SCHOEPPE.

The Criminal Court was packed full yesterday The Criminal Court was packed full yesterday morning, the attraction being the celebrated Dr. Paul Schoeppe, alias J. B. Schulenburg, who was arraigned, as was supposed, for sentence. The facts connected with his care are familiar to the readers of The Trimers, and therefore need not be retterated.

Judge Gary occupied the bench, and said that he returned to have the case postropped until Market.

The State's Attorney made no argument.
The Court said he had found great difficulty in following what had been the practice in regard to suspending sentences, and for several terms past he had declined to suspend the sentences of men, but had followed the practice with relation to boys and women. He shought if a very doubtful exercise of the discretion of the Court, but if it was a wrong, it was committed typen the application of the defendant himself, and he should not complain of it. If the error were committed before the term closed, the Court could undo it; but the case not having been terminated—judgment not being passed—the conviction should stand as the conviction of a jury. Lapse of time rade no difference. The defendant could apply at any time to be sentenced, and, if the Court refused, he could apply for a mandamus to compel the Court to proceed to judgment. As to the prisoner's beling out on a recognizance—a recognizance continued the jurisdiction of the Court no more than it would continue if he were released without it, because the recognizance did not bring him into court; it was merely a penalty for not terming. The fact that Schoeppe's sentence was suspended without bail seemed to the Court unimportant ince the only mode of procuring his attendance, if it were desired at any time, was by issuing a capias, unless he chose to coine voluntarily. Assuming that he had been illegally brought from Maryland, it was unimportant, because, if a party was in this State, however he might have got here, and the demands of pable justice required his punishment, and the process of the Court could reach him, he add be brought in under it and punished. The crimession of one crime did not cancel another offices which might have been committed. If any complaint was to be made as to the manner in which he as brought in the set of the submodering the set of the court could reach him, the submodering the made by the State whose cilwas invaded; and if Schoeppe could make any amplaint it must be by some direct proceeding of his tra, either for damages which he had sustained or by posecution. There was no authority in the State expit the Governor, who could wipe out the offense munitited, and he thought that, the prisoner being her, if the suspension of sentence was improper in the first instance, the Court ought now to retrace its trps, and do what ought to have been dones it months sp.. The incomplete forged checks found his trunk, while not a crime, showed a differate intent and purpose to prepare himself for the emmission of a crime—educating his hand to imitate the signatures of others—and, therefore, took away all the extenuising circumstances of unpremediated gill and thoughtlessness, which had doubtless cerated to induce the suspension of sentence. He brought the only question to be determined by the Curt was how much imprisonment in the Penitentary should be accorded, and he would not determine the until he talked w

THE CUSTOM-HOUSE CORNER-STONE. A meeting of representatives of the Masonic Lodges in the city was held last evening in the hall of Apollo Commandery, in the American Express Building, to make arrangements for laying the corner-stone of the new Post-Office. Past Grand Master D. W. Cregier was alled to the chair, and Mr. G. B Hall was elected Secretary.

Mr. Gurney did not want reporters in a Masonic meeting, but they were allowed to remain.

Mr. Cregier explained the object of the meeting, which was to co-operate with the Citizens' Committee in the ceremonies attending the laying of the cornersone of the new Custom-House. What would the meeting suggest? Mr. Gurney moved to appoint a committee to nomi-sic committees to take charge of the different parts

Mr. Myers said one of the morning papers asked by this authority the Masons were to lay the cornerone. He did not know that the Masons sought the abor, but were invited to perform it.

Mr. Cregier replied that the Secretary of the Treasury intracted the architect, Mr. Mullett to invite the fittonic fraternity to lay the corner-stone. The Grand flater acceded to the request. It was well-known or hould be known by all Masons that the fraternity twee threst itself on anybody or on any public occasion. The Masons never sought to lay the corner-tone, but the Grand Master responded to the invitacion of the United States Treasury Department. It was understood that all civic organizations would take part in the procession and the general holiday.

WALKER'S TROUBLES.

WALKER'S TROUBLES.

