EVERYTHING READY FOR TOMORROW'S BIG GAME

New Mexico Eleven Put Thro' Light Signal Practice Yesterday; Men Fit For Supreme Test.

felted to them last year on account of the New Mexico Varsity's inability to appear for the contest.

While the game tomorrow afternoon will be for blood, it will be a contest

HUNTER AND STROME, Guards.

Between sides that respect each other, and who would not stoop to do a little thing in order to win.

U. N. M. Rah, Rah.
U. N. M. Rah, Rah.
Hoorah! Hoorah!
U. N. M. Rah, Rah.

With this cheer as a keynote, Chief Cheer Leader Miller had a big squad out yesterday training them for the support they must give the Silver and the Red, at the game on Turkey day. With a vim did the students take hold of the yell and echoes reaching the football men out on the field where they were practicing gave them new determination and new ambition to win for the honor of the "Old Coll."

In every picture show in the city the pictures of the rival teams will be shown before the game is called. Last night the Crystal had a full complement of football pictures of both New Mexico and Arizona and amid many handclappings threw the pictures on the screens. Today and tonight the Pastime will show the pictures.

Captain Hutchinson had his squad out yesterday giving them light signal drill and teaching them for probably the last time this year how to run down the field quickly and smother the catcher of a punt. In this work Woodbridge showed up well as did also Hill, the quarterback.

Allen, center, and Bolt, substitute, are among the good men who are waiting a chance to go against the Arizona boys and show what sort of mettle they are made of.

Hunter, feeling like a young colt, turned out to pasture, yanked holes in the opposition yesterday with reckless abandon, and Strome seemed possessed of a perfect football head in making his way through the line and in keeping away from the other fellow when necessary.

That the game will be the best ever played in Albuquerque goes without saying. Should the University of New Mexico decisively defeat Arizona by a larger score than the agricultural college has done, there is nothing that can keep them from claiming the southwest championship.

BOTH WOLGAST AND WELCH ARE EAGER FOR THEIR FIGHT

Los Angeles, Nov. 28.—Not since the days of big fist encounters at Reno, was a proposed meeting between two men in the ring caused so much talk in sporting circles in Los Angeles as the Thanksgiving match between Ad Wolgast, champion of the lightweights, and Freddie Welsh, the English challenger.

Each man has many supporters. This is due, experts say, to the splendid physical condition of both Wolgast and Welsh.

"Never before did I see so good, so confident," sums up Welsh's opinion of himself, and "Wolgast will be unable to hit me hard enough to win and I am sure my speed and boxing ability will return me the winner," is the way Welsh looks at the result.

Odds on the match today were quoted at 10 to 7 in favor of Wolgast, and in some instances 2 to 1 has been secured.

The battle for the light-weight championship will be called at the Vernon arena at 3:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

RACE RESULTS.

At Jamestown, N. Y., Nov. 28.—Today's results were run on a track that was a sea of mud causing the withdrawal of many entries. Only two more days remain before the close of the meet, and horsemen now are turning toward Columbia, S. C., for next month's racing. Results:
First race, seven furlongs, Bee, won; Dorothy T., second; Louthly Lady, third. Time: 1:32.
Second race, six furlongs: Blindara, won; Clem Beachey, second; McLeod, third. Time: 1:24 2-5.
Third race, mile: Dixie Knight, won; Roebuck, second; Jacquellina, third. Time: 1:45 2-5.
Fourth race, mile and seventy yards: Husky Lad, won; Bourbon Beau, second; Jacquellina, third. Time: 1:47 4-5.
Fifth race, six and a half furlongs: Cooney K., won; Anavri, second; Joe Gatten, third. Time: 1:23 3-5.
Sixth race, mile: Harvey F., won; Springmas, second; Semiquaver, third. Time: 1:42.

INMATES OF UNDERWORLD PAID PROTECTION MONEY

Chicago, Nov. 28.—Investigators today told the city civil service commission details of the payment of "protection" money by denizens of the underworld to those who pretended to represent the police.
An affidavit from a resident of the restricted district was read, relating his experiences in being forced to pay money to a man posing as the boss of the underworld.

IMPERIAL SUCCESS REVIVES SPIRITS OF DYNASTY

NEW PREMIER MAY YET SAVE CHINA

If Yuan Shi Kai Escapes Assassination He Is Expected to Prevent Overthrow of Throne By Rebels.

- NANKING SURRENDERS.
- Nanking, Nov. 28.—The revolutionary troops entered the four gates of the city of Nanking early this morning.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Peking, Nov. 28.—Han Yang has been occupied by the imperial forces which crossed the Han river twenty miles above that place. Wu Chang has made a provisional capitulation and it is evident that the government is getting a strong hand in that part of Hu Pei province, where a few weeks ago the rebels seemed to have supreme control.

It is not believed that the rebels will surrender as they fear slaughter, but will prefer to take chances in flight in the open country.

