

The Union.

Junction, Kansas, March 26, 1864.

Captain Dunlap, of Company H, Fifteenth regiment, is now in command of Fort Riley.

Miss Edwards opened a select school in this place last week. She has over twenty scholars.

A son of Mr. George H. Purinton's, a lad of eight or ten years, broke his arm by a fall last Saturday.

THE CHEMICAL SALARATUS is having a great run all over the country. Every body uses it. For sale by Streeter & Strickler.

Wm. A. Phillips, of Salina, is the member of the National Republican Committee for the State of Kansas.

"OLD CHARLIE," now owned by Samuel Orr, will stand at Junction City during the season. Old Charlie was sired by the celebrated Kentucky Archer, dam by Imported Margrave.

Mr. Karnan's house caught fire Friday morning from a defective flue. Every body was on the spot in a few minutes with their buckets, and notwithstanding a strong wind, the fire was stopped, but little damage being done.

Thanks to Senator Pomeroy for several bound volumes of the Congressional Globe. Also to Senator Lane, Representative Wilder, and Mr. F. N. Blake for numerous public documents, speeches, &c.

Lieut. W. D. Mitchell, of this place, was slightly wounded in the celebrated Smith's raid into Mississippi. The ball struck something in his left pocket and glanced to the right, making a slight wound in the groin. Everything in both pockets was shattered to pieces. In the retreat, his regiment occupied the rear, and was often compelled to stop and give battle, during which he several times narrowly escaped being captured.

In grossness and beastliness the White Cloud Chief excels. In a late number, much space is given to abuse of those who do not bow the knee to the bogus Senator. Such bar-room blackguardism is indicative of the loafer, and a bad reflection upon the morals of its patrons. Would decency permit, a re-publication would convince thoroughly every one of the rottenness of a cause which required such backing.

MONK BRIDGES AND ROADS.—We find the following cheering item in the Washington Republican, and we trust this summer may witness a consummation of it: "Kansas is an enterprising State, and to-day proposes, by an expression of her will in the Senate, to have the United States Government build a bridge at Fort Riley, and aid in the construction of a road via Fort Riley to Fort Larned." This means that the memorial presented by Senator Strickler, and adopted by the State Senate a few days before its adjournment, has been presented in the United States Senate by Senator Lane.

A POLICE ITEM.—S. M. Strickler was brought before His Honor, Mayor Hall, last Tuesday, for having appropriated the City Park to his own use as a cattle yard. It appears that the culprit is extensively engaged in buying up cattle, and having no place to keep them, had the audacity to turn them into that beautiful Park! This so excited the ire of the City Dads that he was arraigned forthwith. The thought of the beautiful walks, the ornamental cedars, and the iron railing, all being "chawed up," doubtless biased "the Court" against him. He desired to plead his own case, but "the Court" told him to "dry up," and instantly mulcted him in the sum of five dollars.

HOW THEY LIE.—The Carney sheets are hard at work endeavoring to prove that all the papers which oppose the swindle are dependant upon General Lane. In order to do this they must lie without stint. For instance, the Leavenworth Bulletin, in commenting upon an item from this paper, says "one would hardly suppose the author of the above was getting $100 per month" by some government office. There is nobody directly or indirectly connected with this paper who hold an appointment through the influence of Lane, or any one else. The fact is the author of the item alluded to does not even get a jour printer's wages. Another is, that S. D. Houston owns the Union, and "he being a Lane stipendiary it must howl accordingly." Unfortunately for them, Houston possesses no such property.

IT PAYS.—Last fall in a conversation with Mr. Samuel Cutter, of the Frontier Nursery, we learned that he was much depressed in spirits because of his ill-success with his Nursery. He stated that he had spent four or five years in cultivating a first-class Nursery, but that he could not sell sufficient to pay him for digging them. We advised him to advertise. He was positive he could not do business enough to pay such a bill. We urged, and he reluctantly contracted such a debt. We met him the other day, and from the delight he manifested we judge he thinks advertising the staff of business, as bread is of life. He is now kept constantly busy, and many of his patrons are growing because they have lost two or three years growth of trees. One man came a hundred miles after trees, who remarked that he did not know there was a Nursery in the country until he saw it advertised in the Union.

