COMPLAINED OF BEING ILL

Was a Methodist and Sometimes Victim of Despondency—A Native of Nova Scotia and Is 30 Years Old.

Great Falls, July 4.-What has become of Miss Agnes Short, a member of the First Methodist Episcopal church of this city? On Monday last she dis-appeared as completely as though the carth had opened up and engulfed her. Not a trace of her whereabouts can be found, and several friends for two days have been searching the city high and low in the hope of obtaining some clue to her whereabouts, but up to the present time beautiful and the carther than the car ent time have been unsuccessful. Al-though she has been in the habit of calling at the postoffice regularly for her mail during the last year, she has calling at the postoffice regularly for her mail during the last year, she has not been there for a week and two letters await her at the general delivery window. For a month past it is alleged that she has been at times subject to fits of melancholy and in some quarters it is feared that evil has befallen her.

Miss Short came to Great Falls about a year ago from some point in Teton county. She has often explained that she had a sister living at Pondera, with whom she was not friendly. On arriving in Great Falls she was short of money and sought employment as a domestic on the north side. Several times she changed places and finally entered the household of Rev. O. W. Mintzer, pastor of the First Methodist church. While there she became a member of the church and was a regular attendant. About a month ago a change was noticed in the girl. She complained of being ill and every attention was given her. At times she is said to have exhibited a violent temper and again would relapse into melancholy. Ten days ago she informed the family that she was going to leave.

ancholy. Ten days ago she informed the family that she was going to leave.

Noticing that the girl was in ill health, Rev. Mr. Mintser notified the Deaconess society and they invited her to their home. She complained of growing worse and was taken to a physician by the Deaconess matron for treatment. The day following she had her trunk removed to the home of Rev. Sprague Davis, pastor of the West Side Methodist church, and told the sisters that she was going to remain there. She went there a week ago last Thursday and did not again visit her physician. On the Friday following she secured employment with Miss Roach in the Dunn block and worked there two days, during which time the girls in the shop noticed that she acted and talker rather queerly. On Sunday, June 27, she called at the shop and informed Miss Roach that she had secured a position as a domestic and would not be around the shop any more. On Monday last she was seen on Central avenue, carrying a package wrapped in a newspaper. This was in the forenoon and she has not been seen in town since. When she left the west side she was lightly clad. Her trunk and all of her belongings are still at Rev. Davis' residence and as the days roll on the mystery of her strange disappearance deepen.

An examination of the postoffice rec-An examination of the postoffice records shows that twice during the past year she has had her mail forwarded to Pondera, showing that she has visited that place and probably her sister, although she has not been there for some months and is not now. Twice during the year she has received registered letters. At the time she disappeared she is not known to have had any considerable sum of money, in fact it is believed she was almost without means. During her stay in this city, so far as known, she has had no gentlemen friends, nor did she display any disposition for male society.

THE CROWS' NEST PASS ROAD. What the Nelson "Miner" Has to Say About Its Construction.

Great Falls, July 4.-The Nelson, B.

Great Falls, July 4.—The Nelson, B. C., Miner arriving here to-day contains some interesting information regarding the building of the Crows' Nest Pass railroad. The news, coming from a high authority, gives it a stamp of sincerity. The Miner says:

"Mr. R. Marpole, general superintendent of the Pacific division of the C. P. R., arrived in the city last evening accompanied by Mr. Harry Abbott of Vancouver. Mr. Marpole was delayed in Revelstoke several days, awaiting the arrival of prominent Montreal officials of the road who are delayed by the washout in the Rocky mountains.

"To a representative of the Miner, Mr. Marpole said this morning that his company will extend the Columbia & Kootenai railway from its present eastern terminus to the eastern limits of the city without delay. The contract for the grading will be let and work will commence in a few days. This is the first move towards the construction of the Crows' Nest Pass railway. The details connected with the building of the line farther eastward will be finally settled upon the arrival of General Manager White, who is expected here in a few days.

"No contract has yet been let for the construction of the railway for the balance of the distance to Lethbridge. As to the commencement of work at the eastern end of the road, Mr. Marpole declared that there would be as little delay as possible. In reply to a question he also said that the survey of the line is fully completed and everything is ready for the graders.

"Asked whether the failure of the federal government to subsidize the Penticton extension of the Columbia & Western railway would cause the C. P. R. to build west of the Columbia & Western railway would cause the C. P. R. to build west of the Columbia & Western railway would cause the C. P. R. to build west of the Columbia & Western railway would cause the C. P. R. to build west of the Columbia & Western railway would cause the C. P. R. to build west of the Columbia & Western system will be used for that purpose. As to building into the Boundary country, his company has not arrived at any definite conclusion. He thinks that district needs a railway and that there should be no delay in its construction, as the development of the mines of that section is greatly retarded by lack of proper transportation facilities.

"Questioned in detail as to the future policy of the C. P. R. in regard to Nelson, Mr. Marpole said that this city will henceforth receive every consideration from the company. Nelson is to be the headquarters of the company's system in Kootenai, and it will also be a divisional point so far as the Nelson-Lethbridge road is concerned.

"The company has not grranged for the construction of any branch lines in East Kootenai, and wall not do so until the main line is completed.

"No move will be made to build railways from Slocan City to Roseberry, and from Nakusp to Arrowhead, for some time to come."

Hon. C. B. Bush, president of the Gilmer county (W. Va.) court, says that he has had three cases of flux in his family, during the past summer, which he cured in less than a week with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Mr. Bush also states, that in some instances there were twenty hemorrhages a day.—Glenville, W. Va. Pathfinder. This remedy has been used in nine epidemics of flux and one of cholera, with perfect success. It can always be depended upon for bowel complaint, even in its most severe forms. Every family should keep it at hand. The 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by druggists.

