FROM THE STATE RESERVES. CAMP PRISON,

Fromence, S. C., Oct. 7, 1864. The Battalions of Major Gill and Merriwether again took wing from Hamburg, on Sunday morning, the 2d inst., reaching Eranchville at one o'clock, Kingsville at dark, and this point, one and a half miles north-east of Florence, at four A. M. on Monday. Our boys left Shultz's Hill, with its full rations, good water, and "medicinal" conveniences with relutance; now they are realising the privations and scarcities of scanty fare dealed out at this place, where even soup is not dealt out, and cannot be bought, so nothing further need be said on this subject at present.

Our men are called on to perform guard duty every orther day and night, as there are a large number of prisoners at this point, and many more daily coming in from Charleston, distant but 60 miles by rail-road, and Andersonville, The prisoners are placed in an enclosure arranged in regimental order; this is made of split timbers 5 or 6 inches in thickness, well embeded in the earth around this palisading, enclosing some twenty acres, is fixed the platform or walk for the sentinels, with occasional projections, from which they can look over into the camps and keep a sharp watch on the movements of the prisoners, in order that the latter may have no excuse for approaching the palisading, a ditch is run around the camp, about I5 feet from it, said to be like that of the Yankees at Hilton Head. The man who attempts to cross it, after being once warned, is shot if the sentry's eye falls on him, or without warning at night. Night and day a heavy guard is posted around, and lines of sentries, with artillery and cavalry at convenient and important points, so escape seems impossible.

The prisoners are divided into detachments of 100 each, under sergeants of their own appointment. The roll is called each morning at 9 o'clock; at the beating of the drum each detachment falls into line in front of its row of tents or earthworks, dresses up on the sergeant, in files of fours, when the Major has them counted off by the several Lieutenants called on to assist him, who deem it by no means an agreeable employment, among so much filth and vermin, though the place is daily policed, and a deep branch runs through the entire camp-they cook their own rations, which of course they complain of, however plentiful they may be. They are not allowed to communicate with any but officers, whom they often importune for little favors, mostly to take the oath or be paroled, or for tobacco. The foreigners make many protestations of their disinterestedness, while the Yankees, most of whom were the denizens of the brothels and purlieus of Northern cities, pretend to believe our cause a losing one, though they curse the obstinacy of Butler in not effeeting their exchange. Poor Devils!

how it will be observed, may depend on their ability to get home again, while some will snap at the first bait thrown to them by substitute brokers.

The prisoners pay little regard to their personal cleanliness; as a natural consequence much mortality prevails, ten deaths being about the minimum of those daily occuring. A hospital for the sick is outside of the stockade, where they receive every attention, and they are remanded when convalescent but few having died in it. They are mostly scantily clothed, and unless provided by their government will suffer greatly, when the cold weather sets in. Previous to leaving Hamburg, elections were held in the York and Chester Companies. The two companies from York voted together, and polled but 32 votes, the old men having been mostly furloughed home to gather their sugar cane and sow wheat a day or two previous. Of these Col. Jones received the whole number, for the Senate. For Representatives, Capt. Lowry, received 81. Col. Beatty, 26, Col. White, 20, J. C. Chambers, 17, J. S. Bratton, 10 Col. Rawlinson, 7. For Tax Collector. Col. Jackson received 29, Mitchell, 2. Sanders. 1. Ta dais and sat sales

The weather continues quite warm Our men have exercised much ingenuity in constructing tents and huts, which has infringed greatly on their supply of bed clothes, which will inconvenience them greatly when winter sets in. If Gen. Chesnut would furnish the cloth flys could easily be made; or plank could be, as a saw-miller near by offers to furnish it, if a requisition is made. We this morning report two sick.

