If the wandering death-bed utterances of the two great Confederate chieftains, "Stonewall" Jackson and Robert E. Lee, may be considered as final upon the matter, then the late Confederate General A. P. Hill, who lost his life at the closing of the war must be accepted by history as the most trusted coadjutor of these eminent commanders. In his dying moments, Jackson exclaimed "Send A. P. Hill to the front!" Upon his death bed at Lexington, General Lee as the telegraph states, his mind reverting to the bloody events of the war, "once ordered his tent to be struck, and at another time desired Hill to be sent for." Thus does it appear that, in the supreme moment of the closing hours of those men upon whose shoulders rested the heaviest burdens of the war upon the side of the Confederacy, came the utterances, born of delirium, but more solemn for that reason, that stamps General A. P. Hill as a man whose presence was to be desired and whose fidelity was assured. No higher compliment could be paid to his memory than these parting words of Lee and Jackson.

Who was Peter?—A Sabbath school superintendent, after inveighing against the "pernicious practice" which well intentioned persons indulge in of telling stories to children went on to give his children something more to the point, and which should in no manner create amusement. He would tell them about Peter. "And who was Peter?" he asked. "No reply. 'What?' he exclaimed, 'can none of you tell me who Peter was?' At last a little boy, about four years old, held up his hand in token of knowledge on the subject. 'There's a boy—a little boy—who can tell me who Peter was,' said the superintendent, looking reprovingly at the large children. Now, my lad, tell me who Peter was.

"Peter, Peter, pumpkin eater, Had a wife and could't keep her," was the triumphant response.

A newly arrived family were lately gazing at a ship window in Rockland, Illinois.

Little Girl—"Oh, mamma! is that a 'on'?"

Mamma—"No, my child, that is a 'howl'."

Father—"No, my wife and daughter, that is neither a 'on' or a 'howl' but it is a heagle, the emblem of this blasted country!"

Samuel Grubb, of Memphis, announces himself as a candidate for tax receiver, "having no other means of support," as his card says. Whereupon the Memphis Avalanche is cruel enough to say: "It is evidently a question of grubb with him."

TO PHYSICIANS.

Ayer's Hair Vigor, For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

New York, August 16th, 1868. Allow me to call your attention to my Preparation of Compound Extract Buchu.

The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBES, JUNIPER BERRIES. MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuum, Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine oil. Cubebes extracted by displacement with spirits of turpentine from Juniper Berries; very little sugar is used, and a small proportion of spirit. It is more palatable than any now in use.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle), leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation, upon inspection, it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacies, nor is it a Syrup; and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exist. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hopeing that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation. With a feeling of confidence, I am, very respectfully, H. T. HELMBOLD, Chemist and Druggist, of 16 Years' Experience.

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.
