

ALBUQUERQUE MORNING JOURNAL.

THIRTY-SIXTH YEAR
VOL. CXXIX. No. 6.

ALBUQUERQUE, NEW MEXICO, MONDAY, APRIL 6, 1914.

Daily by Carrier or Mail 60¢
a Month, Single Copies, 5¢

MUCH ORATORY SCHEDULED FOR SENATE DURING COMING WEEK

Leaders Line Up for Struggle on Repeal Bill, With Both Parties Sharply Divided on Issue Involved.

LEASING MEASURE TO BE REPORTED TO HOUSE

Trust Legislation Expected to Take Form Soon and Be Pressed to Completion by Administration.

Washington, April 5.—With the scene of activity on the issue of Panama to come, the opposition shifted to the Senate after the triumph of the administration in the house last week, and remains in the formative stage for the final struggle in the great legislative controversy.

Formal consideration of the bill by the Senate will be taken up Tuesday by the committee on interstate canals, of which Senator O'Gorman, leader of the democratic opposition, is chairman. Besides the house bill, on which President Wilson and his adherents propose to stand, the committee will have before it various amendments and proposed compromises and these will be discussed during the week before an informal report is made to the Senate.

Oratory to Be Extensive.

While the committee in the Senate will continue in the Senate, leaders in the fight do not expect much to change any water, but it is deemed that there will be a flood of oratorical effort that will fascinate in length and intensity the twenty-hour debate on the bill in the Senate.

No one in close touch with the situation would "predict" how the controversy in the Senate might continue but the most optimistic pronouncements of repeat do not look for a vote for three weeks. The repeat and attendant measures will be in committee at least a week and general debate cannot begin until a report of a motion is offered to discharge the committee from further consideration of the bill.

Leaders of Strength.

Senators Huie Smith, of Kentucky, and Owen of Oklahoma, are in full the administration forces in the contest. From the republican side they will be aided by Senators Bush, Lodge and Mcumber; democratic opposition forces will be supported by Senators O'Gorman of New York, Chamberlain of Oregon and Ashurst of Arizona. On the republican side Senator Gallinger, the object's leader, will direct opposition to the repeat and such stalwarts as Senators Peirce and Oliver are planning to consolidate the republican vote against repeat in so far as it is done.

Little general legislation is expected in the Senate until this all-absorbing issue is decided. The house will debate itself this week to put through the delayed appropriation measure. The legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill is now pending; general debate will be started probably Tuesday or Thursday on the second bill, and there are numerous other supply bills awaiting action. Meanwhile Representative Knowland of California is threatening to call up bills in the week his resolution asking for the state department's correspondence with Great Britain regarding Panama bills, which he has held up pending possible consideration of the subject by the foreign affairs committee tomorrow.

Leaving Bill to Be Reported.

Conservation measures are being rushed through in the house public lands committee. The committee will take up the national leasing bill Tuesday with a view to revising it and reporting it to the house within a week. It is to be hoped that possible action will be taken at this session. The Colorado oil fields problem, in which the oil men already located claim preference in the oil and gas lease because of their location, may be taken care of in a separate bill, giving them some preferential status but including them within the requirements of leases and permits. Plans for waterpower legislation are being laid by both the public lands committee and the Interstate Commerce commission.

With the Interstate trade commission bill agreed upon and to be reported early this week to the house, the Interstate commerce committee is disposed to hurry action on the proposed measure to provide federal control of railway capitalization, but the hearings may be declared closed this week and consideration of the bill, if any, may be taken care of in a separate bill, giving them some preferential status but including them within the requirements of leases and permits.

Plans for waterpower legislation are being laid by both the public lands committee and the Interstate Commerce commission.

Leaving Bill to Be Reported.

The anti-trust bills which members of the house public lands committee have agreed should be consolidated and reported as an omnibus measure to carry out the administration views for meeting the problems of the interlocking directorates holding companies, trade relations and definitions of restraints of trade, are marking time on the house side.

The judiciary committee is working over the question of what course to pursue with respect to the resolution proposing censure for Representative McDermott of Illinois and the officers of the National Association of Manufacturers on account of their association disclosed in the body investigation. The committee expects to vote on this question Tuesday and Friday a decision probably will be reached as to a report to the house upon the Park resolution, calling for an investigation of the official conduct of Justice Wright of the District of Columbia Supreme court.

House Caucus Possible.

There is talk of a house caucus on the Bartlett-Bacon bill to limit the use of injunctions, aimed particularly at alleged abuse of court authority in dealing with labor organizations. The question is before the judiciary committee and some of the foremost advocates in the house are fretting over the delay in getting the matter before the house for action.