Sumuel J. Walker related a chapter of his experience a paying usury, by his bill filed yesterday in the Cirmit Court. He states that, in the course of his checkred experience, it has been necessary at times to bor-try large sums of money. On the 17th of December, Engeschally, he was in need of funds, and applied to the George A. Woolverton, for a loan of $30,000 for this months. It was given on condition that fulrer should pay 2 per cent interest a lenth, and give good security. A note for £,000 was made by Walker, on which trectived $30,000, and $1,692,50 was indorred on the fact. Walker gave ten bonds of Joseph E. Young for $1,000 each, guaranteed by the Chicago, Danville & Vincennes Reilroad Company. In April, 1873, Young int collected over £2,500 interest on the bonds, and hagnat Walker paid $15,000. The $35,000 note was aken up in February, 1874, and two other notes given, one for $10,000 and the other for $9,943,07, and a part of the bonds returned. Complainant alleges that he has paid all but about $2,000 on the $30,000 loan and that he has offered to pay the remainder, but Woolwith the form of $10,000 and the three was $9,943,07 still doe, and threatening to sell the bonds in his hands, take scalarly advertised the three bonds in his hands, take scalarly advertised the three bonds in his posterior for sale Saturday morning. I subscribed for your paper because I read some in one in which I found some excellent pleces in favor of reformation in our country, with regard to the customs and laws of it, and without any doubt a very great necessity exists for a very great reformation, not only in this country, but in the world; and noticed an expression of Mir. C. E. Barney's address to the Farmers' Association of Illinois, in which he referred to that good time coming. I suppose it is the time Paul the Apostie wrote of, the perfect day, which will come as a thief upon all who are not looking for it, and not ready for it. Therefore, we awake up (as it were out of sleep) and begin to look for the perfect day, calling upon the Lord, be governed by His holy commandments honesity, and we shall be enabled to perceive the signs of the times. The churches are in as gross darkness as the world out of the churches; the clergy are as full of the love of the world as other craftamen, especially the most populous. We have, and have had, many professing to be reformers. But God is the former of all things, making all things. Man became ovil, deformed all things—having become under the influence of the serpent, God commenced the work of reformation, first with the fallen couple, then in the days of Nosh, then Abraham, then Moses; then by sending Jesus Christ, the Son of God. Now the fallen and deformed state of man has to be reformed of all things, or from all the deformations brought upon us by fallen and corruptible men. GENERAL NEWS. The Chicago Public Library will open, as already announced in Time Tribune, on the 1st of May. There are now about 18,000 volumes on the shelves, and new books are being ordered by wholesale.

The Corn Exchange National Bank of this city, fearing the decision of the Supreme Court, yesterday paid into the County Treasury the sum of $61,400 due on the delinquent personal property tax-list of 1871-2, being the first bank that has taken that step.

Friday evening there was a large and enthusiastic Friday evening there was a large and enthusiastic meeting of journeymen stone-cutters held at Bohemian Hall, West Taylor street, to consider the question of wages and the hours of labor. The men appeared to be very much dissatisfied with their present condition, and resolved to hold a mass-meeting on the 18th of May to give their views on both questions. A committee was appointed to meet and confer with similar committees from other organizations with a view of making it a general mass-meeting of all trades. The Committees are to meet in the office of the Workingman's Advocate on Tuesday and Friday evenings.

The Literary Society of the Chicago Christian Union, after having been denied the privilege of holding its meetings in the rooms of the Christian Union, is now in a fair way to flourish with a tenfold vigor. Many of the former members of the Society, appreciating the importance of, and benefit to be derived from, such social meetings, resolved to resurrect the Society, and for that purpose an impromptu meeting was held, and it was resolved to organize a society to be called the Chicago Lyceum, and it was also thought advisable to have such society duly incorporated. Accordingly the necessary papers were transmitted to the Secretary of State, and upon the 10th inst, a certificate of incorporation was issued to the Society. A committee was appointed to confer with the County Commissioners, and obtained permission to use the room now occupied by Judge Rogers as a court-room. The first meeting was held Tuesday, and everything passed off harmoniously, and the Society bids fair to rank among the first of Chicago literary societies. The regular meetings will be held Tuesday evening of each week, at 8 o'clock.

The suit of James Nowlan against James R. Coffey, manager of the Western Catholic, for the sum of $182$, claimed as compensation for brainwork expended on editorials for that paper, was concluded yesterday before Justice Haines. The evidence was conflicting. The compositors who were witnesses on the part of the defendant, swore that they did not remember of ever setting up one of the complainant's editorials, but they had set up local advertisements which were written by Nowlan. Justice Haines rendered a decision for the complainant, giving him a judgment for $59$, which is the amount of his salary at $25 per week from March 23 to April 11, 1874. This amount was more on account of commissions for advertisements than for "editorials" claimed to have been written by Mr. Nowlan.

THE ORIGINAL ABOLITIONISTS.

The Committee who are making arrangements for the reunion of Old-Line Abolitionists in this city on the 15th of June met at Allan Pinkerton's office yesterday afternoon, R. P. Derickson in the chair. There were present W. B. Babbett, John Jones, D. L. Hough, Allan Pinkerton, Z. Eastman, Philo Carpenter, C. De Wolf, and, as visitors, Ira Miltimore, an old settler of Chicago, N. S. Cushing, Clark Healey, representative of the Hampton student singers.

A number of interesting letters were read from persons in different parts of the country indorsing the movement, and stating that they would be present, and that delegations would attend from their heighborhoods. Among them was one from William Goodale, an anti-slavery author, now 82 years of age, and another from Frederick Brown, a brother of John Brown.

