Suspend d.

The Augusta Constitutionalist, one of the oldest papers in the South, has recently suspended. It has had a long career of usefulness.

Bailed.

Wm. Donly, arrested on the charge of receiving stolen cotton at Blackstocks, has been bailed in the sum $1,000. We refer our readers to Mr. Donly's card in another column.

Corrections.

The local in our last issue entitled "The Monticello Grange" contained an error. Capt. E. J. Means, the lecturer, opened the Grange. Rev. E. S. Lingo, the Chaplain, offered the prayer.

Strange Encounter.

A few days since, near Rossville, a woman walking in the road was attacked by a large fox, and so badly injured that she is now lying in a critical condition.

Blanks.

We have for sale at the News and Herald Office a lot of Title Deeds, Mortgages, Liens on Crop, Trial Justices Blanks, &c. Those wishing Blanks can obtain them by applying at this office.

Installation.

We are requested to state that the installation of the Rev. E. C. Ghechever, as pastor of the Presbyterian Church, will take place this evening at 8 o'clock. Members of the several denominations and citizens generally are respectfully invited. Seats free.

Terrible Storm.

On Friday last a terrific hail storm passed through the western portion of the County from Long Run to Alston. It was half a mile in width, and devastated the crops in its course. This is the third or fourth destructive storm we have had in the past month.

Invitations.

We are indebted to Johnston Jones, Esq., proprietor of the Charlotte Observer, for an invitation to the Anniversary Ball in Charlotte this evening.

We also return thanks to Mr. Wm. Shannon Morrison for an invitation to the annual celebration of the Calhoun Society of Wofford College, on the 23d of June.

Death of Dr. R. W. Coleman.

News has reached us of the death of Robert W. Coleman, of Fenesterville, in this County. He died last Tuesday after a brief illness. Dr. Coleman was a shining light in that section, and his death will be sorely felt by both the masonic and medical fraternities. He leaves a family and a large circle of friends to mourn his untimely death.

Death of Charles Cathcart, Esq.

Again we are called upon to chronicle the death of one of our oldest citizens. Mr. Charles Cathcart died on Friday night last from Paralysis, after six days illness. He was sixty-eight years of age, and a native of County Antrim of Ireland; but had resided in this country many years. He leaves a wife and five children. We tender our sympathy to his bereaved family.

Burglaries Entry at Ridgeway.

Last Wednesday night—among the small hours—a stout-hearted individual entered the store of Messrs. Moore & Hogan through a window very near to the bed upon which the junior member of the firm was sleeping.

Mr. H. is now guessing the "time o-day" by the sun—being minus his gold watch, and several small articles of value to the possessor.

The Union-Herald.

The Columbia Union has been purchased by the proprietor of the Evening Herald, the two papers are now merged into a morning daily entitled the Daily Union-Herald. Mess. Northrop and Everson are the Editors. In his salutatory the editor wishes a "fair fight." This we will accord him provided he himself acts fairly. Furthermore he shall have our co-operation in waging war against fraud and corruption.

Burglary No. 2, Ridgeway.

Another daring attempt at robbery was made on the residence of Mr. Wylie J. Davis, Saturday night last. The night walker entered by way of a balcony, and window; after satisfying himself that Mr. D's clothes contained six dollars, &c., he went into Miss Davis' room and was in the act of carrying her trunk out through the window when Miss D. awoke, and called her father. The fellow made his exit. Pursuit was made but without effect.

Death of Mr. D. T. Crosby.

We are called upon this morning to chronicle the death of this truly good man, which occurred at his residence near Cosbyville, in this County, last Sunday, from that fatal disease, consumption. Mr. Crosby served as member of Company "F" 6th S. C. Infantry, during the late war, and lost a leg in the charge on Fort Harrison, 30th September, 1861. He was a good citizen and highly regarded by all who knew him. He leaves a wife and three children to mourn his death, to whom we tender our heartfelt sympathy.

Dull Times.

To while away the dull monotony of the approaching summer evenings, of which we have already had a lazy symptom, we would suggest to our young men to establish a couple of rival Base Ball Clubs, and invite the young ladies to attend as spectators. And on the part of the latter, we would also recommend an evening concert, at least once a week, closing up with a dance, ice cream, etc., expenses to be paid by the gentlemen, of course. If we don't get up something of this sort by way of entertainment you may look out for the corner's inquest—suicide from laziness.

Ornith.

Joyner's Hotel, Columbia, has been sold for $20,000.