ITALIAN PREMIER SUSTAINED BY DEPUTIES

IN MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADERS WIRE

Rome, April 5.—The government program, as outlined by Premier Salandra, Thursday, was endorsed today by the chamber by a vote of 302 to 122.

Prior to the taking of the vote the premier said that in addition to releasing the peace footing of the Italian army to 250,000 men it would be necessary to recruit 20,000 more for service in Libya. This would represent a further expense of £1,300,000 annually, in addition to £67,000,000 to be spent during the next five years for fortification and the provisioning of the home forces. These and other expenses, he said, would be met by internal financial measures.

Speaking of the demands of the employees of the state roads, who deserve a strike, the premier promised to increase the pensions by 1 per cent and also to increase the minimum wages, expending for this purpose altogether £2,500,000 additional yearly. This sum would be obtained by increasing the railway rates.

33 SENATORS TO BE CHOSEN BY POPULAR VOTE

Fourteen Democrats and Seventeen Republicans Must Submit to Verdict of People by Direct Vote.

IN MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADERS WIRE

Washington, April 5.—Thirty-three United States senators are to be elected this year by direct vote of the people in the first general test of the seventeenth amendment to the constitution.

Primary elections and conventions have been held in some states and will continue throughout the country for several months preliminary to the general election next fall.

Terms of thirty-one members of the present senate expire March 2 next, and in addition to those successors must be chosen to the late Senator Johnston of Alabama, and the late Senator Bacon of Georgia. In each of these two states two senators will be elected. In Georgia, besides a successor to Senator Bacon, there will be a contest over the seat of Senator Huie Smith, who is a candidate to replace him.

In Alabama, besides the election of a successor to Senator Johnston for the regular term beginning March 2 next, there will be a senator chosen to fill his unexpired term, as will until March 2, 1915, only in Louisiana, although Senator Thornton's term expires there will be no election because Representative Brooks had already been elected to the Louisiana seat.

Of the sitting members of the senate whose terms expire seventeen are republicans and fourteen are democrats. In the Alabama and the Georgia elections, democrats are certain to find a acceptable compromise.

The numbers are still favorable for a settlement in consent. The amount leaders and newspapers are agreed that they find nothing provocative in the speeches made by Mr. Aspinwall at Ladybank Saturday, and there is every evidence of a desire all around to find an acceptable compromise.

Terms of thirty-one members of the present senate expire March 2 next, and in addition to those successors must be chosen to the late Senator Johnston of Alabama, and the late Senator Bacon of Georgia. In each of these two states two senators will be elected. In Georgia, besides a successor to Senator Bacon, there will be a contest over the seat of Senator Huie Smith, who is a candidate to replace him.

In Alabama, besides the election of a successor to Senator Johnston for the regular term beginning March 2 next, there will be a senator chosen to fill his unexpired term, as will until March 2, 1915, only in Louisiana, although Senator Thornton's term expires there will be no election because Representative Brooks had already been elected to the Louisiana seat.

Of the sitting members of the senate whose terms expire seventeen are republicans and fourteen are democrats. In the Alabama and the Georgia elections, democrats are certain to be close.

Senators whose terms expire are:

Democrats—George E. Chamberlain, Oregon; James P. Clarke, Arkansas; Duncan L. Fletcher, Florida; Thomas G. Gore, Oklahoma; Francis G. Newlands, Nevada; Lee S. Overman, North Carolina; Benjamin F. Shively, Indiana; Ellison D. Smith, South Carolina; Huie Smith, Georgia; John Walter Smith, Maryland; Marcus A. Smith, Arizona; William J. Stone, Missouri; Charles S. Thomas, Colorado; and John R. Thornton, Louisiana.

Republicans—William O. Bradley, Connecticut; James H. Brady, Idaho; Frank B. Brundage, Connecticut; Joseph L. Bristow, Kansas; Theodore E. Burton, Ohio; U. S. Crawford, South Dakota; Albert B. Cummins, Iowa; William Dillingham, Vermont; Jacob H. Gallinger, New Hampshire; Almon G. Grinnell, North Dakota; Wesley L. Jones, Washington; Boise Penruett, Pennsylvania; George C. Perkins, California; Elihu Root, New York; Lawrence V. Stieren, Illinois; Reed Smoot, Utah; and Oscar T. Thompson, Wisconsin.

Most of the republicans whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Bradley of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

The democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

Of the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.

For the democrats whose terms expire are candidates to succeed themselves, although there have been many rumors that Senators Huie Smith of Kentucky, Gallinger of New Hampshire and Root of New York, would retire. Senator Crawford of South Dakota has been defeated in the primary fight for nomination, losing to Representative Charles Henry Smith.