

At the annual meeting of the state bar association held in Columbia last week, a resolution was adopted requesting the general assembly to fix the salary of the chief justice at $6,000 a year and the associate justices at $5,000 each.

Mr. M. W. Blair met death in Columbia last Thursday afternoon as the result of wounds inflicted by his wife. The story of Mrs. Blair is to the effect that her husband accused her of infidelity and threatened to kill her. She had a revolver and warned him not to advance. He advanced, and in the struggle for the possession of the weapon he was killed.
