MONTANA.

Mrs. Hubbard of Whitehall, was horribly burned by an explosion caused by burning coal oil on the fire. She died very soon after the accident.

The prayer of the Scottish Rite Masons Livingstone for the establishment of a ministry for eastern Montana has been granted by the supreme council of said order.

C. Callaghan of Three Forks, who has recently taken several cars of horses to the east, says that he will hereafter sell horses in Montana. He can get more for them.

Edmund Theodore, a sheepherder in the employ of the Thorpe estate, disappeared mysteriously about two weeks ago. He is German, about 40 years of age, and had been in the employ of the estate about 10 months. Searchers were sent out several days but could discover no trace of the missing man.

The Bozeman Chronicle says the recording secretary of the Montana Press association has been able to hear from only one railroad company—the Northern Pacific—regarding transportation to the meeting to be held at Livingston July 10. He has issued a circular to active members and urges them to obtain their transportation at once.

Henry Raukum reports that on Sunday at Jim Moore, who lives in the vicinity of the government sawmill, was bitten by a rattlesnake. Raukum, who was near at hand, took him in charge and dosed him with two quarts of whiskey, which had the effect of bringing him through all night and at last accounts Mr. Moore was pronounced out of danger.—Yellowstone Journal.

The car drivers in the coal mines at Okedale struck Wednesday for an increase of from $2.50 to $2.75 per day, the rate they were receiving before the recent strike. The company offered $3.25 to any who would fill the places of the striking drivers without avail. In the afternoon the superintendent granted the demands of the strikers and work was resumed.

Helena will celebrate the Fourth of July in a manner that will surpass all former efforts. The parade will be an imposing sight of itself, and will be the principal feature of the day. The trades and industries will be well represented and each is striving to outdo his competitors. All committees to arrange details are working faithfully, and no efforts are being spared to make the affair a grand success.

Secretary Noble on Saturday modified a decision in the general land office in the case of the Northern Pacific railroad company against Henry Crouse, allowing the latter's application to enter the northern half of section 13, township 1, range 4, of the Bozeman district. This is a decision in favor of both parties, as the secretary holds that 40 acres of the tract ought to be entered as subject to entry, having been selected as indemnity by the company.

Jules Seminole, a half-breed and agency interpreter at the Cheyenne agency, Wednesday shot and killed a Cheyenne Indian. It was issue day and the Indians were gathered from all the camps. Recently there has been considerable feeling against Seminole, because he was thought to be too good a friend to the whites. Some altercation having arisen Seminole shot the Indian, the whites say in self-defense, while the Indians claim a deliberate murder and threaten to take him from Major Carroll's troops, to which he has surrendered, so that they may deal out a proper measure of punishment for the killing of one of their tribe. A deputy heriff and the coroner have gone to the scene of the killing, upon telegraphic notice from the military at Fort Custer.

WASHINGTON.

Sam Ho, a Siwash, was in Aberdeen last week with two fine sea-otter skins which he sold for $90 each. The otters were killed off the ocean beach opposite Dyehut by Sam, shooting them from his canoe.

A large swarm of bees took up their quarters in the upper story of the new Statesmen building last evening. This is said to be a good omen. An industrious young man placed a mail keg over the swarm, into which they entered, and what a Bessner's loss is his gain.—Walla Walla Statesman.

A Port Townsend dispatch says Captain Anderson of the steamer Bertha, from Alaska, reports that all the canneries to the westward are running at full blast, and that the average pack of the canneries will be between 40,000 and 50,000 each. This is considerably less than last year's average, but very large, notwithstanding. Judging from reports brought by the Bertha, the probability is that a small catch will be made by the sealers. The usual number of seals were seen, but none were in sight the trip down. Two seals were sighted, and they had only one seal each. However, the season has just opened and seals may become more plentiful.