SALE OF THE OLD COURT-HOUSE.

The sale of the east wing of the old Court-House, and the comients thereof, gathered quite a large crowd on Clark street yesterday morning. Mr. William Butters wielded the hammer in his usual artistic manner. C. F. Periolat carried off the boilers at $1,900,—his first bid having been $500. The sale of the old "wing" was the not i business in order. Periolat again opened fire with a $500 bid. M. B. Bailey bid a little better, and was followed by Tom Mackin, who bid $700. The contest lay entirely between Periolat, N. S. Bouton, and Mackin,—the latter striding ahead $500 at a time. Periolat went to $7,500, and Bouton chased Mackin up to $9,750, who to $1,500, and Bouton chased Mackin up to $9,750, who to the burly North Side hotel-builder beat the iron-man by a $250 bound, and the crazy old ruin was knocked down to him at an even $10,000. Tom wiped his forehead with a red handkerchief and looked like a person of some account in the world. The general public opinion appeared to be that the cunning Mr. Mackin had bid a little too much for the heap of rubbish.

The iron fence and coping were sold to the firm of Clarke & Raffen at $450. The county will pocket $12,350 by the sale of yesterday, and will have the happiness of ridding the public square of an architectural eyesore into the bargain.

IHE PHILOSOPHICAL SOCIETY.

A meeting of the Chicago Philosophical Society was held yesterday evening at the rooms of the Christian Union. The chair was taken by Dr. Haven. After the making of announcements and the reading of the minutes of the meeting offite Saturday evening previous, Dr. Edmund Andrews delivered a highly-interesting lecture on "The Measurement of the Years of Yore." The gathering was unusually large and highly respectable, and the proceedings having been opened with grayer by the Rev. Dr. Felton, a fine piano solo was rendered by Mr. Titus. The newly elected President, O. H. Horion, Esq., then delivered an able, instructive, and eloquent inaugural address of about thirty minutes duration, in the course of which he was frequently applauded. A plano Cuet was then rendered with pleasing accuracy and taste by Mrs. G. W. and Miss E. E. McMullen. Following the above came the recitation of "Belsy and I are Out," by Miss Maggie Hobkirk, of Wisconsin, which was loudly applauded. In response to an unanimous encore Miss Hobkirk again came forward and recited, with spirit and effect, the daring, devotion, and death of the Irish heroine "Kathleen Ban Adair." Then followed a carefully prepared essay on "Truth, Envy, and Falsehood," by Mr. Titus, an exquisite balled by Miss Ella Parker, a charming song from Miss Rorke, and the reading of the Society "Budget" by the editress, Miss Mary Kennedy, all of which were given in such a way as to evoke the hearty plaudits of the sudience and stamp the entertainment of Thursday evening as the most successful, the most refund, and the most pleasurable that has yet been held under the auspices of this Association.

The Gity Collector has prepared his annual report for the year ending April 1, 1874, from which it appears that the total amount of the sums which were collectable was $10,519,197.21. This included $1,104,808.16 for special assessments and $223,873.69 for licenses. The total amount collected was $2,331,281,71. The total amount of the taxes for 1873 was $5,617,313.91, of which $524,113.51 has been collected. Taxes to the amount of $142,891,51 has been appealed.

PERSONAL.

W. B. Billings, of the Newsboys' Home, returned from the East hast evening, where he was suddenly called to attend the funeral of his wife, who has been an invalid for general years.

an invalid for several years. Bishop Chency and wife gave a very pleasant reception at their residence, Christ Church rectory, Friday evening, the occasion being the fourteenth anniversary of their marriage, and the fifteenth of Bishop Cheney's incumbency of the mission. The Bishop left this city for Peorla yesterday morning. He will administer the rite of confirmation in the Reformed Episcopal Church of the latter place this morning.

This amount was more on account of commissions for advertisements than for "editorials" claimed to have been written by Mr. Nowlan.

A gentleman by the name of H. T. Howe, who halls from Boston, has been in Chicago for the past two weeks, buying and selling produce. Mr. Howe has had shipped him from the "Hub" several car-loads of onions for this and the St. Louis markets. Last week he sold to Frederick Waterholter, at No. 102 South Water street, twenty barrels of onione out of a car-load then on their way, and upon their arrival delivered them, receiving Waterholter's check for $170 in payment; on the day the cueck was given, Howe disposed of it, and left that evening for St. Louis. After giving the check, Waterholter discovered that the barrels in which the onions were packed very smaller than represented by Howe, and thereupon he called upon the bank on which he had drawn his check, and stopped payment of the same. On the return of Howe, he was notified of the proceedings of Waterholter, and yesterday morning called on him to ascertain why he had stopped the payment of the check; rough words were freely used by both parties. Finally Howe informed Waterholter that, had he been in the city at the time payment of the check was refused, he should have thrown Waterholter into bankruptcy, and that he was a "humbug." This was more than Waterholter could stand, so he ordered Howe out of his store, advancing upon him in a threatening manner. Howe retreated towards the front door, when he espide a barrel of celery, and seizing a few bunches of that esculent he hurled them at the head of Waterholter. At this stage of the proceedings a few bunches of that esculent he hurled them at the head of Waterholter, at his stage of the proceedings a few bunches of that esculent he hurled them at the head of Waterholter, at his stage of the proceedings a few bunches of that esculent he hurled them at the head of Waterholter, at his stage of the proceedings in the decision, in the decision, and savanted the Bostonian, who subservent of the latter place this morning.

