COMEDY AND MELODRAMA

Good Things In Both at Akron Playhouses Next Week.

"For Love and Honor" drew a full house at the Grand Thursday evening. A. H. Clements as Zeke Webster, a typical Vermont Yankee, made a great hit. Edith Ward, as Susie Dayton, "who saved the farm" by winning a running race, is lively and vivacious and fills her part in an admirable manner. The other members of the company are good and the liberal applause bestowed on the play Thursday night was merited. The matinee Thursday afternoon was well attended, as was also the show last night. The company appears again tonight.

Of "A Standard Article," which comes to the Colonial this evening, the Warren Tribune says: "A man! A house greeted Miss Alma Stirling in "A Standard Article" at the Opera House last night. Miss Stirling, as Lena Snider the Dutch girl, won the audience and her peculiar sayings were very amusing. Fred Wren, as Judge Comfort, with his big kind heart and rather gruff manners also captured the audience.

"Lovers Lane," the famous comedy by Clyde Fitch, will be the attraction at the Colonial theatre on Monday evening next. It is presented by William A. Brady, who finds it as popular and profitable as his other bonanza "Way Down East." The original company is offered—the one presenting it for five months in New York and 14 weeks in Philadelphia. "Lovers Lane" is a play of the Massachusetts small town, not of the farm yard and hay field. Seats are now on sale. The play opens in the little parlor of the parsonage, cheery, full of books and pictures, the sunlight streaming through the big window, and beyond a charming vista of trees and quaint houses and bright flowers. It is here that Dr. Singleton writes his sermons, and it is here that trembling and dif-

that he has ever attempted. Not only does Mr. Martin promise to bring a company of one hundred people, but claims to use a carload of ponies, horses, oxen and bloodhounds in the piece. Uncle Tom's Cabin will hold the boards at the Grand, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 15, 16 and 17, with daily matinees. A special train consisting of two coaches for the company, two for the scenery and one for the stock is required to move the attraction.

The biggest scenic production ever housed at the Grand will be seen next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, with daily matinees, when "A Little Outcast" comes to town. Mr. Geo. E. Gill, the manager, in an interview the other day, shed some light on the modern methods which have made "A Little Outcast" a nine-day wonder. Says Mr. Gill: "In 'A Little Outcast,' will arrive sensational astonishments in the matter of mechanical possibilities never dreamed of in the less informed days when gas instead of electricity predominated. When we want a hurricane with whirling, swirling thunder clouds, forked lightning and torrents of rain, we have it, and we have it right. In the old days when I was a youngster touring the provinces back in 'Merry England,' all kinds of exciting weather was brought about by the mystic aid of chopped paper 'snow,' by blue gauze and canvas seas, by burning pans of sulfurous saltpetre, and rolling dried peas in a wooden trough—occasionally enlivening this mild anger of the gods by a terrific wooden 'crash,' and a streak of phosphorus blown through a blow pipe for streaked lightning. In 'A Little Outcast,' when the elements are to be jarred—we press the button, and electricity does the rest, responding with

"FRUIT OF THE LOOM."

Men and women of taste and judgment go into ecstasies over the wonderful patterns, textures and colors which are the fruit of the loom." But there is one they rarely consider, and that is the frail and faded woman, old before her time, because necessity compels her to work under conditions, which send her more favored sister to bed and the doctor's care. "The diseases which beset the aged woman, many of them, women may in almost all cases be cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

"I had female trouble for eight years," writes Mrs. L. J. DeLong, of East College Street, Jacksonville, Ill. "Words cannot express what I suffered. I could not eat, and I was so weak that I could not get up. Friends urged me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. When I commenced taking this medicine, I weighed twenty-five pounds. Now I weigh one hundred and fifty-five pounds. I was so weak from day to day and long for death to come and relieve my suffering. I had internal inflammation, a disagreeable drain, bearing-down pain, and such distress every month, but now I never have pain—do all my own work and am a strong and healthy woman."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which women wonder for weak women. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required.

IS BABY SICK? Suffering from the ill effects of Colic, Cholera, Indigestion, Diarrhea, or the pain that comes from teething? Dr. James' Soothing Syrup Cordial is a safe, never-failing remedy. Contains no laudanum—nothing that could harm a delicate child—pleasant to the taste. At true cost, 25 cents a bottle.

more kinds of weather than the average bureau could think up to earn its salary when it had no news. Our head electrician is our wizard," said Mr. Gill, lighting his cigarette—it had gone out three times—"and when, for instance, we want a grand spectacle as in our great fire scene, the result of his knowledge is a picture which is overwhelming in its vivid realism. Huge sheets of flame belch out from the buildings and sea and sky are lit up with billows of flame so real that it is hard to realize that one is not in the presence of the real thing. 'A Little Outcast' is chuck full of modern amusements, and such indescribable achievements as the theatrical world has never imagined." Just then, Mr. Gill, realizing perhaps, he had been given away a column of good "copy," hurried away to the railway offices to arrange for the transportation of his company to the next town.

On next Saturday afternoon and evening, Messrs. B. E. Forrester and Mittenthal Bros. will present for the first time in this city, "A Desperate Chance" at the Colonial theatre. The piece is from the pen of Theodore Kremer, the well known melodramatic writer. "A Desperate Chance" deals with the life of the famous Biddle Bros. and is filled with thrilling situations. There is much comedy and several interesting specialties. Little Clara, probably the greatest child actress now before the public is of great interest to the children and after each matinee, the stage entrance is crowded with little ones anxious to get a glance at their little friend, and Clara is always pleased to think she has made some new acquaintances. The old horse and sleigh with which the Biddles and Mrs. Soffel attempted to make their escape on that cold February day when they were surrounded by the detectives, captured and returned to the Butler jail, will be used at each performance. The horse is growing fat and lazy over the easy time he is having as an actor touring the country in "A Desperate Chance." The sale of seats open Thursday, Sept. 18.
