LARGEST CIRCULATION.—THE DAILY NEWS BEING THE NEWSPAPER OFFICIALLY RECOGNIZED AS HAVING THE LARGEST CIRCULATION IN THE CITY OF CHARLESTON, PUBLISHES THE LIST OF LETTERS REMAINING IN THE POSTOFFICE AT THE END OF EACH WEEK, ACCORDING TO THE PROVISIONS OF THE NEW POSTOFFICE LAW.

LOCAL MATTERS.

FALLING OF A WALL.—The south wall of the building on Meeting-street, near Hasel, that is now being demolished, fell upon the adjoining store of Messrs. Holmes & Calder yesterday morning, damaging it somewhat, and compelling a removal of a portion of the stock.

WARD No. 1.—Citizens of Ward No. 11 twenty-four white majority yesterday. That looks as if you were up and doing. Keep up and keep doing, and you will have occasion to feel proud that you have done your share toward securing an upright city administration under Hon. H. D. Lessee.

DEATH OF A VENERABLE PRIEST.—The Gazette announces the recent death at Sydney, Australia, of the Rev. John McEnroe, whom our oldest citizens may remember as one of the earliest missionary priests of the great Bishop England, and who, from 1823 to 1825, filled the place of pastor of St. Mary's Church.

WOULD NOT GO BACK ON HIS RECORD.—A colored voter who was asked yesterday how he would vote, proudly answered for the Lessee ticket, adding, my name is Peter Lessee Miller, and I can't go back on that record. Peter is a staunch Republican, but can't swallow the pills and berries the party have prescribed.

WARD No. 2.—Citizens of Ward No. 21 only forty-four colored majority yesterday. Two days are left you to turn the tables. A long pull, a short pull and a pull all together, and your Ward will be secured to the cause of good government.

TREASURER OF CHARLESTON COUNTY.—Governor Scott has appointed Mr. Fleetwood Lannan to the office of Treasurer for Charleston County. The appointment was unsolicited, but it is one that will give general satisfaction, as Mr. Lannan's abilities are unquestioned, and he possesses the confidence and esteem of the entire community.

PERSONAL.—Commander Stone, Lighthouse Inspector for this District, has left on a tour of inspection to the different points in his jurisdiction.

Governor Scott, Senator Robertson and Justice Hope, arrived in the city yesterday, and are stopping at the Charleston Hotel.

Governor Scott is about to go to Cincinnati with a view of interesting the capitalists of that city in the Blue Ridge Railroad.

HERE'S YOUR MULE!—Among the property exposed for sale by the Sheriff yesterday were several mules. These attracted the attention of a country negro who was enjoying a ride on a street car, and after looking at them intently for some time, he exclaimed to a fellow dealer: "Dey, Pompey, enty tell yer so; what Massa Bowen been say der true; General Grant am ledded now and yerry de mule; and with that he jumped off the car and rushed into the courthouse to register for a mule.

A FIREMAN'S OFFERING.—Mr. James E. Spear has in his jewelry store a magnificent present of a solid silver service, consisting of a salver, pitcher and two goblets. They are beautifully chased and ornamented, and will be engraved with the name of the fortunate possessor. But who the happy man will be, time alone can tell. It is whispered that he is a prominent fireman, and the offering is intended as a mark of the appreciation of his valued services by the department.

WARD No. 3.—Citizens of Ward No. 31 sixty white majority yesterday. Good for the first day, but there are more white men in your ward, and you must bring them out. Make them register and vote for Hon. Henry D. Lessee.

THE UNION PRAYER MEETING AT TRINITY.—In July last the General Convention of the Young Men's Christian Associations of the United States and British Provinces, held at Detroit, appointed Sunday, the 8th of November, as a day of special prayer for the revival of general piety and the awakening of religious interest in the minds of the young. In pursuance of this appointment, the Association in this city have invited the Christian community, and the public generally, to a union meeting, to be held at Trinity Church to-morrow evening. The object of the meeting most commend itself to all, and we confidently urge a full attendance of Christians of every denomination, and of all interested in the moral amelioration of the young of the community and of the land.

WARD No. 4.—Citizens of Ward No. 41 one hundred and seventy-nine colored majority. That does not speak well for the largest ward in the city. Your friends expect better things of you. Come out of your holes to-day and Monday, register and redeem your fair names.

REGISTRATION YESTERDAY.—We publish below a complete table of the registration returns for yesterday. They show a colored majority of 544 for the first day. There are still four times that many white men who have not registered, and as our white people do not generally turn out in force on the first day, we may expect to see this small majority still further reduced, if not entirely overcome. The people are warming up to the work. They believe in the absolute necessity of electing Mr. Lessee, and they are determined that he shall be our next Mayor.

