LOCAL MATTERS.

JOB WORK .- We have now completed our office so as to execute, in the shortest possible time ALL KINDS OF JOB WORK, and we most respecifully ask the patronage of our friends.

Post Office Notice.

POST OFFICE, CHARLESTON, S. C., May 6, 1867. Hereafter, until further notice, the Northeastern Mails will close at 1.15 P. M., and arriving at the Depot at 9.45 A. M. will be ready for delivery at 11 o'clock. On Sundays the Post Office will open at 19.90 P. M. for one hour.

The Mails for South Carolina Railroad will continne to close daily at 6 o'clock A. M., and for the Savannah and Charleston Railroad at 6 A. M. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

STANLEY G. TROTT, P. M.

A SPLENDID OFFORTUNITY is offered to our lady friends to supply themselves with seasonable dress goods of every style and description, and at most reasonable rates. Messrs. MELCHERS & MULLER offer their large and splendid stock at and below cost. See their advertisement in another column.

Tooth BRUSHES .- Those who use Sozodont, and those who don't, are necessarily compelled to have | tion was taken up and handed over to the treasura fine brush, or their dentals would soon decay. As these brushes are perishable, being affected by the wear and tear of time, we would recommend all persons who need the article to the store of Messrs. A. W. ECKEL & Co., No. 231 King street. These are English brushes-warranted to give satisfaction.

Cash Auotion House.—Our readers are aware of the magnitude of the auction business, and there are few who have not heard the cries of "Going, &c.," in various parts of the city. Prominent among these houses is that of Messrs. CAMP-BELL, KNOX & Co., in Hasel street, opposite the Postoffice. Their salesrooms are large and commodious, and they possess every facility to conduct a large and successful business. Articles consigned to them will not remain old stock, but will quickly fall under the hammer. Their regular sales days are Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, but the crowds who attend frequently neces sitate the employment of extra days.

HISTRIONIOS REDIVIVUS.—We have before noticed the spirit of emulation that induced the residents of Florence to give a Fair in their village, but they now essay a mightier enterprise, being nothing more than the revival of the drama. In this our country friends will surpass us, for notwithstanding all the efforts that have been made, theatrical performances are apparently doomed in Charleston. The ladies and gentlemen of Cheraw design visiting Florence on the 5th and 6th, and will perform the "Lady of Lyons" and "The Rivals." These plays are familiar to most of our citizens, and have been enjoyed by many at the old theatre who will now gladly avail themselves of the privilege of again seeing them represented. The Cheraw corps are amateurs, but are by no means tyros, and their performance will equal many seen on the Charleston boards. It is the design of the parties to appropriate the proceeds towards build-ing an Episopal Church in Florence and erecting nt over the Confederate dead at Cheraw. Their object alone should induce a large attendance, and we trust the drama will meet with proper encouragement.

PERIPATETIC ADVERTISING.—From a notice in another column, we learn that the City Railway Company are willing to receive proposals for advertising in the pannels of the different cars. This announcement appears singular, for the pannels are at present decorated with landscapes, which ntly artistic to be pleasing to the eye, and if they are obscured by a card of some restaurant or mercantile house, a very different result will be produced. It is evident that the misments. By the proposed scheme we will not only be keeping up with the world, but will be advanccause of education; for the unsophisticated African can learn while he rides, and if the letters are guadily painted, he can soon acquire some ige of the alphabet. It will never do to be shind the times, and if the march of progress requires this style of advertising, let us, by all means, keep up with the age. It will detract somewhat from the appearance of the cars, and will make them more suitable for business and less for pleasure, but it may be beneficial to the growth of the city by bringing some trade to the advertising stores. Not a ith standing these anticipated advantages, we cannot look upon the prosed change with pleasure, as it appears to be desecration to introduce business into every walk of life; and although our Yankee friends have carried this system to an extreme, it has not produeed the success it merits.

MONOGRAMS In our Republican country there is generally an absence of the family crests to be ound in monarchial governments, for but few perone have their insignia, and they are often merely the creation of some imaginative mind. In the march of progress this want has been felt, and it was found necessary to make some design that would answer the purpose. An ingenious grouping of the different initial letters has been invented. This idea was immediately adopted by the public, and monograms are now an indispensible acquisition used by every one, even plain John Smith losing his identity in the brilliant flourish given to his name by the engravers. Since the introduction of this style of engraving, it has almost superseded the antiquated crest and silver, clothes, books, paper, &c., are now stamped with the monogram of the owner. There is nothing more progressive than art, and the different transformations that can be given to a name by this process are wonderful. As old things pass away the new and improved take their place, and few persons are now without a fancily engraved monogram. We were induced to make these remarks from an examination of the different styles of monograms made by Mr. JOSEPH WALKER, at the corner of Market and Meeeting streets. He can, in the twinkling of an eye, produce any color, size or style that may be desired, and the finish they give to the article on which they are placed, at once recommends their use to the public. Mr. Walker is prepared to supply all demands, and to furnish monograms, that for beauty of design and shades of coloring, would almost compel a purchase.

