from his sheep ranch near Junction Saturday morning to assist in receiving the Clark delegation. He returned to the and family and Charles T. Yerkes, Six members of the Twenty-fourth infantry, colored, of Company D were in the city yesterday taking two prisoners from Fort Abraham Lincoln to Fort Meade, S. D. The men were wanted for some trouble they had at the fort.

J. M. Fox of Red Lodge, who is one of the Daily delegates to the national democratic convention, was in Billings Friday night en route to Kansas City, and was accompanied by his wife and daughter, Miss Nelly.

Senator T. P. O'Brien of Dawson county came up from Cheyenne Saturday morning and was in the front ranks at the Clark jubilee meeting. Mr.
O'Brien expects to soon resume his as passenger conductor on the Northern Pacific.

Census Enumerator U. S. Pringle closed his work Saturday and has forwarded his complete report to the census department at Washington.
Just what the census of Billings is will not be known until it is made public by the department.

Chas. Deayton, manager of the Great Falls Tribune, was a member of the Clark delegation which stopped in Billings Saturday evening while en route to Kansas City. Mr. Deayton will cover the convention proceedings fully for the Tribune.

Thus O. Peacock and Chas. Rue and their families returned Sunday from a ten days' fishing trip on the Missouri. They report having had a very enjoyable outing and caught lots of fish, which can be attested to by many friends in this city.

The settlers on the Northern Cheyenne reservation are impatiently awaiting the arrival of the agent of the interior department who is to pay them for their lands and improvements which they have sold to the government for the benefit of the Indians.

interest of the Donovan-McCormick company. Mr. Prudhomme will visit Mrs. Prudhomme, who is undergoing medical treatment in Chicago, and will then go to Atlantic City, N. J., to attend the annual convention of the life.

H. W. Rowley received a telegram a few days ago from Rev. W. D.
Clark, stating that himself and family had arrived safely at Troutwood, Ohio, and that Mrs. Clark had the journey very well. This will be good news to their friends in Billings and all trust that Mrs. Clark will be restored to health.

The Bitner Theatre company closed a week's engagement at the opera house Saturday night and left yesterday for Red Lodge. Only small audiences attended the plays, probably on account of the fact that the weather was too hot. Besides, one week's stand is too much for a city of this size.

Billings people will celebrate the Fourth at different places tomorrow.
A large number will go to Sheridan, others to Laurel and Colstrip. The baseball club goes to Red Lodge to play against the club of that place.
Several picnic parties out from the city have also been arranged for.

The police are kept busy every morning finding the city of vagrants who are found sleeping in houses and outbuildings. The vagrants when arrested are hauled before Police Judge Mann, and if they can give a good account of themselves are allowed to go on the promise that they will make tracks out of the city.

E. J. Clive, who was sent up from this county for two years in November, 1898 for burglary, has been granted a one-day furlough. He was convicted of burglarizing in September, 1898, the road ranch east of the city, run by Eta Pauly. John Hancock and Walter Gardner were also arrested with Clive, but were turned loose as the evidence did not justify holding them.

J. M. Holt and George W. Myers came up from Miles City Saturday and went to Kansas City to attend the democratic national convention, being two of the Clark delegates. During the recent Butte convention Mr. Holt gained considerable notoriety by reason of his business to Marcus Daly.
It is needless to say that Mr. Holt did not appreciate that kind of notoriety.

Dr. Eggleston and family passed through Billings Sunday morning en route to Helena, where they go to reside.
Mr. Eggleston having again accepted the position of managing editor on the Independent. They have been living in the south for some time for the doctor's health and were located at Nashville, Tenn., where Dr.
Eggleston was engaged in newspaper work.

Passengers on the Friday morning Burlington train reported that a lone robber had entered the Portland and Deadwood sleeping cars near Deadwood, Neb., Thursday morning, snatching nearly $1000 in money. The man evidently was not after jewelry as none of the passengers' effects were disturbed in this particular. The railroad company has offered a reward of $500 for the highwayman's arrest.

Fred Lauffer, who swore out a warrant in Justice Kelly's court two weeks ago for the arrest of Fred Witham on a charge of unlawfully driving a horse off its customary range, has agreed the matter to be dropped as he was convinced that Mr. Witham was entirely innocent of the charge.
Mr. Lauffer call at The Gazette office and asked this paper to make the above explanation. Mr. Witham is one of the honest citizens of this county and bears a good reputation.

A competitive examination for one membership from Montana to the national military academy at West Point was held in Helena yesterday. All the candidates had to be between the ages of seventeen and twenty-two years, physically sound, well formed of robust constitution, and not less than five feet in height. The examination was in reading, writing, spelling, mathematics, grammar, geography, United States history, general history, arithmetic, algebra, including equations of the degree and plain geometry.

Billings with its increasing population has to contend with burglars.
Thursday night a burglar attempted to gain entrance to the residence of A. P.
Hart on North Twenty-eighth street, but was frightened away by the returning of Mrs. Hart, who was alone with her two little daughters. The same night a burglar entered C. L. Taft's dwelling on North Thirty-first street, and secured some loose change from the pantaloons pockets of Mr. Taft and Thomas Milley. It is hardly to be wondered at that there are not more burglars considering the many strange people in the city, who seem to have no means of livelihood.

Fergus County Argus: The suit brought by Frank Lamb against G. M.
Clancy for damages received in encountering one of Mr. Clancy's fence one dark night last year, the claim being that the fence was across a main county road, was settled last week and stricken from the docket. Mr. Lamb sued for upwards of $6,000 damage and the settlement, it is understood, was made upon a basis of the actual costs of litigation occasioned by Mr. Lamb by doctor's bills, etc., in all amounting less than $1,000. Many people were hoping the case would come to trial as a decision in this matter of fencing roads would have served as a guide, but the adjournment of court without a setting resulted in the settlement.

George M. Headley lost about 1,000 head of sheep out of a band of 8,000 head which he recently shipped in from Oregon. Thursday night under circumstances which clearly indicate poisoning, says the Livingston Enterprise.
The sheep had been divided into two bands and turned on the range near Coal Mine, six miles west of this city. Thursday evening one of the bands made a rush for Billings creek and before they reached the water many of them laid down and died while others fell dead in the water.
Mr. Headley has wired State Veterinarian Keweenaw to Helena to come down and make an investigation, and the officers will do everything in their power to apprehend the parties who placed the poison upon the range. In this connection it may be well to state that Dr. W. H. Campbell, president of the county board of health, requests all parties living along Billings creek not to use any of the water of that stream until further notice.