TO THE CITIZENS OF CHARLESTON.

The undersigned, impressed with the importance of securing the success of the candidates put forth by the Citizens' Party at the approaching Municipal election, pledge themselves to use every proper means within their power for accomplishing that result.

They urge their fellow-citizens of every class to unite with them in saving the city from three years of misrule, which must cause the destruction of the credit and the crippling of every branch of industry.

They specially appeal to the colored people to weigh calmly the consequences of the success of the Radical nominees. They are asked to consider whether they will place their reliance upon those among whom they have always lived, who have never deceived them, and who have no interest in deceiving them now; whether they will sustain those who have no interest opposed to their own, and who will protect them in their every just right and privilege, or whether they will put into power men who have nothing to lose and all to gain, and who have no interest in the community, beyond securing their own personal profit, regardless of the consequences to the people of Charleston.

Citizens of Charleston, we labor in a common cause, and appeal to every man, as he loves his city and his people, to register, and vote for the candidates put forth by the Citizens' Party of Charleston.

Interesting Ceremony—Installation of a Rabbi.

On last Thursday evening, the Rev. J. H. M. Chumacero, recently elected by the congregation of the Jewish Synagogue, was installed with appropriate ceremonies. The church was crowded, and the deepest interest was evinced by all present. The exercises were commenced by the choir singing the Hebrew psalm, "Baruch Haba," or "Blessed is he who cometh in the name of the Lord." As the first notes of the above psalm were sung, the President of the congregation, Mr. P. Wineman, accompanied by the minister and the Board of Trustees, entered the Synagogue and ascended the platform of the reading desk erected in the centre of the church.

At the conclusion of the psalm, Mr. N. Levin, Secretary of the congregation, officially notified the reverend gentleman of his unanimous election as Minister of the Congregation. The latter replied in a very feeling and eloquent address, at the conclusion of which an English hymn was sung by the choir. The Rabbi then chanted the evening prayers in Hebrew and read a portion of the psalm in English, the responses being made by the choir in the Hebrew language.

The reverend gentleman, descending from his position, advanced to the eastern part of the Synagogue, where the ark containing the scrolls of the law are deposited, and opening its massive mahogany doors, stood before the law in silent prayer. He then ascended the pulpit, and opening the holy volume at the Ten Commandments, made a solemn vow to maintain the principles and precepts of the Jewish faith, and to perform all the functions of his office in accordance with the law of Moses, the prophets and the sages. At the conclusion of this solemn promise the choir sang a psalm of David in Hebrew.

The Rabbi next delivered his inaugural address. He briefly traced the history of his people from the death of Joseph, and dwelt with force upon the prophecy which he made just before dying. He also dwelt upon the youth, manhood and mission of Moses, citing the miraculous incident of the burning bush when God appeared unto him and Moses answered, "Hear ye me," "Here am I."

The speaker drew a beautiful comparison between the mission of Moses and the vocation of the ministry upon which he (the speaker) had just entered. He illustrated this portion of his address by allusions to the duties pertaining to his sacred office, and by promising to respond to them in joy or affliction as responded by Moses, "Here am I." He also dwelt upon the duties both of minister and congregation; those which the minister owed to the congregation and those which are due by the congregation to the minister.

In conclusion, he offered up a solemn and impressive prayer in behalf of those present, and also an earnest invocation to God to assist him in his future ministerial labors.

The impressive ceremonies were closed by the choir singing a psalm in Hebrew, and the priestly benediction by the minister.

The Rev. J. H. M. Chumacero is a native of Amsterdam, Holland, is about twenty-three years old, is a fine Hebrew, Spanish and French scholar, and has given the highest promise of being a very eloquent pulpit orator. His father, the Rev. Jos. M. Chumacero, was appointed Chief Rabbi by the King of Holland to reside at Curacao, and has recently returned to Amsterdam, where he has been honored by the receipt of a pension from that monarch for his great learning, zeal and philanthropic acts during the prevalence of the cholera in the Dutch West Indies.

WARD No. 8.—Citizens of Ward No. 81 notwithstanding the efforts of your working committee there was a colored majority of forty-eight against you yesterday. This should not be. You have the men; make them register. Use the means at your command, and you will aid materially in the election of Hon. H. D. Lessee.

South Carolina Railroad vs. Columbia and Augusta Railroad.

ARGUMENTS OF D. T. CORBIN, ESQ., AND HON. C. O. MEMMINGER.

