

The Custom House War--Let us have Peace.
At half-past 9 o'clock, yesterday morning, Mr. Geo. W. Clark, the newly appointed and commissioned Collector of the Port, called at the custom house upon the late Collector, Dr. A. G. Mackey, in company with Messrs. Thos. H. Bazin and H. Judge Moore. At the time of calling, Mr. Clark had with him his commission from the department at Washington, and upon entering, demanded possession of the office, stating that he had come on to perform the functions of his office, and stating that the property and his accounts could be transferred and settled as soon as convenient. Dr. Mackey refused the demand in abusive and violent language, while Mr. Clark remained smiling and perfectly unmoved. At the request of Mr. Clark at this time, Mr. Bazin went to the office of Mr. Groves, the Deputy Collector, and requested his presence. Upon which Mr. T. J. Mackey, who was present, exclaimed very indignantly that the Doctor should not allow "this man to order your Deputy. Say the word, and he shall be kicked out of the office." To which, Dr. Mackey replied with an injunction somewhat akin to the Republican maxim--"Let us have peace"--"Be quiet, Thomas, I'll attend to it." And Thomas, being thus abjured, subsided. Mr. Groves, the Deputy Collector, now came in, and upon being told by Mr. Clark that he (Mr. C.) was Collector of the Port, replied that he (Mr. G.) was Deputy Collector under Mr. Mackey, and would go out of office with him.

Mr. Clark, and ejected him from the office; without, however, using violence. During the interview, Dr. M. stated his willingness to retire, provided Mr. Clark would sign receipts in blank, so that he would have the privilege of filling them out in case anything came short, remarking that he did not suppose that Mr. C. would be such an ass as to do it. "Yes," quoth the irrepresible T. J., "he'll sign anything." To which Mr. Clark replied "that he did not suppose the Doctor was such an ass as to make so ridiculous a proposition."
Dr. Mackey also asserted that he should, before giving up his office, require a receipt of every piece of brick and marble about the building. He seemed to think that he could not be required to give up the office without receipts for the property, remarking, that he did not know but that five pipes of brandy would be in Mr. Clark's cellar before night. Mr. Clark took this coolly, remarking that he did not know the full cause of his (Dr. M.'s) removal, but that it might possibly be that the five pipes of brandy spoken of, are now in his (Dr. M.'s) cellar.
The interview thus terminated, as our informant, an eye witness, tells us. What will be the upshot of the affair it is impossible to say; it is probable, however, that Mr. Clark will await instructions from the department before taking any further steps. We can only shout with all the vehemence of which we are capable, "Let us have peace."
It may be added that the Doctor must have been in a torrent of indignation for at least forty-eight hours, since we have it on record that when Mr. Clark called upon him on Wednesday, the late Collector uttered the most abominable and abdominal damns he could command in the category of impolite epithet. He denounced the President in unmeasured terms and bitterly, saying he had neither the right nor power to remove or suspend him. He gave Secretary Boutwell a blow between the eyes, by shouting indignantly, at the top of his voice: "As for the Secretary of the Treasury, he is no gentleman, and has none of the attributes of a gentleman;" and finally wound up with the venerable Mr. Sargent, the Commissioner of Customs, by pronouncing him "An old fool, worn out in the service, who didn't know the duties of his office." The Doctor may be said on this occasion to have proved himself a veritable elocutionary breech-loader, but he may find out, before he gets through, that however loud he may explode he carries a gun that kicks both ways.

Special Notices.

A Card--Southern Life Insurance Company, Atlanta Department.
To the People of South Carolina:
The above Company was organized in 1866, in consequence of the wholesale forfeiture of Southern policies by Northern companies. The unparalleled success of the enterprise has forced several of these companies to restore their Southern policies, from the fact that they could not operate in our midst without the appearance of honesty.

We keep all our money at home to build up our impoverished country--every dollar of premium being safely invested in the State from which it is derived. The institution is purely Southern, and hence should appeal with great force to the patriotism and sympathy of every Southern heart.

It is not our purpose to make war on other companies, but to exhibit the special advantages offered by this purely Southern Company--founded on patriotism and solid wealth. Its ratio of assets to liabilities--the true test of a company's strength, is second to none on this continent--being nearly 300 to 100.