Auderson County purchased 2,500 tons of guano the present season.

Col. D. Wyatt Aiken is to lecture in North Carolina, for the purpose of introducing granges of the Patrons of Husbandry.

P. A. Eichelberger, of Edgefield, an active and prominent politician of the Republican side, died recently.

J. Barber Ferguson, of Rossville, Chester County, has been appointed Trial Justice.

The Crops.

From all parts of the County we hear bad reports of the crops. The cold dry spring prevented the farmer from planting till late; and the recent heavy rains have caused a luxuriant crop of grass to grow. Labor is very scarce. Many farmers are offering a dollar an acre for hoe-hands, and some even more than this. Many are ploughing up their cotton and planting corn. The heavy storms of the past month have ruined others—altogether, we have had a most unfavorable season, and hereafter efforts alone will ensure even a moderate crop. One great cause for the scarcity of labor is found in the great number of idlers around town. There are at least forty or fifty lazy, trifling, worthless rascals around town, doing nothing apparently. We call on the Town Council to enforce the vagrant law, and drive them into the country to work. They are a nuisance to the town, and are compelled to steal for a livelihood. They tell not neither do they spin, and most assuredly Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed in a costume similar to theirs. Try the experiment of making of them "lilies of the field." If they perish from laziness and the heat of the sun so much the better.

The Charlotte Jubilee.

We had the pleasure of attending the supper and ball given by the good people of Charlotte to the excursionists of Greenville and Spartanburg on Thursday last. At three in the afternoon the excursion train on the Air Line Railroad arrived, bringing several hundred ladies and gentlemen. These were met at the depot by the citizens of Charlotte, and were welcomed by Gov. Vance. At half-past seven, the male guests were escorted to Miller's Hall, where a sumptuous entertainment had been prepared for four hundred persons. Champagne and other liquors flowed freely. Toasts were offered and responded to by leading citizens of both States. A little after nine the gentlemen adjourned to the Central Hotel to the ball. This was a perfect success. The belles of the two Carolinas vied equally in charms and beauty; and the beaux of the two States were not to be eclipsed in gallantry. Dancing was prolonged till a late hour. The excursionists left next morning, charmed with the hospitality of Charlotte. But few visitors attended from this portion of our State. Among these we met our quondam college mates, Messrs. John T. Sloan, Jr., and B. I. Boone, both rising young lawyers in Columbia. Mr. Sloan responded to the toast, "The two Carolinas," in a few eloquent and happy remarks, eliciting hearty applause. This was our first visit to Charlotte, and we were delighted with our cordial reception, and with the beauty of her halcyon and the hospitality of her gentlemen. The whole affair was the most perfectly successful one we have ever attended. While our grateful acknowledgments are due to all, we especially thank Messrs. Johnstone Jones, of the Observer, and Eli Spill, for their kindness to us. We are bound to attend the Centennial in 1875. Three cheers for the old North State!

The amount sent to Columbia by wagons is estimated as being about equal to the number of bales received in Winnsboro from Chester, showing the crop of 1872 and 1873 to be about 16,000 bales. The average price at 16 cents, would net one million of dollars. We ask—what has become of the money?

Ku Klux Tax.

Last week A. M. Mackey, Esq., in behalf of certain clients, obtained a mandamus from Judge T. J. Mackey, ordering Treasurer Smith to transfer the Ku Klux tax to the school fund. Commissioner Crawford appropriated $1,000 to the payment of this year's certificates, as this will be sufficient, provided Treasurer Cardozo pays over the amount still due the County. Whether he will or not, is not known. The remainder of the tax amounting to about a thousand dollars, was devoted to the payment of last year's certificates. There were a sufficient number of these on the spot to gobble up the whole sum. There are still about five thousand dollars of outstanding certificates which can only be paid by a deficiency appropriation of the Legislature. To the holders of these, we can only say, "In patience possess ye your souls."

This is the way one of our Western exchanges puts it: You might as well attempt to shampoo an elephant with a thimble full of soap-suds as to attempt to do business and ignore advertising.

The soil in Nebraska froze to the depth of eight feet. The potato bug—oh! where was he? He was nine feet down, and is now coming out; ugly and lively.

Capt. Jack is frugal, he has $800 in bank at Yreka, Cal.

Notice.
I have on the 25th of May, about seven miles from Winnsboro, on the Rocky Mount road, BAY MARK, which the owner can have by proving property and paying charges.
