THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

Want of time and space preclude an extended notice of the splendid tion nominated yes erday. It is conceded by Republicans that a stronger or more acceptable ticket could not have been nominated, and Democrate claim it is invincible. Every man upon it is well and favorably known to the voters of the county, and will poll the full strength of the party. while many of them will draw to their support scores of Republicans who are more anxious to see good men elected than they are to witness a party victory. The Convention which mosts to day is composed of some of the most Jay A. Hubbell of the Re of the party. In view of this fact it may be seen that the duties of the Convention should not be bounded by consideraon the contrary they should be squared known in the selection of its members.

The approaching election will be one of more than usual importance will do much toward determining its result. The great voting strength of status of either party in the Territory and no one knows this fact better than the Republicans themselves, and knowing it they will eagerly seize upon any misstep the Dem racy may make and turn it to their advantage. They have permitted the Democrats to lead in the county convention as well as in the Territorial convention simply with this object in view. It remains to be seen whether their hopes will end in fruition. With strong candidates in the field the Democracy should carry this county by an average majority of two hundred and fifty and at the ame time cement it so strongly together that no machinations of the enemy can dismember it or create dissensions within its ranks. It is left with the convention to bring about this state of affairs. We have no hesitancy in saying it will not disappoint the highest expectations formed concerning its action.

The platform adopted yesterday by the California Republicans is a mas-

It denounces subsidies to railroads in the face of the fact the State owes its present importance and prosperity to a subsidized railr ad. It demands the restoration to the public domain of forfeited land grant, in the face of the further fact that a Republican Congress failed to declare them forfeited. It seems the better portion of the Republican party of that State has repudiated the bargain le made with John Kelly last winter, and propose to have something to say concerning the making of the ticket irrespective of the wishes of the bosses. It is a healthful sign. Although it may lead to the defeat of the Republican party in New York at the November election the rule and power of the bosses will be destroyed and the party purified of their strikers. It appears there are three serious charges against him. C. H. McConnell & Co. charge him with embezzling $2.150, and Simon Quinlan, Mr. Hooley's partner claims to have been defrauded to the extent of $600 dollars. The printing firm of J. M. W. Jones & Co. bring suits against him for a debt of $750. It will against him for a debt of $750. It will be seen that the "man with the pro-perty amile," as this enterprising gen-tleman is known, is getting pretty deep in mud.