Mr. George Schneider, President of the National Bank of Illinois, called on Commissioner Hoyne yesterday afternoon with his little daughters, Mary and Josie, aged respectively 13 and 15 years, and took out passports for them, prior to their departure for Frankfort, Germany, whither they will sail about the middle of May, to join their sisters at that place, where they will remain for some years, to complete their education. The little ladies seemed to be very happy in anticipation of the eventful journey they are soon to make to their father's native land.

The New North Side Ten Store.

In the year 1865 Mr. C. Jevne opened a tea and grocery store on Kinzie street, which was moved n August, 1870, to larger and more convenient quarters, at the northwest corner of Clark street bridge. An immense trade was done up to the time of the fire, which swept the establishment out of existence. Mr. Jevne again started, at Nos. 14 and 16 South Halsted, where he will continue a branch store; and he has now returned to a new and splendid building on the old site near the bridge. The main floor has 40 feet front, and is 80 feet deep. It is fitted up with the latest improvements. The handsome counters and improvements. The handsome counters and fixtures made of pine and black walnut, in shellac, leaving the natural wood carved in intaglio, were designed by Hansom & Block and manufactured by Lecketts & Mavor. Carved heads decorate the wood work, a row of stools front the counters; there are silver-mounted show-cases, ingeniously contrived bins for holding sugar, etc. In one corner is a private office. The pretty pagoda in the centre will be used by the cashier. There are gasoliers hung with glass prisms, and four reflectors behind the plate-glass windows.

In every particular the store is a model of neat-In every particular the store is a model of neatness and utility, and reflects great credit upon the taste and enterprise of Mr. Jevne. There are two commodious basements, one opening on the wharf and both equipped with all the machinery necessary for handling large quantities of goods. At the rear of the basements is a room to be used for roasting and drying coffee and spices.

The Hong Kong Tea Company has its headquarters in this magnificent store, and its various brands will be sold at the lowest prices.

These teas have become famous for their flavor, and so popular were they before the fire, that as high 'as $1,200 worth a day was retailed in Hesells strictly for cash and at the lowest possible prices. This is the place for the Grangers and others buying on the co-operative plan to make their purchases. In addition to teas, there will always be on handa large assortment of all kinds of groceries for family use in the retail department. The wholesale rooms will also be supplied with large stocks. Mr. Jevne will personally superintend the entire establishment.

Northwestern Car-Shop Property. In our real estate column during the past winter, we have often called the attention of our readers to this important and rapidly-improving section of the city, and we now call attention to the advertisement of columns this morning a great auction sale of 150 lots, part of which are improved with cottages recently built to supply the great demand for houses near the car-works. The lots to be sold are immediately addoining the Company's property, and must be in great demand as the works progress. We understand the sale is to be peremptory, every lot to be sold. This being the opening sale, no doubt large numbers will avail themselves of this chance to purchase. A free train runs out on the day of sale. columns this morning a great auction sale of 150 lots,

"Nothing Succeeds Like Success." During the last ten years no branch of surgery has made so much progress as dentistry has done. This fact can be demonstrated by calling at Dr. McChesney's large dental establishment, corner Clark and Randolph streets. These gentlemen are always pleased to see their customers and friends. Teeth of the best, on the latest and most improved styles, at only $3 for a full set. It is is stated by the Doctor that he and his a full set. It is is stated by the Doctor that he and his assistants inserted about 100 sets the past week. He is determined to give satisfaction as he has done in the past, or money refunded. It is asked, Why not practice economy in this article as well as all things else? You pay $25 and $20 elsewhere for this same thing. Never in the history of this city has such an opportunity been presented for first-class dentistry. Gold plate and filling at greatly reduced rates.

The remaining lots of unsold bronzes, marble vases, card receivers, etc., the importation of Messra. Viti Bros., of Philadelphia, are to be sold Monday, April 27, at 2:30 o'clock, at the auction rooms of Mr. N. P. Harrison, 201 and 205 East Madison street. Among the several choice lots remaining are an elegant pair of marble hall vases, also a large bronze clock with group, "The Education of Bacchus," Housekeeping Outfit. The 1st of May is at hand.