The hearing of the application for a provisional injunction in this case was continued before Justice Willard yesterday. The morning was occupied by the arguments of D. T. Corbin, Esq., for the complainants, and Hon. C. O. Memminger for the respondents.

Mr. Corbin made the following points:

1. As to jurisdiction: 1. Being conferred by express words, it was not to be disputed. 2. Being given to a justice of the Supreme Court, it extended over the whole State.

2. As to the rights of the complainants: 1. These rights were made exclusive by statute. 2. They were a franchise which might be taken for a public use, but could not be transferred to another. 3. The charter was a contract which the State could not violate. 4. The grant of exclusive rights in its very nature forbade the idea of entry upon the privileges by others, else the grant would contain in itself the elements of its own destruction.

3. As to the rights of the respondents: 1. They had a charter of a general power to construct a road from Columbia to Augusta, but this could not give them a right to enter upon and injure the franchise of the complainants, unless they showed a physical impossibility to go by any other route, and that was not pretended. 2. Even if they had a right to contend the land of the complainants they had not done so, and until they did, they were trespassers.

4. As to the remedy, interlocutory injunction would lie to secure a statutory privilege.

Hon. C. O. Memminger closed the argument for the respondents. He objected strongly to the assumption of jurisdiction in this matter by a Justice of the Supreme Court, both on general principles of law, and the express words of the State Constitution and the act of the Legislature. The object of his argument on this point was to show that the Justice could only have control of the case as a matter of chancery jurisdiction; that such jurisdiction was not conferred on him by statute, and that even if it were it could not be exercised by him outside of the county in which the bill was filed, unless there was sufficient cause shown. Granting the jurisdiction, he claimed it as settled law that a provisional writ of injunction would not lie unless a clear right and immediate danger of irreparable damage were both shown. On a thorough examination of the evidence, he could find none showing irreparable and immediate damage. He thought the case was clear, and that the argument ought to stop here; but still he followed up the argument of the opposite counsel, and in so doing, claimed that the privileges of the South Carolina Railroad were not exclusive, and that even if they were, it had been decided by the United States Supreme Court that they were subject to the exercise of the right of eminent domain, and that the injuries caused by such exercise could be compensated in damages; that the right to enter and use land of others, without any preliminary proceedings, was secured by the charter of the Columbia and Augusta Railroad, and it had been so decided in this State; that the matter was res judicata, and that the conduct of the two parties had been such as to preclude the complainants from obtaining a provisional writ of injunction.

Within ten days, cotton will be carried from Selma to Augusta and Charleston in through cars, and via Charleston to New York with no other change than from the cars to first class fast steamers at rates as low as possible on any existing line.

To-day the cars will run through to Rome and through rates are agreed upon by the S. A. & D. R. Co., the Georgia road, the South Carolina R. A. Co., and the Atlantic. Nothing is a matter of speculation.

The same line that carries our cotton to Charleston will bring back rice, and all freights from the West, to this city at the same rates as from the same places to Mobile or New Orleans.

The time for freights from Selma to Charleston will be about fifty hours, and not more than five or six days to New York.

At the same time the arrangements are on foot, and will soon be made, for through cars from Louisville via Nashville and Rome to Selma, with cheap freights and quick time. We have not room for comment. Our business men will see the benefit and appreciate the importance of these facts; the road is through to Rome; we are to have through cars to Charleston at once; in a short time we will have through trains to New York, and we now have all direct communication with New York.

THE THEATRE.—"Ingomar," which was played by request last night, was greeted by a good audience. Mr. Templeton, as "Ingomar," acted the barbarian to perfection, but the cynosure of all eyes was Miss Alice Vane as "Parthenia," the Greek Maiden. This play is familiar to most persons, but has always been a general favorite with the ladies, and the naïveté of "Parthenia" and the unconscious grace and beauty with which she tames the savage barbarian can never become stale. The Irish farce, "Barney the Baron," that followed was mirth provoking, and an agreeable conclusion to the performance.

WARD No. 6.—Citizens of Ward No. 61 two hundred and seventy colored majority yesterday. Bad for you. It is the biggest bet of all. Come up and register to-day and Monday, and turn the tables, so that the Hon. H. D. Lessee shall be right side up with care.

PILLSBURY NOT TO BE BRAIDED.—It was currently reported yesterday that on Thursday evening a delegation of the Republican leaders waited on Gilbert Pillsbury and offered him a sum of money equal to his anticipated two years' salary as Mayor if he would withdraw from the canvass or allow them to arrange his ticket. He declined both offers peremptorily, saying that he was called of God to rule over this people, and could not abandon his high mission. We are glad Mr
