SOMETHING ABOUT SOUPS.

In a meal where soup begins the dinner and the dishes following are substantial, the soup should be clear light and hot, but not necessarily nutritious. But in meals where the soup is to form the main dish of the family it should be nutritious in character.

To make stock use bones left from steaks, roasts and poultry or the liquor in which they have been boiled; keep in the ice chest. They may be added to from day to day. The bones should be cracked so that all the marrow may be dissolved. Cover the bones and any meat with cold water and simmer gently for several hours. Skim and at the end of the third hour add any flavorings such as herbs, any of the onion family, cloves, carrot, turnip, celery tops, bay leaves and a teaspoonful of peppercorns to each quart of soup. The delicate flavor of soup is ruined if it is boiled, as the volatile and other flavors pass off in the air. The stock is strained at the end of four hours and set away to cool so that the surplus fat can be easily removed. To clarify stock allow one egg white with the shell for each quart of stock. Crush the shell and heat it with a little cold stock and the egg white until well mixed. Add to the stock just brought to the boiling point and then strain through cheesecloth wrung out of cold water. In summer stock will keep better with no vegetable flavorings added.

Concomme.—Take a shin of beef and a shin of veal, wipe with damp cloth. Cut all meat from the bones. In a bottle add one teaspoonful of caramel and a teaspoonful of sugar to brown, then add half a cupful of chopped onion and the same quantity of water. Cook five minutes, then add the bones which have been well cracked, the veal, and cover with five quarts of cold water. Let simmer and follow the above directions and finish in the same way.

Either beans or peas make a most nutritious soup. Cook the vegetables until very soft, with an onion. Put them through a sieve and bind with flour and butter cooked together. Add milk and serve well seasoned and hot.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

"In a large part the insubordination of servants arises from the growing sense of unwillingness to be directed and governed by the individual. It is the spirit of the age which rebels against the dictates of the individual, but submits freely to the despotism of an organization."

SEASONABLE DISHES.

When fresh fruits are plentiful one need not ask what to have for dessert, for there is nothing more acceptable than a dish of fresh berries, or fruit of any kind. They are more wholesome than rich pastry and puddings.

Strawberry Fluff.—Put one egg white, one cupful of powdered sugar and one cupful of strawberries into a deep bowl. Whip with a Dover egg beater until the mixture is stiff enough to stand up and keep its shape. It will take about twenty minutes' beating. Serve in sherbet cups with a thin crustard for a sauce.

Scalloped Celery.—Cook two cupfuls of celery in water to cover, until tender. Save one cupful of the stock; add to it one cupful of milk. Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter; add two of flour and when well mixed add the milk and stock. Cook until smooth and thick; season well with salt and pepper, then add the cooked celery and one-half cupful of cheese. Line a buttered baking dish with buttered bread crumbs, pour in the celery and sauce and cover with crumbs. The dish may be prepared in layers of celery, cheese and sauce, if preferred.

Nut Timbals.—Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter; add one cupful of soft bread crumbs and three-quarters of a cupful of milk; cook until smooth. Add one cupful of nut meats, one tablespoonful of minced parsley and two eggs well beaten. Season with salt and pepper. Fill buttered individual molds two-thirds full, set in a pan of hot water and bake 20 minutes, covered with a buttered paper.

Chicken a la Reine.—Melt four tablespoonfuls of butter; add three tablespoonfuls of flour, and when well blended add three cupfuls of milk; stir and cook slowly; then add two cupfuls of dried chicken, one-half cupful of mushrooms, one cupful of sprigged tips, one-fourth cupful of pimiento-mixed, one teaspoonful of salt, a dash of mustard and paprika. Keep over hot water until ready to serve.

Youngstown, O., July 28, 1920. Mr. Charles Fowler, The Mahoning Dispatch, Canfield, Ohio.

My Dear Fowler:—Will you kindly call attention to your readers that I am a candidate for Judge of the Common Pleas Court of Mahoning county. You know a fourth judge is to be elected this fall. The election is to be non-partisan, therefore my name will not appear on any ticket in the primaries, August 10, 1920, but will be on the separate non-partisan ballot, November 2, 1920.

My parents settled in Youngstown in the early seventies and I attended the Youngstown public schools and Raven high school. Later graduated from Harvard College and the Harvard Law School. Was admitted to the Bar of Ohio and shortly thereafter was elected Judge of the Criminal Court of Youngstown. The Municipal Court has jurisdiction to the amount of $1,000.00 and also certain equity jurisdiction, so that in many respects it resembles the Court of Common Pleas.

Soon after my admission to the Bar of Ohio, I married Miss Maude Miller. She was the daughter of your old friend, I. B. ("Bart") Miller, formerly mayor of Youngstown. We have four children, Herman 3rd, Barclay, Maude Janet and Pauline.

I feel that I have the experience, training and qualification for this new office. Will you be so good as to request your friends on the farms to give me and my good wife a few minutes of their valuable time as we pass among them from now until election day.

Thanking you and wishing you and your prosperous Mahoning Dispatch still more good fortune, I am,

Yours very sincerely,
HERMAN BRANDMILLER, JR.

Candidate for Judge of the Court of Common Pleas on non-partisan ticket, November 2, 1920.