THE CORRECT FIGURES.

County Moneys on Deposit at the Merchants' National.

Great Falls, July 4.—Several errors in figures have crept into recently published reports of the amount of county money on deposit in the Merchants' National bank of this city, when that Institution closed its doors during the memorable panic of 1893. With a view of correcting these a prominent county official, thoroughly familiar with the entire transaction, called at the Stand-official, thoroughly familiar with the entire transaction, called at the Standard office to-day and said:

"It will be remembered that the Merchants' National bank failed in July of 1893, and at that time the then county treasurer. J. F. McClelland, had $34.117 of public funds deposited therein. Four dividends, aggregating $12.624, have since been paid the county by Receiver Phelps, leaving a balance due last April of $21.493. There were two official bonds given by the late Treasurer McClelland. The first was signed by C. H. Austin, C. D. Eliott, Will Hanks, H. P. Rolfe, C. M. Webster and Dr. A. F. Longeway. On Sept. 8, 1893, nearly two months after the bank closed, the county commissioners asked Treasurer McClelland for a new bond, many of the old bondsmen having been crippled by the panic. The first bond for his last term as treasurer, in which the shortage occurred, was filed Dec. 15, 1892, and was for $300,000. The second bond, given in accordance with the order of the commissioners, was filed Nov. 27, 1893, or four months after the bank's suspension. It was conditioned that the sureties thereon were not liable for any delinquencies of the treasurer that might have occurred prior to that bond being filed. These are simply the facts in the case as shown by the official records of the county."

McDevitt-Griffin

Great Falls, July 4.—At 1 o'clock Sat-urday morning, in private apartments at the Hotel Grand, James McDevitt was united in marriage to Mrs. Josie Griffin. The ceremony was performed by Judge Hughes, an old-time friend of Mr. McDevitt, in the presence of a few intimate friends and a Standard repor-ter. Mrs. Griffin was attended by Miss McDevitt and Miss O'Brien, and Mr. McDevitt by Fred Downer and Mr. Culbertson. After the ceremony the wed-ding party and guests repaired to the Vienna cafe, where an elaborate sup-per was served. John G. Is All Right.

Great Falls, July 4.—John G. Maroney, state examiner, left for his home in Helena yesterday morning after spending several days in town on official business. During his comparatively brief sojourn in Great Falls Mr. Maroney made many new friends and renewed pleasant acquaintance with a host of old ones. To a Standard reporter he was reticent regarding official matters generally, but complimented several county officials on the clean condition in which he found their books and records.

Since joining the ranks of the benedicts, Mr. Maroney wears a happy and contented expression—as well as a faraway look that is interpreted as meaning that while he likes to "josh with the boys" his spirit and heart and thoughts are hovering in the vicinity of Last Chance guich.

The night was wet, which undoubtedly deterred many from coming out and enjoying one of the most elaborate musical programmes ever rendered in this city. Hereafter the concert will be given from a large porch in front of the second story of the hotel.

Immediately following the concert at the hotel the band marched across the street, followed by the crowd, to the Northern Montana office of the Standard. It was a pleasant surprise and as the band boys filed in taking a position at the rear end of the large office the crowd filled the balance of the room left to its full capacity. Professor Marino then announced a complimentary sere-

The music was most excellent and was roundly applauded by the large assemblage. Both pieces were rendeted for the first time in this city.

The Black Eagle band is but one of the wheels that furnishes power at the Boston & Montana smelter. It is composed of 25 pieces and every musician is an employe of the smelter. Justly it is known as one of the best bands in the state and the smelter officials, as well as the citizens of Great Falls, have every reason to feel proud of the organization.

OLD MR. HUGHES.

The Officers Take Precautions Against His Committing Suicide.

Great Falls, July 4.—Sheriff Callaway of Clinton, Mo., left for his home this morning with Elias Hughes, the aged Missouri politician, charged with incest. All last night the utmost care was taken by Sheriff Proctor and his deputies that the old man did not commit suicide. He was placed in the women's ward, after everything with which he could take his life had been removed from his person and the cell. These precautions were taken because the old man, the day after his arrest, made an attempt to purchase poison at a drug man, the day after his arrest, made an attempt to purchase poison at a drug store at Neihart. This was made possible, as he was not locked up but allowed to roam around the camp during the day and report at the deputy's office every two hours. The druggist to whom he applied knew of his predicament and refused to sell him.

Another piece of Hughes' history is that on several occasions during the past few years he has occupied the Baptist church pulpit at Clinton and the church was always crowded when the church was always crowded when it was known that Hughes was to speak. He was considered one of the most fluent talkers in Henry county.

The complaint, it is learned, is made by his relatives, with whom he has been at war for some time. A short time after their suspicions were aroused, they managed to secure an alleged confession from the daughter, in which she said that for two years her father had compelled her to submit. During the trip home the old man's son from Neihart, who will accompany the party, will be allowed to administer no comfort to the old man, the sheriff himself attending to everything to prevent self attending to everything to prevent any possibility of Hughes' death.

On June 7, tast, bids were opened and the bonds awarded to Farson, Meach & Co. of New York, whose bid was the highest. The contract required that the bonds be delivered to the purchasers on July 1, when payment was to be made. A few days prior to the date of delivery the county commissioners received word from the Eastern firm that they would not be in a position to accept the bonds not be in a position to accept the bonds until some future date. No particular reason is assigned for the delay. On Friday next the commissioners will hold a special meeting and determine upon some action in the matter.
