

Hoyt Hayes Granted Reprieve.

Governor Heyward has granted a reprieve of two weeks to Hoyt Hayes. Owing to sickness he has been unable to give the matter mature consideration. In a letter to the attorneys, the Governor says:

Messrs. Jaynes & Shelor, Stribling & Herndon, J. P. Carey, Attorneys, Walhalla, S. C.—Gentlemen: Having been sick since the day the case of the State against Hoyt Hayes was presented to me, on application for commutation, I have not had the time I would have liked to investigate all facts in connection with this case, and I have, therefore, decided to reprieve Hayes for two weeks, until Friday, the 28th instant. The reprieve simply means that I have not had sufficient opportunity to investigate the case. I will send reprieve to Sheriff Moss.

Yours very truly,
D. C. Heyward, Governor.

Death of Wm. J. Hunnicutt.

Wm. J. Hunnicutt, a former Oconee, died at his home in Manassa, Colo., on September 30, having survived his youngest brother, T. Y. Hunnicutt, only one year and 18 days. He was the second son of the late Wm. J. and M. E. Hunnicutt, and was born and reared in the New Hope section of this county. In early youth he joined the Baptist church, and ever afterward lived a Christian life. He is survived by his widow, 5 children, his mother, 5 sisters and 3 brothers. Mr. Hunnicutt had many friends both in South Carolina and Colorado who will learn of his death with sorrow. The bereaved relatives have the sympathy of many friends in their hour of affliction.

Broke Into His House.

S. Le Quinn, of Cavendish, Vt., was robbed of his customary health by invasion of chronic constipation. When Dr. King's New Life Pills broke into his house, his trouble was arrested and now he is entirely cured. They're guaranteed to cure. 25c at all drug stores.

Death of Mrs. Frances Hamilton.

Mrs. Frances Hamilton nee Thompson died at her residence in the town of Buford, Ga., on the 6th day of October, 1904, in the seventy-second year of her age, of an acute attack of pneumonia, superinduced by colds, and which attack affected most seriously her lungs. Mrs. Hamilton was born in Pickens District, near the present town of Central. She had been born a Methodist, and at an early age became a member of the Methodist church. She lived a consistent Christian life and died in the faith of her fathers. She had been quite feeble for some time previous to her death, and fell an easy prey to disease. Her family—eight children, numerous grand-children, husband, brother—and many friends were present at her funeral. This interesting service was largely attended, and was conducted in the most solemn and striking manner. The church was more than filled. The burial was at Riverside church, in the country, near the country home of the family, and where some members of the family had been previously buried. The attendance here was large, and banks of beautiful flowers were strewn upon the grave as the shadows of evening approached.

Excursion to World's Fair.

The Southern Railway will operate a personally conducted excursion to St. Louis (World's Fair). Special train, consisting of coaches and Pullman cars, will leave Columbia, S. C., Tuesday, October 18th, at 7 a. m., and arrive in St. Louis 4.50 p. m., next day, going via Newberry, Greenwood, Anderson, Atlanta and Chattanooga.

For full information as to rates, schedules, etc., apply to R. W. Hunt, Division Passenger Agent, Charleston, S. C.

A Love Letter.

Would not interest you if you're looking for a guaranteed salve for sores, burns or piles. Otto Dodd, of Ponder, Mo., writes: "I suffered with an ugly sore for a year, but a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured me. It's the best salve on earth." 25c at all drug stores.

A Sad and Unlucky Death.

Lewis H. Reid, of the Pleasant Hill vicinity, departed this life on September 28th, 1904, after a short illness, and was buried at the Pleasant Hill Baptist church, after appropriate funeral services conducted by the Rev. W. T. McAlister, his pastor, on September 30. He was a son of Daniel S. Reid and was happily married to Miss Julia Thompson on November 29, 1903. While quite young he united with the Baptist church, and lived an exemplary Christian life. He leaves a wife, a father and mother, two brothers and six sisters to mourn their loss. We extend sincere sympathy to the bereaved in their sad affliction.

