CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE, March 3.—The agricultural appropriation bill, carrying appropriations of $1,000,000, was the principal subject before the senate to-day. It was passed with little opposition and is the sixth regular appropriation bill that has passed both houses.

HOUSE.—A discussion of the amendments proposed to the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill to make the offices of district attorney and United States marshal salaried ones, instead of paying the incumbents with fees, occupied the attention of the house for the greater part of the session. It was advocated by several members and opposed by none. Final action was not taken.

SENATE, March 4.—The question whether or not Henry Dupont has been legally elected United States senator from Delaware was taken up. Mr. Mitchell, of Oregon, chairman of the committee on privileges and elections, made the opening argument in favor of Dupont, which was not concluded when the matter was laid aside for the day. The house substitute for the senate concurrent resolution as to Cuba was not agreed to and a conference with the house was requested. The senate conference being Senators Sherman, Morgan and Lodge.

HOUSE.—The greater part of the day was spent in consideration of the fee and salary amendment to the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, the interest centering upon the question of fixing the salary of district attorneys of the federal courts. A message was received from the senate announcing the disagreement of that body to the substitute of the house for the senate Cuban resolution and asking a conference thereon, but no action was taken.

SENATE, March 5.—Mr. Mitchell finished his argument in support of Mr. Dupont's right to a seat in the senate from Delaware. The conference report on the Cuban resolutions was presented, the report being that the senate resolutions and agreed to them as a substitute for its own resolutions. This report was made a special order for the 9th. A number of bills on the calendar that were unobjectionable were passed and adjournment taken until the 9th.

HOUSE.—The debate on the question of fixing the salary of a federal marshal was interrupted by a violent scene, precipitated by a speech from Mr. Hartman, rep. (Mont.) resenting President Cleveland's remarks in a recent speech in which he spoke of "corrupt and unsafe states and undesirable territories" in the west. Mr. Hartman denied the right of the president to insult these sections of the country and the citizens thereof. Discussion of the fee and salary amendment to the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill occupied the balance of the session.

HOUSE, March 6.—The legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill was passed. The fee and salary amendment was changed so as to forbid the beginning of a prosecution under an internal revenue law upon the complaint of a private citizen, except by the written approval of the district attorney, and further to forbid the appointment of any federal court officer as receiver in any case before a federal court. The post office appropriation bill was discussed. The bill making seven years' continued and unexplained absence proof of a soldier's death in cases of applications for pensions was agreed to. The senate was not in session.

HOUSE, March 7.—A bill authorizing the secretary of the treasury to distribute the diplomas and medals awarded at the world's fair was passed. The senate amendments to the agricultural bill, with two exceptions, were non-concurred in and a conference was ordered. The house then went into committee of the whole and continued its consideration of the post office appropriation bill, one page of which was disposed of before they adjourned. The senate was not in session.