The rebels yesterday endeavored to obtain the terms offered by Yuan Shi Kai three weeks ago, but it is reliably reported that Lieutenant General Fang Kwo, commander of the imperial troops at Hankow, has refused.

The foreign settlements suffered considerably. Hankow consular reports say it was a foregone conclusion that the imperialists would win if they attacked seriously because of their superior organization.

During the attack every position was heavily shelled. The imperialists numbered probably 30,000 modern drilled men. The rebels were for the most part volunteers, poorly equipped in comparison to the imperial forces.

Two days ago Premier Yuan Shi Kai's position seemed helpless. He was deserted by former followers upon whose help he counted. Both Chinese and foreign residents in Peking believed the dynasty was on the verge of abdication. Friends urged the premier to capitulate; others feared his assassination endangered so persuade him to take refuge in the foreign concessions at Tien Tsin.

Today Yuan Shi Kai is still a one-man government, combining in himself both legislative and executive powers, but it is now expected the man recently appointed to the cabinet will come to Peking promptly.

The premier removed suspected officers, encouraged others and rewarded the soldiers with gifts of money in spite of the treasury's plight. He even sent Manchu troops away from the capital to the front, and he is now sending reinforcements to Pukow opposite Nanking as well as to Hankow and Shan Si.

If the premier were able to obtain a foreign loan he would control the situation. The opinion, however, is held that the revolution is by no means ended.

CRISIS REACHED IN BLOODY REVOLUTION

Shanghai, Nov. 29.—The great crisis in the revolution has been reached. The overwhelming defeat at Han Yang came unexpectedly to the revolutionists and their sympathizers south of the Yangtze. Even the radicals admit that the revolution is held together by a slender thread.

Wireless reports from Hankow indicated that it was comparatively quiet around Hankow and Wu Chang yesterday. The gates of the latter city were closed and it could not be told what was transpiring inside. It is reported that big reinforcements came to join the rebels, but the loss of the arsenal and the resultant shortage of ammunition is fatal.

All eyes are turned on Nanking, where General Chang holds out. He is surrounded on every side and escape is impossible, unless the reinforcements promised by Premier Yuan Shi Kai by way of Pu Ko, reach him in time, which is not improbable.

General Chang is favored by the strength of the walls and gates and the heightiness of the revolutionary guns.

The fire from Tiger Hill occupied by the rebels, was directed last evening against the north gate of Lion Hill. The imperial guns replied feebly. A well authenticated statement asserts that the rebels expect that the gates will be opened at a given signal, but there is reason to believe that General Chang discovered the treachery in time to prevent this. Chang's troops will still occupy one position on Purple Hill.

This was attacked by the rebels during the night. The rebels also attacked several of the gates but ineffectively.

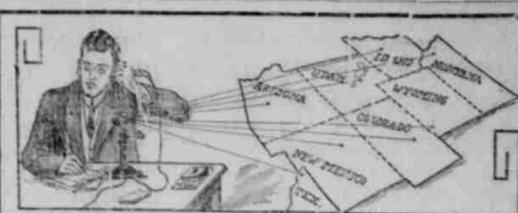

The fact that the fleet has not taken part in the bombardment is regarded as of great significance. It would not surprise observers to see the dragon flag re-hoisted on the ships at any time, in which event the revolutionary cause would likely lose.

The situation would then become dangerous because of the disappearing millions, many of whom are on the verge of starvation, who were promised freedom from taxation and the absolute elimination of the Manchu dynasty.

ROOSEVELT CHEERED IN NEW YORK PLAY HOUSE

New York, Nov. 28.—There was only an echo tonight of the rioting which accompanied the performance of "The Play Boy of the Western World" here tonight. Shortly after the start at the scene considered most objectionable by those who thought that it libelled the Irish race, a stream of hisses was again evoked.

The burst of applause that came simultaneously, however, practically counterbalanced the condemning demonstration.

DEFENSE CONTENTS STOKES LOVED MISS GRAHAM

Tell-Tale Letters Written By Millionaire Horseman Introduced to Prove It Was He Who Forced Attention.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)

New York, Nov. 28.—W. E. D. Stokes, the millionaire horseman, was put under cross-examination today when, after an intermission due to the necessity of picking a new juror to fill the place of the one dismissed for talking indiscreetly about the case, the case of Ethel Conrad and Lillian Graham, the show girls, charged with attempting Stokes' life by shooting, was resumed. The testimony previously taken was read for the benefit of the new juror.

Robert M. Moore, the girls' attorney, questioned Stokes further concerning letters he had written to Miss Graham, his purpose being to show that instead of the girl "chasing him," as Stokes had alleged, he was really in love with her.

"The most crushing part of your letter was when you asked me to give your love to Clarence," the attorney quoted from one of Stokes' letters, written in Chicago, in 1906.

"That was a joke," the witness explained. "Clarence was an old man about 67 or 68."
"Don't touch beer, wine or liquor," he wrote. "It will ruin your profession."
