Trinidad, Colo., Sept. 24.—So far the strike has been quiet and orderly, meetings being held today at Segundo and Ludlow at which both Frank Hayes and Mother Jones addressed the miners. About a thousand were present at each meeting.

While the city is crowded with people, many are here to attend the second county fair.

Frank Hayes, upon his return from Ludlow tonight, stated that 95 per cent of the miners in Las Animas county are out. This is denied by General Manager Welborn of the Colorado Fuel & Iron Co., and General Manager W. A. Murray of the Victor American Fuel company.

The Colorado Fuel & Iron Co.'s headquarters stated that every camp was working with nearly a normal force with the exception of Starkville, where there is a complete tie-up.

At the miners' headquarters they stated that they were still waiting for a joint conference.

The sheriff's office states tonight that at the first outbreak of any violence, all the saloons in the county would be closed at once. There have been no demonstrations of any kind thus far.

STRIKE SITUATION REMAINS UNCHANGED OVER DISTRICT

Denver, Colo., Sept. 24.—The strike situation in this section early today remains unchanged. The Oil operators, the Peerless and Cortez, are firm in the stand originally taken, not to accede to the miners' demands, while about one hundred men employed by the Tobin, Thomas and Patterson mines are holding a meeting tonight to decide on the question of returning to work tomorrow, pending the signing of agreements in which the companies promise to comply with their requests.

Seven strike-breakers who arrived from Pueblo late today, were persuaded to join the union. Efforts were made today to keep the mines in operation, but without success as there were not enough men to handle the machinery.

NOT MORE THAN HALF OF EMPLOYES QUIT WORK

Denver, Sept. 24.—With Ethelbert Stewart, commissioner of the federal department of labor, in Denver investigating the coal strike situation with a view to preparing a peace agreement, and with the activity of the state militia in preventing disorder in the coal camps, efforts to stop the United Mine Workers' walkout in Colorado are making little progress tonight.

Governor Ammons said late today that he had received reports from all parts of the state and that from these reports he was convinced that less than 50 per cent of the miners obeyed the strike order.

Mr. Stewart had an informal conference with Governor Ammons this afternoon, but no course of action was decided upon. He stated that he was at present merely making an investigation to determine the exact conditions. "After I have found out all that I need to know, I hope to be helpful in bringing peace," he added. "Any mediation brought about by the department of labor will be purely voluntary; there is no law under which we can force either side to agree to anything."

Governor Ammons said tonight that the state administration was watching the situation closely, with a view to preventing any disorders. "This is all we can do at present," he explained. "In fact, I think it is all any one can do. I tried for six months to prevent this strike but apparently it had to come.

"I think the local peace authorities have the situation well in hand, and at present there is nothing that even remotely suggests the use of the state militia. However, I propose to prevent disorders in any case. I have told both sides this, and they both know I mean what I say."

President J. C. Wellborn, of the Colorado Fuel & Iron Co., said that reports had been received from two of the largest mines in the southern Colorado field saying that today they turned out 75 per cent of a normal yield of coal.

Los Angeles, Sept. 24.—A request that American refugees recently sent their families to the Yaqui valley, Sonora, be permitted to return to the west coast of Mexico aboard the cruiser Maryland, which will call there next Dec. Col. Cosgrave & was received from Lee Maltby to President Wilson today.

The letter was written to Charles E. Gilman, who was delegated by the American refugees, upon the Yaqui valley to take steps looking to their return to their Mexican homes.

SOLDIERS PATROL STREETS OF BENTON

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)

Benton, Ill., Sept. 24.—All places of business in this city were ordered closed at 8 o'clock tonight by the militia as a precaution against reprisals of the night's race rioting between American and foreign miners. Company F. of the Illinois national guard, is patrolling the streets.

Seven more foreigners were arrested late today in connection with the murder of two Americans who furnished meals to a Polish mine Saturday night, as the result of which the race trouble was broken out. Evidence thus brings the number of men held for the crime up to ten. A special guard of soldiers has been placed around the jail.

It was learned today from one of the American miners who escaped that's bullet wound from the foreigners' ambush that the attack was caused by the employers' refusal to pay after midnight.

Shakeup in Agricultural Department.

Washington, Sept. 24.—A shakeup in the department of agriculture, to eliminate duplication of work and effect economies was predicted by Secretary Houston today before the house agricultural committee. The estimate said he had discovered twenty-five unnecessary employes in one office.

GOVERNOR FELKER DEFERS ACTION IN CASE OF HARRY THAW

ne never had heard a more extraordinary argument than that advanced by Thaw's counsel that in a flagrant and fraudulent case opinion the governor of New Hampshire could and should find a reason as an excuse for dismissing the petition for a writ of extradition and for refusing to perform a duty laid upon him by the constitution of the United States.

He then quoted from decisions of the United States supreme court to show that the process of extradition covered every offense punishable by law and that the certificate of the requisting governor was all the authority, as to the facts committed, that was needed by the governor upon whom the request was made.

Harry Kendall Thaw says today in his counsel pleaded with Governor Felker not to surrender him to New York authorities who were determined to return the fugitive to the Matteawan insane asylum.

Seated only a few feet from William Travers Jerome, Thaw followed the arguments closely and when his eyes were not blinded as his headlight flare they were fixed intently on the face of the special deputy attorney general of New York as much as were the man to be convicted. At Thaw's side sat his mother and sister.

"I surely will not be confirmed," said Mr. Jerome, "but the interests of the moment is sufficient excuse for entertaining these decisions of the supreme court of the nation and of the states."

