus riders parading the streets yesterday, mounted on miserable horses .-The leader was bespattering the North Americans with praise, while his horse was bespattering them with mud. I could not learn whether he collected much of an audience. G. W. K. MATAMORAS, July 1, 1846.

It seems to be the general belief in camp, that Paredes will give our army another brush ere long. That he is on his way to this region is not doubted-that he can muster an army of 30,000 men, is pretty generally believed, and if he does succeed in raising a large body of troops, and Gen. Taylor advances on Monterey, a pretty severe fight is certain to ensue. The General wears his laurels very calmly .-'Honors are easy' with him, but he is chasing a good deal about being kept here, with a large body of troops, unable to act against the enemy.