We have another instance. A few weeks ago we noticed in this column that Gross & Thiele would in a few days receive a quantity of chairs, direct from Cincinnati. By some cause the chairs have been detained, and Mr. Gross expresses himself as "anxiously almost to death" by calls for these chairs. We will notice the arrival of the chairs.

ADVERTISE!! Advertise!! Barnum's equal never existed, and he attributes his success to printer's ink. It not only pays the advertiser directly, but it lets people at a distance know that there is somebody in the country, and that something is being done.

A good story is told of an Irishman who went to see the gorilla in the cabinet of Amherst College. Not knowing the difference between that animal and the guerrilla, he remarked on seeing it, "Good God! if I have got such soldiers as that of South, I ain't going to war."

OBITUARY.
DIED.—At Fort Riley, March 20th, of pneumonia, Dr. F. P. DREW, in the 36th year of his age.
This announcement will carry sorrow to many hearts. By several years of medical practice in the neighborhood of Junction City and Fort Riley, and as Army Surgeon at the Fort, he had acquired a high and increasing reputation.

To a mind well disciplined by literary and scientific culture, he added the gentle courtesy, the kindly sympathy, which flow from a generous heart, a self-sacrificing, earnest spirit. When the state of his own health even demanded repose, he was never induced to turn a deaf ear to the call for aid from the most humble child of want and sorrow. His own ease, his health even, were of no account compared to what he esteemed the claims of duty to the suffering.
In his far-off New England home, an aged father, himself a physician, mourns an only son, thus suddenly cut off in manhood's prime, from a wide sphere of usefulness. We would not lift the sacred veil which screens the sorrow of the domestic fire-side, where a young widow hides her grief.

He who wounds can alone assuage the deep anguish of such a bereavement, though the sympathy of many kindly hearts is given. [Com.]

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.
HEADQUARTERS 10TH REGT. KAN. VOL. INF.,
Alton, Illinois, March 13, 1864.

Editors Union—Enclosed herewith for publication you will find an order announcing the death of Lieut. Gregor Wohlwend, of Company G, Tenth Kansas Volunteer Infantry, also some resolutions passed by his brother officers as a tribute of respect to his memory. As he was well-known to many of your readers, no eulogium is necessary from me. I will only say that early in the summer of 1861 he enlisted as a private soldier of the same company in which he died (then called Co. H, 4th K. Vol.) and was for meritorious conduct in the field promoted regularly through the different grades of rank to that which he held when death called him hence. He was engaged in the following actions: Osceola, Locust Grove, Newtonia, Old Fort Wayne, Cane Hill, Prairie Grove and Van Buren.

MILITARY STATION OF ALTON,
March 11, 1864.

Special Order, No. 58.]
Death has seized another victim from amidst our comrades.

Lieutenant Gregor Wohlwend, 2d Lieutenant Co. G, 10th Kansas Vol., sleeps his last sleep. Entering the service as a private soldier, his meritorious conduct earned the good opinion of his superior officers, and obtained for him, through them, the commission and rank of a lieutenant.

His history as a soldier is written in the hearts of his comrades. The bloody field of Prairie Grove, in Arkansas, when our little band, at the close of day, sustained the murderous onslaught of Hindman's whole army, when every where else the battle was lost, will not be forgotten by those who survived it. Our departed comrade's true and unselfish devotion to his adopted country is worthy our imitation.

While we deplore the necessity which has taken us from the glories of the field, to be stricken in this charnel house—the Alton Military Prison—yet let us be governed by the consideration that to die for Country is a soldier's passport to a happy future. Far sweeter would be this death, breasting the storm of battle. Yet, amidst the sick, the dying and the dead, let us elevate our thoughts and hearts to a purpose consecrated simply to the service of our country, that when our day of sleep arrives, it may be one of a quietude undisturbed by remorse.

Let our comrade then sleep. Kind hands will bear him to the grave. The regiment to which he belonged will turn out to his funeral. All business of the station will be suspended from 10 to 12 o'clock, A. M., to-day. Officers and men on duty or extra duty, except the ordinary guards, will be present. Parade will be formed in front of Regimental Headquarters. Officers will wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.
WILLIAM WEER,
Col. 10th Kan. Com'g Station.

[The resolutions are not published for want of room. Manhattan Independent please publish.]