Confessions of a Priest

Rev. John S. Cox, of Wake, Ark., writes, "For 12 years I suffered from yellow jaundice. I consulted a number of physicians and tried all sorts of medicines, but got no relief. Then I began the use of Electric Bitters and feel that I am now cured of a disease that had me in its grasp for twelve years." If you want a reliable medicine for liver and kidney trouble, stomach disorder or general debility, get Electric Bitters. It's guaranteed by all druggists. Only 50c.

Death of Mrs. Mary D. George.

Mrs. Mary D. George, widow of James George, died at the home of her daughter in Lexington, S. C., on Sunday, 9th instant, in her eightieth year. She and her husband were, for many years, residents of Pickens District, and afterwards of Oconee county and of Walhalla. James George died in 1877 and was buried at Bethel Presbyterian church. The remains were buried beside him Monday afternoon, the funeral services being conducted by Rev. R. L. Rogers, and largely attended by former friends and acquaintances. She was a member of the Presbyterian church, and in her daily life exemplified the faith she professed. Her husband was an official member of the Presbyterian churches at Old Pickens, Bethel and Walhalla at different times during his life. Her remains were accompanied by her daughters, Mrs. Dreher and Mrs. A. L. Hartley, of Lexington, and her sons, Dr. J. B. George, of Gainesville, Ga., and R. E. George, of Atlanta, Ga., and Frank George, of Lexington, S. C. Her oldest son, Allie George, resides in Texas and could not come. Her daughter, Mrs. Robert Stewart, of Pickens county, was also unable to attend.

Mrs. George resided in Walhalla until about fifteen years ago, when she went to live with her children. She was always highly esteemed for many admirable traits of character. A good woman has gone to her reward. To her children is extended the sincere sympathy of many friends here and elsewhere.

Solicitor Boggs Didn't Say It.

[Columbia State, October 8.]

Julius E. Boggs, Solicitor of the Eighth Circuit, was in the city yesterday. His attention was called to the fact that in another daily paper yesterday it had been stated in a dispatch from Seneca that he would resign his position should Gov. Heyward commute the sentence of Hoyt Hayes, to be hanged next Friday. Mr. Boggs denies the rumor. He stated that when he argued in the Supreme Court against the motion for a new trial he declared privately that day that should the Supreme Court sustain the ruling of Judge Dantzler, he would not take any further action in the case. He has not recommended the pardon, and he has made no such statement as that ascribed to him. Further than this Mr. Boggs declined to say anything.

Dr. R. E. Mason Made Lecturer.

It is always a pleasure to us to learn of the progress of our Oconee boys who have located in other counties and other States. Two years ago Dr. R. E. Mason left Oconee and located in Charlotte, N. C., for the practice of his profession. Last year he was elected quiz-master in the North Carolina Medical College at Charlotte. We now learn that, in addition to this position, he has recently been elected as lecturer on therapeutics in the same institution. After graduation from a medical college and a considerable hospital service Dr. Mason returned to Oconee and entered the practice of his profession at Westminster, but shortly afterward decided on Charlotte as his choice for a permanent location. His many friends here and throughout the county will learn with pleasure of his rise in the medical profession at Charlotte. Dr. Mason is a son of Col. and Mrs. R. E. Mason, formerly of Westminster.

Warren Priestley Dead.

Last Thursday evening Warren Priestley, colored, of West Union, died at his home there after a lingering illness, covering a period of six months or more. He had been for a number of years—about 25 or 30—the leading barber in Walhalla, and held the respect of all the white people who knew him. He was 57 years old. For dignity and politeness of the old ante-bellum type, Warren Priestley had long been the great model for the colored men of this section. His death, while not a surprise to those who had known him, was the source of regret on all sides. No colored man in the county was held in higher esteem.

Clemson Starts Out Well.

Birmingham, Ala., October 8.—In a slow game, which was notable for the lack of brilliant features, Clemson defeated the University of Alabama this afternoon, 18 to 0. The first half was a pretty exhibition, Alabama holding her heavy opponents down to one touchdown and one goal. In the last half Clemson ploughed through Alabama's lines with comparative ease and two touchdowns with as many goals resulted.
