TEMPLETON'S TROUPE arrived last evening and are staying at the Pavilion Hotel.

Sr. Andrew's Hall .- Arrangements are being made for the rebuilding of St. Andrew's Hall, on a grand scale, at an early day.

THE CITY PARK DEER,-This animal, which has been missing for several days, has been recovered and restored.

REV. PAUL TRAPIER KEITH .- A neat monument has been erected in St. Michael's churchyard to the memory of Rev. Paul Trapier Keith, late pastor of that congregation. SAILING UNDER FALSE COLORS.—A well known tive, and putting law-abiding citizens to some trouble. His career will be cut short. BOAT CAPSIZED IN COOPER RIVER .- A small

Cooper River on Saturday, but righted again without any one being drowned. OFFICIAL VISITS OF THE GRAND LODGE OF ODD FELLows .- The officers and members of the Grand Lodge will pay official visits to the subordinate Lodges during this week. WALKER'S COTTON PRESS .- This valuable cotton press has been rebuilt, under the direction of Mr. M. W. Cross, and is to be fitted up with machinery of the latest patents. The building is 126 feet front and 200 feet deep. THE BLACK SWAN-Elizabeth T. Greenfield, who has made herself somewhat notorious under the above title in the Northern States, is expected to visit this city this week, and give concerts for the benefit of the colored congregations in our city. MAGISTRATE FOR CHESTER.-The Chest'er Standard says: "W. W. Starr, Sr., formerly of Charleston, has been appointed a Magistrate for Chester County. Mr. Starr is fully qualified to fill the position, and it is generally conceded will make a good officer." FOX CHASE IN KING-STREET.—Early Saturday morning a tame fox that had strayed from with their heads covered with worsted caps -dogs, creating no little excitement. The lost Reynard was fortunately captured and restored | were the observed of all observers. The pasto his owners without injury.

THE SUPREME COURT of the State of South Carolina met in Columbia on Friday last. Messrs. C. C. Bowen, E. W. M. Mackey, and H. H. D. Byron, of Charleston, and Isaiah J. Fox. of Colleton, were examined and admitted to the bar of the Court. The Court then adjourned until Monday, November 30.

THE STEAMBHIP CAMILLA. - This fine steamship, of the Charleston and Liverpool line, of which Messrs. R. Mure & Co., of this city, are agents, is now in New York and is shortly expected in our port, where she will load for Liverpool. She will be followed by the Bos-

Rutledge, was entered the latter part of last week, and a lot of fine poultry carried off.

PERSONAL .- Rt. Rev. Bishop Lynch delivered a lecture under the auspices of the Catholic Young Men's Society, at Montreal, Canada, on the 13th instant.

Hon. D. C. DeJarnette, former member of Congress from Virginia, reached Charleston last evening and is staying at the Charleston Hotel.

General Johnson Hagood is stopping at the Charleston Hotel.

PRESENTATION OF THE FIREMEN'S TESTIMO-NIAL To-Night.—The testimonial referred to a few days ago, intended for a prominent officer of the Fire Department, will be presented tonight at the Market Hall, at half-past seven o'clock. We have been requested by the committee of arrangements to say that the hall will be open to all firemen, in pursuance of a resolution extending an invitation to the de-Hopke, F. Wagener, J. Ottman, Johan Deitz, partment generally. The articles can be seen to-day at the establishment of Mr. J. E. Spear, King-street. Mr. Fisher has done the engraving in his usual fine style.

THE LECTURE OF SATURDAY NIGHT .- South Carolina Hall was filled with a highly respectable audience on Saturday night to hear the reefit of the Widows' Home. "The Humors of Reconstruction" created as decided an effect as on Thursday night, and the lecturer had every reason to be pleased with the opinion so plainly manifested by the audionco.

Mr. Cowardin expects to return in the course of a week or ten days, and to repeat his lecture for the benefit of the Catholic Male Orphan Asylum.

AMUSEMENTS .- Charleston will not be without amusements for any length of time this winter. To-night Gates & O'Brien, in combination with Templeton, present Mazeppa with circus accompaniments, and will continue during the week. Next week we have Dan Castello's camels and circus. In January Professor Cromwell will exhibit a new patent stereopticon with dissolving views. In the latter part of January or the first of February the Parepa-Rosa opera troupe will visit the city, and they will be followed by Harry Sanderson, the celebrated pianist, and his concert company. Gilbert and Templeton will fill up the intermissions with theatricals. MAZEPPA—The Templeton Troupe.—The representation of Mazeppa on the Citadel Green to-night is to be the grandest theatrical event that has ever startled the people of Charleston. Messrs. Gates & O'Brien, who are managing the celebrated Luando Circus, will furnish the trained horses necessary for this wonderful performance, and Mr. Templeton's popular troupe will supply the actors. Every possible arrangement will be made within the pavilion for the accommodation of spectators, especially of ladies. The company have been performing in Savannah, and are thoroughly up in their parts, so that the play goes on smoothly and well, and with wonderful vraisemblance. ARRIVAL OF THE BREMEN BARK

TEMPESTUOUS VOYAGE OF FIFTY-SIX DAYS.

Eight Deaths During the Passage-List of Passengers.

This popular and widely known packet arrived off this harbor on Saturday last, from Bremen and was towed up yesterday, in charge of that experienced seaman and kind-hearted officer, Captain Weiting, who, however, was not in active command in consequence of sickness. The Gauss left Bremen October 4th for Charleston via Baltimore, having two hundred passengers for the latter and about one hundred for the former. Those that were going to Baltimore expected to settle in Wisconsin, Iowa, and other States of the far West. The Gauss left Bremen October 4, and dropped down to the mouth of the Weser, where she remained until November 6. She then set sail, the weather being fine and the wind fair, but she had scarcely crossed the English chanbut she had scarcely crossed the English channel when she encounted a severe storm, and was compelled to beat about for several days. The weather continued stormy and tempestuous, with but short intervals of fair weather, and on the 24th inst., the captain and several of the crew being sick, and the vessel entirely out of her course, in latitude 27 deg. 37 min. north, and longitude 76 deg. 15 minwest, the first mate determined to put into Charleston. On the 25th another sovere storm was encountered, but on the 28th inst. they arrived off the bar, and, as before stated, arrived in port safely yesterday, being towed in by the tug Samson, Captain Ferguson. Eight deaths occurred during the voyage, mostly of infants. The following is a correct list of the persons who died:

vulsions. Ernest Bickman, 11 months old, accidentally scalded to death with hot coffee by his own mother.

Margaretta Scloswagel, 9 months old. Christian Neils Christiansen, infant. Gustave Jauske, child.

The passengers are mostly from East Prus sia, but there are a few Danes and also some Bohemian peasants. They are generally healthy and robust, and their appearance on on the streets yesterday, with their stout figures, ruddy complexions and remarkable costumes, created quite a sensation. The women, with their heads covered with worsted caps, and especially the Bohemians with their short petticoats, red stockings and wood a shoes, were the observed of all observers. The passengers have been very hospitably received, a large crowd awaiting their arrival at the wharf, and the Gormans of our city giving them a warm welcome. Mr. John Campsen has tak in three of them under his protection until they can obtain employment, and if all others who can afford it do the same thing, on the streets yesterday, with their stout home, was chased down King-street by some and especially the Bohemians with their short others who can afford it do the same thing, nearly all of the passengers might be induced to remain in the city. They are, however, very much prejudiced against the South, having been taught to believe that it is extremely unhealthy and inhabited by negroes and half civilized whites.
