

NATIONS LOCKED IN WORLD STRIFE DECEIVE SELVES

Barth Makes State-
Telling What English
Said About Germans and What Latter Told of Britons

Barth, the student of the University of New Mexico yesterday, made a statement in his recent trip to Germany and England. He discussed the matter of the subject I must assume that I must be limited to those which came within my personal observation and that my opinions are not interesting to the relation of those facts as a personal observation during my recent trip to the war zone.

The present, then, of the use of the present account will be partially in the same reason will be par-in the first place, in order that I may not be misunderstood in anything that I may say, hereafter, let me explain to you that I am an absolute neutral as any human being can be and that in this European war my sympathies are entirely, absolutely and completely with the United States of America.

I am to travel abroad in the state department to appear before the state department at Washington and relate to the state department the reasons for my recent trip to the war zone.
One must make a statement of American citizenship and be certified by the American consul before one can pass. When finally one has passed the passport, one is photographed and a passport is issued, signed by the secretary of state. This passport bears upon its face the description of the person receiving it and also a statement of the business for which he is going abroad as well as a photograph of the person to whom the passport is issued. The seal of the United States is stamped on the passport and two of the same seals are stamped upon the photograph. The signature of the owner is certified to by the secretary of state. One also to turn one's name at the passport.

When with such a passport, I went to the St. Paul, which is a steamship line belonging to the American line and which runs between New York and Liverpool. This steamer played a prominent part in the Spanish-American war, and was an auxiliary cruiser.
We had an uneventful trip until we reached the war zone, which is a line fixed by the German government for sea-going vessels and excludes about 700 miles from Liverpool.

Board of Submarine.
The St. Paul had painted on each side an immense American flag, the stars from the stern, an immense American flag and it has a large electric fan on each side which blows "St.
Paul".

On the night before we entered the war zone the Marconi operator told us that the Marconi operator was in the vicinity of the Marconi operator and that the Marconi operator was in the vicinity of the Marconi operator.

This information was undoubtedly necessary as a warning, but it did nothing to relieve the nervousness and mental strain which existed on the boat prior to the time it came to our knowledge. Two immense electric lights were applied on the flag at the stern of the boat. Immense electric lights were suspended upon poles from over the water so as to reflect on the flags painted on the sides of our boat. The electric lights were on during the night. A series of electric lights were suspended from the masts of the ship so that the entire ship was outlined and could be seen at a great distance and in the event that we were to be

HAD AWFUL WEAK SPELLS

Suffered So Much Felt She Had to Have Relief. Says Cardui Made Her Well.

Albuquerque, N. M., Oct. 19.—Mrs. M. T. May, of this place, writes: "I was not especially strong when I married, but after my marriage I seemed to get very much weaker. About two months after I was married, I began to have awful head spells. Would have had spells of headache, simply felt bad all the time, could hardly do a thing. I suffered so much pain in my left side and had the swimming of the head and dizziness and heartburn very bad. In fact, I suffered so much I thought I would die. I kept getting worse and felt I must have some relief. I had some pain and difficulty in walking."

Mr. May, who ran a store in Albuquerque, and that I take Cardui, and my husband bought me a bottle, which did me so much good that he bought me another, and after the use of three bottles I was well; was up doing my work after the use of the first bottle. It's the best tonic I know of.
I got into better health than I had before my marriage. I advise all women who have weak spells...

The thousands of letters, which come to me every year, like the above, are proof of the merit of Cardui, the women's tonic.

Millionaires Accused of Criminal Conspiracy

LEWIS CASS LEMAY

WILLIAM ROCKEFELLER
TRYING TO HIDE FROM A PHOTOGRAPH

HENRY K. MCHARDY

EDWARD D. ROBINS

A. HEATON ROBERTSON

CHARLES F. BROOKER

Twelve great millionaires, the most important of whom is William Rockefeller, worth something like $150-million, have been placed on trial before the United States court in New York City on the charge of conspiring to defraud the government of the New Haven railroad. The penalties, if they are convicted, is $5,000 fine or a year in jail, or both.

The fortunes of these millionaires are estimated as follows:
William Rockefeller $150,000,000
Lewis Cass LeMay 10,000,000
George McCulloch Miller 5,000,000
Charles F. Brooker 5,000,000
Charles M. Pratt 5,000,000
Edward D. Robins 5,000,000
Frederick F. Brewster 5,000,000
Henry K. McHardy 5,000,000
A. Heaton Robertson 5,000,000
James S. Hemingway 5,000,000
Robert W. Taft 5,000,000

The defendant are:
William Rockefeller (44), one of the three or four richest men in the world.
George McCulloch Miller (42), New York corporation lawyer, and owner of church and charity workhouses in New York.