Whenever and wherever we have presented the claims of this Company, it has not only enlisted the sympathies of our people, but has also secured their hearty co-operation. We have secured 500 policies in South Carolina since the 10th of February. We number among our Directors Gen. Wade Hampton and Col. Wm. Johnston, gentlemen well known to every citizen of South Carolina. We appeal personally to the people of South Carolina to assist in pushing forward this deservedly popular Southern institution.

J. H. MILLER,
General Agent Southern Life Insurance Co.
B. W. LAWTON, State Agent.

We cheerfully recommend the above Company to the patronage of the citizens of South Carolina.

SUMMER PERILS--HOW TO ESCAPE THEM.--It will not do to trifle with the health in hot weather. Vigor oozes through the skin at every pore, and it is by physical vigor only that unhealthy influences can be baffled and repelled. The vital elements are evaporated in perspiration. Intense heat converts a man into a self-acting pump, and the moisture that is pumped out of him is derived from the well-springs of life within him. There is a great need, therefore, that these sources of physical strength should be in a condition to bear, without danger or inconvenience, the extraordinary drain. If they are not in such a condition, the individual becomes languid and low-spirited.

The main thing is to keep the digestive apparatus in good working trim; for if the stomach, the purveyor of the system, does its duty thoroughly, the liver, the bowels, the brain, and the nervous system, being duly nurtured, will be likely to do theirs. In view of these facts, it is manifest that a powerful and wholesome vegetable tonic like HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is especially required at this enfeebling season. It is the most admirable of all correctives and invigorators, and for this reason--it does not over-stimulate the system. The proportions of aperient, tonic and stimulating components are so judiciously graduated, that the processes of invigoration and purification go on simultaneously, and no undue excitement is created in the circulation of the brain. All unmedicated stimulants, however pure, excite the pulse and the nervous system. Their exhilarating effect is temporary, and when it passes off, the physical and mental depression they were employed to remove returns in an aggravated form. But this is not the case when HOSTETTER'S BITTERS are taken as a stomachic and nerve. The medicinal herbs, roots and gums with which they are impregnated neutralize the exciting principle of the rye spirit, which forms their basis, and which is, in itself, the most wholesome of all the varieties of alcohol. Beer! Beer!!
SOME dealers in this city have been in doubt that I should hold out supplying them with Beer this summer. I now inform the public that I have a large supply of old Lager Beer on hand, which I put against any Beer brought from the North, or even imported from Germany, as to purity and strength. I am ready to test it by the Beer scale.

CITIZENS' SAVINGS BANK OF SOUTH CAROLINA

AUTHORIZED CAPITAL, $500,000.
DEPOSITS OF $1 & UPWARDS RECEIVED.

INTEREST at the rate of Six per cent. per annum, (the rate paid by most Savings Banks is from Three per cent. to Five per cent. only), allowed on deposits, and payable in January and July of each year, or added to principal, and interest compounded, at option of the depositor.

Principal and interest, or any part thereof, may be withdrawn at any time--the Bank reserving the right to demand the usual notice, to wit: Fourteen days if the amount is under $1,000; twenty days if over $1,000 and under $5,000; or thirty days if over $5,000. The officers may, however, in their discretion, and in most instances will, pay without such notice. In order to pay interest to depositors, the Bank must invest its funds; and the object of the notice is to give it time to realize, when necessary, upon its investments. When desired, special interest bearing certificates will be given, payable at a designated time. The Capital of the Bank has been paid in IN CASH, and has been invested by the Directors in reliable securities.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
COMPTROLLER-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
March 1, 1869.

I hereby certify that the Citizens' Savings Bank of South Carolina, have furnished me with satisfactory evidence that the Capital of said Bank has been paid in, as required by the Act of incorporation, ratified February 12, 1869.

(Signed) J. L. NEAGLE,
Comptroller-General S. C.

Mechanics, Laborers, Clerks, Widows, Orphans and others may here deposit their savings and draw a liberal rate of interest thereon.
Planters, Professional Men and Trustees wishing to draw interest on their funds until they require them for business or other purposes; Parents desiring to set apart small sums for their children, and Married Women and Minors (whose deposits can only be withdrawn by themselves, or in case of death, by their legal representatives,) wishing to lay aside funds for future use, are here afforded an opportunity of depositing their means where they will rapidly accumulate, and, at the same time, be subject to withdrawal when needed.