To the assertion that there was no indictment against Thaw, he replied:

"The fact is that an indictment was found and was signed, but before that indictment was filed a request was preferred by the attorney general through me, that the grand jury suspend further investigation until I could return from New Hampshire to present to them evidence concerning the instigator of this pot—a man of more importance than any one yet named in the proceedings—and it was after a conference between myself and one of the grand jurymen so minded as a committee that the entire matter was laid over."

With evidence of increased feeling Mr. Jerome then turned to the charge that he had used subterfuge and was moved by sinister motives, he said:

"Finally, let me say in reply to Judge Chase as to why the New York authorities are so anxious to obtain Thaw for the second trial, as to one. From the very hour that Stanford White lay dead on the roof garden in the city of New York—his life taken either by a murderer or a lunatic—from that time to this moment A man been and repeatedly that in the end the Thaw money would defeat the ends of justice.

"So far, it has not entirely accomplished it, but wherever this case has gone and wherever it has rested, it has left a trail of ignoble disgrace, filth and scandal behind it. Our law has been absolutely ignoble and the state of New York, sir, will not permit its justice to be defeated by the corrupt use of money. It will not prevent it and that is why the state of New York seeks back a man whom it regards as a loose and insane when influenced by his insane delusions and a vicious degenerate at other times, a men criminal in his fatal intercourse, dangerous in his every way."

"And I say, sir, so far as the attorney general of the state of New York is concerned, through me, the state of New York can pledge no course at the last evidence of good faith by saying that if this man be returned to the state of New York, he will be put on trial before a jury and by every fair and decent means that the state of New York can exert, it will exert its power to have him convicted of the crime which we believe him to be guilty."

"It will rest with the state of New York to show that the Thaw money cannot corrupt forever, although for a time it may."

"The state of New York will show that, and that, maybe why New York wants Thaw back in its jurisdiction and that sort—most gentlemen is not buncombe."

"Nor am I employed or willing to consent to be employed by any one as counsel for subterfuge."

As Jerome concluded there was a brief conference of the opposing counsel and then they replied briefly. Governor Sulzer assured that Jerome had sounded Thaw over since the death of White and Judge Chase said that the prosecution of the district attorney's office proved the contention that there was an ulterior motive behind the proceedings. Certain persons, he said, wanted to punish an innocent man.

Never during his trials for the killing of White and Thaw exhibit the emotion shown today. Throughout the hearing he gazed steadily at the face of Jerome, but once flashing under the scathing, but when Judge Chase pleaded for his release to his own hopes. Thaw's eyes filled with tears. His mother, Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw and his brother Josiah, were seated beside him throughout the day.

FEDERAL GARRISONS ARE EXTERMINATED

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)

San Luis Potosi, Mexico, Sept. 24.—Confirmation has been received of the slaughter of the garrisons at Tanzan Rees and Chamac in the state of San Luis Potosi. Only one federal officer is said to have escaped. The federals at Tanzan Rees numbered thirty-five. They fought until their ammunition was gone and then charged the rebels with bayonets. At Chamac where the number of deaths is believed to have been largest, they fought to the last man. The station agent at Laguna Seca and his assistant, were lined up to be shot, but were saved by an elderly rebel officer.

The object of these attacks is not apparent. The railroad was not damaged and trains are running, although from twelve to thirty hours late.

SENTENCE COMMUTED AFTER SEVEN YEARS

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)

Sacramento, Cal., Sept. 24.—After living seven years in the death cell of San Quentin prison, evading the hangman's noose through the destruction of court records by the San Francisco fire, August Oeler, today escaped the extreme penalty for the murder of his wife. His sentence was commuted to life imprisonment by Governor Johnson. Oeler was convicted in 1906.

When the San Francisco fire destroyed the papers of appeal the case was forgotten. A niece of Oeler's wife noticed his name in the department of prison pins and the discovery led to his re-sentence. The governor intervened. Yesterday Oeler's chance of appeal was lost.

MR. BRYAN RESENTS CURIOSITY AS TO HIS FINANCES

Secretary of State Refuses to Endorse Statement That He is Supporting Many Missionaries.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)

Washington, Sept. 24.—Secretary of State Bryan says he doesn't mind discussing the resources of income, but he thinks it is going a little too far to ask him to make public a detailed account of his private expenses. A speech by Senator Warren, defending the secretary's statements lecturing in which the senator said Mr. Bryan was supporting mission students in Japan, brought many inquiries today. The secretary issued this statement:

"We are not educating any boys in Japan. A Japanese student lived with us for about two years, but returned to Japan in 1904. Senator Warren's remarks probably refer to students whom we have assisted in other parts of Asia, but I do not consider it necessary to discuss the matter. I have disposed of the income, but I am not yet convinced that the public requires me to discuss with solicitation which I see fit to make a family exhibit.

"I may add that I answer these questions with reluctance and with the feeling that newspapers and those who ask questions through them are more or a matter of curiosity than a wish to know of my private affairs."

BUSINESS MEN SEE DEFECTS IN NEW BANKING BILL

Charles W. Harrington Tells Senate Committee of Inadequacy of Measure For Needs of Interests.

Washington, Sept. 24.—Charles W. Harrington read a lengthy statement before the senate banking committee today to show that under the proposed system the banks of the northwest would not have available sufficient funds to handle the farmers' products during the fall and winter months.

P. E. Conniton said that in the business of manufacturing farm implements, he found it necessary to borrow money six times running from four months to one year, in order to accommodate the purchasers, and for that reason the "ninety days" provision of the bill would make the present loan system impossible to him.

He asked that the provision of the bill allowing the rediscount of paper running up to six months when secured by export of agricultural products be "stuck immobile against domestic business."