Charles F. Brooker (40), Ansonia, Conn., multi-millionaire, president American Brass company in Connecticut, ex-member of Connecticut legislature, national republican committee in 1900 and 1912 and a lawyer in politics.

Henry K. McHardy (44), of Stanford, Cal., but a banker in New York, an ex-governor of the New York stock exchange, and owner of a large estate in Virginia, railroad director.

Frederick F. Brewster (42), New Haven, one of Connecticut's richest citizens, capitalist, bank director, in hardware manufacturing business, prominent sportsman on land and water, youngest of those arrested.

Robert W. Taft (47), Providence, R. I., cotton manufacturer, banker and financier, and with several millions, not a brother of ex-President Taft, as often mistaken.

James S. Hemingway (36), New Haven, one of Connecticut's most influential mercantile and railroad bankers, reportedly worth several million dollars.

A. Heaton Robertson (40), New Haven, lawyer, director in banks and industrial companies, ex-member of state legislature and a democratic candidate for both governor and United States senator.

Lewis Cass LeMay (44), New York one of the most prominent lawyers in the United States, close friend of late J. P. Morgan, whose will he drew, director in various railroad and industrial corporations.

Charles M. Pratt (50), Brooklyn, Standard Oil multi-millionaire, president of Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, trustee of Amherst college and donor of large gifts for education.

Edward D. Robins (38), New Haven, general counsel for the New Haven railroad system from 1904 to 1914, and therefore Connecticut counsel for the system for many years, a lawyer regarded as having few or no peers in New England on corporate law.

CZAR DENOUNCES BULGAR TREASON TO SLAV RACE

Manifesto Declares Russia Will Punish Balkan Kingdom for Alliance With Turks and Attack Serbs.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 19.—(Via London, Oct. 19, 1915, A. P.)—The following manifesto has been issued: We have made known to all our loyal subjects that the treason of Bulgaria to the Slav cause, prepared with perfidy, has the completion of the war, has now, although it seems impossible, become an accomplished fact. Bulgarian troops have attacked our loyal ally Serbia, already bleeding in the struggle against a stronger enemy.

"Russia and the great powers, our allies, tried to dissuade the government of Ferdinand of Bulgaria from taking this fatal step." Bulgaria, our ex-religious, increased but a short time ago from the Turkish yoke by the fraternal love of the Russian people, openly has sided with the enemies of the Christian faith, Slavs and Russia.

"The Russian people regards with sorrow the treason of Bulgaria, which was so near to it with these last few days, and with bleeding heart, it draws its sword against her, leaving the fate of the emperor of the Serbs to the just punishment of God."

Reverend Associate of Ohio.
New York, Oct. 19.—(Via London, Oct. 19, 1915, A. P.)—The Times, published tonight the acceptance by George McAneny, president of the board of aldermen of New York, of an offer to become associated with him in the management of the Times.

LOOK AT CHILD'S TONGUE IF SICK CROSS, FEVERISH

When constipated or bilious give "California Syrup of Figs."

Look at the tongue, mother! If constipated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.
When nervous, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, has stomachicache, sore throat, diarrhea, full of cold, also a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the food constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "Fruit Laxative"; they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

FOOD SOURING IN STOMACH CAUSES INDIGESTION, GAS

Wonder what ailed your stomach—which portion of the food did the digestion—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt, it sour, sour and upset, and what you just eat has fermented into stubborn lumps, head aches and aches, which cause indigestion and gas, and which cause heartburn, flatulence, indigestion, and a host of other troubles. You can take a little Diapensin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women to-day know that it is useless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapensin seasonally keeps this delicate organ regulated, and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your food, don't without rebellion.
If your food is a nuisance instead of a help, remember the quickest, most economical relief is Diapensin. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and gets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

TWO CHILDREN HAD CROUP.
The two children of J. W. Nix, morechant, Cleveland, Okla., had croup last winter. One was a boy of 5, the other a girl of 3 years. Mr. Nix writes:
"Both got so choked up they could hardly breathe and couldn't talk. I gave them Foley's Kidney and Cough Cure and it entirely cured them." This reliable medicine should be in every home for it gives immediate relief from colds, coughs and croup, hoarseness, inflamed throat and influenza. Sold everywhere.

SEVEN KILLED AND
SCORE HURT IN WRECK CHICKADEE, OKLA., Oct. 19.—Seven persons were killed today and a score of passengers injured when Rock Island passenger train No. 11 collided head-on near here with a freight train. None of the passengers were hurt fatally, according to physicians.

Of the dead three were women, B. C. Arnold, Virgil Southward and Sam Carroll, while the other four were men. The freight train was bound for the "hottel" and had been stopped by a signal. The freight train