The town of Florence is a pretty little place, of no business pretensions whatever, as it has not a single store, or rum hole. There are no loafers about town. and but very few males, though it is the junction of the North Eastern and Wil mington and Manchester roads. Capt H. W. Connor, of Charleston, is the Post Commissary, and his clerk, a young wounded soldier, they are both clever gentlemen, and think "the powers that be." are in error as to the quantity and quality of rations to which citizen soldiers are entitled. In coming from Kingsville to this place, we passed through several towns, but as the whole distance, seventy miles, was travelled a soldier's life. General Chesnut's at- by night in box cars, nothing can be said tention will doubtless be called to the of them until some lucky chance gives us a day trip towards home.

> good: our men have commenced digging wells, but they have no spades, shovels or picks, so for the present they have stopped, at some six feet depth, without water. The Yankees are more expert they have dug tunnels and wells after the fashion of moles, with their noses or claws, probably, while they are ably seconded by the bog-trotters and troutstands, who act as their beasts of burthen-a harder looking set of villians, take them as a mass-I hope you may ever see. Some 500 of them are anot be allowed to do.

I have received, through the kindness of Col. Melton, at Richmond, the New York Herald, of the 19th ultimo, which has proved a valuable acquisition in the newspaper desert, and helped to while way the few hours of relaxation we can gain from the interminable bustle and thty of camp. The contents are fully in character, and prominent is a long account of a "grand Anniversary Banruet at Delmonico's," by the resident Mexicans, who seem to have forgotten the whipping they received from the boasted United States, and, while they jabber lustily for their own independence of French rule, sit cheek by jowl with the Yankees in depriving the South of theirs. But, though it is said none but Mexicans were present, the ear marks of Yankee correspondents are plainly seen, and doubtless the drunken dons awoke the next morning to find out that they had made quite a figure the previous night. The "Diario" will doubtless translate with wonder to their columns, the rapid progress their runaway generals have made in Yankee American slavery. But, perhaps, the South done all the fighting of the Mexican War, and we have not been forgotten. However, the Mexicans and Yankees are mongrels well matched-the old Castilian blood has degenerated in the first, while the "nigger" is far the purest of the last.

The Mexicans assume that Napoleon has taken advantage of the civil war in the United States, who had heretofore protected them-and they are kept in this belief by the Yankee press, for their own low, selfish purposes. The Herald is for McClellan, so far.

I have spun this epistle out longer than intended-not knowing how the mails go and come as yet. I may not they do not see that one Confederate is have taken time by the forelock, as inworth half a dozen of them, and hence tended, but will strive, when I learn furtheir sufferings. FROM SULLEVANS ISLAND. OCTOBER 5, 1864.

Mr. Editor :- During last Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the firing on the city was kept up regularly, and was very heavy; during this time but few shots were fired at Sumter. There was an occasional shot from Black Island. The firing on the city and Sumter ceased on Saturday night about 12 o'clock. During Sunday and Sunday night there was scarcely a gun fired in any direction, there was two shots in the evening. On Monday, there was again an exchange of prisoners in the harbor, at the usual place, opposite Fort Moultrie. The ceremony of Exchange occupied great part of the day.

An election for Senator and Representatives of Charleston District, was held here to-day, for the benefit of the soldiers. The tickets were varied and the votes were cast accordingly. During the morning we were visited with showers of rain. October so far has been as warm as at any time this sum-

On yesterday, an election was held for the benefit of the soldiers from the upper Districts. The citizens from York appreciating the privilege, cast their votes for the respective candidates, the result of which the returns will show. To-day the shelling of the city has somewhat increased. On Monday and Tuesday morning, early, two Monitors leaving the fleet, moved inward, but a few well directed shots from our batteries, each morning, caused them to retire quickly to a safe distance. The strength of the fleet remains about the same, there is some movement of the vessels every day, some arriving, others leaving.