A young man named Joseph Christopher was instantly killed at the new town of Stanley, Pacific county, last week. The young man was standing on the ladder of the pile driver attending to the block and tackle that raised the hammer in position. His comrades were engaged in raising a pile in position to be driven. Having partially got it up, it became too heavy for them and the top commenced to swing over. Seeing that in its fall it must inevitably strike the ladder on which the young man was standing, they called on him to jump off. He made a spring at a piling that had been driven close by, and clasped it with both arms, no doubt with the intention of sliding to the ground, but at the same instant the falling timber swung around and struck him right in the small of the back and literally crushed him to death.

William W. Clark, an engineer in the employ of Bard Bros. & Co., of Hot Springs, the well-known health and summer resort, nestled in the mountains sixty-five miles from Seattle, on the Cascade division of the Northern Pacific railroad, was most brutally murdered about 9 o'clock this morning, by one Burt Redmond, another employe of Bard Bros. & Co., engaged as man-of-all-work around the mill. The murder was the outcome of an old feud of about a year's standing. Both men were employed at that time by the Tenino Lumber Company, of Tenino. The trouble arose over some dispute about tools, which ended in their coming to blows; but was stopped before any injuries were inflicted, and ever since bad feeling has existed between the two men. After breakfast, Clark started to go from the hotel to a saloon situated close by. When but a short distance from the hotel he met Redmond, John Davis and a saloonkeeper named Pike. When they got along with each other Redmond struck over Pike's shoulder and hit Clark square in the face, knocking him down. Redmond then jumped on his prostrate foe's face with both feet, and stamped him until he was almost beyond recognition. Redmond was finally pulled off of Clark, who was removed to an office close by, where he expired in a few minutes. Redmond made no attempt to escape, but telegraphed to the sheriff at Seattle that he had killed Clark and was awaiting arrest.

THE TWO DAKOTAS.

A Yankton girl refused to be married after her lover had secured the necessary marriage license.

A company with a capital stock of $100,000 is being organized to establish a linen factory at Sioux Falls.

William Noylt of Highmore, while crossing a pond on horseback, was thrown out of the saddle and drowned.

A ranchman on the reservation started out several years ago with a solitary cow, and now owns 2,000 head of cattle, 600 head of horses and 32 head of buffalo and crosses.

The committee having in charge the selection of the location of the North Dakota Methodist college will meet at Grand Forks, August 12, when final action will be taken. The highest bid thus far is from Larimore.

There are at present 91 convicts in the Sioux Falls penitentiary, 54 boys and girls in the reform school at Plankinton, and 254 inmates in the insane asylum at Yankton.

A Chinaman in this city has a garden 10 feet wide at one end, 20 at the other and 40 feet long, that has produced more garden truck this year and will produce more than any white man's truck patch of an acre of ground, says the Rapid City Republican. White men could get pointers on agriculture from these same heathen Chinese, as it has been their study for centuries to know how to utilize every square foot of the land they cultivate.

On the farm of E. J. Marston in Sully county a well was sunk recently and a pump placed in it, says the Stanley Enterprise. There is one thing, however, that is puzzling Mr. Marston. He says that a flow of natural gas issues from the pipe and lifts the valves of the pump so that no water can be obtained. He, however, is elated over the find of gas, which burns rapidly, giving a clear light and feels confident that gas in paying quantities for heating and lighting purposes is to be found in the vicinity.

BONDS AND STOCKS.

Ups and Downs in Market Values on the New York Exchange.

NEW YORK, June 26.—The expressions of opinion on the street after the rejection of the senate amendments to the silver bill had become known were generally favorable, but as indicated by the quotations to-day the feeling did not extend to the buying of stocks. The dullness in the market to-day was again extreme with a general dropping tendency in prices. Final changes show declines, and most are for small fractions. St. Paul lost 1½, Chicago gas 1½, Lake Shore 1½.

Their Mistake.
From the Harvard Lampoon.
Clerk at summer hotel: "The lady in No. 16 has been complaining about the chambermaid." Landlord: "If No. 16 isn't satisfied she'd better go." The trouble with these city people is they imagine they come here just for their own pleasure."