JUNE -April, May and June, have not inaptly been termed the three daughters of the year. April appears as a coy child laughing in the sun's bright beams, and weeping in silvery showers. May is a fair maiden, blithe and active, glowing with beauty and health, but June is more like a young matron crowned with roses and robed ... green. This is the month of roses, when the imagination of the poets depicted many fairy scenes. SHARSPEARE, and MILTON, and SPENSER frequently refer to this season as the time to hold communion with Nature-to visit the woods and see the "arbours that are not the work of art, but by the 'trees' own inclination made." The great network of branches have been fashioned silently, but the workmanship is perfect, and no human eye could see the Power that stirred in that mysterious loom, and wore the green drapery of Summer. COLERIDGE, well calls it the "leafy month of June," the month when flowers are the richest in hue and profusion, when the early vegetables and fruit giae promise of a happy summer, and when the farmer can confidently expect his crops to realise a bountiful harvest. Nature is yet but young and notwithstanding the summer solstice takes place on the 21st day, this is only the third month of the year in respect to temperature, the suffocating heats do not commence until later, and June is often what the poets only dream May to be. This month was considered by the Romans, to be the most propitious season of the whole year for contracting matrimonial engagements, while May was to be avoided as under the influence of spirits adverse to happy households. These superstitions were confined to the middle ages, and the matrimonial noose is now tied as frequently in May To a resident of a city this is the season of the year when he can spare the time from the cares of pusiness and indulge in a little healthful recreation. The hot and dusty brick walls of the city are exchanged for some watering place, or for a t to the country, where the air is redolent with health, and the fragrance of the green woods is inhaled in every breath. With such delights in view, it is not strange that the poet wrote "God made the country; and man the town," for the

NEW HOSE REEL FOR COLUMBIA.—We learn from Mr. M. H. NATHAN, the Chief of the Fire Department, that the New York firemen will ship a new and splendid hose reel to this city on the 15th of this month. It will be in every respect equal to that destroyed, and will prove to their Columbia brethren that their word is equivalent to their bond, and a promise once made must be fulfilled. As the reel will first arrive in this city, our firemen will have an opportunity to inspect it and discuss

RELIEF FOR THE SUFFERING PROPLE OF THE SOUTH. -The Baltimore Sun gives the following statenent of the measures adopted by the charitable people of Maryland to aid the suffering poor in the South. Maryland has created a glorious record for herself, which, like bread cast upon the waters, will return to her after many days.

The citizens of Newtown, Worcester county, Md., have held a meeting and adopted measures for the relief of the suffering people of the South. Rev. O. F. FLIPPO presided, and W. L. CLARKE, Esq., of the Newtown Gazette, was appointed secretary. Addresses were delivered by Senator BROADWATER and the Revs. Messrs. Polk, Rowe and Martindale, after which a handsome collecer, Wm. S. Dickinson, Esq. Messis. Hall & BROTHER, and W. J. S. CLARKE & Son, offered to convey, free of charge, to Baltimore, any produce contributed for the relief of the South, as did also Captain VEASEY and C. M. TALBOTT, of the steamer Massachusetts. On the 4th of June the ladies of Newtown are to hold a great strawberry festival in aid of the Southern sufferers. The ladies of guarantee, that the picture is what it purports to be. By Broadneck and Townneck, Anne Arundel county, a few miles from Annapolis, are to hold a similar festival at St. Margaret's parsonage on the 12th and 13th of June.

THE CHARLESTON MARINE.—We have frequently reverted to the commerce and shipping of Charles ton, and found, by comparing them with the past, that rapid strides have been made, and the chasm will soon be bridged. The shipping merchants and masters are among our most energetic and who make a DISHONORABLE LIVING, by preying upon the enterprising citizens, and whatever they do is sick and suffering, are now endeavoring to flood the man done well. In passing along the wharves we ne- kets of this country. Whenever these POISON-MONGERS ticed that the steamer Pilot Boy, Captain Wm. T. MONELTY, had emerged from the hands of the proprietors, who expend thousands of dollars annually in ship carpenters, and was now fully prepared to walk the vaters like a thing of life. Having travelled on the Pilot Boy we can testify to her sea qualities; but we were not prepared for the trans formation that had been effected in her appear ance during a few weeks. She has been newly painted, her engine and machinery thoroughly overhauled, and a general finish been given to her, both internally and externally. Captain McNerry may well be proud of his craft, for the Charleston and Savannah line boasts no better. Since her rejuvenation she will become, if possible more of a favorite with the travelling public than ever before. She will resume her regular trips on Monday, leaving at 7 A. M. Her known staunch seaworthy character, added to the popularity of er commander, will make her the chief connecting link between the two cities.

MAYOR'S COURT, May 31 .- The docket was comparatively full yesterday morning, many of the culprits being old offenders, who thought that Friday was the day for penance, and went in for a general breeze. Susan Hudson, who has earned ome notoriety from her persistent attendance at the bar, was again brought up for allowing herself to be overcome by her feelings, and imagining her-self to be Lucy Stone. She was declaiming loudly on woman's rights, especially their right to get drunk, when she was interrupted and carried to her study, where she can investigate the subject on bread and water for five days.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS-HOD. THOMAS W GLOVER presiding.—The City Docket was continued and a number of cases heard, in which verdicts were given and decrees were rendered, but nothing transpired of any interest to the public.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT.Hon. GRO. S. BRYAN, Presiding.—JASPER GREETIN, who had been found guilty of passing and uttering counterfeit fractional currency, was brought before the bar of the Court, and D. T.