It is stated that General Hardee has been assigned to this Military District. He was expected to arrive in the city this morning. In a few days we expect to have the pleasure of seeing the distinguished warrior, as an inspection of the fortifications, &c., around the harbor is expected to take place by him in few days. His past career as a General and warrior, will ensure to him the highest esteem and regard, by all, both soldiers and non-combatants, and will be most heartily welcomed to his new theatre of action. With such a leader, and the united energies of the citizens and soldiery of the Palmetto State, in the discharge of the duty they owe their by the blessing of Providence upon our The water here is scarce, and not united efforts, that our long begieged Metropolis will, with the various islands and fortifications contiguous thereto, surmount the furious storm of the enemy, and stand triumphant as a monument of southern chivalry and heroism the enemy, worn down by an incessant and expensive siege, will, eventually, be compelled to abandon the contest, satisfied that a people who are contending honorably and justly for their rights and liberties, cannot be subdued.

The news from Atlanta begins to show a brighter side of the picture and bout to take the oath, which they should we trust, in a short time to hear of the rout of Sherman and his army. Lest I may weary you or your readers. I will close for the present, hoping I may be able to give you something more in the future. Yours truly, DARBY.

We saw the Colonel, with his regiment gathered around him, holding prayer, and that, too, almost in the midst of battle, for the firing had be gun on the right and left."

- We have reliable intelligence, says the Mississippian, that a drove of 3,000 beef cattle from Texas were driven safely across the Mississippi river, at a point not necessary to mention, several days since, and are now on their way to Hood's army.

- The Louisville Press says Charles A Wickliff, of Kentucky, stated in Baltimere that McClellan assured him two days in ad vance of his letter of acceptance, that if he (McClellan) were elected not a gun should be fired at the rebels after the 4th of March. -The immigration at New York continnes to be large, having already reached more than 130,000 this year. It will probably reach 200,000 for the year, and a large number will go into the army. New regiments and troops are arriving in Louisville in large numbers.

LATEST NEWS.

From Georgia. AUGUSTA, Ga., October 10.—A correspondent of the Montgomery Mail, with Hood's army, says the occupation of Rome was effected without a fight. The dash into Marietta was bloodless.

When Sherman learned Hood had moved northward, he crossed the river with two corps and formed a line of observation at Vining's Station. Hood's line crossed the railroad at Big Shanty on the 4th, and the two armies held this relation to each other without firing a gun. On the 5th Sherman withdrew, retiring to Atlanta. Our army then set to work and effectually destroyed the railroad from Big Shanty to the Oostanauls. All the bridges from Marietta to Dalton were destroyed. We have strongly fortified Kenesaw mountain. Jackson holds Rome, and Wheeler had possession of Resacs.

From Virginia, San Bate PETERSBURG. October -10 .- The enemy last evening relinquished the extended line which they took possession of on Saturday. Last night there were some indications on the part of the enemy to make an attack on our front but it amounted to nothing. The nemy have burned several fine dwellings on the outskirts of their lines on their left during the last few days. Supplies of clothing and shoes are being issued to the army.

RICHMOND, Oct. 10 .- Official dispatch es from Gen. Breckinridge state that a portion of the enemy's cavalry, after slight resistance, has been driven back from Kingsourt toward Rogersville, and now there is no enemy this side of Jonesboro.

RICHMOND, Cot. 10. Official disputch es received at the War Department to day state that Vaughn's cavalry drove the enemy from Regersville on the 8th, killing and wounding a good many. No enemy in force this side of Bull's Gap.

From the Memphis Appeal we go the following cheering facts from the Ten-essee front We have information from Gen. Hood's army as late as the 4th instant. He had fixed himself in the rear of the enemy within four miles of Lost Mountain and twelve miles of Marietta, General Stewart's corps moved on Big Shanty on the 3rd insta and after a small fight drove the Yankees out and captured one hundred and seventy-five prisoners and took possession of the town. He was busily engaged in destroying the railroad from Marietta to Etowah river, and t was supposed that he would make in a short time a perfect success of it. Our cayalry had captured a train of thirty care near Acworth, on the 2d inst., leaded with supplies, coffee, 500 barrels crackers, etc. On the 3d they captured a train of 18 cars loaded with beef cettle, which were burnt These licks, together with these struck by Forrest, will soon have the desired effect in moving Sherman from Atlanta.
